Ranch In Marin First Preserve

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Wheelwright, owners of the 650-acre Green Gulch Ranch in Southern Marin, today became the first land owners in California to sign an agricultural preserve contract.

The contract will allow the assessor to put a lower value on the ranch since the Wheelwrights agree it will remain in agricultural use for at least 10 years.

The arrangement is permitted under new legislation, authored by Assemblyman John C. Williamson, D-Bakersfield, who attended the signing ceremony at the Civic Center today to congratulate the citizens of Marin. He praised the Wheelrights and the board of supervisors.

Supervisor chairman Peter H. Behr declared that Dino Banducci, with more than 100 acres next to the Wheelwright property, has agreed to sign an agricultural preserve contract also.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney told the Independent-Journal that his office has received more than 100 inquiries from Marin ranchers regarding the new law.

Williamson gave Wheelwright and Behr straw hats with bright red bands that proclaimed them the first signers of an agricultural preserve agreement in the state. Behr signed for the county.

County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel said he still cannot say how much of a reduction in appraisal the Wheelwrights will enjoy. This will take more study, he said.

Others attending today's signing included Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, supervisors William A. Gnoss and representatives of county conservation groups and the California Farm Bureau.

Baby Birth Total Drops In U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) The nation's baby crop continued to decline through September.

Only an estimated 333,000 babies were born in September, the Public Health Service reported today. This is down from 356,000 in September, 1964.

The birth rate for September was 20.8 per 1,000 population, compared with 22.6 a year earlier.

The cumulative total for the first nine months of 1965 was 2,830,000, compared with 3,042,000 for the similar 1964 months, a decline of 7 per cent.

More Rain On Way For South State

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Heavy rain resumed this morning and the weather bureau said it would slosh an already sodden Southern California with two to four more inches today and tomorrow.

By mid-morning the newest storm, which started yesterday, had brought .73 of an inch and pushed the season total to 7.79—far above a normal of 1.37 to date.

John Dalys Have Their Third Child

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. John Daly, daughter of Chief Justice Earl Warren, gave birth to a daughter on Thursday.

Her husband, moderator of the television show "What's my Line," said today that both are doing fine.

Daly said the girl weighed six pounds, six ounces at birth. They named her Nina Elizabeth after Mrs. Warren.

The Daly's have two sons.

Rangers Beat Two Attacks By Viet Cong

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — South Vietnamese forces beat back two heavy Communist assaults on the central coast today with help from U.S. Navy ships bombardment from off shore and air strikes later. U.S. and South Vietnamese officers said at least 200 of about 1,500 attackers were killed.

The attack broke before dawn and the U.S. advisers called for the bombardment from two 7th Fleet destroyers lying offshore. The Navy shells kept the attackers down until the weather cleared later in the day. Then U.S. and South Vietnamese planes and U.S. Marine helicopters attacked with napalm bombs and rockets.

Two U.S. Army advisers were killed in the heaviest assault, by 1,500 Viet Cong on a battalion of 500 rangers near Thach Tru, in Quang Ngai Province 320 miles northeast of Saigon.

The Americans were killed at an outpost on a hill about half a mile west of the government fort. A battalion of U.S. Marines was lifted by helicopter onto the hill to reinforce the Vietnamese rangers.

Attack planes silenced six 81-mm. Viet Cong mortars that were firing on the hill.

U.S. and South Vietnamese officers on the scene said at least 200 Viet Cong were killed. Associated Press correspondent George Esper said he counted more than 100 bodies.

Officials said government casualties were light, but Esper said their casualties appeared to be moderate. Many of the rangers were killed inside the fort in close-in fighting.

The Viet Cong assaulted the fort six times during an eight-hour period. They were beaten off by small arms, automatic weapons and hand grenades.

Government troops captured nearly 100 enemy weapons, many of them late-model types including recoilless rifles, light machine guns and Chinese-type assault rifles.

In other action about 1,000 Viet Cong hit a Vietnamese regiment and artillery command post 40 miles northwest of Saigon. A few of the attackers penetrated the post's defense perimeter but were thrown back. The Vietnamese claimed they killed 100 of the attackers.

Redwood Trees Hearing Starts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A battle to save more of California's majestic redwood trees from the woodman's axe moved into the national capital today.

Both supporters and opponents of controversial proposals to create a Redwood National Park voiced their views at a hearing called by Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall.

Members of congress, state and county officials, and spokesmen for the lumber industry and conservationists were invited to comment on the proposals.

Among those appearing at the hearing were state officials representing California Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who has joined Udall in urging creation of a redwood national park.

Legislation to authorize the park was introduced before congress adjourned by representatives Jeffery Cohelan, D-Calif.; John P. Saylor, R-Pa.; Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., and Phillip Burton, D-Calif.

The measure, as introduced by Cohelan, would authorize a 90,000-acre park encompassing two state parks and privately owned stands of virgin growth.

On introducing the legislation, Cohelan said it was one of the oldest items of "unfinished conservation business" awaiting action by congress.

Cohelan said preservation of the gigantic redwoods had first been urged in 1879 and that legislation to accomplish this had been introduced repeatedly in congress since 1911.

The California Democrat accused logging companies of deliberately speeding up the cutting of the huge trees to help defeat proposals to create the park.

Cohelan said it was imperative to move now to establish the park before the last virgin growth, outside of some 50,000 acres under federal and state protection, was wiped out.

The national park service protects 485 acres in the Muir Woods National Monument in Marin County, while about 50,000 acres are scattered in state parks.

Troops Won't Be Looking At Hair

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Dianna Lynn Batts, who assertedly finished second in the Miss World contest in London because she wore her hair down, not up, has been invited to join comedian Bob Hope's troop entertainment troupe.

"I don't care whether she wears her hair up or down," Hope said yesterday in announcing he had invited her to accompany his group this Christmas on a tour of South Viet Nam.

"Our GIs will be thrilled to see Miss Batts and they won't care if she comes out on stage wearing pigtails," Hope added.

Airports Shut, Forecaster Says More Rain Is Due

The week got off to a non-flying start today with thick fog closing down operations at Marin County Airport and Hamilton Air Force Base.

The rain the Weather Bureau has been telling the Bay Area to expect since Friday will probably arrive late tonight or tomorrow morning, according to the bureau's latest forecast.

Fog rolling in from the sea closed Marin County Airport early today and a spokesman said he did not expect the sun to burn through the murk much before noon.

Conditions were slightly better at Hamilton, where the air strip was closed to visual flying for four hours only—5 a.m. through 9 a.m.

Rain is predicted for almost all the state. The bureau said a low pressure area about 700 miles southwest of the Bay Area is moving inland, bringing cloud and rain with it.

St. Louis Strike Still On

WASHINGTON (AP) — Striking McDonnell Aircraft Corp. machinists agreed today to go back to work at Cape Kennedy so as not to delay a Dec. 4 space shot, federal officials said.

The agreement, however, does not affect the strike of some 17,000 machinists against the company at St. Louis, Mo. The company is the prime contractor for Gemini space activities at Cape Kennedy and producer of Phantom jet fighters used in Viet Nam.

The AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists agreed to the request of Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz and Chief Federal Mediator William E. Simkin to pull down picket lines at Cape Kennedy and go back to work there.

Union vice president Eugene Glover said the machinists at Cape Kennedy will be advised to the decision immediately and "I assume that they will return" to work.

Glover and Robert Krone, McDonnell vice president, pledged meanwhile to continue round-the-clock negotiations to reach a final settlement in the dispute involving wages and working conditions.

Simkin said the picketing at Cape Kennedy so far had not obstructed the scheduled Dec. 4 launching of Gemini 7 with astronauts Frank Borman and James Lovell.

Talks on settlement of the strike had resumed at 9:15 a.m. EST today.

U.S. Officials Told Stand Of Marinites

Special to the I-J

WASHINGTON — Residents of Marin County favor establishment of a Redwood National Park by better than an 8-to-1 margin, George E. McCabe of Santa Rosa, Sonoma State College dean, told Interior Department officials prior to opening of a hearing on the park today.

McCabe said a sample poll of residents of California's First Congressional District had been taken, which showed that throughout the district, the park was favored by better than 2-to-1.

He presented his figures at an informal meeting of Interior Department officials preceding the hearing on a bill to establish the park in Humboldt County redwoods.

McCabe attended as consultant for Rep. Jeffery Cohelan of Berkeley, who introduced the bill for the 90,000-acre national park.

Kenneth B. Pomeroy, chief forester of the American Forestry Assn., told the hearing: "Redwood experts agree that the finest groves in the entire redwood region are those in Humboldt, Prairie Creek, Del Norte and Jedediah Smith Redwoods state parks," and that the area proposed by Cohelan has "never been included in any of the long-range proposals of the Save the Redwoods League or in the North Coast Redwoods Master plan of the State of California." He declared that "any redwood national park worthy of the name will include one of the present state parks."

Nations Recall Kennedy Death

DALLAS (UPI)—"Almighty God, in whom we find refuge and strength, we begin our tasks this morning with the painful remembrance of this day two years ago when the pilgrimage of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy came to a close in this very room . . ." (Also see stories page 9).

Thus Chaplain Carl Nighswonger of Parkland Hospital began the first of many remembrances in Dallas, where President Kennedy was assassinated two years ago today. Nighswonger hung a wreath of white carnations on the door of trauma room 1, where Kennedy was pronounced dead at 1 p.m., CST (2 p.m. EST).

OTHER RITES

Other ceremonies scheduled today in Dallas included commemorative Catholic masses including one by the Rev. Oscar Huber, who administered the last rites to Kennedy.

Parkland officials at midnight gave orders that trauma room 1 was to be used only if victims of violence or accident overflowed the other two trauma rooms — emergency treatment rooms where surgical procedures are involved—in the hospital.

At last report, trauma room 1 had not been used since midnight.

Nighswonger put the wreath on the door at 8:30 a.m. this morning and recited a prayer.

"Although the wounds within have healed, the scars of our soul continue . . . may thy spirit be with his family this date and may we symbolize through this wreath our awareness of the depths of loss to his family and loved ones."

In Fredericksburg, Tex., President and Mrs. Johnson joined in non-denominational services held in a Catholic Church to honor the first Catholic president of the United States.

LBJ WREATH

A wreath from President Johnson was placed on Kennedy's grave during a ceremony in Arlington Cemetery in Washington today by Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach. The wreath was laid alongside two bouquets of flowers from Jacqueline Kennedy brought earlier today by Mrs. Hugh Auchincloss, mother of the president's widow.

Members of the Kennedy family and close associates of the late president visited the grave during the morning.

In various foreign capitals simple services were observed in memory of the American president.

Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt laid a wreath at the John F. Kennedy Memorial at city hall, where the late president in 1961 told hundreds of thousands "Ich bin ein Berliner" (I am a Berliner).

A special mass was celebrated in County Wexford, Ireland, ancestral home of the Kennedys which the late president visited in 1963.

New York Rains Chill Princess

NEW YORK (AP) — Princess Margaret, sneezing in a chill rain, resumed her New York tour today with visits to Fifth Avenue department stores, a culture center, Wall Street and City Hall.

The princess, who took most of yesterday to rest from an exhausting Saturday night in Manhattan, sneezed several times in the rain as she went in and out of the fashionable stores.

Pedestrian Struck By Camper Dies

Hazel L. Phillips, 65, who was struck by a camper truck while crossing Second Street in San Rafael Friday, died Saturday afternoon at Ross General Hospital of her injuries.

The driver, Matthew J. Walsh, 51, of 110 Bayview Street, San Rafael, was cited for violating a pedestrian's right of way by San Rafael police. Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said today he did not intend to file a manslaughter charge since there did not appear to be gross negligence.

Walsh told San Rafael police at the time he did not see Miss Phillips, who lived at 38 Greenfield Avenue, San Rafael, as she crossed at G Street.

She had crossed the westbound lanes of the divided four-lane street, and a car in the fast lane eastbound had stopped for her, a witness, Russell Ahlgrim, of 10 Marin Road, Fairfax, told police.

Walsh's camper truck was in the outside lane, westbound. Miss Phillips was in a crosswalk when she was hit, and was knocked about 20 feet, police said.

The death was the 24th traffic fatality in Marin this year, and the third in San Rafael. There were 37 in the county to this date in 1964.

McCabe attended as consultant for Rep. Jeffery Cohelan of Berkeley, who introduced the bill for the 90,000-acre national park.

Kenneth B. Pomeroy, chief forester of the American Forestry Assn., told the hearing:

"Redwood experts agree that the finest groves in the entire redwood region are those in Humboldt, Prairie Creek, Del Norte and Jedediah Smith Redwoods state parks," and that the area proposed by Cohelan has "never been included in any of the long-range proposals of the Save the Redwoods League or in the North Coast Redwoods Master plan of the State of California." He declared that "any redwood national park worthy of the name will include one of the present state parks."

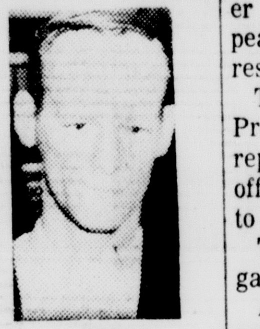
Third Man Surrenders In Kidnaping

TACOMA, Wash (AP)—The third man sought in connection with the kidnaping of Charles Hyde III surrendered here early today.

He is James Edward Evans, a 31-year-old father named as an accomplice in the kidnaping by its admitted mastermind.



Baker

Sheriff's officers said Evans turned himself in to Chief Criminal Deputy George Janovich.

They would not say where Evans had been. They reported, however, he had just driven into Tacoma.

Detective Capt. Ernest Keck of the Pierce County sheriff's office disclosed yesterday he had received a telephone call Saturday night, presumably from California. Evans has a brother at Hayward.

Keck said Evans told him he understood he was wanted and was returning to Tacoma, where he has a wife and several small children.

The Hyde boy, 13, was abducted Wednesday morning, and released unharmed nine hours later, after his father paid $45,000 ransom.

The big break in the case came early Saturday when Tilford Baker, 34, a lanky Tacoma carpenter, turned himself in at the Pierce County sheriff's office.

"Baker said he did the planning—he masterminded the thing," said Janovich.

Baker is married and has two children.

He identified Dean Allen Bromley, 20, also of Tacoma, as the driver of the kidnap car.

Auriol Injured

Romania Asks To Negotiate Viet Peace

Secretary Rusk Asserts Terms Unacceptable

VIENNA, Austria, (AP) — Romania's Communist leaders are acting as go-betweens for another Viet Nam peace effort, Austrian diplomats say.

The Austrian sources said Romanian efforts to achieve peace talks began last June after North Viet Nam put out peace feelers through Bucharest.

The diplomats said Romanian Premier Ion Gheorghe Maurer reported the moves to Austrian officials during an official visit to Vienna last week.

The diplomats said Maurer gave this account:

After the overtures from Hanoi, Romanian officials approached U.S. Ambassador William Crawford in Bucharest. The results of these contacts formed a basis for follow-up talks between Romanian Foreign Minister Cornelius Manescu and Secretary of State Dean Rusk at the United Nations in New York last month.

The outcome of these talks was not indicated.

Maurer told Austrian officials Romania is ready to mediate between the United States and North Viet Nam "whenever there is a chance of bringing the war to an end."

U.S. Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield and four other senators left Romania yesterday on their way to Saigon after talks with Romanian officials on the Viet Nam war. Mansfield told newsmen he could not reveal the substance of the talks.

There was no reaction from the State Department in Washington to the report of Romanian peace efforts.

In Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Rusk said in an ABC television interview that North Viet Nam has yet to show interest in any peace talks except on the basis of its "famous four points," which the United States has declared unacceptable.

Rusk was referring to a Hanoi statement last April setting these conditions for peace talks:

1. Withdrawal of all U.S. forces and bases from South Viet Nam;
2. A policy of no alliances for North and South Viet Nam;
3. Acceptance of the Viet Cong's political program for South Viet Nam;
4. Eventual unification of North and South Viet Nam without outside interference.

Rusk declined to elaborate on an earlier State Department comment that peace overtures made by Hanoi last year did not indicate a serious desire to negotiate.

In the fall of 1964, U.N. Secretary-General U Thant advised Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson that North Viet Nam was willing to send an emissary to Rangoon, Burma, for a secret meeting with a U.S. representative. The United States rejected that bid.

Observers in Washington said the U.S. government believed it was in too weak a position, militarily and diplomatically, to negotiate. It is felt that the U.S. position has improved considerably, and the Mansfield mission to Warsaw, Moscow, Romania, Saigon and other points could be a sign that the United States is actively seeking peace talks.

Communist Power Held Receding

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today that communism has receded in Latin America over the past few years.

"I think there is no doubt that it has lost strength in Latin America," Rusk said in an ABC television interview.

Rusk, who last visited South American in 1962, said there are indications Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro now "realizes that his type of activity cannot succeed."

He said Castro is perhaps less active now than before. And in some Latin-American countries the voters have rejected Castro as a solution to their problems, he said, adding:

"I think that undoubtedly the situation in the hemisphere is stronger today from that point of view than it was a year or two ago."

Rusk was to present the U.S. position to the inter-American conference this afternoon.

New Yorkers Win Bridge Contest

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Kaplan of New York City easily won the American Contract Bridge League's mixed pairs championship last night with 936½ match points.

The New Yorkers led through all four sessions of the contest.

Morris Portugal of Los Angeles and Malvin E. Klausner of Beverly Hills were second with 884.

Ivan Erdos, Los Angeles, and Mary Jane Farrell, Beverly Hills, were third with 865; Michael Lawrence, Berkeley, and Rhoda Lander, Los Angeles, were fourth with 832½; and Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Barlow, Sunnyvale, were fifth with 823.

March Disappoints Viet Protestors

OAKLAND (AP) — The Viet Nam Day Committee, which Saturday mounted an orderly parade of 10,000 against U. S. involvement in Viet Nam, still feels the sting of a persistent thorn.

"What we really wanted was to march to the Oakland Army Terminal on Maritime Street," Bill Miller, 24, a VDC leader, said yesterday.

"Judge William Sweigert's ruling not to allow that was very definitely unconstitutional. The street is a public thoroughfare."

Miller, who describes himself as a businessman, referred to a decision by U. S. District Court Judge Sweigert, to allow the parade over the protests of Oakland officials but under certain restrictions.

The judge set the route for the five-mile march from the University of California campus in adjoining Berkeley to Oakland's DeFremery Park.

The park is about a mile from the Army terminal — the point from which most U. S. soldiers are sent to Viet Nam.

The march went smoothly and the extent that this time we entered Oakland," said Miller. "But something new is in the offing. We may attempt a rally at the Army terminal."

The march ent smoothly and the marchers dispersed after a rally in the park, before the 5 p.m. time set by Judge Sweigert.

The Hell's Angels motorcycle club which skirmished with demonstrators Oct. 16 kept its promise to boycott the parade.

Parade monitors carried a VDC banner, the American flag and an olive branch symbol. Falling in behind them were the marchers, mostly persons in their teens and twenties.

They wore outfits ranging from jeans and sandals to business suits. A few were barefoot. A forest of anti-war placards sprouted above.

"It's the bombing; it's the bombing of all those people," said Diane Passage, 24, of San Francisco.

At the post-parade rally, VDC leaders called for contributions from the crowd to help pay off a debt variously estimated at between $5,000 and $15,000.

Helpful hints from PG&E Home Economists

These tested hints can make kitchen tidiness less of a chore, by helping you keep things clean as you cook.

Prevent foods from boiling over or burning.
When a pot overboils, you're stuck with two cleaning jobs, the range and the utensil. To avoid boilovers, use a roomy utensil to boil foods that foam—like milk, rice, spaghetti, jelly. Set your minute timer to remind you when to turn the heat down. For open-pan meat roasting, use a low-sided bright pan and a low temperature (325°-350°). There's less spattering and your oven stays cleaner. When baking juicy pies, cut the top crust half an inch larger than the pie plate, tuck under the lower crust and crimp the edge high to hold in the juice. Cut a piece of foil about two inches larger than the pie plate and place it on the rack below to catch any boilover.

Clean your range as you use it.
Porcelain enamel is acid-resistant—but not acid-proof. If acid foods (milk, tomatoes, fruit) are spilled, wipe them up immediately with a dry cloth or paper towel. When your range is cool, wash the porcelain with a soapy cloth, rinse, and dry. A mild abrasive may be used to remove burned spots on chromium. Don't use scouring pads or other harsh abrasives on porcelain enamel—they make tiny scratches.

How to keep your kitchen clean... without slaving at it.

Do cooking fuels create dirt?
There is no significant difference in the cleanliness of cooking fuels. Neither gas nor electricity contribute any sort of soot or grease. The dirt which accumulates on kitchen walls, ceilings and curtains is the residue of grease-laden steam which escapes from uncovered skillets or pans. You can avoid much of this grime by placing a piece of paper towel over meat or chicken while browning. Also, when cooking vegetables, use a utensil with a closely-fitting cover, a small amount of water, and boil gently.

Free PG&E Cooking Schools.
PG&E Home Economists conduct free cooking schools in many communities each year. In demonstrations, they prepare meals and explain the operation of the appliances they use. You can pick up recipes for new dishes and tricks or shortcuts to make your kitchen hours more enjoyable. And it's free. Watch your newspaper for announcements.

Biggest Household Bargain.
There've been three major reductions in PG&E rates for household energy since 1961. In fact, the average PG&E household bill today is less than 30 years ago for the same amount of gas and electricity. Which makes PG&E service a bigger bargain than ever.

Johnson Takes Political Jaunt

JOHNSON CTY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson relaxed at his ranch today folowing a whirlwind political trip to San Antonio where he waded into a crowd to shake hands, give autographs and kiss children.

The excursion was in behalf of Democratic Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez of Texas.

The President told a shopping center crowd composed primarily of Mexican-Americans they had a right to be proud to have Mexican blood in their veins.

In addition to lauding Gonzalez as one of his best supporters in the House, Johnson praised Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex.

Yarborough, who was present, has been feuding with Gov. John Connally, a close Johnson ally.

After the speech Johnson walked out into the crowd. Twenty minutes later he left the square and walked behind the buildings where hundreds were gathered behind barriers and in the yards of neighboring homes.

Striding briskly through the gate of one of these, he sat down at a wooden yard table to chat with Sebastian Saldana, 43, a Kelly Air Force Base employee and the father of seven.

Quickly they were joined by Gonzalez, Yarborough, and Cantinflas, the Mexican comic who had spent the previous night at the Johnson ranch and had accompanied the President to San Antonio.

Other neighbors got a handshake, a 7-year-old girl a kiss and the Johnson party was off in the presidential helicopter for the ranch.

Today, the President and Mrs. Johnson were to attend a memorial service at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Fredericksburg in memory of President John F. Kennedy.

Other activities were expected to include the dispatch of a complimentary message to President Charles de Gaulle of France on his 75th birthday.

The President and De Gaulle haven't been getting along too well on some international matters and staff aides regarded this as an opportunity to warm relations somewhat.

Press secretary Bill D. Moyers, who flew to the ranch early Sunday after conferences in Washington, reported it hasn't been decided where Johnson will meet Chancellor Ludwig Erhard of West Germany at a Dec. 3-4 conference. Moyers said he was flying back to Washington today.

Christmas Seal Contributions Below Last Year

Contributions during the first five days of the 1965 Christmas Seal campaign are down more than $1,000 compared with the same period last year, Mrs. Charles R. Banfield, chairman, reported today.

"In contrast, cases of tuberculosis keep going up," she declared. "To date this year there have been 42 cases in Marin. Last year's 12-month total was 33."

So far, $9,608.06 has been received by the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn. Last year over the same number of days $10,642.48 had been received.

"Since Christmas Seals pay the bills, contributions determine the extent of our fight against TB," Mrs. Banfield said. "Next year we hope to help finance opening of closed files on cases that are considered inactive but which may be sources of infection. In other areas where this has been done, a high rate of active disease was uncovered."

Alcohol is a contributing factor in three out of every five highway accidents.

Lions Hold Session In Novato

Cabinet members of Lions International District 4-C2, covering the coastal area from Sausalito to the Oregon border, discussed membership, development and retention of Lions members at a two-day weekend session at the Lodge in Novato.

Cabinet members prepared resolutions which will be considered at their meeting in Fairfield, Solano County, Next February.

Approximately 75 Lions Club members and their wives attended the session. Max S. Martin of San Anselmo, deputy district governor, was chairman. The Novato Lions Club was host.

William H. Schwartz of Corte Madera, district public relations chairman, presented an 18-page district publication, "Lions Talk," and district officers presented reports on club development.

Women attending the session went on a chartered bus tour of Mount Tamalpais yesterday.

The cabinet represents 57 Lions Clubs, consisting of 2,500 members.

Board To Tour School

The Kentfield School District Board, meeting at 8 p.m. today at Greenbrae School, will tour that school and hear reports on its curriculum. The board will also be asked to approve funds for a paid speaker tentatively engaged for an assembly at Adaline E. Kent School.

Johnson Takes Political Jaunt

JOHNSON CTY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson relaxed at his ranch today folowing a whirlwind political trip to San Antonio where he waded into a crowd to shake hands, give autographs and kiss children.

The excursion was in behalf of Democratic Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez of Texas.

The President told a shopping center crowd composed primarily of Mexican-Americans they had a right to be proud to have Mexican blood in their veins.

In addition to lauding Gonzalez as one of his best supporters in the House, Johnson praised Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex.

Yarborough, who was present, has been feuding with Gov. John Connally, a close Johnson ally.

After the speech Johnson walked out into the crowd. Twenty minutes later he left the square and walked behind the buildings where hundreds were gathered behind barriers and in the yards of neighboring homes.

Striding briskly through the gate of one of these, he sat down at a wooden yard table to chat with Sebastian Saldana, 43, a Kelly Air Force Base employee and the father of seven.

Quickly they were joined by Gonzalez, Yarborough, and Cantinflas, the Mexican comic who had spent the previous night at the Johnson ranch and had accompanied the President to San Antonio.

Other neighbors got a handshake, a 7-year-old girl a kiss and the Johnson party was off in the presidential helicopter for the ranch.

Today, the President and Mrs. Johnson were to attend a memorial service at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Fredericksburg in memory of President John F. Kennedy.

Other activities were expected to include the dispatch of a complimentary message to President Charles de Gaulle of France on his 75th birthday.

The President and De Gaulle haven't been getting along too well on some international matters and staff aides regarded this as an opportunity to warm relations somewhat.

Press secretary Bill D. Moyers, who flew to the ranch early Sunday after conferences in Washington, reported it hasn't been decided where Johnson will meet Chancellor Ludwig Erhard of West Germany at a Dec. 3-4 conference. Moyers said he was flying back to Washington today.

San Rafael Meters Again Are Looted

More than 100 San Rafael parking meters were looted during the weekend, for the third time this month.

Someone with a key to the meters—the last of San Rafael's original parking meters and of different make from those more recently installed — is believed responsible for the thefts. The coin boxes of the 18-year-old meters can be unlocked with a special circular key.

How much loot was taken cannot be determined. If used to full capacity, the meters collect about 45 cents each per day—or $45 per day and $270 per week (six days' operation) for 100 meters.

A city employee empties the meters once each week.

This time, however, the weekend thief did not get a full week's receipts. City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen said the city started emptying the meters on Thursdays following the second looting the weekend of Nov. 6-7, so they contained only Friday and Saturday receipts. The thief had skipped one weekend before striking again.

New meter heads are on the way to replace the old ones, and are expected by Dec. 1.

"We're going to have to have a lot better police surveillance until those things come in," Andersen said.

It was police surveillance that discovered the looting. Patrolmen Barxdal W. Stinson and John F. Riordan, checking the meters early yesterday, found the coin boxes were empty.

Meters looted were in four off-street parking lots and along curbs on Fifth Avenue, police reported.

U.S. troops suffered light casualties and U.S. Army helicopters, refueling trucks and buildings were damaged by a 15-minute mortar barrage on the Soc Trang airfield 95 miles southwest of Saigon, a U.S. spokesman said.

The spokesman refused to disclose the extent of damage under a new restriction on press coverage of the war.

U.S. 1st Infantry troops killed 40 Viet Cong and suffered light casualties in beating off an attack along the edge of the Communist D Zone about 40 miles north of Saigon. U.S. planes destroyed a village from which the Viet Cong was operating, a spokesman said.

Small government units reported killing 15 guerrillas in scattered clashes in the Mekong Delta.

Two Escapees Are Recaptured

MARTINEZ (AP) — Two of four prisoners who escaped from the Contra Costa County jail in Martinez yesterday were recaptured today.

Robert Burnett, 30, was spotted by two sheriff's reserve officers as he walked along a rural road 10 miles south of Martinez.

The capture was similar to that of Samuel Quinn, 25, another of the four jail escapers, who was retaken earlier walking on a roadside. Neither resisted arrest.

Donald Dacey, 23, who had broken out twice before, and Marcellus Warren, 28, broke out after Quinn got the drop on a deputy with a smuggled gun. Quinn took the officer's keys and freed the other three.

Two Hurt As Car, Motorcycle Hit

Two 16-year-old San Rafael boys received cuts and bruises when the motorcycle they were riding collided with a car at Fourth and B Streets Saturday.

Richard R. Rottman of 2146 Fifth Avenue, and his passenger, Bryan T. Halloran of 416 Forbes Avenue, were riding north on B Street at 5:40 p.m. when they were struck by a car turning left from B Street onto Fourth Street, reported police. Driver of the automobile was Herchel E. McKinney, 62, of 1203 E Street, San Rafael, police said.

She is survived by a brother, Clyde L. Phillips, San Rafael, and a sister, Mrs. Blanche C. Fogarty of Castro Valley.

Funeral services will be at 10 a.m. Wednesday at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be in Elm Ridge Cemetery, Grass Valley.

Broken Windows Are Reported

A spate of broken windows was reported to the San Rafael police over the weekend.

Patrolling police officers discovered windows broken in homes at 47 and 91 Louise Street at 3:17 a.m. today.

Dr. Morris Krutchkoff of 23 Valley View Avenue told police at 2:25 a.m. yesterday that a window had been broken in his car which was parked in front of his home.

Bradley E. Vote of 79 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, reported a broken window in his car, also parked at his residence, at 6:48 a.m.

August B. Voix, janitor for Kunst Painting Contractors at 76 Belvedere Street, reported that two large windows in the building had been broken by rocks during the weekend.

Postal Building Work Begins

Construction started today for a new main post office building for San Rafael, at 40 Bellam Boulevard.

The $730,000 building is being constructed by Southern California Industries, a firm which has built numerous post offices. It is scheduled to open in about seven months.

The present post office building at 910 D Street will be maintained as a branch building, according to Postmaster Warren H. Williams.

The building will have about 37,000 square feet of floor space on a parcel of land containing 112,000 square feet, with most of the rest of the area devoted to parking.

N. F. Wallach and Louis Frankel of Los Angeles will own the building and lease it to the federal government.

Size Of Class On Board Agenda

Trustees of Dixie School District tomorrow will discuss means of maintaining the average class size of 30 pupils in face of increasing enrollment.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. at the district office. The session was advanced from the regular Wednesday date because of Thanksgiving.

Supt. Dennie B. Willis will discuss the possibility of adjusting attendance areas for specific classes and the possibility of combination classes.

Ike To Change Hospitals Today

FT. GORDON, Ga. (AP — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was to head for Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington late today aboard a special train.

The 75-year-old general is recovering from his second heart attack, and doctors report they are pleased with his progress. He has been hospitalized at the Army hospital here since Nov. 9.

An Army ambulance will take Eisenhower to the railroad siding where he will be placed in his special compartment aboard the Army-ordered eight-car train. Another Army ambulance will meet the train about 14 hours later somewhere in the Washington area to move him to the hospital.

OBITUARIES

George W. Seaton Dies At 84

Masonic funeral for George W. Seaton, 84, who was the last surviving member of the original Corte Madera Town Council, will be held at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael, at 11 a.m. tomorrow.

Seaton, a retired fireman, died at a local hospital Saturday after a long illness.

One of the early settlers in Corte Madera, he served on the board of trustees when the town was incorporated in 1916. He served four years on the council.

He had lived at 107 Redwood Avenue for more than 60 years. After the death of his wife, Lottie, last year, he lived with his son, William H. Seaton, at 8 Willow Avenue, Corte Madera, and just before his hospitalization lived with his granddaughter, Mrs. Leland Jones, at 1431 Dawes Street, Novato.

Seaton served as fire chief and police chief in Corte Madera for six years in the late 1930s.

After retiring as chief, he worked in the fire department at Fort Cronkhite during World War II, and then at the end of the war retired again.

Prior to becoming police and fire chief, he had been chief shipping clerk for a wholesale shoe firm in San Francisco for 32 years.

Seaton, a native of Red Cloud, Neb., had been a resident of Marin County for 61 years.

Seaton was a gold star honorary member of the Corte Madera Volunteer Fire Department, a member of Marin Lodge 191, Free and Accepted Masons and Mira Monte Camp 359, Woodmen of the World.

Seaton and his wife celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary Nov. 22, 1964. She died Dec. 20, 1964.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Herman A. Sand, Novato; two sons, William H. Seaton, Corte Madera, and Richard G. Seaton, Walnut Creek; a sister, Mrs. Grace Gardiner, and a brother, Frank Seaton, both of Larkspur; five grandchildren, and eight great-grandchildren.

Funeral will be conducted by Marin Lodge 191, F. & A.M. Inurnment will be private.

MRS. MAYNARD

Funeral for Margarete Maynard, 36 Fairfax Avenue, San Rafael, a 31-year-old saleswoman at the House of Samples, San Rafael, will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

Mrs. Maynard died Saturday at a local hospital following a short illness.

She was the wife of Barron Maynard, a salesman for a San Rafael boat dealer, and came to this country from her native Germany seven years ago. She had lived in Marin County for a year.

Survivors are her husband and a daughter, Carmen; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Heiss of Germany and three brothers living also in Germany.

Burial arrangements are pending.

BERNICE DREYER

Requiem Mass will be offered for Mrs. Bernice Dreyer, 76, of 275 Los Angeles Boulevard, San Anselmo, at St. Brigid's Church, San Francisco, at 10 a.m. Wednesday.

Mrs. Dreyer suffered a fatal heart attack while driving her car at Los Angeles Boulevard and Santa Cruz Avenue at 3:42 p.m. Saturday.

San Anselmo police reported she was found slumped over the wheel but apparently had felt the attack coming because the car was stopped.

The San Anselmo Fire Department rushed a resuscitator to the scene, but Mrs. Dreyer was dead on arrival at Marin General Hospital at 4:07 p.m.

Coroner Frank J. Keaton said Mrs. Dreyer had been under a doctor's care and attributed her death to a heart attack.

Mrs. Dreyer was the widow of' Paul Dreyer of San Francisco, retired chief photographer for the San Francisco Examiner. She was a retired practical nurse.

Prior to living at the Los Angeles Boulevard address, she had lived with her daughter, Mrs. Theresa Christensen, at 37 Angela Avenue, San Anselmo, and in San Francisco.

Mrs. Dreyer formerly was married to the late Henry Estnes. She lived in Fairfax from 1941 to 1957 before moving to San Francisco.

She was a native of Etna, Siskiyou County.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Theresa Christensen, and a son, George Littlewood, both of San Anselmo; six grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Godeau Funeral Home, 41 Van Ness Avenue, San Francisco. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

San Rafael Meters Again Are Looted

More than 100 San Rafael parking meters were looted during the weekend, for the third time this month.

Someone with a key to the meters—the last of San Rafael's original parking meters and of different make from those more recently installed — is believed responsible for the thefts. The coin boxes of the 18-year-old meters can be unlocked with a special circular key.

How much loot was taken cannot be determined. If used to full capacity, the meters collect about 45 cents each per day—or $45 per day and $270 per week (six days' operation) for 100 meters.

A city employee empties the meters once each week.

This time, however, the weekend thief did not get a full week's receipts. City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen said the city started emptying the meters on Thursdays following the second looting the weekend of Nov. 6-7, so they contained only Friday and Saturday receipts. The thief had skipped one weekend before striking again.

New meter heads are on the way to replace the old ones, and are expected by Dec. 1.

"We're going to have to have a lot better police surveillance until those things come in," Andersen said.

It was police surveillance that discovered the looting. Patrolmen Barxdal W. Stinson and John F. Riordan, checking the meters early yesterday, found the coin boxes were empty.

Meters looted were in four off-street parking lots and along curbs on Fifth Avenue, police reported.

ernment casualties in the action.

U.S. troops suffered light casualties and U.S. Army helicopters, refueling trucks and buildings were damaged by a 15-minute mortar barrage on the Soc Trang airfield 95 miles southwest of Saigon, a U.S. spokesman said.

The spokesman refused to disclose the extent of damage under a new restriction on press coverage of the war.

U.S. 1st Infantry troops killed 40 Viet Cong and suffered light casualties in beating off an attack along the edge of the Communist D Zone about 40 miles north of Saigon. U.S. planes destroyed a village from which the Viet Cong was operating, a spokesman said.

Small government units reported killing 15 guerrillas in scattered clashes in the Mekong Delta.

Two Escapees Are Recaptured

MARTINEZ (AP) — Two of four prisoners who escaped from the Contra Costa County jail in Martinez yesterday were recaptured today.

Robert Burnett, 30, was spotted by two sheriff's reserve officers as he walked along a rural road 10 miles south of Martinez.

The capture was similar to that of Samuel Quinn, 25, another of the four jail escapers, who was retaken earlier walking on a roadside. Neither resisted arrest.

Donald Dacey, 23, who had broken out twice before, and Marcellus Warren, 28, broke out after Quinn got the drop on a deputy with a smuggled gun. Quinn took the officer's keys and freed the other three.

Two Hurt As Car, Motorcycle Hit

Two 16-year-old San Rafael boys received cuts and bruises when the motorcycle they were riding collided with a car at Fourth and B Streets Saturday.

Richard R. Rottman of 2146 Fifth Avenue, and his passenger, Bryan T. Halloran of 416 Forbes Avenue, were riding north on B Street at 5:40 p.m. when they were struck by a car turning left from B Street onto Fourth Street, reported police. Driver of the automobile was Herchel E. McKinney, 62, of 1203 E Street, San Rafael, police said.

Broken Windows Are Reported

A spate of broken windows was reported to the San Rafael police over the weekend.

Patrolling police officers discovered windows broken in homes at 47 and 91 Louise Street at 3:17 a.m. today.

Dr. Morris Krutchkoff of 23 Valley View Avenue told police at 2:25 a.m. yesterday that a window had been broken in his car which was parked in front of his home.

Bradley E. Vote of 79 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, reported a broken window in his car, also parked at his residence, at 6:48 a.m.

August B. Voix, janitor for Kunst Painting Contractors at 76 Belvedere Street, reported that two large windows in the building had been broken by rocks during the weekend.

Postal Building Work Begins

Construction started today for a new main post office building for San Rafael, at 40 Bellam Boulevard.

The $730,000 building is being constructed by Southern California Industries, a firm which has built numerous post offices. It is scheduled to open in about seven months.

The present post office building at 910 D Street will be maintained as a branch building, according to Postmaster Warren H. Williams.

The building will have about 37,000 square feet of floor space on a parcel of land containing 112,000 square feet, with most of the rest of the area devoted to parking.

N. F. Wallach and Louis Frankel of Los Angeles will own the building and lease it to the federal government.

Size Of Class On Board Agenda

Trustees of Dixie School District tomorrow will discuss means of maintaining the average class size of 30 pupils in face of increasing enrollment.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. at the district office. The session was advanced from the regular Wednesday date because of Thanksgiving.

Supt. Dennie B. Willis will discuss the possibility of adjusting attendance areas for specific classes and the possibility of combination classes.

Ike To Change Hospitals Today

FT. GORDON, Ga. (AP — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was to head for Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington late today aboard a special train.

The 75-year-old general is recovering from his second heart attack, and doctors report they are pleased with his progress. He has been hospitalized at the Army hospital here since Nov. 9.

An Army ambulance will take Eisenhower to the railroad siding where he will be placed in his special compartment aboard the Army-ordered eight-car train. Another Army ambulance will meet the train about 14 hours later somewhere in the Washington area to move him to the hospital.

George W. Seaton Dies At 84

Masonic funeral for George W. Seaton, 84, who was the last surviving member of the original Corte Madera Town Council, will be held at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael, at 11 a.m. tomorrow.

Seaton, a retired fireman, died at a local hospital Saturday after a long illness.

One of the early settlers in Corte Madera, he served on the board of trustees when the town was incorporated in 1916. He served four years on the council.

He had lived at 107 Redwood Avenue for more than 60 years. After the death of his wife, Lottie, last year, he lived with his son, William H. Seaton, at 8 Willow Avenue, Corte Madera, and just before his hospitalization lived with his granddaughter, Mrs. Leland Jones, at 1431 Dawes Street, Novato.

Seaton served as fire chief and police chief in Corte Madera for six years in the late 1930s.

After retiring as chief, he worked in the fire department at Fort Cronkhite during World War II, and then at the end of the war retired again.

Prior to becoming police and fire chief, he had been chief shipping clerk for a wholesale shoe firm in San Francisco for 32 years.

Seaton, a native of Red Cloud, Neb., had been a resident of Marin County for 61 years.

Seaton was a gold star honorary member of the Corte Madera Volunteer Fire Department, a member of Marin Lodge 191, Free and Accepted Masons and Mira Monte Camp 359, Woodmen of the World.

Seaton and his wife celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary Nov. 22, 1964. She died Dec. 20, 1964.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Herman A. Sand, Novato; two sons, William H. Seaton, Corte Madera, and Richard G. Seaton, Walnut Creek; a sister, Mrs. Grace Gardiner, and a brother, Frank Seaton, both of Larkspur; five grandchildren, and eight great-grandchildren.

Funeral will be conducted by Marin Lodge 191, F. & A. M. Inurnment will be private.

MRS. MAYNARD

Funeral for Margarete Maynard, 36 Fairfax Avenue, San Rafael, a 31-year-old saleswoman at the House of Samples, San Rafael, will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

Mrs. Maynard died Saturday at a local hospital following a short illness.

She was the wife of Barron Maynard, a salesman for a San Rafael boat dealer, and came to this country from her native Germany seven years ago. She had lived in Marin County for a year.

Survivors are her husband and a daughter, Carmen; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Heiss of Germany and three brothers living also in Germany.

Burial arrangements are pending.

BERNICE DREYER

Requiem Mass will be offered for Mrs. Bernice Dreyer, 76, of 275 Los Angeles Boulevard, San Anselmo, at St. Brigid's Church, San Francisco, at 10 a.m. Wednesday.

Mrs. Dreyer suffered a fatal heart attack while driving her car at Los Angeles Boulevard and Santa Cruz Avenue at 3:42 p.m. Saturday.

San Anselmo police reported she was found slumped over the wheel but apparently had felt the attack coming because the car was stopped.

The San Anselmo Fire Department rushed a resuscitator to the scene, but Mrs. Dreyer was dead on arrival at Marin General Hospital at 4:07 p.m.

Coroner Frank J. Keaton said Mrs. Dreyer had been under a doctor's care and attributed her death to a heart attack.

Mrs. Dreyer was the widow of' Paul Dreyer of San Francisco, retired chief photographer for the San Francisco Examiner. She was a retired practical nurse.

Prior to living at the Los Angeles Boulevard address, she had lived with her daughter, Mrs. Theresa Christensen, at 37 Angela Avenue, San Anselmo, and in San Francisco.

Mrs. Dreyer formerly was married to the late Henry Estnes. She lived in Fairfax from 1941 to 1957 before moving to San Francisco.

She was a native of Etna, Siskiyou County.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Theresa Christensen, and a son, George Littlewood, both of San Anselmo; six grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Godeau Funeral Home, 41 Van Ness Avenue, San Francisco. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

McCarthy Announces Candidacy

State Sen. John F. McCarthy, 41, R-San Rafael, who has represented Marin County for 15 years, will seek re-election in the newly formed 4th Senatorial District comprising Marin, Napa, and most of Solano County.

"I will be a candidate," the Senate minority leader declared today. "I intend to wage a strong campaign and with the good will and efforts of friends old and new, I intend to win.

"The role of a state senator today is an important one that requires experienced judgment. My decision to seek re-election is prompted by the belief that I have lived up to my commitments and responsibilities to the people of the district I have represented for 15 years and my sincere desire to continue to serve by putting my experience and energies to use representing the new Fourth District and the people of all California. In this decision I have the wholehearted and unanimous encouragement of my family and my many supporters."

POWER IN SOUTH

McCarthy noted that the reapportionment will concentrate vast political power in Southern California.

"Because of this it is vitally important that those representing the northern sector of this state be experienced legislators," he said.

"I am proud of my own record in the Legislature, proud of my committee service and proud of the fact that my colleagues have elected me to the Senate Rules Committee where I have served as vice-chairman and Senate minority leader for the past seven years.

FULL ATTENTION

"I pledge my full attention to the needs and problems of Marin, Napa, and Solano Counties and I pledge to serve to the fullest of my ability each and every resident within these counties."

McCarthy lives with his wife, Ursula, and their seven children in San Rafael.

He is vice president and general manager of the Robert McCarthy Co., a construction and development firm.

A native of San Franicsco, he attended public schools there and completed his education at University of San Francisco and Heald's Engineering College.

Driver Cut As Car Veers Into Yard

A San Rafael driver was cut on his right wrist when his car veered off Kent Avenue in Kentfield into the yard of Edward D. Jones, 190 Kent Avenue, damaging a wooden gate, driveway chain and wooden auto ramp at 7:15 a.m. yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The driver, Patrick Edward Carroll, 27, of 388 Mountain View Avenue, apparently dozed at the wheel, patrol officers reported. He was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Some say the bassett hound is a small bloodhound on a dachshund's legs.

Man Suspect In Ship Fire Killing 89, Newspaper Says

MIAMI, Fla. (AP—A 36-year-old man described as an "adult problem child" with a record of mental illness is under official scrutiny in connection with the fiery sinking of the Yarmouth Castle cruise ship that took 89 lives, the Miami Herald reports.

The disclosure came on the eve of a Coast Guard inquiry into the disaster Nov. 13 when the Yarmouth Castle went down 120 miles east of Miami en route to Nassau.

The "adult problem child," a passenger on the ship, was not named by the Herald and the newspaper did not specify who was making the investigation. However, the paper reported that two fires of undetermined origin broke out during the last two years in an enterprise operated by the man's family.

Petaluma in Sonoma County boasts the world's largest poultry hatchery.

Car Leaves Road, Driver Suffers Cuts

Thomas M. Shine, 22, of San Francisco, suffered facial cuts when his car veered off East Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, a half mile east of Highway 101, at 9:30 p.m. Saturday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The car crossed rocks and chunks of broken concrete before it stopped in mud at the edge of San Francisco Bay, the patrol reported. Shine was taken to San Rafael General Hospital where he was examined but refused treatment, the hospital reported.

Patrol Finds Auto At Span

The California Highway Patrol found an abandoned auto in the south-bound lanes at mid-span on the Golden Gate Bridge early today. Officers reported it is "highly probable" the driver leaped from the bridge.

The car is registered to Robert Quan, a 30-year-old Oakland mail clerk. His brother, Edward, called the highway patrol this morning and reported Robert left home about 2 a.m., leaving behind a note which indicated he was going to take his life.

Quan's 1956 Mercury was found nearly an hour after he left home. Officers found no wallet, note or other property of Quan's in the car.

Coat Stolen

Hazel Allan of 45 Raposa Vista, Novato, told Corte Madera police yesterday that her car coat and purse, containing $5, were stolen from the Corte Madera Recreation Center Saturday night.

15 revealing facts about the Mercedes-Benz 230S for those who always thought it was a rich man's plaything.

Unflappable as always, the Mercedes-Benz 230S charges down a country lane. Who needs turnpikes?

The Mercedes-Benz 230S scorns hand-tooled inlays and power-operated gadgets. For $4,900, you get an efficiently engineered car built for a long, hard life on the world's worst roads. Take 3 minutes to read the intriguing details below.

1. The steering system of the Mercedes-Benz 230S avoids two common pitfalls—freakish lightness and truck-like sluggishness. You guide this car with satisfying exactness. You control it—it doesn't control you.

This steering system is a precision instrument—and it's built like one. Key suspension and steering gear parts are hand tightened with a special torque wrench. This ingenious gadget squirts a blot of yellow paint onto the part only when the correct pressure is reached. A follow-up inspector simply counts the blots for a foolproof final check.

Showroom snoopers: Count the blots yourself. Scrunch down and peer under the front end of any Mercedes-Benz—there they are, a dozen or so telltale yellow dabs. A reassuring sight.

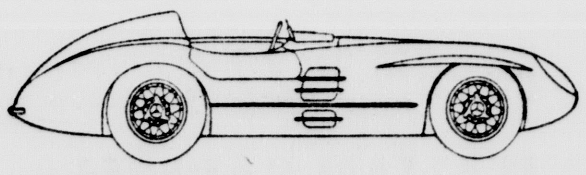
2. Heavy-duty springs and shock absorbers are standard equipment on the Mercedes-Benz 230S. It is a heavy-duty automobile. It has to be: Mercedes-Benz cars are sold in 148 countries. Durability is a big sales point to Afghanistanians, Colombians and Icelanders.

Test drivers: Blast the Mercedes-Benz 230S down the sort of road you'd skip on a Sunday drive. You'll pound over potholes without a qualm.

3. The body of the Mercedes-Benz 230S is a taut steel box, welded in 10,000 places. This "unit" structure is stronger than separate frame-and-body types. And the car grows old gracefully. Welds can't squeak, rattle or groan.

Bulldog grip

4. The fully independent suspension system under you in the Mercedes-Benz 230S would do credit to a racing car. As a matter of fact, it did. Its test-bed was the Mercedes-Benz 300SLR, World Champion sports-racing car a few years ago.



The 300SLR proved suspension in racing.

Just as Mercedes-Benz team racing drivers did back then, you slice through curves on a trim and even keel.

"The wheels always remain planted stubbornly on the road," says Car and Driver magazine. "Even the lumpiest surface can't budge them from their bulldog grip."

5. For a 1½-ton automobile with a top speed of 109 mph, the Mercedes-Benz 230S has immense braking power. Brutal panic stops can't fade its front disc brakes. Water won't turn them to sponge. In the Mercedes-Benz 230S, you stop with almost boring ease. The world could do with more monotony like this.

6. A 4-speed floor shift in the Mercedes-Benz 230S costs exactly as much extra as a column-mounted shift: nothing.

7. German driving conditions are an engine designer's nightmare. Gasoline costs 54¢ per gallon. Yet there is no highway speed limit. Mercedes-Benz engineers licked the problem with a 6-cylinder, single overhead camshaft engine that delivers high gas mileage and high cruising speed.

This lovingly balanced and assembled engine can dash along for endless hours at 90 mph—yet uses about half the fuel of many large V8's. It is neither a tiger nor a tabby.

Bring your magnifying glass

8. Mercedes-Benz employs one inspector for every 11 workers. And pays them to criticize their heads off.

You'll never clench your fists in fury at shabby workmanship. The paint job under the hood is every bit as good as it is on top. A sensitive finger can run from grille to tailpipe and never meet a sharp edge, a lump or a gap.

9. Mercedes-Benz shuns the Annual Model Change like the plague. You relax at "new model time" with the Mercedes-Benz 230S. How pleasant, not to feel betrayed.

Note: Last August, Mercedes-Benz announced its most sweeping changes in years. Many technical advances were made—without having to change the cars' looks.

In 14 years, 3 Mercedes-Benz model changes.

10. Seats in the Mercedes-Benz 230S were built up by orthopedic physicians, not whipped up by interior stylists. This is why you can drive 600 miles a day and not feel like an old laundry bag when you stop.

"When you sit down, you don't sort of disappear into the cushion," says David E. Davis Jr., editor of Car and Driver. "You're cradled in something that was really engineered to keep a human being where he belongs."

West Coast ports of entry, exclusive of state and local taxes if any.*

11. You can go buy a new suit with the money you won't spend on premium-quality tires for your Mercedes-Benz 230S. They're mounted at the factory as standard equipment. And every wheel is balanced—even the spare.

12. You need never crack open a window to enjoy constant fresh-air ventilation. Air is drawn into the Mercedes-Benz 230S through a scoop on the hood. Stale air is exhausted through ducts behind the rear side windows.

Ingenious little valves, at either end of the instrument panel, blow warm air to the side windows for defrosting in cold weather. In muggy weather, you can adjust them with a fingertip for a stream of cooling air.

13. The engine and front suspension of the Mercedes-Benz 230S are mounted on a separate subframe that can be quickly removed, like a drawer, for major servicing.

14. At the proving ground, Mercedes-Benz engineers fire cars from rocket sleds to simulate head-on 65 mph collisions. Such tests have shown that doors stay closed and the passenger compartment stays intact.

The body of the Mercedes-Benz 230S is designed to fold at the front and rear under heavy impact: crash tests show that shock in the passenger area is reduced to one tenth of the amount recorded at the front bumper.

Mercedes-Benz cars enjoy a reputation as the world's safest passenger cars.

15. The Mercedes-Benz 230S repels status seekers. It is no bigger than it needs to be, and no more decorated than an efficient machine should be. All that is left is an automobile. Mercedes-Benz believes this is enough.

As your Mercedes-Benz dealer, we'll be glad to arrange a thorough demonstration drive in a 230S or other Mercedes-Benz model. You'll find it a remarkable experience to drive a car built to be the best—not the best seller.

Drinking Scandal Figure Arrested In Dope Case

By RAY GIRARD

DARIEN, Conn., (AP) — Nine young persons, including Michael J. Smith, a key figure in a teen-age drinking scandal that shook this fashionable city a year ago, are free on bond today on narcotics charges.

Smith, 20, and eight friends were arrested yesterday in a predawn police raid on Smith's apartment. Eight were charged with violating the state narcotics act, and freed on bonds of $3,000 to $5,000.

The other, a 15-year-old girl whose name was withheld, was released in custody of her parents and will be referred to juvenile authorities.

Police said a "quantity of a substance believed to be marijuana" was found in the apartment shared by Smith and Jack White, 19.

Thirteen months ago, four socially prominent Darien couples and several other adults were arrested on charges of serving liquor to minors at private parties.

The charges resulted from reported drinking at coming-out parties for two debutantes and the death of an Eastern Air Lines executive's daughter, Nancy Hitchings, 17, in an automobile accident after the parties.

Smith was convicted of negligent homicide in the death of Miss Hitchings. He has an appeal pending.

During Smith's trial, Circuit Judge Rodney S. Eielson ordered the arrests of the adults involved in the parties.

A psychiatrist and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. George Hughes, appealed to the State Supreme Court their $500 fines on the charge of serving liquor to minors. The court declined to review their cases.

The others convicted did not appeal. Charges against five of the 13, including two caterers and a bartender, eventually were dropped.

Acting Police Chief Hugh McManus declined to say how yesterday's raid took place, except to say that the officers had search warrants, and that the raid was "a planned affair."

Among those arrested was Glenn Carter, 20, of neighboring New Canaan. Carter had testified as a prosecution witness in Smith's trial last year.

Carter said that he and some friends were visiting Smith and White. He said none of the six boys or three girls present had marihuana on his person, as far as he knew.

Besides Smith, White and Carter, others at the apartment were Thomas Alpert, 19, and William Weir, 20, Darien; Allen G. Lanier, 19, New York City; and Marilynn Zodda, 16, and Judy Melfi, 19, Darien, police said.

Novato Planners To Meet On 'Gasoline Crossroads'

The Novato Planning Commission will consider a "gasoline crossroads" in San Marin when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

Harker Development Corp. seeks permits for three service stations on three corners of the intersection of San Marin Drive and San Andreas Drive. These are for Shell Oil Co. on the northeast corner; Texaco Inc. on the southeast corner and Humble Oil Co. on the southwest corner.

The same company wants to start a neighborhood market on the lot south of the Humble Oil Co. station.

Other items to come before the planning commission include the Baimar Corp. plans for the crossroads manor, a 25-acre portion of the Scottsdale development; grading plans of Marin Oaks Development Co. for 34 acres at the end of Montura Way off Ignacio Boulevard, and the splitting of a 17,500-square foot lot on Olive Avenue, west of the Olive School, into two lots for Edward Jurkowski.

JOHN NANCE GARNER AT 97

Tully Garner (right) the only son of former vice president John Nance Garner, greets his father last night on the eve of the elder Garner's 97th birthday. They chatted while seated beneath the huge oak trees that surround Garner's modest frame cottage in Uvalde, Tex. Garner began his political career with election as Uvalde County judge when Grover Cleveland was president. He was vice president under Franklin D. Roosevelt for two terms, but broke with the president in 1940 and took a train to Texas, never to return to Washington. (AP Wirephoto)

Drinking Scandal Figure Arrested In Dope Case

By RAY GIRARD

DARIEN, Conn., (AP) — Nine young persons, including Michael J. Smith, a key figure in a teen-age drinking scandal that shook this fashionable city a year ago, are free on bond today on narcotics charges.

Smith, 20, and eight friends were arrested yesterday in a predawn police raid on Smith's apartment. Eight were charged with violating the state narcotics act, and freed on bonds of $3,000 to $5,000.

The other, a 15-year-old girl whose name was withheld, was released in custody of her parents and will be referred to juvenile authorities.

Police said a "quantity of a substance believed to be marijuana" was found in the apartment shared by Smith and Jack White, 19.

Thirteen months ago, four socially prominent Darien couples and several other adults were arrested on charges of serving liquor to minors at private parties.

The charges resulted from reported drinking at coming-out parties for two debutantes and the death of an Eastern Air Lines executive's daughter, Nancy Hitchings, 17, in an automobile accident after the parties.

Smith was convicted of negligent homicide in the death of Miss Hitchings. He has an appeal pending.

During Smith's trial, Circuit Judge Rodney S. Eielson ordered the arrests of the adults involved in the parties.

A psychiatrist and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. George Hughes, appealed to the State Supreme Court their $500 fines on the charge of serving liquor to minors. The court declined to review their cases.

The others convicted did not appeal. Charges against five of the 13, including two caterers and a bartender, eventually were dropped.

Acting Police Chief Hugh McManus declined to say how yesterday's raid took place, except to say that the officers had search warrants, and that the raid was "a planned affair."

Among those arrested was Glenn Carter, 20, of neighboring New Canaan. Carter had testified as a prosecution witness in Smith's trial last year.

Carter said that he and some friends were visiting Smith and White. He said none of the six boys or three girls present had marihuana on his person, as far as he knew.

Besides Smith, White and Carter, others at the apartment were Thomas Alpert, 19, and William Weir, 20, Darien; Allen G. Lanier, 19, New York City; and Marilynn Zodda, 16, and Judy Melfi, 19, Darien, police said.

United Republicans Remain Conservative

FRESNO (UPI)—The United Republicans of California (UROC) left no doubt today that it intends to pursue its course as the conservative branch of the Republican party.

At a special statewide convention yesterday, about 800 delegates from 482 UROC units rejected an attempt to shift the 10,000 member orgaization toward more moderate positions of the Republican state central committee.

The move came on a proposed by laws amendment which would have put UROC members behind the "principles of the Republican party of California" instead of the "principles of Republicanism" as the by-laws read.

The proposed amendment was defeated on a standing vote in the only heated dispute of the two-day convention.

Craig Bull, the state vice president from Orinda, was loudly booed when he argued that UROC cannot be a "splinter group" from the rest of the Republican party. He appealed to the delegates to approve the amendment and bring UROC's views more in line with the rest of the Republican party of California.

Mrs. Lucille Hosmer, San Carlos, also appealed to the delegates to "stop trying to separate UROC from the other elements of the Republican party."

But opponents of the amendment countered that principles of the rest of the party can and do change according to the party platform and the fundamental conservative principles held by UROC remain unchanged since the founding in May, 1963.

Bull told newsmen after the amendment that the influence of the John Birch Society was felt in the vote that defeated the amendment.

"There was a John Birch Society element among the dissidents," he said, "but I wouldn't restrict it to them alone. The amendment failed because we didn't have enough people on the floor to pass it."

Presbyterians Are Asked To Stop Having Children

LOMITA (AP) — A Presbyterian minister says Presbyterians should stop having children to help solve the world's overpopulation problem.

"...As Christians," said the Rev. Eldon Durham, father of four, "...as Presbyterians we should cease having children of our own and begin to constitute families by means of adopting the unwanted, the disinherited, the dispised and rejected children..."

"Sex," added the 53-year-old minister in his sermon Sunday at St. Mark's Church, "is for pleasure as well as procreation."

For years, said the pastor, people have been asking why don't the Indians, or the Catholics, do something about the population problem.

"I am simply proposing that Presbyterians do something about it," he said.

His proposal, he said, would only be small salve to the population problem, since Presbyterians number only 3.5 million of the United States' 200 million and the world's three billion population.

Woman Hospitalized After Car Is Hit

Flora L. Hallin, 73, of 306 Third Street, Sausalito, was held for observation in Marin General Hospital today after she complained of chest pains following an auto accident on Highway 101 near the Sausalito - Marin City turn-off last night.

Her husband, Edward Hallin, 75, was driving south in the slow lane when his car was struck from behind by a vehicle driven by Joseph P. Belle, 32, of 855 Rincon Way, San Rafael, the California Highway Patrol reported.

JOINS TOP TEN—Joel Singer has been added to the Federal Bureau of Investigation's list of 10 most wanted men. Singer has been charged with participation in the spectacular Brinks Inc. robbery in Syracuse last month in which thieves blasted a hole in a vault wall with a 20-millimeter cannon and fled with $424,000. He replaces William Albert Tahl on the list following Tahl's arrest earlier this month by police in St. Louis, Mo.

ACLU Leader Reviews Stand

During the past session of Congress, the American Civil Liberties Union found itself in the unusual position of testifying in favor of pending legislation, rather than against, the organization's national director, Lawrence Speizer, told Marin chapter members yesterday.

Speaking to about 40 persons at the Kentfield home of Dr. Sam Hanzel, Speizer said the one exception was the ACLU attack on the Dirksen Amendment, which would have allowed one house of a two-house state legislature to be apportioned other than by population.

Speizer said the change in emphasis was made mainly because the make-up of Congress this year has been of people sympathetic to organization stands.

Who has the extra-smooth texture in meats for your baby?

Gerber...of course!

The smooth texture and moist consistency that make Gerber Strained Meats particularly palatable to your baby come from a special cooking process developed by Gerber and Armour.

Gerber Strained and Junior Meats are made from cuts carefully selected by Armour. Most of the fat is removed. Then, each meat is scientifically processed at the temperature and cooking time best suited to the individual type of meat.

This "custom-cooking" helps preserve nutritive values, and retains savory meat flavors that are sure to please your little one. But isn't that typical of the extra care you get—from a company that specializes in good things for baby?

U.S.-State Court Relations Center On Stuffed Turkey

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court celebrated Thanksgiving ahead of time today by churning out a 6,000 ord opinion in a frozen stuffed turkey case.

The issue: Is it legal for New York state to require, as it does, that a frozen turkey carry a label showing separately the weights of the fowl and the filler?

The 6-3 decision: That weighty issue, which involves federal-state relations, must be decided by the Federal Circuit Court in New York. Therefore that court will conduct further proceedings.

The 6,000-word majority opinion, well-stuffed with legal language on the powers of lower courts, was delivered by Justice John M. Harlan.

He said the real issue was whether a special three-judge federal court, a one-judge federal court, or the much larger U.S. Circuit Court, all in New York City, should have decided the question.

He tapped the big circuit court as the one to decide. At the same time he said it was not appropriate for the three-judge federal court to act on the issue.

Harlan said a 1962 decision in another case could not stand any longer. That decision was that a three-judge court properly could rule in cases where a constitutional issue is at stake and also in cases where there is an alleged conflict beteen federal and state regulations.

Money Taken

Loss of $10 in a burglary of the home of Edward P. Thorsell, 48 Morning Sun Avenue, Homestead Valley, has been reported by sheriff's deputies. Officers said entry was via an open bedroom window.

Nearly 4-million electric can openers were sold last year.

Widow Wins Suit On Fatal Fright

NEW YORK (AP)—A widow has been awarded $740,000 for loss of her husband, who died of a heart attack brought on by fright.

On May 7, 1958, in Whitestone, Queens, a car smashed through the front lawn of Salvatore Capossela, 53, and almost rammed into the house where he and his wife, Catherine, were sitting by a window.

Going outside to talk to the driver, Capossela experienced pains in his arms and chest. Returning to the house, he collapsed and was dead 45 minutes later.

The award to the widow was made over the weekend by State Supreme Court Justice Nicholas M. Pette.

Water Tank Control Damaged By Vandals

Someone pried the lock off the Marin Municipal Water District water shed tank on Alto Hill Friday night, cutting mercury lines used to control flow of water into the tank.

District employee Ernest Roberts reported the vandalism at 3:15 p.m. Saturday, estimating damage at $300. He told police the act did not curb water supply to users in the Alto and Mill Valley area. The tank is on a fire trail off Corte Madera Grade.

Novato Planners To Meet On 'Gasoline Crossroads'

The Novato Planning Commission will consider a "gasoline crossroads" in San Marin when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

Harker Development Corp. seeks permits for three service stations on three corners of the intersection of San Marin Drive and San Andreas Drive. These are for Shell Oil Co. on the northeast corner; Texaco Inc. on the southeast corner and Humble Oil Co. on the southwest corner.

The same company wants to start a neighborhood market on the lot south of the Humble Oil Co. station.

Other items to come before the planning commission include the Baimar Corp. plans for the crossroads manor, a 25-acre portion of the Scottsdale development; grading plans of Marin Oaks Development Co. for 34 acres at the end of Montura Way off Ignacio Boulevard, and the splitting of a 17,500-square foot lot on Olive Avenue, west of the Olive School, into two lots for Edward Jurkowski.

Woman Becomes Ill, Is Hospitalized

Mrs. Anna Niederholzer, 80, of San Francisco, was given resuscitation by the San Rafael Fire Department at 7:45 p.m. yesterday after she apparently suffered a heart attack at the home of James Finn, 281 Knight Drive, San Rafael.

She was reported in satisfactory condition today in San Rafael General Hospital.

Overdose Reported

Mrs. Margaret A. Zimmerman, 43, of 318 Los Cerros Drive, Greenbrae, was listed in good condition in hte General Hospital today after being admitted Saturday suffering from an overdose of tranquilizer pills. She was expected to be discharged from the hospital today, said a spokesman.

Few Kennedy Men In White House

(EDITOR'S NOTE: President Johnson has completed two years as chief executive since the assassination of his predecessor, John F. Kennedy. UPI White House Reporter Merriman Smith describes Johnson's mood, condition and hopes for the future in the following dispatch.)

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UPI) — What happened in Dallas two years ago today is vividly remembered in President Johnson's White House, but the image of John F. Kennedy there is all but vanished.

On this anniversary of the assassination, there will be a respectful pause for Johnson's predecessor by the people who work for the President but all but a handful of those who knew Kennedy well have left.

For the most part, White House personnel, here and at the LBJ ranch in Texas, are occupied with getting the third year of the Johnson administration into high gear.

At the end of two years since Lyndon B. Johnson was thrust into the presidency, the White House has a full Texas flavor. The Irish mafia of the Kennedy days — Kenny O'Donnell, Pierre Salinger, Ted Sorenson, Dave Power, Ted Reardon—are gone.

Larry O'Brien, Kennedy's close political and congressional comrade, has moved out to become postmaster general. Harvardman Arthur Schlesinger has departed. Of the Kennedy inner council only McGeorge Bundy remains, and there has been speculation he may leave soon.

All of which means that as every president must, Johnson has put his own impress on the White House.

It was only a year ago this month that the Texan was elected to the presidency in his own right by an overwhelming margin. Until then, he had operated to a great extent under the shadow of the Kennedy image.

At the two-year milestone of his presidency, there is now no question of his mandate. The acceptance and approval of the American people of his conduct in office is staggeringly high. He has a Congress that in all but a few instances is quick to his bidding. The non-Communist world looks to his leadership.

Physically, he is convalescing from surgery that removed a gall bladder and kidney stone. But from all available evidence, his health is basically good and he is showing signs of bounce in his recuperation.

There is no question he will need stamina—physical and political — in the year ahead.

The steadily mounting pressures on the United States and the White House from the Viet Nam will occupy his every skill and ounce of patience. Unless there is a sudden break in the conflict, the burden of responsibility will be with Johnson every waking hour.

And 1966 is a political year. Johnson is expected to plunge full tilt into the campaigning for the Democratic congress he wants to carry out the rest of his Great Society legislative program.

To top it off, the President is expected in the months ahead to devote himself more than before to personal diplomacy. On his schedule is the visit next week of West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard to be followed later by meetings with the leaders of India and Pakistan.

There are also strong prospects that Johnson may commit himself to travels abroad next year.

In two years, the proud and sensitive Texan has achieved an effective blending of his public and private life. To a close observer, he not only likes the job—he devours it, lives it and relishes it even more so than his younger predecessor.

He likes to get down to his Texas ranch often and sometimes frets about the demands and limitations that confine him in the White House.

But even when relaxing on his ranch on the Pedernales River, Johnson never really leaves work.

He can be bouncing along a rocky hill road in his car, miles from the cares of state. Almost by impulse, he will pick up a microphone from under the dashboard and begin conferring with a staff aide. There's no waiting a minute or so, no waiting for an operator to place a call. It's a matter of picking up that microphone and let's get this business settled.

Kennedy Shooting Site To Have Plaza, Mark

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The spot where President John F. Kennedy was assassinated two years ago today is marked, so far, only by flowers and objects left by hundreds of visitors.

Next year, however, the City of Dallas plans to complete two memorials. One will be a 30-foot marker costing $20,000. The other will be a new plaza a block north of the assassination site.

The visitors come from all over America and from many foreign countries.

As the flowers they leave wither, the city has them taken away to be preserved in a cedar-paneled storeroom.

The flower wreaths number in the hundreds now. The stored collection includes many flags, plastic crosses and Bibles.

A large wooden chest contains the notepaper, postcards, and paper sacks on which visitors wrote about the feelings they experienced at the assassination site.

On the back of a Japanese fan, a Tokyo visitor wrote: "I loved you. I admire you forever. I will not be able to forget you. Your image will not die."

Two Michigan families signed a note that read: "We came a long way from Michigan to pay tribute to our late president Kennedy. May he rest in peace."

Within six months, Dallas city park director, L. B. Houston, hopes to unveil the marker memorial, consisting of three bronze panels set in native red granite, and containing a description of the tragedy using words and maps from the Warren Commission report.

The marker will be paid for from park department funds. It will be about 200 feet from the spot where the president was shot. Visitors will be able to glance up at the orange-brick Texas School Book Depository building from which Lee Harvey Oswald fired his rifle.

The plaza north of the assassination site will be known as Kennedy Memorial Plaza. It will contain a modest and dignified memorial in keeping with Mrs. Kennedy's wishes.

County buildings now on the site will be razed. Officials say the plaza should be completed by late 1966.

Youth Cited In Shoe Theft

Corte Madera police cited two 12-year-old Larkspur boys for petty theft Saturday afternoon after they admitted stealing two $15 pairs of shoes from the Montgomery Ward and Co. store in the Corte Madera Shopping Center.

The boys told police a friend promised to pay them $2 for each pair of shoes they brought him.

Security guard Ronald J. Guerra stopped them and called police.

THE WINNER

HERE IT IS, REDWOOD NATIONAL BANK'S OFFICIAL MONEY TREE CONTEST WINNER. ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS TO D.E. SIMONDS

Well, sports fans, it's all over but the shouting and we're delighted to have made our point: Money Does So Grow On Trees. It has now been proven. D. E. Simonds of 23 La Cuesta, San Rafael, has won the thousand dollar first prize and Laura Alumbaugh of 267 Orris Terrace, Terra Linda, the one hundred dollar second prize and right smart dreamers they be, as can plainly be seen by their entries. It all goes to show that one pretty good way of getting rich fast is to hope real hard . . . and we approve of it. Of course, at Redwood National Bank we like to think we've some other ways of moving the old bank account size to a somewhat greater proportion by the rules of sound banking management and some of the new services a young vigorous team of bankers can perform. Charge-free checking accounts which maintain $200 is one way, a unique bank-by-mail program is another, the highest allowable savings interest rates is a third (up to 4½% for Savings Certificates) and we've some dynamic officers who can fill you in on the latest in whatever your financial needs call for. So, until the next money-tree contest it's back to the old grind and as we've been saying right along, we've been growing a pretty good looking money tree of our own for some three years now; our symbolic redwood. If you haven't had a close look at it yet, please come in and see what we mean.

United Republicans Remain Conservative

FRESNO (UPI)—The United Republicans of California (UROC) left no doubt today that it intends to pursue its course as the conservative branch of the Republican party.

At a special statewide convention yesterday, about 800 delegates from 482 UROC units rejected an attempt to shift the 10,000 member orgaization toward more moderate positions of the Republican state central committee.

The move came on a proposed by laws amendment which would have put UROC members behind the "principles of the Republican party of California" instead of the "principles of Republicanism" as the by-laws read.

The proposed amendment was defeated on a standing vote in the only heated dispute of the two-day convention.

Craig Bull, the state vice president from Orinda, was loudly booed when he argued that UROC cannot be a "splinter group" from the rest of the Republican party. He appealed to the delegates to approve the amendment and bring UROC's views more in line with the rest of the Republican party of California.

Mrs. Lucille Hosmer, San Carlos, also appealed to the delegates to "stop trying to separate UROC from the other elements of the Republican party."

But opponents of the amendment countered that principles of the rest of the party can and do change according to the party platform and the fundamental conservative principles held by UROC remain unchanged since the founding in May, 1963.

Bull told newsmen after the amendment that the influence of the John Birch Society was felt in the vote that defeated the amendment.

"There was a John Birch Society element among the dissidents," he said, "but I wouldn't restrict it to them alone. The amendment failed because we didn't have enough people on the floor to pass it."

Presbyterians Are Asked To Stop Having Children

LOMITA (AP) — A Presbyterian minister says Presbyterians should stop having children to help solve the world's overpopulation problem.

"...As Christians," said the Rev. Eldon Durham, father of four, "...as Presbyterians we should cease having children of our own and begin to constitute families by means of adopting the unwanted, the disinherited, the dispised and rejected children..."

"Sex," added the 53-year-old minister in his sermon Sunday at St. Mark's Church, "is for pleasure as well as procreation."

For years, said the pastor, people have been asking why don't the Indians, or the Catholics, do something about the population problem.

"I am simply proposing that Presbyterians do something about it," he said.

His proposal, he said, would only be small salve to the population problem, since Presbyterians number only 3.5 million of the United States' 200 million and the world's three billion population.

Woman Hospitalized After Car Is Hit

Flora L. Hallin, 73, of 306 Third Street, Sausalito, was held for observation in Marin General Hospital today after she complained of chest pains following an auto accident on Highway 101 near the Sausalito - Marin City turn-off last night.

Her husband, Edward Hallin, 75, was driving south in the slow lane when his car was struck from behind by a vehicle driven by Joseph P. Belle, 32, of 855 Rincon Way, San Rafael, the California Highway Patrol reported.

JOINS TOP TEN—Joel Singer has been added to the Federal Bureau of Investigation's list of 10 most wanted men. Singer has been charged with participation in the spectacular Brinks Inc. robbery in Syracuse last month in which thieves blasted a hole in a vault wall with a 20-millimeter cannon and fled with $424,000. He replaces William Albert Tahl on the list following Tahl's arrest earlier this month by police in St. Louis, Mo.

ACLU Leader Reviews Stand

During the past session of Congress, the American Civil Liberties Union found itself in the unusual position of testifying in favor of pending legislation, rather than against, the organization's national director, Lawrence Speizer, told Marin chapter members yesterday.

Speaking to about 40 persons at the Kentfield home of Dr. Sam Hanzel, Speizer said the one exception was the ACLU attack on the Dirksen Amendment, which would have allowed one house of a two-house state legislature to be apportioned other than by population.

Speizer said the change in emphasis was made mainly because the make-up of Congress this year has been of people sympathetic to organization stands.

U.S.-State Court Relations Center On Stuffed Turkey

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court celebrated Thanksgiving ahead of time today by churning out a 6,000 ord opinion in a frozen stuffed turkey case.

The issue: Is it legal for New York state to require, as it does, that a frozen turkey carry a label showing separately the weights of the fowl and the filler?

The 6-3 decision: That weighty issue, which involves federal-state relations, must be decided by the Federal Circuit Court in New York. Therefore that court will conduct further proceedings.

The 6,000-word majority opinion, well-stuffed with legal language on the powers of lower courts, was delivered by Justice John M. Harlan.

He said the real issue was whether a special three-judge federal court, a one-judge federal court, or the much larger U.S. Circuit Court, all in New York City, should have decided the question.

He tapped the big circuit court as the one to decide. At the same time he said it was not appropriate for the three-judge federal court to act on the issue.

Harlan said a 1962 decision in another case could not stand any longer. That decision was that a three-judge court properly could rule in cases where a constitutional issue is at stake and also in cases where there is an alleged conflict beteen federal and state regulations.

Money Taken

Loss of $10 in a burglary of the home of Edward P. Thorsell, 48 Morning Sun Avenue, Homestead Valley, has been reported by sheriff's deputies. Officers said entry was via an open bedroom window.

Nearly 4-million electric can openers were sold last year.

Widow Wins Suit On Fatal Fright

NEW YORK (AP)—A widow has been awarded $740,000 for loss of her husband, who died of a heart attack brought on by fright.

On May 7, 1958, in Whitestone, Queens, a car smashed through the front lawn of Salvatore Capossela, 53, and almost rammed into the house where he and his wife, Catherine, were sitting by a window.

Going outside to talk to the driver, Capossela experienced pains in his arms and chest. Returning to the house, he collapsed and was dead 45 minutes later.

The award to the widow was made over the weekend by State Supreme Court Justice Nicholas M. Pette.

Water Tank Control Damaged By Vandals

Someone pried the lock off the Marin Municipal Water District water shed tank on Alto Hill Friday night, cutting mercury lines used to control flow of water into the tank.

District employee Ernest Roberts reported the vandalism at 3:15 p.m. Saturday, estimating damage at $300. He told police the act did not curb water supply to users in the Alto and Mill Valley area. The tank is on a fire trail off Corte Madera Grade.

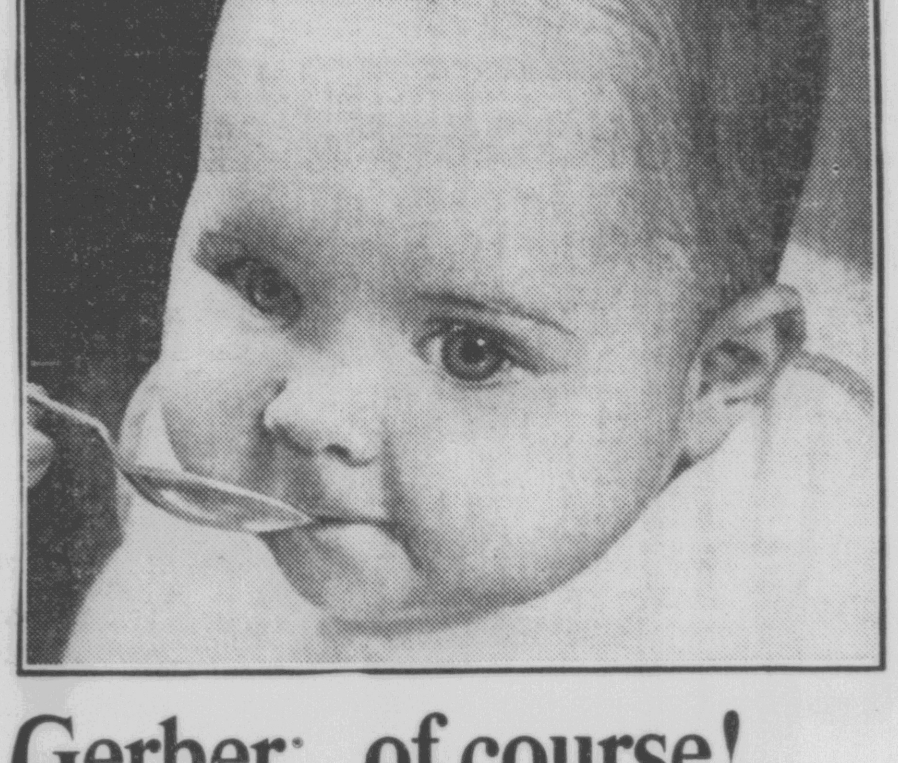
Who has the extra-smooth texture in meats for your baby?



Gerber...of course!

The smooth texture and moist consistency that make Gerber Strained Meats particularly palatable to your baby come from a special cooking process developed by Gerber and Armour.

Gerber Strained and Junior Meats are made from cuts carefully selected by Armour. Most of the fat is removed. Then, each meat is scientifically processed at the temperature and cooking time best suited to the individual type of meat.

This "custom-cooking" helps preserve nutritive values, and retains savory meat flavors that are sure to please your little one. But isn't that typical of the extra care you get—from a company that specializes in good things for baby?

California's Freeway Needs Are A Big Slice Of Nation's

WASHINGTON (AP)—California, allocated 5.28 per cent of the mileage in the nation's interstate highway system, has nearly 10 per cent of all the work remaining to complete the system throughout the country.

When highway planners in 1956 mapped the system of superhighways for which Congress authorized a 90 per cent federal contribution, 2,166 miles fell within California.

As of Sept. 30, California had opened 983.1 miles to traffic, had work under way on 1,179.4 miles, had 3.4 miles — represented by the San Francisco freeway — in the category of "preliminary or no work."

Of the interstate highway opened to traffic in the state, 632.4 miles is considered fully completed and 337.1 miles is classified as adequate for present traffic but still needing some work to bring it up to final standards. Another 13.6 miles was in toll roads.

Of the 1,179.4 miles under way, 304.1 miles as under construction and 875.3 miles on which engineering and right of way acquisition had begun.

The total cost of California interstate highway completed between July 1, 1956 and Sept. 30, 1965, was $1,022,200,000 of which the federal share was $889.8 million. The total cost of contracts under way or authorized was $1,204,500,000 with a federal share of $1,085,800,000.

As of Jan. 1, 1964, the Bureau of Public Roads reported to Congress that California required construction money totaling $1,966,169,000 to complete the interstate system within the state. Of this, the federal share was estimated at $1,799,438,000, or 9.787 per cent of the remaining total cost of the system throughout the country.

California's apportionment for the 12 months beginning next July 1 as $289,205,850, nearly 10 per cent of the $3 billion available throughout the nation.

The interstate highway act requires that all work on the 51,000-mile system be completed by Oct. 1, 1972.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, following a conference this week with Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor, said he was turned down on his proposal that federal funds earmarked for the San Francisco freeway be reallocated to the Century freeway in Los Angeles if a route dispute in San Francisco is not settled promptly.

California, he said, will lose $270 million of federal funds if San Francisco doesn't immediately agree on a route and get work started in time to meet the 1972 completion deadline.

A bureau of public roads spokesman confirmed Saturday that general policy at present is not to transfer interstate highway allocations from one project to another, but to let it lapse if it cannot be used.

The administration has proposed a five-month extension of the October 1972 deadline for completion of the roads and a five-month extension of the special taxes to raise about half the needed $3 billion.

United Crusade To Fete Backers With Luncheon

Thirty-two Marin County employee groups will be honored tomorrow for their support of the United Crusade.

The groups will receive the crusade Honor Plaque at a luncheon starting at noon at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel in San Francisco.

More than 100 other Marin groups will be given merit awards and certificates of achievement at the luncheon for increasing their voluntary support over the 1964 campaign.

Marin United Crusade chairman John D. LaNoue will make a final tabulation of receipts in the 1965 drive.

Incorporation Filed By Publishing Firm

The Pacific Sun Publishing Co., Inc., of Tamalpais Valley, has been filed as a corporation at the Sacramento office of Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan.

Directors of the new corporation, which publishes the weekly Pacific Sun, are Merril and Joann Grohman of 166 Bayview Drive, Tamalpais Valley, and Lambert Bergman of Palo Alto.

Liquor Fees Shared

Marin County has received $38,052 as its share of liquor license fees paid in the county. The money was allocated among the county government and the cities from which licenses were paid. The payment to San Rafael was $9,203.

Byrd Selected To Head Alumni

Emerson E. Byrd of San Anselmo, 1956 graduate of the College of Marin, has been elected president of the College of Marin Alumni Assn.

John R. Kunst and George V. Oliva, both of San Rafael, were elected vice president and treasurer, respectively. The officers' terms are for the 1965-66 school year.

The association also elected the three new members of its board of directors: Margaret Deedy of Ross, Richard Nave of San Rafael, and Judy Smith of Kentfield. Continuing board members are Donald Anderson of San Rafael, Marc Mezzetta of Corte Madera, Donald Presco of San Rafael, and Joseph D. Gargiulo of Novato.

Few Kennedy Men In White House

(EDITOR'S NOTE: President Johnson has completed two years as chief executive since the assassination of his predecessor, John F. Kennedy. UPI White House Reporter Merriman Smith describes Johnson's mood, condition and hopes for the future in the following dispatch.)

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UPI) — What happened in Dallas two years ago today is vividly remembered in President Johnson's White House, but the image of John F. Kennedy there is all but vanished.

On this anniversary of the assassination, there will be a respectful pause for Johnson's predecessor by the people who work for the President but all but a handful of those who knew Kennedy well have left.

For the most part, White House personnel, here and at the LBJ ranch in Texas, are occupied with getting the third year of the Johnson administration into high gear.

At the end of two years since Lyndon B. Johnson was thrust into the presidency, the White House has a full Texas flavor. The Irish mafia of the Kennedy days — Kenny O'Donnell, Pierre Salinger, Ted Sorenson, Dave Power, Ted Reardon—are gone.

Larry O'Brien, Kennedy's close political and congressional comrade, has moved out to become postmaster general. Harvardman Arthur Schlesinger has departed. Of the Kennedy inner council only McGeorge Bundy remains, and there has been speculation he may leave soon.

All of which means that as every president must, Johnson has put his own impress on the White House.

It was only a year ago this month that the Texan was elected to the presidency in his own right by an overwhelming margin. Until then, he had operated to a great extent under the shadow of the Kennedy image.

At the two-year milestone of his presidency, there is now no question of his mandate. The acceptance and approval of the American people of his conduct in office is staggeringly high. He has a Congress that in all but a few instances is quick to his bidding. The non-Communist world looks to his leadership.

Physically, he is convalescing from surgery that removed a gall bladder and kidney stone. But from all available evidence, his health is basically good and he is showing signs of bounce in his recuperation.

There is no question he will need stamina—physical and political — in the year ahead.

The steadily mounting pressures on the United States and the White House from the Viet Nam will occupy his every skill and ounce of patience. Unless there is a sudden break in the conflict, the burden of responsibility will be with Johnson every waking hour.

And 1966 is a political year. Johnson is expected to plunge full tilt into the campaigning for the Democratic congress he wants to carry out the rest of his Great Society legislative program.

To top it off, the President is expected in the months ahead to devote himself more than before to personal diplomacy. On his schedule is the visit next week of West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard to be followed later by meetings with the leaders of India and Pakistan.

There are also strong prospects that Johnson may commit himself to travels abroad next year.

In two years, the proud and sensitive Texan has achieved an effective blending of his public and private life. To a close observer, he not only likes the job—he devours it, lives it and relishes it even more so than his younger predecessor.

He likes to get down to his Texas ranch often and sometimes frets about the demands and limitations that confine him in the White House.

But even when relaxing on his ranch on the Pedernales River, Johnson never really leaves work.

He can be bouncing along a rocky hill road in his car, miles from the cares of state. Almost by impulse, he will pick up a microphone from under the dashboard and begin conferring with a staff aide. There's no waiting a minute or so, no waiting for an operator to place a call. It's a matter of picking up that microphone and let's get this business settled.

Kennedy Shooting Site To Have Plaza, Mark

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The spot where President John F. Kennedy was assassinated two years ago today is marked, so far, only by flowers and objects left by hundreds of visitors.

Next year, however, the City of Dallas plans to complete two memorials. One will be a 30-foot marker costing $20,000. The other will be a new plaza a block north of the assassination site.

The visitors come from all over America and from many foreign countries.

As the flowers they leave wither, the city has them taken away to be preserved in a cedar-paneled storeroom.

The flower wreaths number in the hundreds now. The stored collection includes many flags, plastic crosses and Bibles.

A large wooden chest contains the notepaper, postcards, and paper sacks on which visitors wrote about the feelings they experienced at the assassination site.

On the back of a Japanese fan, a Tokyo visitor wrote: "I loved you. I admire you forever. I will not be able to forget you. Your image will not die."

Two Michigan families signed a note that read: "We came a long way from Michigan to pay tribute to our late president Kennedy. May he rest in peace."

Within six months, Dallas city park director, L. B. Houston, hopes to unveil the marker memorial, consisting of three bronze panels set in native red granite, and containing a description of the tragedy using words and maps from the Warren Commission report.

The marker will be paid for from park department funds. It will be about 200 feet from the spot where the president was shot. Visitors will be able to glance up at the orange-brick Texas School Book Depository building from which Lee Harvey Oswald fired his rifle.

The plaza north of the assassination site will be known as Kennedy Memorial Plaza. It will contain a modest and dignified memorial in keeping with Mrs. Kennedy's wishes.

County buildings now on the site will be razed. Officials say the plaza should be completed by late 1966.

Youth Cited In Shoe Theft

Corte Madera police cited two 12-year-old Larkspur boys for petty theft Saturday afternoon after they admitted stealing two $15 pairs of shoes from the Montgomery Ward and Co. store in the Corte Madera Shopping Center.

The boys told police a friend promised to pay them $2 for each pair of shoes they brought him.

Security guard Ronald J. Guerra stopped them and called police.

Well, sports fans, it's all over but the shouting and we're delighted to have made our point: Money Does So Grow On Trees. It has now been proven. D. E. Simonds of 23 La Cuesta, San Rafael, has won the thousand dollar first prize and Laura Alumbaugh of 267 Orris Terrace, Terra Linda, the one hundred dollar second prize and right smart dreamers they be, as can plainly be seen by their entries. It all goes to show that one pretty good way of getting rich fast is to hope real hard . . . and we approve of it. Of course, at Redwood National Bank we like to think we've some other ways of moving the old bank account size to a somewhat greater proportion by the rules of sound banking management and some of the new services a young vigorous team of bankers can perform. Charge-free checking accounts which maintain $200 is one way, a unique bank-by-mail program is another, the highest allowable savings interest rates is a third (up to 4½% for Savings Certificates) and we've some dynamic officers who can fill you in on the latest in whatever your financial needs call for. So, until the next money-tree contest it's back to the old grind and as we've been saying right along, we've been growing a pretty good looking money tree of our own for some three years now; our symbolic redwood. If you haven't had a close look at it yet, please come in and see what we mean.

Hydronephrosis Lectures From Yugoslavia To Iraq

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

A chapter on hydronephrosis proved the magic carpet that whisked a San Rafael doctor (at his own expense) to Yugoslavia and the Mid-East.

And if the magic carpet needed the help of jet planes to get him there, it turned into a plush red carpet to welcome him at such unlikely sounding places as Novi Sad, Yugoslavia, and Beirut, Lebanon.

The chapter is entitled "Surgical Corretcion of Hydronephrosis" and appeared in the second edition of "Campbell Urology," which is to urologists something like Blackstone used to be to lawyers.

It was written by Dr. William R. Smart of 75 Oakmont Avenue, San Rafael.

As a result of it, he received invitations to lecture in Yugoslavia, Iraq, Egypt and Lebanon — a tour from which he has just returned.

Dr. Smart regarded the trip as a goodwill mission for the United States "to some countries where we may not be regarded too highly." The State Department, however, snubbed his suggestion that it might pick up part of the expense tab; so Dr. Smart went on his own, combining lecturing and performing operations with a pleasure trip for himself and Mrs. Smart, who "celebrated" their 25th wedding anniversary in the air someplace between Beirut and Bangkok.

He was impressed not only by the warm welcome accorded him at every stop, but also by the fact that doctors in Iraq, Lebanon and Eygpt all speak English and write their medical papers in English. "It was only in Yugoslavia that I needed an interpreter," he reported.

Hydronephrosis may not sound like anything that would produce invitations from halfway around the world. It is, however, a very serious and not-uncommon ailment, and one which can very often be corrected by surgery.

Dr. Smart describes it as "progressive swelling of the kidney from an obstruction in the uretral-pelvic juncture where urine passes from the kidney to the ureter." The operations to correct it are called pyeloplasties or ureteropelviolasties.

Two of such operations were devised by Dr. Fred Foley of University of Minnesota, under whose tutelage Dr. Smart came when a resident at University of California Medical Center in San Francisco (where he is now associate professor). Dr. Smart has added five more.

Each is designed to rearrange tissue to open the passage into the ureter, thus freeing poisons from the kidney and restoring it to normal functioning. Dr. Smart calls this "corrective plastic surgery."

He demonstrated it with three operations each at Alexandria and Beirut during his tour (among some 125 such operations which he has performed). He also lectured to doctors at Belgrade, Novi Sad and Zagreb, Yugoslavia; Baghdad, Iraq; Alexandria, Egypt; and Beirut, Lebanon. In Yugoslavia, he had an interpreter who "could translate my talk into their language as fast as I gave it in English, and accurately," he said. In the other countries, the doctors understood his English (at Beirut, one doctor criticized his American freedom with the King's English).

"I think every urologist in the four countries heard me," Dr. Smart reported. "About 150 watched the operations."

DR. WILLIAM R. SMART
Hydronephrosis: magic carpet

He spoke also to annual meetings of medical societies in the four countries (some of which adjusted their schedules to make possible his appearance), and met with doctors in small groups.

The Marin urologist found the best-educated doctors in Yugoslavia and Lebanon, and the finest equipment in Belgrade and at the American University Hospital in Beirut.

He noted with interest the large number of young women entering the medical profession in the four countries, all of which have socialized medicine.

Much of the credit for the advance of urological knowledge among Yugoslav doctors he credited to Dr. Sava Petkovic, president of the Yugoslav Assn. of Urology (Udruzenje Urdga Jugoslavie) and professor of urology at University of Belgrade. Dr. Petrovic extended the invitation that drew Smart to Yugoslavia, which he had visited last year for the International Congress of Surgeons.

The Yugoslav doctors are all trained in their home country, he reported, although some go to England or France or come to the U.S.A. for additional training after graduation. He termed their education excellent.

"Lebanon is as high in urology and general practice of medicine as anywhere I went," said Smart. Many of the doctors there are American-trained.

Egypt (now part of the United Arab Republic) is "trying desperately to improve, but has not caught up," he said. Research facilities there are very limited.

Iraq is the most backward of the four countries in the practice of medicine, Dr. Smart believes, and he has a partial explanation: Iraqi doctors are British-trained or trained in their own country on the British plan. This calls for residence in surgery, with any other specialization being taken up after starting practice — in contrast to the American system of residency in whatever specialty the doctor plans to follow.

"An Iraqi doctor told me, 'we have the greatest taker-outers in the world," said Dr. Smart.

The Marinite noted one striking difference in hospital facilities here and in the countries he visited: "They have excellent hospitals in the big cities, but nowhere in a suburban area do you find a hospital to compare with Marin General here."

Wallace Rites In The Midwest

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Final public rites were planned at St. Paul's Episcopal Church here today for former Vice President Henry A. Wallace, 77, who died Thursday.

A native Iowan, Wallace died in a Danbury, Conn., hospital where he was taken from his home in South Salem, N.Y. A brief funeral service was conducted Saturday at Ridgefield, Conn., and the body was taken to Bridgeport, Conn., for cremation.

Wallace's ashes will be buried here Tuesday in a private service.

Tiburon Use Permit Goes To Council

The Tiburon City Council, meeting at 8 p.m. today at Del Mar School, is expected to grant a use permit to Belvedere Land Co. for a 1,200-square-foot addition to the post office building.

The addition will be used as temporary quarters for city offices and the Tiburon sheriff's substation.

The council will consider a demand from the Tiburon Sanitary District for repayment of $1,700 the district has spent on engineering studies on a Tiburon Boulevard flood control district. The sanitary district claims the city has been too slow in forming the flood control district.

The council is also expected to adopt an ordinance placing a one-year time limit on use permits.

Surgery Revealed On Admiral Nimitz

OAKLAND (AP)—Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, 80, is recuperating from a minor back operation of two weeks ago.

A Navy spokesman said Saurday the operation was kept secret at the request of Nimitz' family because the last time he was hospitalized he got so many get-well telegrams, letters and cards that it took the admiral longer to answer them than to recover.

County Experiments In Welfare For Aged

Friends and family, ministers and neighbors are being alerted to help Marin County Department of Social Services make a success of a two-year experiment aimed at removing obstacles in the administration of welfare services to the elderly.

"If anyone knows of an elderly person who genuinely needs the help of a social worker, a call to us will get a prompt response," says director Betty L. Presley.

"People in a community can help us to insure no one fails to get the assistance of a social worker owing to the change in procedure," she adds.

Until the experiment started Nov. 15, each applicant was checked for truth by a social worker. Now, affidavits filed by applicants are subject only to spot checks, and social workers are free to do work where it is needed.

Although some people receiving old-age security will have a social worker assigned to them, the great majority will get no help unless they ask for it, or someone applies on their behalf.

"That is where a person's friends and neighbors come in," states Miss Presley. "We are asking that they be alert to any situation of concern about an elderly person's welfare and contact us promptly."

Scouts' Gifts Bring Bear Rug

ARBUCKLE (AP) — A polar bear rug graces the Butte Area Council office of the Boy Scouts, thanks to gifts they and others made to crippled children in Alaska.

Scouts, ranchers and others in this area sent 2,000 pounds of pink beans, 2,000 pounds of lima beans, 1,500 pounds of walnuts and 100 pounds of almond meats to the Anchorage chapter of the Alaska Crippled Children's Assn.

The vegetables were sold by the Gilded Cage, an association store, and money turned over to the association.

Alaskans later sent the bear rug to Fritz Erdman, a Colusa rancher who sent 40,000 pounds of rice. Yesterday Erdman turned the rug over to John W. McConnell, scout executive.

County Will Try To Sell Excess Land

Bids will be opened at 10 a.m. tomorrow by Marin County Supervisors on six parcels of land declared surplus after right of way acquisitions for the Coyote Creek Flood control project.

Five of the parcels are near Flamingo Road, north of Tennessee Valley Road. The sixth is on Maple Street south of Highway 1.

Largest is a 108-by-92 foot parcel fronting on Cardinal Road off Flamingo. There is another smaller piece on Cardinal, two triangular pieces and a small strip on Flamingo. The piece on Maple is 50 by 155 feet.

The only legal building lot is the large one on Cardinal Road. The others would have to be added to adjacent property to provide a usable lot for a residence.

Kidnap Suspect Turns Self In

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—A 34-year-old Tacoma carpenter is being held in connection with the kidnaping of Charles Hyde III, Sheriff Jack Berry said Saturday.

Berry identified the man held as Tilford G. Baker. The sheriff said two other men are believed to have been involved.

The sheriff said Baker turned himself in to the sheriff shortly before 4 a.m. today and asked to give a statement to Berry regarding the kidnaping.

California's Freeway Needs Are A Big Slice Of Nation's

WASHINGTON (AP)—California, allocated 5.28 per cent of the mileage in the nation's interstate highway system, has nearly 10 per cent of all the work remaining to complete the system throughout the country.

When highway planners in 1956 mapped the system of superhighways for which Congress authorized a 90 per cent federal contribution, 2,166 miles fell within California.

As of Sept. 30, California had opened 983.1 miles to traffic, had work under way on 1,179.4 miles, had 3.4 miles — represented by the San Francisco freeway — in the category of "preliminary or no work."

Of the interstate highway opened to traffic in the state, 632.4 miles is considered fully completed and 337.1 miles is classified as adequate for present traffic but still needing some work to bring it up to final standards. Another 13.6 miles was in toll roads.

Of the 1,179.4 miles under way, 304.1 miles as under construction and 875.3 miles on which engineering and right of way acquisition had begun.

The total cost of California interstate highway completed between July 1, 1956 and Sept. 30, 1965, was $1,022,200,000 of which the federal share was $889.8 million. The total cost of contracts under way or authorized was $1,204,500,000 with a federal share of $1,085,800,000.

As of Jan. 1, 1964, the Bureau of Public Roads reported to Congress that California required construction money totaling $1,966,169,000 to complete the interstate system within the state. Of this, the federal share was estimated at $1.799.438.000, or 9.787 per cent of the remaining total cost of the system throughout the country.

California's apportionment for the 12 months beginning next July 1 as $289,205,850, nearly 10 per cent of the $3 billion available throughout the nation.

The interstate highway act requires that all work on the 51,000-mile system be completed by Oct. 1, 1972.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, following a conference this week with Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor, said he was turned down on his proposal that federal funds earmarked for the San Francisco freeway be reallocated to the Century freeway in Los Angeles if a route dispute in San Francisco is not settled promptly.

California, he said, will lose $270 million of federal funds if San Francisco doesn't immediately agree on a route and get work started in time to meet the 1972 completion deadline.

A bureau of public roads spokesman confirmed Saturday that general policy at present is not to transfer interstate highway allocations from one project to another, but to let it lapse if it cannot be used.

The administration has proposed a five-month extension of the October 1972 deadline for completion of the roads and a five-month extension of the special taxes to raise about half the needed $3 billion.

Bloodmobile Due

The Irwin Memorial Blood Bank mobile unit is scheduled to come to Hamilton Air Force Base 8 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Dec. 3 and 10 and to San Quentin Prison the same hours Dec. 21.

United Crusade To Fete Backers With Luncheon

Thirty-two Marin County employee groups will be honored tomorrow for their support of the United Crusade.

The groups will receive the crusade Honor Plaque at a luncheon starting at noon at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel in San Francisco.

More than 100 other Marin groups will be given merit awards and certificates of achievement at the luncheon for increasing their voluntary support over the 1964 campaign.

Marin United Crusade chairman John D. LaNoue will make a final tabulation of receipts in the 1965 drive.

Incorporation Filed By Publishing Firm

The Pacific Sun Publishing Co., Inc., of Tamalpais Valley, has been filed as a corporation at the Sacramento office of Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan.

Directors of the new corporation, which publishes the weekly Pacific Sun, are Merril and Joann Grohman of 166 Bayview Drive, Tamalpais Valley, and Lambert Bergman of Palo Alto.

Liquor Fees Shared

Marin County has received $38,052 as its share of liquor license fees paid in the county. The money was allocated among the county government and the cities from which licenses were paid. The payment to San Rafael was $9,203.

Byrd Selected To Head Alumni

Emerson E. Byrd of San Anselmo, 1956 graduate of the College of Marin, has been elected president of the College of Marin Alumni Assn.

John R. Kunst and George V. Oliva, both of San Rafael, were elected vice president and treasurer, respectively. The officers' terms are for the 1965-66 school year.

The association also elected the three new members of its board of directors: Margaret Deedy of Ross, Richard Nave of San Rafael, and Judy Smith of Kentfield. Continuing board members are Donald Anderson of San Rafael, Marc Mezzetta of Corte Madera, Donald Presco of San Rafael, and Joseph D. Gargiulo of Novato.

Report On Nuclear Arms Route Bared

NEW YORK (AP) — Reports that the Defense Department might be moving nuclear weapons through the city at night has caused some apprehension among officials.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner showed his concern yesterday when he released a report from his Technical Advisory Committee on Radiation.

"Upon several recent occasions," the report said, "the fire department has been requested to escort truck convoys reportedly carrying nuclear weapons through the city at night."

Such shipments could be going to nearby military bases or to piers for shipment overseas.

The report said repeated inquiries to the Department of Defense had been fruitless, "probably because of security reasons."

The committee, headed by Prof. Harold H. Rossi of Columbia University assured Wagner, however; that the city was "adequately protected from excess or unwarranted exposure to radiation and from the risks of peacetime nuclear disaster."

'Amigos' Group Discussion Set

Flora Mancebo and Richard Bac will talk of their experiences with Amigos Anonymous, the summer Mexican aid program at the next forum sponsored by the Junior Service Honorary at Terra Linda High School.

The session will be Dec. 13.

In January, Margaret Freedman will talk about her travels in Europe.

The Junior Services Honorary's first program was a discussion of the war in Viet Nam last month.

Times Says Weapons In Germany

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times has reported that U.S. nuclear warheads have been mounted secretly on planes and missiles of West Germany and other members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

A Washington dispatch in the Sunday Times also said the warheads had been in place for more than six years, although they remain in U.S. custody.

The Defense Department declined comment. It said it is department policy never to discuss the location or operations of nuclear weapons.

The Times story said the warheads are controlled by Americans "through a combination of physical and electronic controls" and cannot be used without U.S. approval.

Four Negro Homes Bombed In Charlotte

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — The homes of four Negro civil rights leaders, including the state president of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, were rocked by explosions early today, but no one was injured.

Chief of Police John S. Hord said the homes of Kelly Alexander, state president of the NAACP, and of his brother, Fred Alexander, were the most seriously damaged.

Blasts also occurred at the home of Dr. Reginald Hawkins, a dentist and militant civil rights leader, and the home of Julius Chambers, a young attorney who had handled many suits in behalf of Negro groups.

Hord, who arrived in the area 30 minutes after the blasts, said that in his opinion "it was a well-organized group.

"I'll guarantee you it was people who knew what they were doing. Whoever it was knew explosives and they knew the sections and how to get in and get out quickly."

In Raleigh, Gov. Dan Moore offered Charlotte officials the "full resources of our state investigative and law enforcement agencies."

Mayor Stan Brookshire of Charlotte said:

"These bombings are most unfortunate and uncalled for. Our whole city is shocked."

The Federal Bureau of Investigation joined the investigation of the blasts, which occurred at the four homes on Charlotte's West Side about 2:30 a.m.

State Growth Mark Forecast

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The nation's most populated state will begin pushing the 20 million mark by mid-1967.

That's the word from the State Department of Finance in its 1965 population report, released Saturday.

The state's population at mid-1965 was 18,756,000, the report said, an increase of 3 per cent over the previous year.

The department's Financial and Population Research Section said that by mid-1967 the population boom will reach an estimated 19,907,000.

The report said:

Public school enrollment has increased more than 40 per cent since the 1960 census.

The density of population in the state has increased by nearly 20 persons per square mile since 1960 with the City of San Francisco at the top of the density ranking.

New Boys' Clothing Found Near School

Packages containing 228 pairs of new boys' socks have been found alongside a creek near Bernard Hoffman School in Terra Linda, sheriff's officers said today.

John J. Weber, school employee, told deputies he found the socks, along with nine pairs of boys' pants and nine boys' shirts, while working on the school grounds. Officers said an invoice with the name, W. T. Grant Co., Corte Madera, was found among the items. Corte Madera police were notified to ascertain if the items were stolen.

Pools Lack Permit, Granted Variances

Marin County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill today granted variances for two pool decks built by Blue Haven Pools of San Rafael without permit.

The deck at the Franklin Lam home at 568 Shoreline Highway, Tamalpais Valley, protruded 19 feet into the 25-foot front yard setback. That pool deck at the Ronald Tennler home at 122 Bretano Way, Greenbrae, projected three feet into the seven-foot side set setback.

A five-megaton nuclear blast at ground level most likely would destroy buildings two miles from the point of explosion, defense officials say.

Hydronephrosis Lectures From Yugoslavia To Iraq

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

A chapter on hydronephrosis proved the magic carpet that whisked a San Rafael doctor (at his own expense) to Yugoslavia and the Mid-East.

And if the magic carpet needed the help of jet planes to get him there, it turned into a plush red carpet to welcome him at such unlikely sounding places as Novi Sad, Yugoslavia, and Beirut, Lebanon.

The chapter is entitled "Surgical Corretcion of Hydronephrosis" and appeared in the second edition of "Campbell Urology," which is to urologists something like Blackstone used to be to lawyers.

It was written by Dr. William R. Smart of 75 Oakmont Avenue, San Rafael.

As a result of it, he received invitations to lecture in Yugoslavia, Iraq, Egypt and Lebanon — a tour from which he has just returned.

Dr. Smart regarded the trip as a goodwill mission for the United States "to some countries where we may not be regarded too highly." The State Department, however, snubbed his suggestion that it might pick up part of the expense tab; so Dr. Smart went on his own, combining lecturing and performing operations with a pleasure trip for himself and Mrs. Smart, who "celebrated" their 25th wedding anniversary in the air someplace between Beirut and Bangkok.

He was impressed not only by the warm welcome accorded him at every stop, but also by the fact that doctors in Iraq, Lebanon and Eygpt all speak English and write their medical papers in English. "It was only in Yugoslavia that I needed an interpreter," he reported.

Hydronephrosis may not sound like anything that would produce invitations from halfway around the world. It is, however, a very serious and not-uncommon ailment, and one which can very often be corrected by surgery.

Dr. Smart describes it as "progressive swelling of the kidney from an obstruction in the uretral-pelvic juncture where urine passes from the kidney to the ureter." The operations to correct it are called pyeloplasties or ureteropelviolasties.

Two of such operations were devised by Dr. Fred Foley of University of Minnesota, under whose tutelage Dr. Smart came when a resident at University of California Medical Center in San Francisco (where he is now associate professor). Dr. Smart has added five more.

Each is designed to rearrange tissue to open the passage into the ureter, thus freeing poisons from the kidney and restoring it to normal functioning. Dr. Smart calls this "corrective plastic surgery."

He demonstrated it with three operations each at Alexandria and Beirut during his tour (among some 125 such operations which he has performed). He also lectured to doctors at Belgrade, Novi Sad and Zagreb, Yugoslavia; Baghdad, Iraq; Alexandria, Egypt; and Beirut, Lebanon. In Yugoslavia, he had an interpreter who "could translate my talk into their language as fast as I gave it in English, and accurately," he said. In the other countries, the doctors understood his English (at Beirut, one doctor criticized his American freedom with the King's English).

"I think every urologist in the four countries heard me," Dr. Smart reported. "About 150 watched the operations."

DR. WILLIAM R. SMART
Hydronephrosis: magic carpet

He spoke also to annual meetings of medical societies in the four countries (some of which adjusted their schedules to make possible his appearance), and met with doctors in small groups.

The Marin urologist found the best-educated doctors in Yugoslavia and Lebanon, and the finest equipment in Belgrade and at the American University Hospital in Beirut.

He noted with interest the large number of young women entering the medical profession in the four countries, all of which have socialized medicine.

Much of the credit for the advance of urological knowledge among Yugoslav doctors he credited to Dr. Sava Petkovic, president of the Yugoslav Assn. of Urology (Udruzenje Urdga Jugoslavie) and professor of urology at University of Belgrade. Dr. Petrovic extended the invitation that drew Smart to Yugoslavia, which he had visited last year for the International Congress of Surgeons.

The Yugoslav doctors are all trained in their home country, he reported, although some go to England or France or come to the U.S.A. for additional training after graduation. He termed their education excellent.

"Lebanon is as high in urology and general practice of medicine as anywhere I went," said Smart. Many of the doctors there are American-trained.

Egypt (now part of the United Arab Republic) is "trying desperately to improve, but has not caught up," he said. Research facilities there are very limited.

Iraq is the most backward of the four countries in the practice of medicine, Dr. Smart believes, and he has a partial explanation: Iraqi doctors are British-trained or trained in their own country on the British plan. This calls for residence in surgery, with any other specialization being taken up after starting practice — in contrast to the American system of residency in whatever specialty the doctor plans to follow.

"An Iraqi doctor told me, 'we have the greatest taker-outers in the world," said Dr. Smart.

The Marinite noted one striking difference in hospital facilities here and in the countries he visited: "They have excellent hospitals in the big cities, but nowhere in a suburban area do you find a hospital to compare with Marin General here."

Wallace Rites In The Midwest

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Final public rites were planned at St. Paul's Episcopal Church here today for former Vice President Henry A. Wallace, 77, who died Thursday.

A native Iowan, Wallace died in a Danbury, Conn., hospital where he was taken from his home in South Salem, N.Y. A brief funeral service was conducted Saturday at Ridgefield, Conn., and the body was taken to Bridgeport, Conn., for cremation.

Wallace's ashes will be buried here Tuesday in a private service.

Tiburon Use Permit Goes To Council

The Tiburon City Council, meeting at 8 p.m. today at Del Mar School, is expected to grant a use permit to Belvedere Land Co. for a 1,200-square-foot addition to the post office building.

The addition will be used as temporary quarters for city offices and the Tiburon sheriff's substation.

The council will consider a demand from the Tiburon Sanitary District for repayment of $1,700 the district has spent on engineering studies on a Tiburon Boulevard flood control district. The sanitary district claims the city has been too slow in forming the flood control district.

The council is also expected to adopt an ordinance placing a one-year time limit on use permits.

Surgery Revealed On Admiral Nimitz

OAKLAND (AP)—Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, 80, is recuperating from a minor back operation of two weeks ago.

A Navy spokesman said Saurday the operation was kept secret at the request of Nimitz' family because the last time he was hospitalized he got so many get-well telegrams, letters and cards that it took the admiral longer to answer them than to recover.

County Experiments In Welfare For Aged

Friends and family, ministers and neighbors are being alerted to help Marin County Department of Social Services make a success of a two-year experiment aimed at removing obstacles in the administration of welfare services to the elderly.

"If anyone knows of an elderly person who genuinely needs the help of a social worker, a call to us will get a prompt response," says director Betty L. Presley.

"People in a community can help us to insure no one fails to get the assistance of a social worker owing to the change in procedure," she adds.

Until the experiment started Nov. 15, each applicant was checked for truth by a social worker. Now, affidavits filed by applicants are subject only to spot checks, and social workers are free to do work where it is needed.

Although some people receiving old-age security will have a social worker assigned to them, the great majority will get no help unless they ask for it, or someone applies on their behalf.

"That is where a person's friends and neighbors come in," states Miss Presley. "We are asking that they be alert to any situation of concern about an elderly person's welfare and contact us promptly."

Scouts' Gifts Bring Bear Rug

ARBUCKLE (AP) — A polar bear rug graces the Butte Area Council office of the Boy Scouts, thanks to gifts they and others made to crippled children in Alaska.

Scouts, ranchers and others in this area sent 2,000 pounds of pink beans, 2,000 pounds of lima beans, 1,500 pounds of walnuts and 100 pounds of almond meats to the Anchorage chapter of the Alaska Crippled Children's Assn.

The vegetables were sold by the Gilded Cage, an association store, and money turned over to the association.

Alaskans later sent the bear rug to Fritz Erdman, a Colusa rancher who sent 40,000 pounds of rice. Yesterday Erdman turned the rug over to John W. McConnell, scout executive.

County Will Try To Sell Excess Land

Bids will be opened at 10 a.m. tomorrow by Marin County Supervisors on six parcels of land declared surplus after right of way acquisitions for the Coyote Creek Flood control project.

Five of the parcels are near Flamingo Road, north of Tennessee Valley Road. The sixth is on Maple Street south of Highway 1.

Largest is a 108-by-92 foot parcel fronting on Cardinal Road off Flamingo. There is another smaller piece on Cardinal, two triangular pieces and a small strip on Flamingo. The piece on Maple is 50 by 155 feet.

The only legal building lot is the large one on Cardinal Road. The others would have to be added to adjacent property to provide a usable lot for a residence.

Kidnap Suspect Turns Self In

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—A 34-year-old Tacoma carpenter is being held in connection with the kidnaping of Charles Hyde III, Sheriff Jack Berry said Saturday.

Berry identified the man held as Tilford G. Baker. The sheriff said two other men are believed to have been involved.

The sheriff said Baker turned himself in to the sheriff shortly before 4 a.m. today and asked to give a statement to Berry regarding the kidnaping.

Marin Supervisors To Face Old Items

Marin County supervisors tomorrow will again debate several items that have been before them for sometime, including the future of the County Courthouse property, a center for older adults at the Civic Center and a dump in Corte Madera.

The board meeting will begin at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center. Supervisors are scheduled to hold a luncheon session with San Rafael city councilmen on the courthouse. In the morning, the board is expected to act on a contract with a market analyst on the property.

The Marin Senior Coordinating Council has asked that the board extend a lease for an activity center for seniors beyond next May.

Hearing on the proposed county dump on 100 acres on the south side of Corte Madera Creek has been set for 8 p.m. tomorrow. The dump operation would fill the land above tidal level. After 10 years, it would be converted to a municipal golf course.

The dump proposal has been protested by several residents in the area, and supervisors agreed on the public hearing before making any decision.

The county dump in Larkspur was closed last month, the filling operation there having gone to capacity.

Girl Cut In Walk Through Window

Christy Periman, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Periman, 17 Joan Avenue, Novato, suffered cuts of both wrists, shoulder and face when she walked through a plate glass window at Nave Lanes, Ignacio, at 5:53 p.m. Saturday, the Marin County sheriff's office reported.

Christy was outside and was going into the building when she walked through the six-by-12 window, deputies reported. She was treated at Novato General Hospital.

Approximately 12 per cent of citizens qualified for supplementary insurance under medicare have indicated they do not want it.

State Employees Seek $35 Million Pay Boost

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The California State Employees' Assn. has urged the state personnel board to recommend salary increases for the 1966-67 year that would cost the state's general fund about $35 million.

Salary increases usually require substantial appropriations from special funds as well as the general fund.

Robert H. Sharpe, CSEA attorney, said the proposed salary increase would permit "justified" increases of 10 per cent for the lower paid classifications in the prisons, hospitals, police classes, teachers, building trades classes, social workers and conservation classes.

Others would receive a 5 per cent increase, all as of next July 1.

In addition, LeRoy Littlejohn, newly elected president of CSEA, asked the board to approve a 2.5 per cent pay increase for clerical employees not later Jan. 1, 1966. The clerical classes missed out on half the last pay raise.

"Clerical employees received only half the increase granted other state employees last July," Littlejohn said. "By any and all standards of comparison or justification, they are entitled to this overdue adjustment at the earliest possible time."

Littlejohn said the clerical pay increase could be financed from unallocated salary funds in the present budget.

The personnel board annually recommends to the governor in December its plans for increasing state salaries, to keep them in line with similar work in private industry.

No silver dollars have been minted since 1935 and none are expected to be produced for at least five years.

Salaries Again On Agenda

San Rafael Board of Education tomorrow will consider recommendations on teachers' salaries resulting from last week's joint meeting with the newly formed teachers negotiating council.

The board will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the administration building, Third and E streets.

Although little indication was given at the joint meeting on action to be taken tomorrow, members may be asked to vote on a retroactive pay hike.

Teachers asked for a five per cent pay hike in the spring, but the board reduced this to 3.2 per cent at its budget sessions.

At the joint meeting last Thursday, F. Ewing Bone, chairman of the negotiating council, said faculty morale "is currently low and continuing to deteriorate."

Supt. Bert C. Corona put forward several proposals at the last reguler meeting of the board Nov. 9.

One was that a retroactive pay hike be granted to bridge the gap between the 3.2 per cent and the five per cent figures. This would cost $27,000 each for the high school and elementary district, he said.

State Reopens Study Of Redwood Highways

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The California Highway Commission has voted to reopen consideration of freeway routings for Jedediah Smith State Park in the Humboldt redwood region and to give further consideration to a route in the Prairie Creek Redwoods state parks.

Both routings have caused considerable controversy. The commission adopted a resolution directing the division of highways to carry on the studies.

In the case of Jedediah Smith, a routing was adopted more than a year ago with the blessing of the division of beaches and parks — in fact, the route adopted was better than the division had expected. However, since then the park commission has asked that purchase of rights of way for the route be halted until further studies are made.

The Prairie Creek routing has been under dispute for several years.

Robert B. Bradford, commission chairman and administrator of the transportation agency, said new legislation adopted in 1965 makes it possible for the commission to restudy the routes. The new law removed a requirement that freeways be built along the most direct and practical routes.

The commission resolution draws attention to the desirability of conserving the beauty of the state's natural resources, as well as providing safe and modern transportation capable of enhancing economic development.

The commission action suspends all action on the route adopted through Jedediah Smith in December, 1963. No route affecting Prairie Creek has been adopted as yet.

Bradford said the further studies will not result in any delays in ultimate freeway construction as no funds for highways in either park are included in the next budget.

Car Hits Poles, Driver Injured

John E. Young, 23, of 3603 Chileno Valley Road, suffered cuts of the nose, lip and forehead when his car struck two poles along Chinelo Valley Road, six-tenths of a mile west of Marshall - Petaluma Road at 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

Young's car sheared off a small pole and then struck a power pole after failing to negotiate a curve, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Young was treated at Hillcrest Hospital in Petaluma.

the colleges have it

It concerns us all if the colleges are turning away qualified applicants—and for lack of room this is happening more and more frequently.

We urgently need college-educated leaders—all we can get. They, in the aggregate, manage our resources, manpower and human skills.

A loss in leadership would slow down our economic growth. It would threaten jobs, opportunities and our standard of living.

The colleges are doing their best, but there are shortages in classrooms, facilities and teachers.

It's everybody's problem—and it's urgent. Give to the college of your choice.

College is America's best friend

Report On Nuclear Arms Route Bared

NEW YORK (AP) — Reports that the Defense Department might be moving nuclear weapons through the city at night has caused some apprehension among officials.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner showed his concern yesterday when he released a report from his Technical Advisory Committee on Radiation.

"Upon several recent occasions," the report said, "the fire department has been requested to escort truck convoys reportedly carrying nuclear weapons through the city at night."

Such shipments could be going to nearby military bases or to piers for shipment overseas.

The report said repeated inquiries to the Department of Defense had been fruitless, "probably because of security reasons."

The committee, headed by Prof. Harold H. Rossi of Columbia University assured Wagner, however; that the city was "adequately protected from excess or unwarranted exposure to radiation and from the risks of peacetime nuclear disaster."

'Amigos' Group Discussion Set

Flora Mancebo and Richard Bac will talk of their experiences with Amigos Anonymous, the summer Mexican aid program at the next forum sponsored by the Junior Service Honorary at Terra Linda High School.

The session will be Dec. 13.

In January, Margaret Freedman will talk about her travels in Europe.

The Junior Services Honorary's first program was a discussion of the war in Viet Nam last month.

In normal flight, streamlined swifts fly faster than any other species of birds.

Times Says Weapons In Germany

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times has reported that U.S. nuclear warheads have been mounted secretly on planes and missiles of West Germany and other members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

A Washington dispatch in the Sunday Times also said the warheads had been in place for more than six years, although they remain in U.S. custody.

The Defense Department declined comment. It said it is department policy never to discuss the location or operations of nuclear weapons.

The Times story said the warheads are controlled by Americans "through a combination of physical and electronic controls" and cannot be used without U.S. approval.

Four Negro Homes Bombed In Charlotte

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — The homes of four Negro civil rights leaders, including the state president of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, were rocked by explosions early today, but no one was injured.

Chief of Police John S. Hord said the homes of Kelly Alexander, state president of the NAACP, and of his brother, Fred Alexander, were the most seriously damaged.

Blasts also occurred at the home of Dr. Reginald Hawkins, a dentist and militant civil rights leader, and the home of Julius Chambers, a young attorney who had handled many suits in behalf of Negro groups.

Hord, who arrived in the area 30 minutes after the blasts, said that in his opinion "it was a well-organized group.

"I'll guarantee you it was people who knew what they were doing. Whoever it was knew explosives and they knew the sections and how to get in and get out quickly."

In Raleigh, Gov. Dan Moore offered Charlotte officials the "full resources of our state investigative and law enforcement agencies."

Mayor Stan Brookshire of Charlotte said:

"These bombings are most unfortunate and uncalled for. Our whole city is shocked."

The Federal Bureau of Investigation joined the investigation of the blasts, which occurred at the four homes on Charlotte's West Side about 2:30 a.m.

State Growth Mark Forecast

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The nation's most populated state will begin pushing the 20 million mark by mid-1967.

That's the word from the State Department of Finance in its 1965 population report, released Saturday.

The state's population at mid-1965 was 18,756,000, the report said, an increase of 3 per cent over the previous year.

The department's Financial and Population Research Section said that by mid-1967 the population boom will reach an estimated 19,907,000.

The report said:

Public school enrollment has increased more than 40 per cent since the 1960 census.

The density of population in the state has increased by nearly 20 persons per square mile since 1960 with the City of San Francisco at the top of the density ranking.

New Boys' Clothing Found Near School

Packages containing 228 pairs of new boys' socks have been found alongside a creek near Bernard Hoffman School in Terra Linda, sheriff's officers said today.

John J. Weber, school employee, told deputies he found the socks, along with nine pairs of boys' pants and nine boys' shirts, while working on the school grounds. Officers said an invoice with the name, W. T. Grant Co., Corte Madera, was found among the items. Corte Madera police were notified to ascertain if the items were stolen.

Pools Lack Permit, Granted Variances

Marin County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill today granted variances for two pool decks built by Blue Haven Pools of San Rafael without permit.

The deck at the Franklin Lam home at 568 Shoreline Highway, Tamalpais Valley, protruded 19 feet into the 25-foot front yard setback. That pool deck at the Ronald Tennler home at 122 Bretano Way, Greenbrae, projected three feet into the seven-foot side set setback.

A five-megaton nuclear blast at ground level most likely would destroy buildings two miles from the point of explosion, defense officials say.

Holiday Mail Tips Given By Postmaster

"Put zip into your Christmas mailing and get it away early" is the advice of Marin County postmasters, expecting another bumper crop of mail this year.

Said Warren H. Williams, San Rafael postmaster, "With the cooperation of the public, we expect to handle an even greater volume of mail with less effort than during the 1964 Christmas rush."

He offered this advice to mailers:

1. Up-date last year's address list and include zip codes.
2. Prepare a gift list as soon as possible and be sure to have enough shipping materials on hand.
3. Use first class postage on greeting cards to insure forwarding or returning if undelivered, providing a return address is on the envelope.
4. Be sure cartons are packed tightly by filling empty spaces with stuffing material. Every parcel should have a slip enclosed with the name and address of the sender, the addressee and a list of the contents in the event the exterior wrapper comes off.
5. Address all letters, cards and packages as clearly as possible and mail early and often, instead of at the last minute.

The use of the zip code, said Williams, will speed up the handling of Christmas mail.

Starting Dec. 6, all Marin post offices will remain open until 5:30 p.m. each night, including Saturdays.

Indicators Show Business Decline

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Three key business indicators—factory orders for durable goods, personal income and housing starts—all declined in October.

However, government officials said there were explanations for the first two: A lull in defense buying and the fact that personal income had spurted in September because of payment of lump-sum retroactive Social Security benefits.

Council To Meet

The Fairfax City Council, in an adjourned meeting at 8 p.m. today at the Fairfax Women's Club, will again take up a proposed park and recreation agreement with the Fairfax School District, and will discuss a resolution on the nation's role in Viet Nam.

WE SEW SEATS

Car seats. With split seams.

For example . . . the little VW is a mighty fine car. It's put together by strong mechanics. They have contests to see who can tighten the bolts best. They never come apart.

Except at the seams. We sew them up. With dacron thread. And they never come apart!

(Sam, incidentally, pioneered the use of dacron thread in the automotive field in Marin. Just one of our many firsts.)

We sew seams for Fords, Chevs. and Plymouths, TRs, MGAs, and Alfas. And many more, too.

We also install seat covers, auto glass and convertible tops, carpets, headrests and armrests. And many more.

Stop in today and show us your seam problem. Or seat cover problem. Or glass breakage.

We'll be happy to see you!

Marin Supervisors To Face Old Items

Marin County supervisors tomorrow will again debate several items that have been before them for sometime, including the future of the County Courthouse property, a center for older adults at the Civic Center and a dump in Corte Madera.

The board meeting will begin at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center.

Supervisors are scheduled to hold a luncheon session with San Rafael city councilmen on the courthouse. In the morning, the board is expected to act on a contract with a market analyst on the property.

The Marin Senior Coordinating Council has asked that the board extend a lease for an activity center for seniors beyond next May.

Hearing on the proposed county dump on 100 acres on the south side of Corte Madera Creek has been set for 8 p.m. tomorrow. The dump operation would fill the land above tidal level. After 10 years, it would be converted to a municipal golf course.

The dump proposal has been protested by several residents in the area, and supervisors agreed on the public hearing before making any decision.

The county dump in Larkspur was closed last month, the filling operation there having gone to capacity.

Girl Cut In Walk Through Window

Christy Periman, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Periman, 17 Joan Avenue, Novato, suffered cuts of both wrists, shoulder and face when she walked through a plate glass window at Nave Lanes, Ignacio, at 5:53 p.m. Saturday, the Marin County sheriff's office reported.

Christy was outside and was going into the building when she walked through the six-by-12 window, deputies reported. She was treated at Novato General Hospital.

Approximately 12 per cent of citizens qualified for supplementary insurance under medicare have indicated they do not want it.

State Employees Seek $35 Million Pay Boost

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The California State Employees' Assn. has urged the state personnel board to recommend salary increases for the 1966-67 year that would cost the state's general fund about $35 million.

Salary increases usually require substantial appropriations from special funds as well as the general fund.

Robert H. Sharpe, CSEA attorney, said the proposed salary increase would permit "justified" increases of 10 per cent for the lower paid classifications in the prisons, hospitals, police classes, teachers, building trades classes, social workers and conservation classes.

Others would receive a 5 per cent increase, all as of next July 1.

In addition, LeRoy Littlejohn, newly elected president of CSEA, asked the board to approve a 2.5 per cent pay increase for clerical employees not later Jan. 1, 1966. The clerical classes missed out on half the last pay raise.

"Clerical employees received only half the increase granted other state employees last July," Littlejohn said. "By any and all standards of comparison or justification, they are entitled to this overdue adjustment at the earliest possible time."

Littlejohn said the clerical pay increase could be financed from unallocated salary funds in the present budget.

The personnel board annually recommends to the governor in December its plans for increasing state salaries, to keep them in line with similar work in private industry.

No silver dollars have been minted since 1935 and none are expected to be produced for at least five years.

Salaries Again On Agenda

San Rafael Board of Education tomorrow will consider recommendations on teachers' salaries resulting from last week's joint meeting with the newly formed teachers negotiating council.

The board will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the administration building, Third and E streets.

Although little indication was given at the joint meeting on action to be taken tomorrow, members may be asked to vote on a retroactive pay hike.

Teachers asked for a five per cent pay hike in the spring, but the board reduced this to 3.2 per cent at its budget sessions.

At the joint meeting last Thursday, F. Ewing Bone, chairman of the negotiating council, said faculty morale "is currently low and continuing to deteriorate."

Supt. Bert C. Corona put forward several proposals at the last reguler meeting of the board Nov. 9.

One was that a retroactive pay hike be granted to bridge the gap between the 3.2 per cent and the five per cent figures. This would cost $27,000 each for the high school and elementary district, he said.

State Reopens Study Of Redwood Highways

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The California Highway Commission has voted to reopen consideration of freeway routings for Jedediah Smith State Park in the Humboldt redwood region and to give further consideration to a route in the Prairie Creek Redwoods state parks.

Both routings have caused considerable controversy. The commission adopted a resolution directing the division of highways to carry on the studies.

In the case of Jedediah Smith, a routing was adopted more than a year ago with the blessing of the division of beaches and parks — in fact, the route adopted was better than the division had expected. However, since then the park commission has asked that purchase of rights of way for the route be halted until further studies are made.

The Prairie Creek routing has been under dispute for several years.

Robert B. Bradford, commission chairman and administrator of the transportation agency, said new legislation adopted in 1965 makes it possible for the commission to restudy the routes. The new law removed a requirement that freeways be built along the most direct and practical routes.

The commission resolution draws attention to the desirability of conserving the beauty of the state's natural resources, as well as providing safe and modern transportation capable of enhancing economic development.

The commission action suspends all action on the route adopted through Jedediah Smith in December, 1963. No route affecting Prairie Creek has been adopted as yet.

Bradford said the further studies will not result in any delays in ultimate freeway construction as no funds for highways in either park are included in the next budget.

MARIN FIRE CALLS

Car Hits Poles, Driver Injured

John E. Young, 23, of 3603 Chileno Valley Road, suffered cuts of the nose, lip and forehead when his car struck two poles along Chinelo Valley Road, six-tenths of a mile west of Marshall - Petaluma Road at 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

Young's car sheared off a small pole and then struck a power pole after failing to negotiate a curve, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Young was treated at Hillcrest Hospital in Petaluma.

It's our problem...
the colleges have it

It concerns us all if the colleges are turning away qualified applicants—and for lack of room this is happening more and more frequently.

We urgently need college-educated leaders—all we can get. They, in the aggregate, manage our resources, manpower and human skills.

A loss in leadership would slow down our economic growth. It would threaten jobs, opportunities and our standard of living.

The colleges are doing their best, but there are shortages in classrooms, facilities and teachers.

It's everybody's problem—and it's urgent. Give to the college of your choice.

College is America's best friend

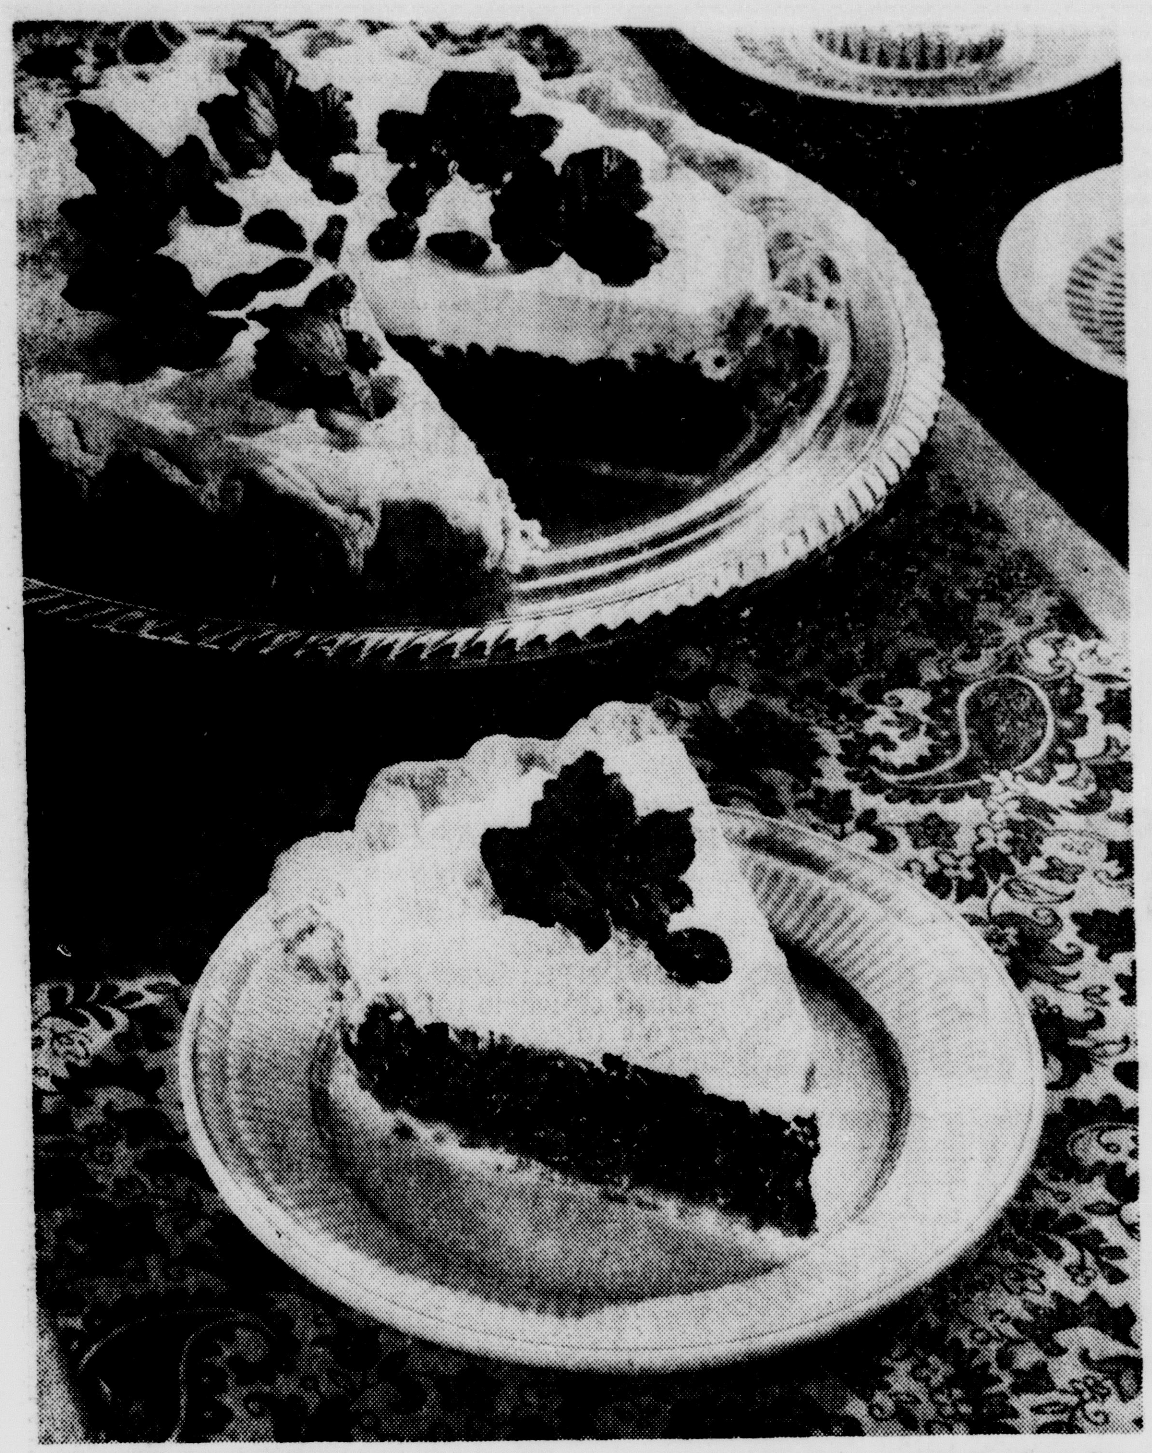
SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

FOOD PAGE



CHOCOLATE RAISIN Pie is somewhat reminiscent of the famous cheese pies which perennially pop up this time of year where good desserts are being served. Perfect for the merry round of holiday entertaining, when nothing tops pie for a dessert.

Chocolate Raisin Pie Makes A Really Spectacular Dessert

There comes a time in the merry round of holiday entertaining when nothing will take the place of pie for dessert. With this thought in mind, we have come up with a scrumptious new and interesting chocolate raisin pie. It is somewhat reminiscent of the famous chess pies which perennially pop up this time of year where good desserts are being served.

Before serving the pie, mask the top with whipped cream. Then to make it a real spectacular dessert, garnish with chocolate leaves and a few additional raisins. With a little patience, you too can produce the chocolate leaves by following our simple instructions.

CHOCOLATE LEAF RAISIN PIE

1½ cups California ssedless raisins
½ cup pecans
1½ (1-ounce) squares unsweetened chocolate
3 eggs
⅓ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ cup dark corn syrup
2 tablespoons soft butter
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 unbaked (nine-inch) pie shell
1 cup whipping cream

Chop raisins and nuts. Melt chocolate. Beat eggs until fluffy; then beat in sugar, salt, melted chocolate, syrup, butter and vanilla. Stir in raisins and nuts. Turn into unbaked pie shell. Bake below center in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 40 to 45 minutes. Cool thoroughly. Cover with whipped cream. Decorate as desired with chocolate leaves and raisins. Makes one (nine-inch) pie.

CHOCOLATE LEAVES: Spread underside of small clean dry leaves thickly (one-eighth-inch) with melted semi-sweet chocolate. Chill, then peel off leaves.

LIKE A CUSTARD

Pie With A Peanut Flavor

As the holidays close in on us, party momentum increases and a festive air surrounds day and evening gatherings. Whether it be a bridge luncheon, a dinner for six, or a dessert and coffee party, the sweet ending is viewed with anticipation by many guests. Plan to serve a fabulous item that will really be a conversation piece. Such an idea is a pumpkin cream pie with a dry toasted peanut crust. The crunchy peanut flavored crust holds a smooth, slightly spicy pumpkin filling and is chilled to cut like a perfect custard. Decorated with whipped cream and topped with chopped dry toasted peanuts, it is the piece de resistance of the party.

1¼ cups sifted all purpose flour
¼ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup soft margarine
½ cup ground dry toasted peanuts
3 tablespoons water

Preheat oven to 425° F. Sift flour, salt together. Cut margarine into dry ingredients with pastry blender or two knives until it resembles coarse cornmeal. Add nuts and mix lightly with fork. Sprinkle water slowly over dry ingredients while stirring mixture up from bottom of bowl with fork. Press dough together to form ball. Roll out on lightly floured board to 11-inch circle. Fit into nine-inch pie plate. Cut edges to one inch. Fold under and flute. Prick with fork. Bake 12-15 minutes or until golden grown. Cool thoroughly.

FILLING

1 cup cold milk
2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
¾ cup canned pumpkin
1½ teaspoons cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon ginger
1 pint vanilla ice cream, softened
½ cup chopped dry oasted peanuts
½ pint heavy cream

In one-half cup cold milk, soften gelatine. Meanwhile, heat pumpkin with remaining milk, cinnamon, nutmeg, and ginger. Add softened gelatine to hot milk mixture and stir until gelatine is completely dissolved and mixture smooth. Remove from heat. Add ice cream and stir until well mixed and smooth. Chill until mixture mounds when lifted out with tablespoon. Meanwhile, whip cream stiff. Stir whipped cream into gelatine mixture. Spoon into prepared shell. Sprinkle top with chopped peanuts. Chill until firm, about four hours. Garnish with whipped cream, if desired.

PUMPKIN ICE CREAM pie with a dry toasted peanut crust will be perfect to serve at a bridge luncheon, dinner for six, or a dessert and coffee party.

Southern Favorite — Sweet Potato Pie

If your family has never tasted sweet potatoes prepared in a dessert, they have a pleasant treat in store with this delectable Lemony Sweet Potato Pie.

Sweet potato pie originated in the South and is a cousin to the New England squash pie. It's very similar in texture, flavor and appearance to the popular pumpkin pie.

WHY NOT PLAY a little game with those seated at your table: Have them guess the main ingredient. Most will assume it is pumpkin. But when you reveal the presence of sweet potatoes, you'll draw many a compliment for your ingenuity. Meanwhile, you'll be satisfying requests for seconds on the delicious slices.

Sweet potato pies can be baked in several ways. This recipe gives a slight variation to the original, by the addition of lemon juice and chopped pecans. Serve it warm or cold crowned with whipped cream or butter pecan ice cream.

The use of canned sweet potatoes and convenient bottled lemon juice helps cut your preparation time. You can also purchase pecans already chopped and use a packaged pie crust mix.

Sweet potatoes are especially plentiful this time of year, however, so you may wish to use the fresh variety. The recipe gives you an alternative.

LEMONY SWEET POTATO PIE

Pastry for one-crust, 9-inch pie
3 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon ginger
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup bottled lemon juice
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1½ cups sieved cooked sweet potatoes (about 1 lb. 2 oz. can, or two large fresh sweet potatoes, cooked)
½ cup chopped pecans
Whipped cream or ice cream

Prepare pastry; line pie pan and flute edge. Combine eggs, brown sugar, milk, cinnamon, nutmeg, ginger and salt. Mix well. Add bottled lemon juice and melted butter or margarine. With electric mixer or rotary beater, blend in sieved sweet potatoes and pecans. Pour into pastry shell and bake in a 375°F. oven, about 50 to 60 minutes or until knife inserted near center of pie comes out clean. Serve with whipped cream or ice cream.

AN OLD SOUTHERN favorite, sweet potato pie becomes a delicious surprise when you unveil it at the dessert course. Bottled lemon juice and chopped pecans give an extra perkiness to the flavor, and whipped cream or ice cream add the perfect finishing touch.

A New Version— Beans And Rice

When you are in a hurry, this pantry shelf special may fit in.

Chili Beans with Rice
Salad Bowl French Bread
Sliced Pineapple Beverage

CHILI BEANS WITH RICE

2 cans (1 pound each) barbecue beans
1 teaspoon chili powder (or more to taste)
1 cup rice, cooked
1 cup grated cheddar chese

In a large skillet, mix the beans and chili powder; heat slowly, stirring often. Serve over the rice and sprinkle with the cheese. Makes four large servings.

Holiday Mail Tips Given By Postmaster

"Put zip into your Christmas mailing and get it away early" is the advice of Marin County postmasters, expecting another bumper crop of mail this year.

Said Warren H. Williams, San Rafael postmaster, "With the cooperation of the public, we expect to handle an even greater volume of mail with less effort than during the 1964 Christmas rush."

He offered this advice to mailers:

1. Up-date last year's address list and include zip codes.
2. Prepare a gift list as soon as possible and be sure to have enough shipping materials on hand.
3. Use first class postage on greeting cards to insure forwarding or returning if undelivered, providing a return address is on the envelope.
4. Be sure cartons are packed tightly by filling empty spaces with stuffing material. Every parcel should have a slip enclosed with the name and address of the sender, the addressee and a list of the contents in the event the exterior wrapper comes off.
5. Address all letters, cards and packages as clearly as possible and mail early and often, instead of at the last minute.

The use of the zip code, said Williams, will speed up the handling of Christmas mail.

Starting Dec. 6, all Marin post offices will remain open until 5:30 p.m. each night, including Saturdays.

Indicators Show Business Decline

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Three key business indicators—factory orders for durable goods, personal income and housing starts—all declined in October.

However, government officials said there were explanations for the first two: A lull in defense buying and the fact that personal income had spurted in September because of payment of lump-sum retroactive Social Security benefits.

Council To Meet

The Fairfax City Council, in an adjourned meeting at 8 p.m. today at the Fairfax Women's Club, will again take up a proposed park and recreation agreement with the Fairfax School District, and will discuss a resolution on the nation's role in Viet Nam.

WE SEW SEATS

Car seats. With split seams.

For example . . . the little VW is a mighty fine car. It's put together by strong mechanics. They have contests to see who can tighten the bolts best. They never come apart.

Except at the seams. We sew them up. With dacron thread. And they never come apart!

(Sam, incidentally, pioneered the use of dacron thread in the automotive field in Marin. Just one of our many firsts.)

We sew seams for Fords, Chevs. and Plymouths, TRs, MGAs, and Alfas. And many more, too.

We also install seat covers, auto glass and convertible tops, carpets; headrests and armrests. And many more.

Stop in today and show us your seam problem. Or seat cover problem. Or glass breakage.

We'll be happy to see you!

CHOCOLATE RAISIN Pie is somewhat reminiscent of the famous cheese pies which perennially pop up this time of year where good desserts are being served. Perfect for the merry round of holiday entertaining, when nothing tops pie for a dessert.

Chocolate Raisin Pie Makes A Really Spectacular Dessert

There comes a time in the merry round of holiday entertaining when nothing will take the place of pie for dessert. With this thought in mind, we have come up with a scrumptious new and interesting chocolate raisin pie. It is somewhat reminiscent of the famous chess pies which perennially pop up this time of year where good desserts are being served.

Before serving the pie, mask the top with whipped cream. Then to make it a real spectacular dessert, garnish with chocolate leaves and a few additional raisins. With a little patience, you too can produce the chocolate leaves by following our simple instructions.

CHOCOLATE LEAF RAISIN PIE

1½ cups California ssedless raisins
½ cup pecans
1½ (1-ounce) squares unsweetened chocolate
3 eggs
⅓ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ cup dark corn syrup
2 tablespoons soft butter
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 unbaked (nine-inch) pie shell
1 cup whipping cream

Chop raisins and nuts. Melt chocolate. Beat eggs until fluffy; then beat in sugar, salt, melted chocolate, syrup, butter and vanilla. Stir in raisins and nuts. Turn into unbaked pie shell. Bake below center in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 40 to 45 minutes. Cool thoroughly. Cover with whipped cream. Decorate as desired with chocolate leaves and raisins. Makes one (nine-inch) pie.

CHOCOLATE LEAVES: Spread underside of small clean dry leaves thickly (one-eighth-inch) with melted semi-sweet chocolate. Chill, then peel off leaves.

LIKE A CUSTARD

Pie With A Peanut Flavor

As the holidays close in on us, party momentum increases and a festive air surrounds day and evening gatherings. Whether it be a bridge luncheon, a dinner for six, or a dessert and coffee party, the sweet ending is viewed with anticipation by many guests. Plan to serve a fabulous item that will really be a conversation piece. Such an idea is a pumpkin cream pie with a dry toasted peanut crust. The crunchy peanut flavored crust holds a smooth, slightly spicy pumpkin filling and is chilled to cut like a perfect custard. Decorated with whipped cream and topped with chopped dry toasted peanuts, it is the piece de resistance of the party.

1¼ cups sifted all purpose flour
¼ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup soft margarine
½ cup ground dry toasted peanuts
3 tablespoons water

Preheat oven to 425° F. Sift flour, salt together. Cut margarine into dry ingredients with pastry blender or two knives until it resembles coarse cornmeal. Add nuts and mix lightly with fork. Sprinkle water slowly over dry ingredients while stirring mixture up from bottom of bowl with fork. Press dough together to form ball. Roll out on lightly floured board to 11-inch circle. Fit into nine-inch pie plate. Cut edges to one inch. Fold under and flute. Prick with fork. Bake 12-15 minutes or until golden grown. Cool thoroughly.

FILLING

1 cup cold milk
2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
¾ cup canned pumpkin
1½ teaspoons cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon ginger
1 pint vanilla ice cream, softened
½ cup chopped dry oasted peanuts
½ pint heavy cream

In one-half cup cold milk, soften gelatine. Meanwhile, heat pumpkin with remaining milk, cinnamon, nutmeg, and ginger. Add softened gelatine to hot milk mixture and stir until gelatine is completely dissolved and mixture smooth. Remove from heat. Add ice cream and stir until well mixed and smooth. Chill until mixture mounds when lifted out with tablespoon. Meanwhile, whip cream stiff. Stir whipped cream into gelatine mixture. Spoon into prepared shell. Sprinkle top with chopped peanuts. Chill until firm, about four hours. Garnish with whipped cream, if desired.

PUMPKIN ICE CREAM pie with a dry toasted peanut crust will be perfect to serve at a bridge luncheon, dinner for six, or a dessert and coffee party.

Southern Favorite — Sweet Potato Pie

If your family has never tasted sweet potatoes prepared in a dessert, they have a pleasant treat in store with this delectable Lemony Sweet Potato Pie.

Sweet potato pie originated in the South and is a cousin to the New England squash pie. It's very similar in texture, flavor and appearance to the popular pumpkin pie.

WHY NOT PLAY a little game with those seated at your table: Have them guess the main ingredient. Most will assume it is pumpkin. But when you reveal the presence of sweet potatoes, you'll draw many a compliment for your ingenuity. Meanwhile, you'll be satisfying requests for seconds on the delicious slices.

Sweet potato pies can be baked in several ways. This recipe gives a slight variation to the original, by the addition of lemon juice and chopped pecans. Serve it warm or cold crowned with whipped cream or butter pecan ice cream.

The use of canned sweet potatoes and convenient bottled lemon juice helps cut your preparation time. You can also purchase pecans already chopped and use a packaged pie crust mix.

Sweet potatoes are especially plentiful this time of year, however, so you may wish to use the fresh variety. The recipe gives you an alternative.

LEMONY SWEET POTATO PIE

Pastry for one-crust, 9-inch pie
3 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon ginger
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup bottled lemon juice
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1½ cups sieved cooked sweet potatoes (about 1 lb. 2 oz. can, or two large fresh sweet potatoes, cooked)
½ cup chopped pecans
Whipped cream or ice cream

Prepare pastry; line pie pan and flute edge. Combine eggs, brown sugar, milk, cinnamon, nutmeg, ginger and salt. Mix well. Add bottled lemon juice and melted butter or margarine. With electric mixer or rotary beater, blend in sieved sweet potatoes and pecans. Pour into pastry shell and bake in a 375°F. oven, about 50 to 60 minutes or until knife inserted near center of pie comes out clean. Serve with whipped cream or ice cream.

AN OLD SOUTHERN favorite, sweet potato pie becomes a delicious surprise when you unveil it at the dessert course. Bottled lemon juice and chopped pecans give an extra perkiness to the flavor, and whipped cream or ice cream add the perfect finishing touch.

A New Version— Beans And Rice

When you are in a hurry, this pantry shelf special may fit in.

Chili Beans with Rice
Salad Bowl French Bread
Sliced Pineapple Beverage

CHILI BEANS WITH RICE

2 cans (1 pound each) barbecue beans
1 teaspoon chili powder (or more to taste)
1 cup rice, cooked
1 cup grated cheddar chese

In a large skillet, mix the beans and chili powder; heat slowly, stirring often. Serve over the rice and sprinkle with the cheese. Makes four large servings.

Hospital's 'Art On Wheels'

The "Art A La Carte," a lending library of art work and books, has been rolling through the halls of Ross General Hospital since May of this year. The unique service to the patients of Ross Hospital was begun by the Ross Hospital Volunteer Service after hearing of the success of similar programs in some large Eastern hospitals.

The cart, which was designed by the Ray Winther Co. of South San Francisco and built by students at Redwood High School, carries books as well as art works and is wheeled from room to room by the volunteers. Patients may select from the cart any of the books or framed pictures that they wish and the selection is theirs for the length of their stay or until they wish a change.

CHOICE IS the basis of the art cart program. When a patient selects a picture he likes for his hospital room wall, he has been given an easy way to express his individuality and to reflect his personality upon the often impersonal surroundings of the hospital. The pictures that are chosen for the cart are for the most part cheerful pictures, stimulating but not controversial, restful but not dull, pleasant in color but not harsh or gaudy.

The subjects are varied to suit all tastes, portraits, landscapes, seascapes, still lifes, flowers and outdoor scenes such as sailing and fishing. By checking the file that is kept on the cart, the volunteers have discovered that Marin County patients have a preference for seascapes and landscapes. The fact that a painting is a reproduction of a Van Gogh, Cezanne or Gauguin, is not as important to a patient as visual appeal.

THE OVERALL acceptance and therapeutic value of the art cart program to the patients at Ross Hospital has been echoed by physicians and staff. In fact the enthusiasm has been such that the volunteers feel it is time to expand the program so that the service can be extended to all parts of the hospital.

Reproductions make up a large part of the selection on the art cart, but Bay Area artists have been showing an increased interest in the project and a number of original paintings have been donated by them.

MRS. DORIS MORRISON, president of the Marin Society of Artists, is enthusiastic about the project and has mentioned that some paintings are promised by artist members.

Those interested in donating original paintings or suitable reproductions may obtain more information about "Art A La Carte" from Mesdames Kenneth Carmichael, orientation chairman and chairman of the art cart, or Allen Zeiss, president of the Ross Hospital Volunteer Service.

Stewardesses Now Designing Own Uniforms

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Most major airlines name designers to re-design stewardess uniforms. But one line, Panagra, pulled a practical switch. It let its flight hostesses design their own. The girls produced a one-button jacket with just barely the suggestion of a fit. A white blouse is collarless, rounded at the neck and loose. The skirt has seamless front and the new cap is a round beret worn on the back of the head and stuck with the light green color traditional to the airlines.

SEEING THE SOVIET

Glimpse Presents Realities Of Everyday Life In Moscow

First of a series of articles on a just-completed trip through Russia and India.

By BARBARA HOSMER

"Are you the Americans?"—one is greeted almost shyly at the Moscow airport by a pert young woman in a camel-colored coat who explains that she is to be the guide.

"I wondered then, 'What will they be like, my Americans'" she is to confess to us weeks later. "What will they look like, what will they want to do? Will they like it here?"

Her heavy coat is buttoned closely over a warm skirt and sweater against the night air and a wool scarf now covers her French-twist hairdo as she shepherds us toward the Soviet capital with the aid of bus and driver.

THE PANES ARE streaked with a light drizzle which a day later will turn into the earliest Moscow snow that Russians can recall in 20 years. The highway is dark after the brightness of the modern airport, and only after some 15 minutes do the lights of small houses and the apartment blocks on the outskirts begin to show. "Drugstore," "Fruits, Vegetables, Milk" reads Russian neon lettering on the stores along broad avenues, while in the four-story apartments above people can be glimpsed through uncurtained windows reading, having supper or otherwise busy. Some have television, which is programmed for evening hours and Sunday. The traffic is not heavy, but steady, largely trucks, busses and taxis, with an occasional private auto.

"That is Children's World, the department store just for children's things," points out the guide, yet a little shy and tentative although eager to explain where we will stay and what we'll do and see in the city that has been home for all her 25 years. (Still, she prefers Leningrad, with its more sophisticated feeling and beauty.)

"Will they like it here?" — A good question judging from usual accounts by Americans who've partaken of Soviet tourist hospitality. From their writings it would seem that many never leave their hotels, and their entire description of the vast USSR is a list of hotel inconveniences, with special attention to negligent elevator service and a shortage of sink stoppers. Others extend themselves to condemn food and government, and end there, apparently seeing nothing else noteworthy, leaving one to wonder what land, people and buildings really look like, or are they considered simply propaganda?

NOWHERE DO THEY mention that Moscow skies are sometimes blue and the summers hot, or that flowers bloom in every planted area and are popular sale items at state-operated sidewalk kiosks. Or that the seat of the government where the Supreme Soviet meets is the former Nicholas Palace built in 1755 inside the Kremlin walls, a yellow building with bright green roof topped by the red state flag. Or that along with the usual deep yellow buildings of old Moscow can be seen the palaces and eccentric houses of the former aristocrats and wealthy merchant families of pre-revolutionary times, as well as homes of Chekov, Tolstoy and Dostoevsky, and monastery-fortresses built for defense in the 14th and 15th centuries. Or that Muscovites own or borrow country cottages to spend the warm summer days.

Perhaps it's not worth mentioning that people cross the busiest streets through underground passages, avoiding accident or need to stop traffic, or that Russians may either rent or own their homes, which their children can inherit, or that they cannot own land but can lease it from the state to build a house and make a garden.

And bathtub stoppers can be more important than the banks of soft-drink machines copied from America that fill glasses with weak fruit "soda" for 10 kopecks or the ice cream cones vended by white-clad matrons in parks, stores and theaters and handed to you with sanitary tongs.

And there are other everyday insignificances: very few dogs in sight but an occasional cat makes its way through the courtyard of the old wooden apartment houses set up piece by piece by tremendous cranes, a reminder that the move from farm to city is not peculiar to the West.

SOVIET CITIES have stoplights and a policeman will whistle down the driver who runs through one even quicker than in America, and lucky is the man who gets off with just a warning — otherwise it's a fine and report to superior, (but not Siberia). Shopping for food in long lines is a daily tedium so more glassed-in kiosks on sidewalks sell fruits and vegetables, cabbages from vast bins, while others dispense books, flowers, magazines or Pravda, Izvestia and Krokodile, the humor publication. A variety of Russian books are on sale along the sidewalks from bookmobiles and in special stores, and business is brisk.

Streets have nearly no litter and very little paper seems available as wrappers to make litter anyway, although the old women with brooms scratch up a few things for their refuse cans in their daily work along walkways. Each shopper nets his purchases unwrapped in a string bag, and in season you can find where oranges are sold by following the bags "upstream" along the sidewalk to the source. Fruit and flowers are highly treasured in the land of long winters. . . .

Popular riverboat cafes float on the Moscow river, and hydrofoils zoom over the surface there as well as on the Neva in Leningrad and along the Dnieper from Kiev. Ski jumps are found within the city, and boys and young men eagerly climb the high ladder of the one in the park near Moscow University to practice even without snow. A tremendous circular swimming pool is heated the year around for outdoor splashing, and hardy young men can be seen stroking along while it's snowing, the steam swirling up around them in the icy air.

"Will they like it?" wonder the Russians, who've never seen any country but their own.

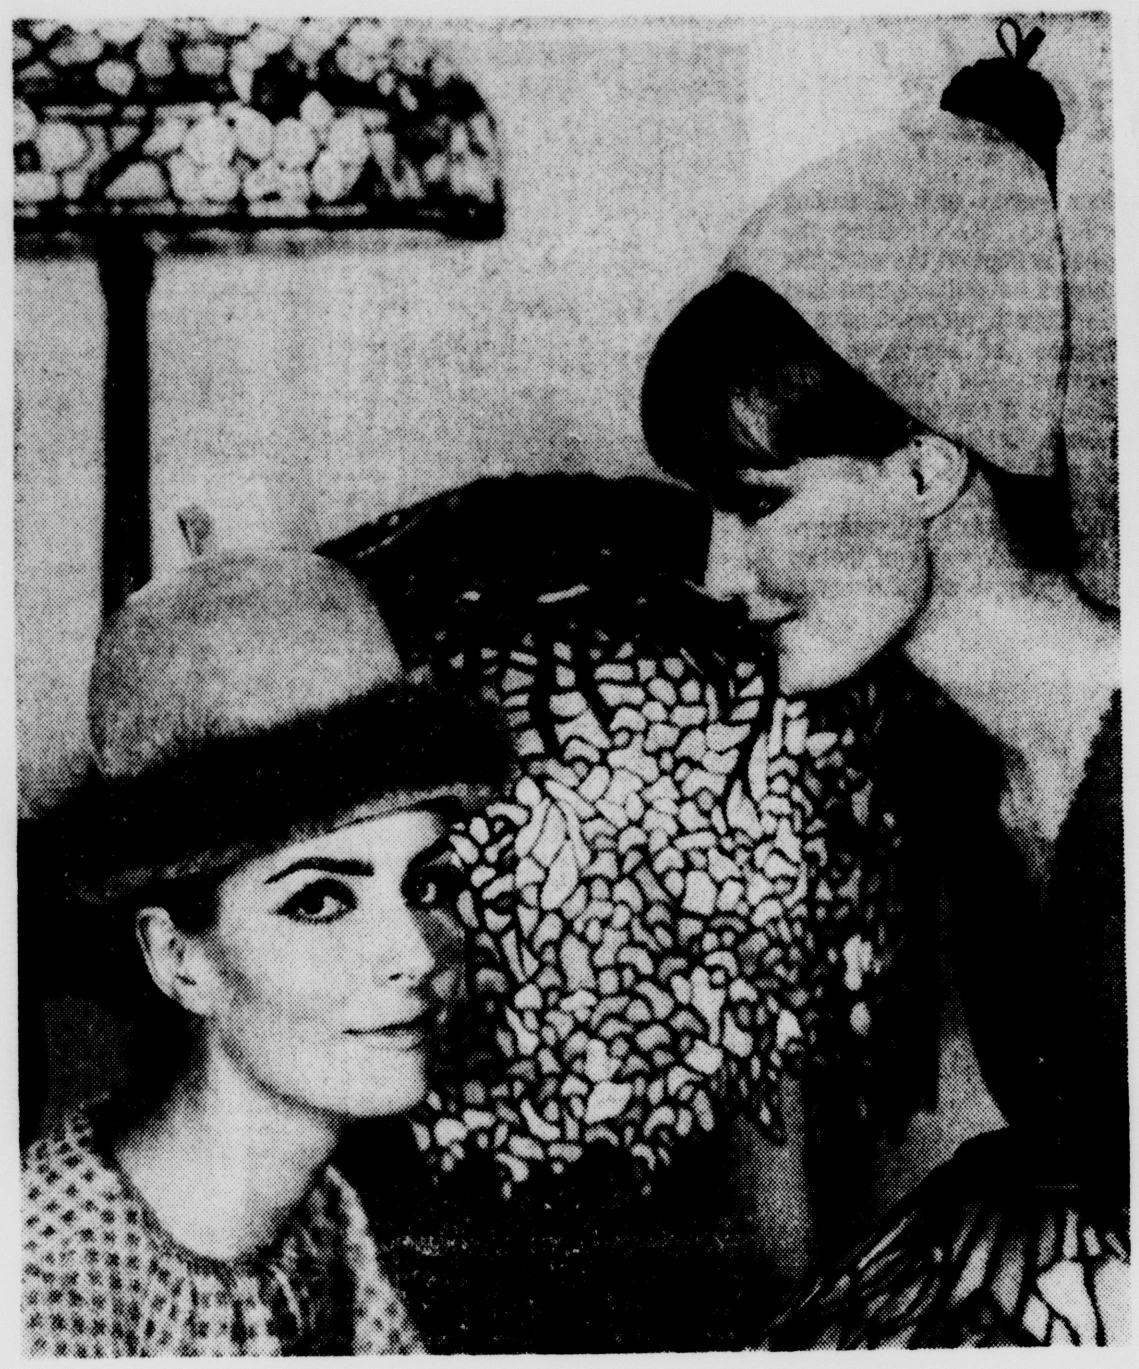
"You only see what they want you to," comments the typical cynic here at home in America, a land where the ideal of the open mind was once venerated and still is not a crime. Maybe, but would he even see it? Would he even bother to really look, or simply make the long journey to reconfirm prejudices and add a line or two to the others' list of hotel inconveniences? The prospective traveler from the West would do well to ask himself first, and then pack a sink stopper in his luggage. . .

Job's Daughters Elect Officers

Mill Valley's Bethel 119 of the International Order of Job's Daughters elected officers for the next term at their recent meeting in the Mill Valley Masonic Temple.

They are Jane Cleaveland, honored queen, who will succeed Janet Krone; Sheryl Norush, senior princess; Shannon Pixley, junior princess; Jill Gobershock, guide, and Joan De Lasaux, marshal.

Following the election several members passed their proficiency test under the direction of Jill Gobershock. They are Claudette Browing, Charmaine Browing, Clista Ellis, Claudia Puharich and Ellen Turner.



MAKING AN ENTRANCE

The velvet hat makes its entrance to the fashion scene for winter in these versions with crowns up, punctuating their height with topknot decor. They're by Adolfo II, designed in lustrous boulevard velvet; left, a fluff of matching marabou on dashing fedora with stand-up loop on top; and at right a streamered rosette of black grosgrain ruffles perches atop a domed cone which sits lightly at the back of the head.

Teen-Agers, Problems Just About Same World Over

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — Many American teen-agers, asked to explain their pursuit of pleasure via drinking bouts and sexual experimentation, most often blame the bomb.

The reasoning: Enjoy today because tomorrow might not come. The threat of nuclear war, according to studies by sociologists, gives the teen-agers their biggest worry.

But what about teen-agers the world over? What do they worry about?

The question was put to 70 of them from 40 nations at the Girl Scout Senior Round-up in Farragut, Idaho.

Strangely, very few said they worried about the bomb, marking the most significant difference between their worries and those of contemporary American teen-agers.

Although our customs and circumstances differ, teen-agers are just about the same the world over.

They are, in effect, full of curiosity, hope for a better future, and faith capable of believing that the world tomorrow will have fewer problems as people get to understand one another better.

Orturn Berger, 19, from Bremen, Germany, said that a problem in her land is that the relationship between young people and adults is not as close as it used to be.

Control by parents in America puzzled Ann-Grete Gissemann, of Sjaelland, Denmark.

"Girls in my country seem to have more freedom," she said.

The girls in Denmark, according to Anne-Grete, go steady more than American girls do. She was astounded that a girl could not go out by herself in Memphis, Tenn., where she lived for four weeks.

Tytti Tamminen, 17, from Helsinki, Finland, said girls in her land go with boys and marry at a later age than do Americans. "Maybe it's the cold weather," she said.

Constanza Calderoni, 19, of Mexico City, reported that dress and social life is much more formal in her hometown than it is in America. Girls hardly ever wear shorts or blue jeans. They wear dresses everywhere. When they date, they have a chaperon.

Wilma Tellez, 17, from Bogota, Colombia, said teen-agers in her country worry about getting good jobs after school.

She worries because strikes and politics by students — picketing and demonstrations — sometimes interfere with the educational process.

The only dating that exists is chaperoned or in parties with lots of boys and girls.

"Teen-age independence," she said, "is more of a problem in America. For the adults."

Miss Buggey Will Marry December 19

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Buggey of Mill Valley are announcing the coming marriage of their daughter, Carolyn Lea Buggey, to Francis C. Elkins of Merced.

Carolyn was graduated from Tamalpais High School and attended the College of Marin and is employed by the Pacific Telephone Co.

The future bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Elkins of Oroville, was graduated from Chico State College and is a secondary teacher at Merced High School.

The couple plans to wed at Trinity Methodist Church in Chico on Dec. 19.

Judy Curry Bride At Novato Church

Judy L. Curry, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Robert W. Moore of Terra Linda, became the bride of David S. Ralph of Novato at Our Lady of Loretto Church in a 2:30 p.m. ceremony on Saturday.

Col. Moore gave his daughter in marriage at the double-ring wedding in which she wore a full-length gown of white peau de soie in a sheath style with a full train.

Maid of honor was Patricia Lynn Cunningham of San Rafael who was dressed in a full length dress of gold chiffon over taffeta. Bridesmaids Pamela Edison of Santa Venetia, Deana Machado of Petaluma and Sharon Ralph of Novato, sister of the bridegroom, were similarly dressed.

Cheryl Machado of Petaluma was flower girl and her brother, Mitchell, was ringbearer.

Robert Jordan of San Francisco acted as best man with Al Nelson of Novato, Dennis Herning of Sacramento and Michael Curry of San Rafael, brother of the bride, ushering.

A reception followed at the Hamilton Air Force Base Officers' Club.

Judy was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and is employed with Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. Mrs. Oma May Howerton of San Rafael is her grandmother.

The bridegroom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Ralph of Novato, was graduated from Novato High School and is presently employed with Pacific Construction Supply. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Barrise and Mrs. Leona Perry, all of San Francisco.

Following a wedding trip to Southern California, the couple will reside in San Rafael.

Greater Safety In Family Auto

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Greater safety for the driver and passengers in the family auto is in store because of recent developments in the design and equipment of new cars, as well as continued emphasis on seat belts. So reports the Division of Accident Prevention of the Public Health Service (PHS).

The PHS has supported 69 research projects in the field of traffic injury prevention at a cost of $8 million.

Sugar And Proteins Flavor Milk

DAVIS (UPI) — University of California researchers have found that the amount of cream in milk doesn't determine flavor so much as the other things that are in it — such as sugar and protein.

Rose Marie Pangborn and Walker L. Dunkley of the Department of Food Science and Technology reached that conclusion after feeding various kinds of milk to a panel of tasters.

She found that the cream content of milk could be reduced almost by half before the tasters could notice the difference. But the panelists could detect a change in taste when a much smaller percentage of milk sugar or protein was removed.

The 'Mod Look'

London and its "mod look" has received the supreme honor. French designer Yves St. Laurent, the 29-year-old responsible for all those Mondrian dresses, says that he thinks English styles are young and fun. And, he adds, they've pepped up the fashion world.

Hospital's 'Art On Wheels'

The "Art A La Carte," a lending library of art work and books, has been rolling through the halls of Ross General Hospital since May of this year. The unique service to the patients of Ross Hospital was begun by the Ross Hospital Volunteer Service after hearing of the success of similar programs in some large Eastern hospitals.

The cart, which was designed by the Ray Winther Co. of South San Francisco and built by students at Redwood High School, carries books as well as art works and is wheeled from room to room by the volunteers. Patients may select from the cart any of the books or framed pictures that they wish and the selection is theirs for the length of their stay or until they wish a change.

CHOICE IS the basis of the art cart program. When a patient selects a picture he likes for his hospital room wall, he has been given an easy way to express his individuality and to reflect his personality upon the often impersonal surroundings of the hospital. The pictures that are chosen for the cart are for the most part cheerful pictures, stimulating but not controversial, restful but not dull, pleasant in color but not harsh or gaudy.

The subjects are varied to suit all tastes, portraits, landscapes, seascapes, still lifes, flowers and outdoor scenes such as sailing and fishing. By checking the file that is kept on the cart, the volunteers have discovered that Marin County patients have a preference for seascapes and landscapes. The fact that a painting is a reproduction of a Van Gogh, Cezanne or Gauguin, is not as important to a patient as visual appeal.

THE OVERALL acceptance and therapeutic value of the art cart program to the patients at Ross Hospital has been echoed by physicians and staff. In fact the enthusiasm has been such that the volunteers feel it is time to expand the program so that the service can be extended to all parts of the hospital.

Reproductions make up a large part of the selection on the art cart, but Bay Area artists have been showing an increased interest in the project and a number of original paintings have been donated by them.

MRS. DORIS MORRISON, president of the Marin Society of Artists, is enthusiastic about the project and has mentioned that some paintings are promised by artist members.

Those interested in donating original paintings or suitable reproductions may obtain more information about "Art A La Carte" from Mesdames Kenneth Carmichael, orientation chairman and chairman of the art cart, or Allen Zeiss, president of the Ross Hospital Volunteer Service.

MRS. RICHARD DELISLE, a patient, seems to appreciate the refreshing seascape held by, from left, Mrs. Doris Morrison, president of the Marin Society of Artists, and Leona Wofford, a nurse at the hospital.

Stewardesses Now Designing Own Uniforms

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Most major airlines name designers to re-design stewardess uniforms. But one line, Panagra, pulled a practical switch. It let its flight hostesses design their own. The girls produced a one-button jacket with just barely the suggestion of a fit. A white blouse is collarless, rounded at the neck and loose. The skirt has seamless front and the new cap is a round beret worn on the back of the head and stuck with the light green color traditional to the airlines.

SEEING THE SOVIET

Glimpse Presents Realities Of Everyday Life In Moscow

First of a series of articles on a just-completed trip through Russia and India.

By BARBARA HOSMER

"Are you the Americans?"—one is greeted almost shyly at the Moscow airport by a pert young woman in a camel-colored coat who explains that she is to be the guide.

"I wondered then, 'What will they be like, my Americans' " she is to confess to us weeks later. "What will they look like, what will they want to do? Will they like it here?"

Her heavy coat is buttoned closely over a warm skirt and sweater against the night air and a wool scarf now covers her French-twist hairdo as she shepherds us toward the Soviet capital with the aid of bus and driver.

THE PANES ARE streaked with a light drizzle which a day later will turn into the earliest Moscow snow that Russians can recall in 20 years. The highway is dark after the brightness of the modern airport, and only after some 15 minutes do the lights of small houses and the apartment blocks on the outskirts begin to show. "Drugstore," "Fruits, Vegetables, Milk" reads Russian neon lettering on the stores along broad avenues, while in the four-story apartments above people can be glimpsed through uncurtained windows reading, having supper or otherwise busy. Some have television, which is programmed for evening hours and Sunday. The traffic is not heavy, but steady, largely trucks, busses and taxis, with an occasional private auto.

"That is Children's World, the department store just for children's things," points out the guide, yet a little shy and tentative although eager to explain where we will stay and what we'll do and see in the city that has been home for all her 25 years. (Still, she prefers Leningrad, with its more sophisticated feeling and beauty.)

"Will they like it here?" — A good question judging from usual accounts by Americans who've partaken of Soviet tourist hospitality. From their writings it would seem that many never leave their hotels, and their entire description of the vast USSR is a list of hotel inconveniences, with special attention to negligent elevator service and a shortage of sink stoppers. Others extend themselves to condemn food and government, and end there, apparently seeing nothing else noteworthy, leaving one to wonder what land, people and buildings really look like, or are they considered simply propaganda?

NOWHERE DO THEY mention that Moscow skies are sometimes blue and the summers hot, or that flowers bloom in every planted area and are popular sale items at state-operated sidewalk kiosks. Or that the seat of the government where the Supreme Soviet meets is the former Nicholas Palace built in 1755 inside the Kremlin walls, a yellow building with bright green roof topped by the red state flag. Or that along with the usual deep yellow buildings of old Moscow can be seen the palaces and eccentric houses of the former aristocrats and wealthy merchant families of pre-revolutionary times, as well as homes of Chekov, Tolstoy and Dostoevsky, and monastery-fortresses built for defense in the 14th and 15th centuries. Or that Muscovites own or borrow country cottages to spend the warm summer days.

Perhaps it's not worth mentioning that people cross the busiest streets through underground passages, avoiding accident or need to stop traffic, or that Russians may either rent or own their homes, which their children can inherit, or that they cannot own land but can lease it from the state to build a house and make a garden.

And bathtub stoppers can be more important than the banks of soft-drink machines copied from America that fill glasses with weak fruit "soda" for 10 kopecks or the ice cream cones vended by white-clad matrons in parks, stores and theaters and handed to you with sanitary tongs.

And there are other everyday insignificances: very few dogs in sight but an occasional cat makes its way through the courtyard of the old wooden apartment houses set up piece by piece by tremendous cranes, a reminder that the move from farm to city is not peculiar to the West.

SOVIET CITIES have stoplights and a policeman will whistle down the driver who runs through one even quicker than in America, and lucky is the man who gets off with just a

THE HE-MAN

Masculinity Subtle Thing To Define—

What makes some men symbols of masculinity while others — often bigger and brawnier — are not?

The impression of masculinity, conveyed as much by a man's attitudes as by his actions and physique, is a subtle thing indeed. Many men, the psychologists tell us, cling to false or outworn notions of masculinity. They may even scorn as "unmanly" the very traits that women like most in a man!

How's your Masculinity Quotient? This light-hearted quiz, based on information gleaned from psychologists, sociologists, historians and other experts, may give you an idea of how successfully you project a he-man image to the world.

HAVE YOU given up wishing your shoulders were broader and your biceps bulgier? Congratulations! You're a hard-headed realist — which, in contemporary American society, is considered a very masculine thing to be. Besides, you've grasped the essential fact that conquering heroes come in all sizes — remember Napoleon?

One thing you shouldn't be "realistic" about: excess flab. Keep in trim, no matter what your build; such muscles as you possess should be lean and hard.

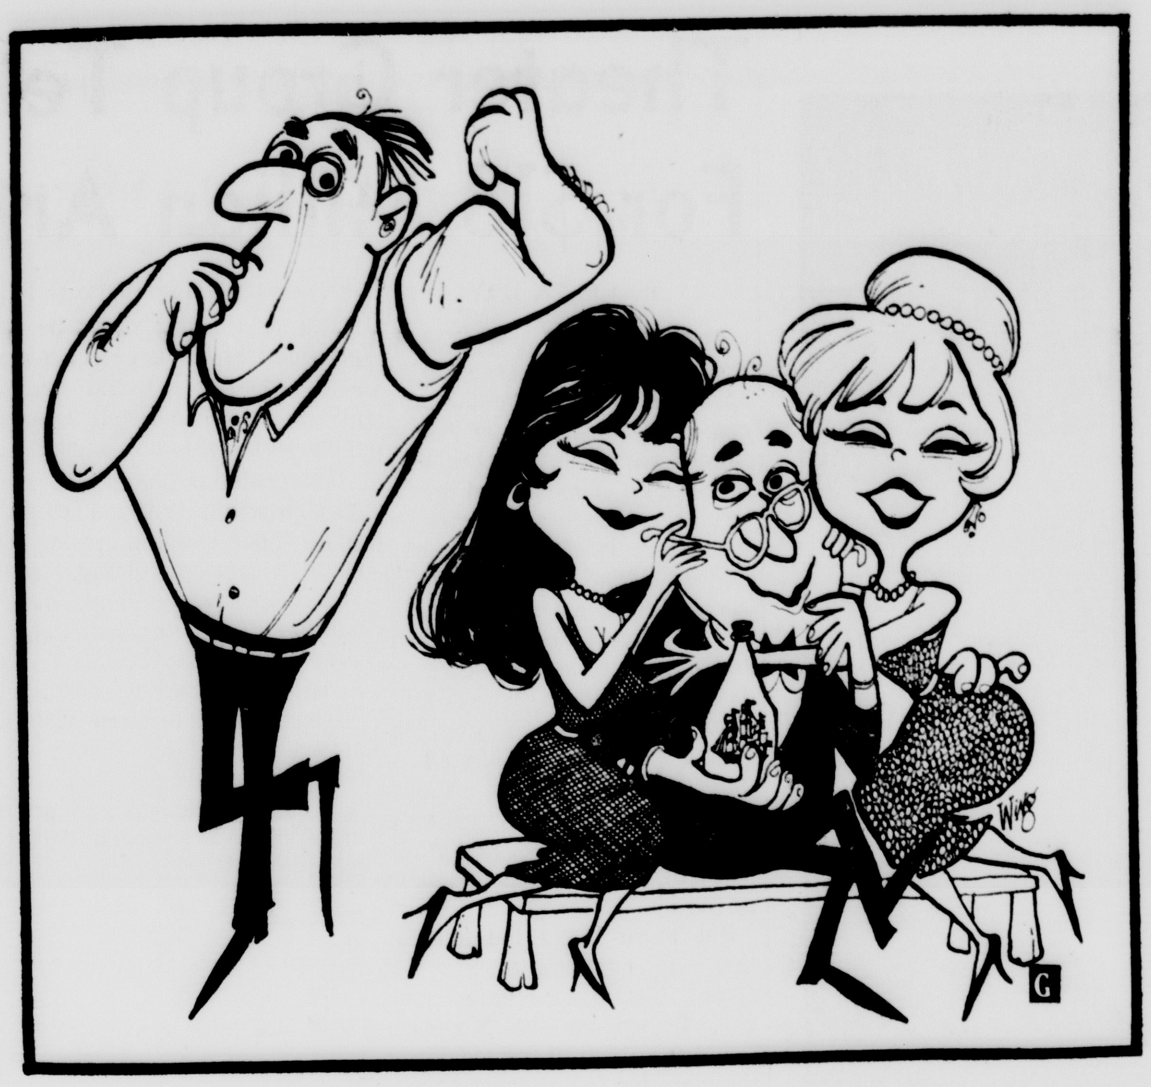
DO YOU TAKE an interest in men's fashions? The notion that he-men don't care about clothes may have gone over big in frontier days, when a pair of trousers was just something to attach a holster to; it's a little outmoded now. Women not only appreciate good grooming and clothes sense in a man — many of them consider male sloppiness a downright insult! So do bosses and personnel men, incidentally.

The idea is to give careful thought to your appearance while seeming casual and offhand about it. Like the movie star, symbol of suave masculinity, who is said to spend his leisure hours in custom-made blue jeans!

DO YOU THINK scents for men make good sense? That noble Roman warrior and lover, Marc Antony, would have agreed. So would Cleopatra — she went wild over the scents of mint and marjoram with which he anointed himself, in accord with the spicy Roman custom of the day. It you want a less antique precedent, one company estimates that some $44 million worth of aftershave lotions are sold each year in the U.S. Interestingly, masculine scent preferences seem to have changed little since Marc Antony's day. Spicy fragrances are still classic; old spice is a nationwide favorite. It all seems to show that the he-man, then as now, is the fellow who can lead women by the nose.

DO YOU EVER feel you just don't understand women? This may be a good sign. Men have long suspected — and many psychologists now agree — that men and women really do speak different languages. Even the everyday word "closet," for example, in a word association test given by Dr. Catherine Cox Miles, provokes different male-female responses; it made most men subjects think of "door," most women of "clothes." And as for the simple word "no" — well, listen to one authority: "To a man, 'no' usually means 'no' — and that's that. But a woman feels she can always reopen the subject later." So don't worry about your communications problems with the opposite sex — they may just show how masculine you are.

ARE YOU a man of fewer words than your wife or sweetheart? Again, a good sign. Though the "strong, silent type" is not necessarily the epitome of maleness, there seems to be some scientific evidence for the male belief that women out-talk men. What's more, they do it at every stage of life. Girl babies tend to talk earlier and more distinctly than baby boys. Sociologists who studied young children found that when boys and girls of similar backgrounds were compared, the girls as a group had larger vocabularies and spoke in longer sentences! (Let her have the last word — and feel smug about your he-man rating.)



YOU DON'T need brawn if you use your brain to project a he-man image, experts say. Use toiletries with a masculine aroma—women adore them! Be a "man of few words"—studies show that women out-talk men from babyhood on!

DO YOU HATE to waste words on gossip? Of course you do. Everyone knows that only women gossip; men tell each other what's new with Smith or Jones. But a rose by any other name . . . the fact is that a startling number of men enjoy a pastime that bears a remarkable resemblance to gossip. And this activity, while enjoyable, does nothing for anyone's image.

ARE YOU decisive? Down through the centuries, the ability to make a decision and stick to it has been deemed a manly trait — and its opposite attributed (by men, naturally) to the female of the species. "A fickle and changeful thing is woman ever," said the poet Virgil 2000 years ago. Not only is it still considered woman's prerogative to change her mind at will or whim — but a man's decision-making ability is now more highly valued than ever before. In several polls that rated the relative prestige of various occupations, executives and businessmen — in other words, the decision-makers — ranked near the top. Moral: show decisiveness and you may rate — not only with the ladies, but with the boss as well.

DO YOU HAVE a definite personal style? The man who's individualistic — whether rugged or not — cay convey a more masculine impression than the guy who blends in with the crowd. Do you have definite, well-thought-out opinions on politics . . . modern art . . . women's fashions? Are you a "type" — tweedy or sophisticated — in the way you dress and groom yourself? The gals may love you for it!

IT YOU'RE NOT a Don Juan, are you glad instead of sorry about it? A great many men consider the Don Juan type ultra - masculine; surprisingly, most psychologists disagree. Clinical psychologist Dr. Albert Ellis voices a common view when he states that the Don Juan "is an emotionally weak . . . individual who is trying to reassure himself of how 'strong' or 'masculine' he is." The one-woman type family man is usually much more of a real he-man, according to the mind-probers.

ARE YOU SOFT-spoken . . . keep your temper pretty well under control? Gentleness, especially toward those weaker than yourself, is more masculine a trait than some men think. The "tough guy," psychologists say, is often trying to compensate for his feelings of inadequacy; the truly self-confident male is usually strong enough psychologically to resist the temptation to bully others.

Gather Tie-Backs

When washing sheer curtains, put all the tie-backs together in a mesh bag or a pillowcase, laundry experts suggest. This way they won't get lost in the wash water or the dryer. Also: Pin them together on the line to save suntitng for each pair when it is time to hang the curtains again.

Viewing The Soviet: Notes And Scenes In The Capital

warning — otherwise it's a fine and report to superior, (but not Siberia). Shopping for food in long lines is a daily tedium so more glassed-in kiosks on sidewalks sell fruits and vegetables, cabbages from vast bins, while others dispense books, flowers, magazines or Pravda, Izvestia and Krokodile, the humor publication. A variety of Russian books are on sale along the sidewalks from bookmobiles and in special stores, and business is brisk.

Streets have nearly no litter and very little paper seems available as wrappers to make litter anyway, although the old women with brooms scratch up a few things for their refuse cans in their daily work along walkways. Each shopper nets his purchases unwrapped in a string bag, and in season you can find where oranges are sold by following the bags "upstream" along the sidewalk to the source. Fruit and flowers are highly treasured in the land of long winters. . . .

Popular riverboat cafes float on the Moscow river, and hydrofoils zoom over the surface there as well as on the Neva in Leningrad and along the Dnieper from Kiev. Ski jumps are found within the city, and boys and young men eagerly climb the high ladder of the one in the park near Moscow University to practice even without snow. A tremendous circular swimming pool is heated the year around for outdoor splashing, and hardy young men can be seen stroking along while it's snowing, the steam swirling up around them in the icy air.

"Will they like it?" wonder the Russians, who've never seen any country but their own.

"You only see what they want you to," comments the typical cynic here at home in America, a land where the ideal of the open mind was once venerated and still is not a crime. Maybe, but would he even see it? Would he even bother to really look, or simply make the long journey to reconfirm prejudices and add a line or two to the others' list of hotel inconveniences? The prospective traveler from the West would do well to ask himself first, and then pack a sink stopper in his luggage. . .

Job's Daughters Elect Officers

Mill Valley's Bethel 119 of the International Order of Job's Daughters elected officers for the next term at their recent meeting in the Mill Valley Masonic Temple.

They are Jane Cleaveland, honored queen, who will succeed Janet Krone; Sheryl Norush, senior princess; Shannon Pixley, junior princess; Jill Gobershock, guide, and Joan De Lasaux, marshal.

Following the election several members passed their proficiency test under the direction of Jill Gobershock. They are Claudette Browing, Charmaine Browing, Clista Ellis, Claudia Puharich and Ellen Turner.

MAKING AN ENTRANCE

The velvet hat makes its entrance to the fashion scene for winter in these versions with crowns up, punctuating their height with topknot decor. They're by Adolfo II, designed in lustrous boulevard velvet; left, a fluff of matching marabou on dashing fedora with stand-up loop on top; and at right a streamered rosette of black grosgrain ruffles perches atop a domed cone which sits lightly at the back of the head.

Teen-Agers, Problems Just About Same World Over

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — Many American teen-agers, asked to explain their pursuit of pleasure via drinking bouts and sexual experimentation, most often blame the bomb.

The reasoning: Enjoy today because tomorrow might not come. The threat of nuclear war, according to studies by sociologists, gives the teen-agers their biggest worry.

But what about teen-agers the world over? What do they worry about?

The question was put to 70 of them from 40 nations at the Girl Scout Senior Round-up in Farragut, Idaho.

Strangely, very few said they worried about the bomb, marking the most significant difference between their worries and those of contemporary American teen-agers.

Although our customs and circumstances differ, teen-agers are just about the same the world over.

They are, in effect, full of curiosity, hope for a better future, and faith capable of believing that the world tomorrow will have fewer problems as people get to understand one another better.

Orturn Berger, 19, from Bremen, Germany, said that a problem in her land is that the relationship between young people and adults is not as close as it used to be.

Control by parents in America puzzled Ann-Grete Gissemann, of Sjaelland, Denmark.

"Girls in my country seem to have more freedom," she said.

The girls in Denmark, according to Anne-Grete, go steady more than American girls do. She was astounded that a girl could not go out by herself in Memphis, Tenn., where she lived for four weeks.

Tytti Tamminen, 17, from Helsinki, Finland, said girls in her land go with boys and marry at a later age than do Americans. "Maybe it's the cold weather," she said.

Constanza Calderoni, 19, of Mexico City, reported that dress and social life is much more formal in her hometown than it is in America. Girls hardly ever wear shorts or blue jeans. They wear dresses everywhere. When they date, they have a chaperon.

Wilma Tellez, 17, from Bogota, Colombia, said teen-agers in her country worry about getting good jobs after school.

She worries because strikes and politics by students — picketing and demonstrations — sometimes interfere with the educational process.

The only dating that exists is chaperoned or in parties with lots of boys and girls.

"Teen-age independence," she said, "is more of a problem in America. For the adults."

Miss Buggey Will Marry December 19

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Buggey of Mill Valley are announcing the coming marriage of their daughter, Carolyn Lea Buggey, to Francis C. Elkins of Merced.

Carolyn was graduated from Tamalpais High School and attended the College of Marin and is employed by the Pacific Telephone Co.

The future bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Elkins of Oroville, was graduated from Chico State College and is a secondary teacher at Merced High School.

The couple plans to wed at Trinity Methodist Church in Chico on Dec. 19.

Greater Safety In Family Auto

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Greater safety for the driver and passengers in the family auto is in store because of recent developments in the design and equipment of new cars, as well as continued emphasis on seat belts. So reports the Division of Accident Prevention of the Public Health Service (PHS).

The PHS has supported 69 research projects in the field of traffic injury prevention at a cost of $8 million.

Marin Women

Judy Curry Bride At Novato Church

Judy L. Curry, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Robert W. Moore of Terra Linda, became the bride of David S. Ralph of Novato at Our Lady of Loretto Church in a 2:30 p.m. ceremony on Saturday.

Col. Moore gave his daughter in marriage at the double-ring wedding in which she wore a full-length gown of white peau de soie in a sheath style with a full train.

Maid of honor was Patricia Lynn Cunningham of San Rafael who was dressed in a full length dress of gold chiffon over taffeta. Bridesmaids Pamela Edison of Santa Venetia, Deana Machado of Petaluma and Sharon Ralph of Novato, sister of the bridegroom, were similarly dressed.

Cheryl Machado of Petaluma was flower girl and her brother, Mitchell, was ringbearer.

Robert Jordan of San Francisco acted as best man with Al Nelson of Novato, Dennis Herning of Sacramento and Michael Curry of San Rafael, brother of the bride, ushering.

A reception followed at the Hamilton Air Force Base Officers' Club.

Judy was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and is employed with Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. Mrs. Oma May Howerton of San Rafael is her grandmother.

The bridegroom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Ralph of Novato, was graduated from Novato High School and is presently employed with Pacific Construction Supply. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Barrise and Mrs. Leona Perry, all of San Francisco.

Following a wedding trip to Southern California, the couple will reside in San Rafael.

Sugar And Proteins Flavor Milk

DAVIS (UPI) — University of California researchers have found that the amount of cream in milk doesn't determine flavor so much as the other things that are in it — such as sugar and protein.

Rose Marie Pangborn and Walker L. Dunkley of the Department of Food Science and Technology reached that conclusion after feeding various kinds of milk to a panel of tasters.

She found that the cream content of milk could be reduced almost by half before the tasters could notice the difference. But the panelists could detect a change in taste when a much smaller percentage of milk sugar or protein was removed.

The 'Mod Look'

London and its "mod look" has received the supreme honor. French designer Yves St. Laurent, the 29-year-old responsible for all those Mondrian dresses, says that he thinks English styles are young and fun. And, he adds, they've pepped up the fashion world.

FINISHED PRODUCT — Mrs. Merle Greene of Kentfield surveys her work just after completing a rubbing of a Mayan stone monument in the Mexican jungle this summer. Her collection, considered one of the rarest of its kind, will go on display at the University of California's Berkeley campus tomorrow. It took her three years of exploring jungles in Mexico and Guatemala to complete the collection.

Maya Carvings, Rubbings To Go On U.C. Display

A Kentfield artist's rare collection of rubbings from Maya stone carvings will go on display tomorrow at the University of California, Berkeley.

Mrs. Merle Green of 4 Hillside Avenue, art teacher at the San Rafael Military Academy, spent three years fighting jungle heat and rain to make the reproductions of stone tombs and monuments in Mexico and Guatemala.

Officials of both countries lifted long standing government bans against making such rubbings when Mrs. Greene began her series of expeditions into the jungle in 1962.

While the rubbing process itself involved many hours of tedious work, using special types of paper and pigment to insure a clear image of the monuments, one of the biggest problems was getting the rubbings safely out of the jungle, Mrs. Greene said.

Sudden rains would come, causing hours of work to vanish in a few minutes. Or tropical insects would become stuck in the paint.

The carvings depict the life of a great civilization which once dominated the central spine of what is now called Middle America. It has all but vanished since the 17th century.

Mrs. Greene's collection will be on view at the university's Lowie Museum of Anthropology through Jan. 17.

London Thieves Get Costly Haul

LONDON (AP) — Jewelry worth more than a quarter-million pounds (700,000) was taken from the strongroom of a fashionable West End shop today by a gang that worked its way in with acetylene torches.

A spokesman for Carrington's and Co., on Regent Street, made the estimate and added: "It is probably far in excess of a quarter of a million."

Insurance valuers, whose standard reward for stolen goods is 10 per cent, posted a reward of 30,000 pounds ($84,000).

18th Century Farce Scheduled At College

The Italian 18th century farce, "Servant of Two Masters," by Carlo Goldoni, is being rehearsed by the College of Marin drama department.

The play, second fall semester production for the department, will be staged Dec. 3, 4, 9, 10 and 11 att he college's Little Theater in Harlan Hall.

Drama director James Dunn described the play, in the tradition of the "Commedia Dell-'Arte," as a Mack Sennett, pie-in-the-face type comedy. After its run at the college, the play will tour other Bay Area colleges and high schools, he said.

Leading role in the production—that of Truffaldino, the comic servant — will be played by Roger Lane of San Rafael, who had a supporting role in the college's recent production of "Romeo and Juliet" and has been active in Marin Shakespeare Festival productions the last two years.

Others in the cast are: Kent Kay and James Land of Mill Valley, Alex Scheremetow of Fairfax, David Dukes of San Rafael, Lawrie Driscoll of Novato, Paul Abbot of Mill Valley, Valice Harder of Tiburon, Silvia Scott of Hamilton Air Force Base and Helen McDonald of Sausalito.

Scholar Honored

Cynthia G. Shone of 80 Forbes Avenue, San Rafael, was named to the dean's list at the University of California at Los Angeles this week for high-ranking academic achievement during the last spring semester.

San Francisco Symphony Set For Dec. 1

SAN FRANCISCO — The San Francisco Symphony Orchestra will open its 54th season Dec. 1 at 8:30 p.m. in the War Memorial Opera House.

The season includes a series of 20 regular programs, each to be repeated three times.

In addition to regular concerts will be five specical events, which begin Dec. 5 with "An Evening with Danny Kaye." Handel's "Messiah" will be presented in a special program on Dec. 23.

The opening program of the regular season will feature Claudio Arrau, Chilean pianist, in an all-Brahms program.

Guest conductors during the season will include Igor Stravinsky, Hans Schmidt - Isserstedt, Robert Craft and Aaron Copland.

Theater Group Tells Hopes For $18 Million Art Center

By ELLEN BRY

The Atheneum Arts Foundation, the ambitious organization which plans an $18 million arts center in Marincello, is looking toward sponsoring another summer season of music and drama in Marin, though admittedly the foundation is short of money.

The foundation is planning a "benefit" series of performances in San Francisco, Marin and the East Bay beginning in January and lasting into spring. Next summer's performing programs might be performed at the Marincello site, if an adequate stage and audience area could be constructed, said A. L. Nieri of Novato, vice president of the foundation.

But more likely the foundation will continue to use the Mount Tamalpais State Park site, known as the Mountain Theater, which it rented from the state for $50 a performance.

Nieri said negotiations with officers of Frouge Corp. and Thomas Frouge would continue next month to complete details of the transfer of land to the foundation.

The parcel, expected to be about 25 acres, will be purchased by the foundation, Nieri said. It will be sold to the foundation "at cost," and will be located in the central valley of the development, said Henry Grant, Frouge Corp. vice president in Sausalito.

The land first was publicized as a gift from Frouge to the foundation. Nieri said plans for the land to be purchased by the Atheneum Arts Foundation. Frouge Corp. would give the foundation a series of donations over the years which would return the cost of the land, Nieri explained.

Neiri estimated that the cost of the arts center would be approximately $18 million and said that funds would be requested from national foundations and from individuals.

The center is planned to have an auditorium seating 1,500 persons, music building seating 300 persons, theater building, movie and television building, dance building, fine arts building, a Greek-style amphitheater, administration building, dormitories and studios to house visiting artists and lecturers. There will be a literary department, lecture halls, bookshop and printing facilities, research department and library.

The center was designed by San Francisco architect William Mooser Jr., who is on the board of the foundation.

"It will take a long time to raise the funds," Nieri commented.

Lately there have been rumors of the Atheneum having trouble paying its bills and its performers.

The foundation brought well known and little known performers to the outdoor theater for programs each Saturday and Sunday afternoon for a month last summer. There were ballet and modern dance with Ruth St. Denis, harp playing and performances of new musical works, the San Francisco Mime Troupe with Agnes Moorehead, plays, folk singing and a jazz concert.

Last summer's programs brought in audiences ranging from about 500 to 3,000 persons, with the jazz and folk singing programs proving the most popular.

The summer series would have "broken even" if the foundation had not paid performers union scale, when applicable, or the going rate for performances, said Lyle Leverich of San Francisco, executive director of the foundation.

Nieri, vice president of Bank of Marin, said the foundation had no funds now. "Just like the opera and everything else, they (the foundation) have to be subsidized. Costs are pretty high; you just don't get it back in gate receipts," he said.

Two Women Get Prizes For Art

Two Marin County artists were awarded prizes last week at the 40th Annual Exhibition of San Francisco Women Artists now being held at the San Francisco Museum of Art.

Prize winning Marin exhibitors in the show which will run until Dec. 13 were M. M. Horton of Mill Valley and Mary Case Dekker of Corte Madera. Mrs. Horton's award was in painting; Mrs. Case's award was in sculpture.

Three Children Killed By Fire

MADERA (AP)—A fire, apparently starting in the kitchen, raced through a small house and killed the three children of Mrs. Beatrice Spratt, 23.

Firemen said the blaze last night killed Brian Smith, 3; Dashol Riddles, 2; and Diana Johnson, 1. They had different fathers, firemen added.

The mother was visiting a neighbor when the fire started. She returned to find the structure in flames.

Man, Woman Injured As Car Rolls Over

Erika M. Lueders, 24, of Palo Alto and Charles L. Johnson, 30, of San Francisco were treated at Marin General Hospital early today after their southbound car skidded, hit a wall and rolled over in the Waldo Tunnel on Highway 101, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Johnson, who was driving, was treated for multiple cuts on head and left wrist. Miss Lueders was treated for cuts on her head.

Masculinity Subtle Thing To Define—

What makes some men symbols of masculinity while others — often bigger and brawnier — are not?

The impression of masculinity, conveyed as much by a man's attitudes as by his actions and physique, is a subtle thing indeed. Many men, the psychologists tell us, cling to false or outworn notions of masculinity. They may even scorn as "unmanly" the very traits that women like most in a man!

How's your Masculinity Quotient? This light-hearted quiz, based on information gleaned from psychologists, sociologists, historians and other experts, may give you an idea of how successfully you project a he-man image to the world.

HAVE YOU given up wishing your shoulders were broader and your biceps bulgier? Congratulations! You're a hard-headed realist — which, in contemporary American society, is considered a very masculine thing to be. Besides, you've grasped the essential fact that conquering heroes come in all sizes — remember Napoleon?

One thing you shouldn't be "realistic" about: excess flab. Keep in trim, no matter what your build; such muscles as you possess should be lean and hard.

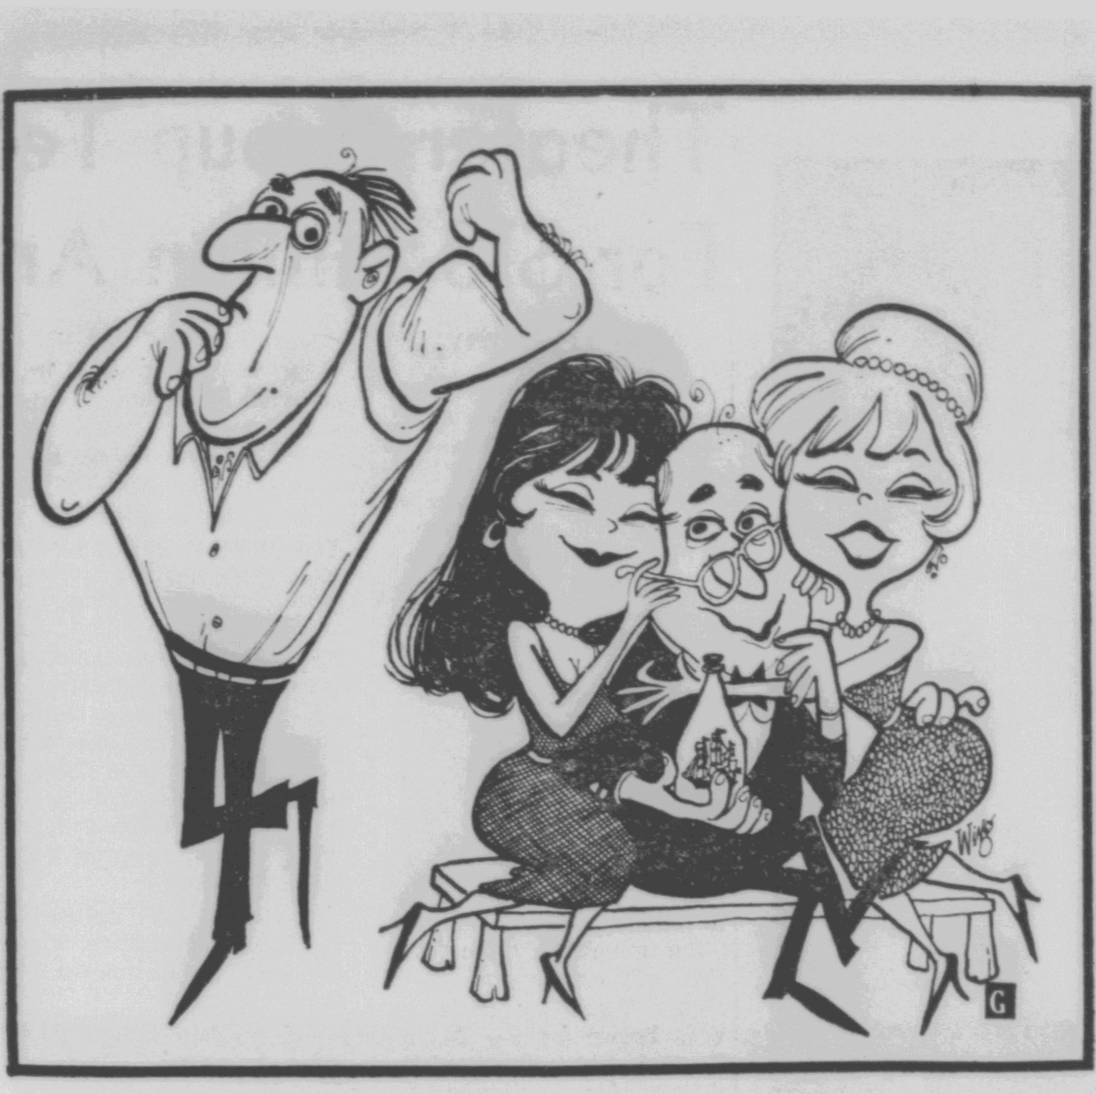
DO YOU TAKE an interest in men's fashions? The notion that he-men don't care about clothes may have gone over big in frontier days, when a pair of trousers was just something to attach a holster to; it's a little outmoded now. Women not only appreciate good grooming and clothes sense in a man — many of them consider male sloppiness a downright insult! So do bosses and personnel men, incidentally.

The idea is to give careful thought to your appearance while seeming casual and offhand about it. Like the movie star, symbol of suave masculinity, who is said to spend his leisure hours in custom-made blue jeans!

DO YOU THINK scents for men make good sense? That noble Roman warrior and lover, Marc Antony, would have agreed. So would Cleopatra — she went wild over the scents of mint and marjoram with which he anointed himself, in accord with the spicy Roman custom of the day. It you want a less antique precedent, one company estimates that some $44 million worth of aftershave lotions are sold each year in the U.S. Interestingly, masculine scent preferences seem to have changed little since Marc Antony's day. Spicy fragrances are still classic; old spice is a nationwide favorite. It all seems to show that the he-man, then as now, is the fellow who can lead women by the nose.

DO YOU EVER feel you just don't understand women? This may be a good sign. Men have long suspected — and many psychologists now agree — that men and women really do speak different languages. Even the everyday word "closet," for example, in a word association test given by Dr. Catherine Cox Miles, provokes different male-female responses; it made most men subjects think of "door," most women of "clothes." And as for the simple word "no" — well, listen to one authority: "To a man, 'no' usually means 'no' — and that's that. But a woman feels she can always reopen the subject later." So don't worry about your communications problems with the opposite sex — they may just show how masculine you are.

ARE YOU a man of fewer words than your wife or sweetheart? Again, a good sign. Though the "strong, silent type" is not necessarily the epitome of maleness, there seems to be some scientific evidence for the male belief that women out-talk men. What's more, they do it at every stage of life. Girl babies tend to talk earlier and more distinctly than baby boys. Sociologists who studied young children found that when boys and girls of similar backgrounds were compared, the girls as a group had larger vocabularies and spoke in longer sentences! (Let her have the last word — and feel smug about your he-man rating.)



YOU DON'T need brawn if you use your brain to project a he-man image, experts say. Use toiletries with a masculine aroma—women adore them! Be a "man of few words"—studies show that women out-talk men from babyhood on!

DO YOU HATE to waste words on gossip? Of course you do. Everyone knows that only women gossip; men tell each other what's new with Smith or Jones. But a rose by any other name . . . the fact is that a startling number of men enjoy a pastime that bears a remarkable resemblance to gossip. And this activity, while enjoyable, does nothing for anyone's image.

ARE YOU decisive? Down through the centuries, the ability to make a decision and stick to it has been deemed a manly trait — and its opposite attributed (by men, naturally) to the female of the species. "A fickle and changeful thing is woman ever," said the poet Virgil 2000 years ago. Not only is it still considered woman's prerogative to change her mind at will or whim — but a man's decision-making ability is now more highly valued than ever before. In several polls that rated the relative prestige of various occupations, executives and businessmen — in other words, the decision-makers — ranked near the top. Moral: show decisiveness and you may rate — not only with the ladies, but with the boss as well.

DO YOU HAVE a definite personal style? The man who's individualistic — whether rugged or not — cay convey a more masculine impression than the guy who blends in with the crowd. Do you have definite, well-thought-out opinions on politics . . . modern art . . . women's fashions? Are you a "type" — tweedy or sophisticated — in the way you dress and groom yourself? The gals may love you for it!

IT YOU'RE NOT a Don Juan, are you glad instead of sorry about it? A great many men consider the Don Juan type ultra - masculine; surprisingly, most psychologists disagree. Clinical psychologist Dr. Albert Ellis voices a common view when he states that the Don Juan "is an emotionally weak . . . individual who is trying to reassure himself of how 'strong' or 'masculine' he is." The one-woman type family man is usually much more of a real he-man, according to the mind-probers.

ARE YOU SOFT-spoken . . . keep your temper pretty well under control? Gentleness, especially toward those weaker than yourself, is more masculine a trait than some men think. The "tough guy," psychologists say, is often trying to compensate for his feelings of inadequacy; the truly self-confident male is usually strong enough psychologically to resist the temptation to bully others.

Gather Tie-Backs

When washing sheer curtains, put all the tie-backs together in a mesh bag or a pillowcase, laundry experts suggest. This way they won't get lost in the wash water or the dryer. Also: Pin them together on the line to save suntitng for each pair when it is time to hang the curtains again.

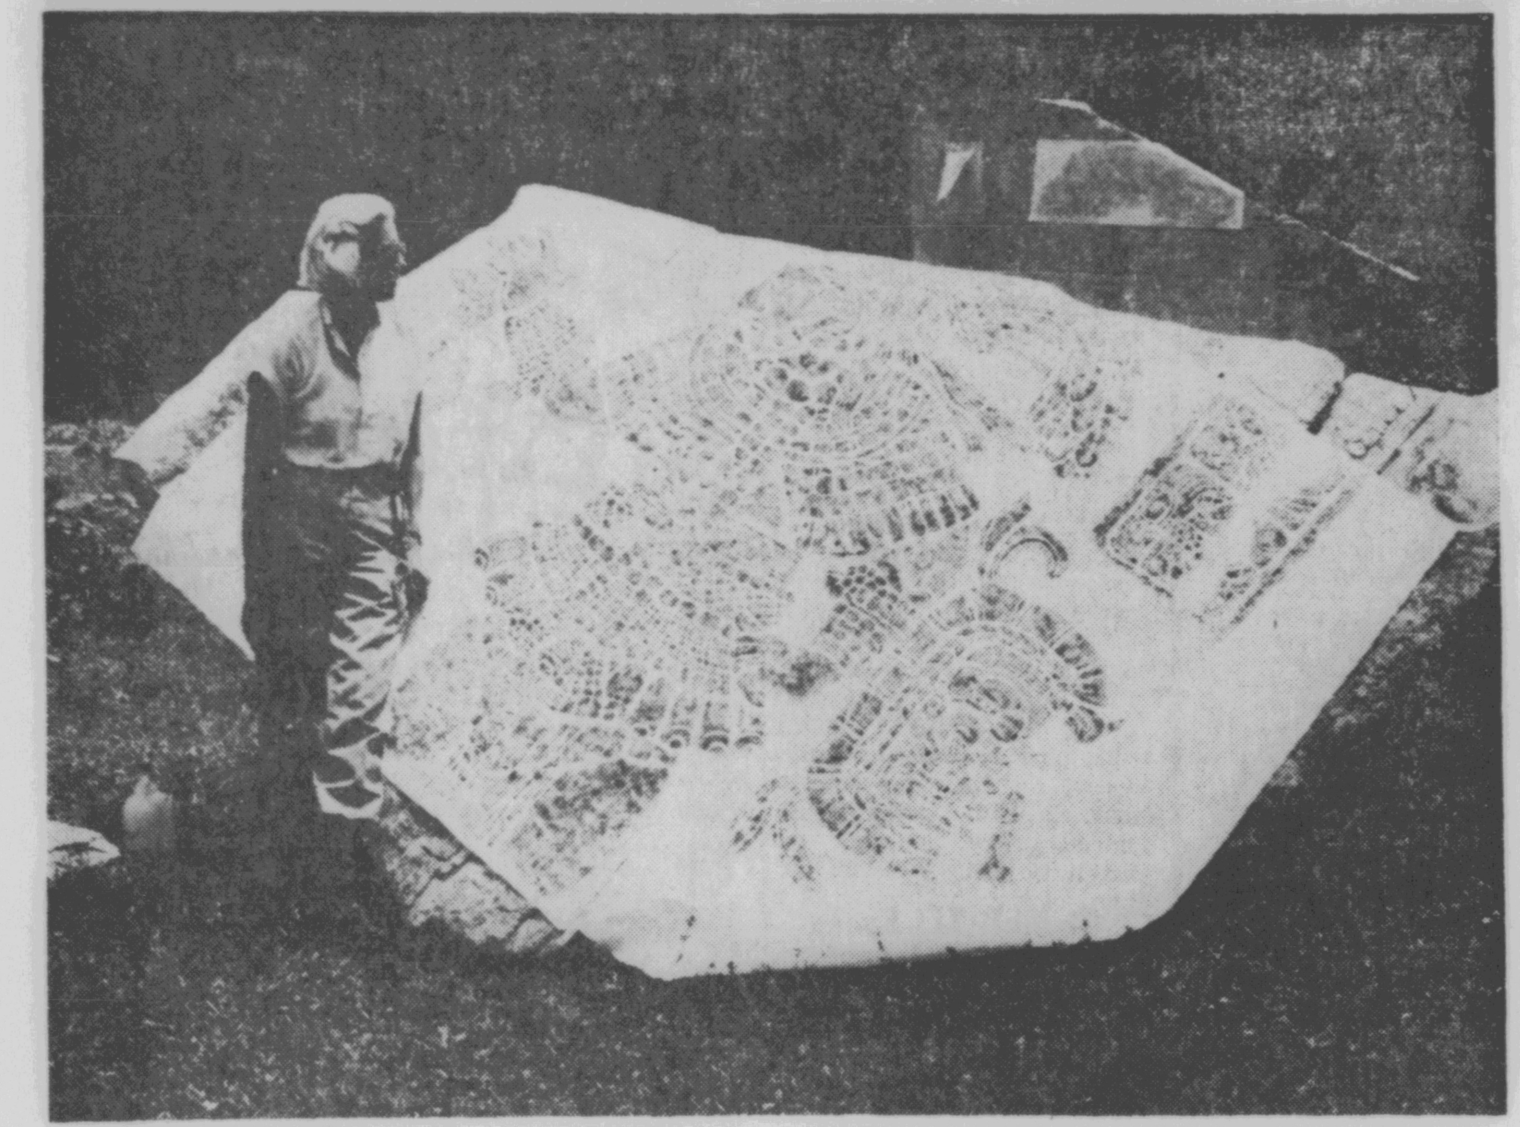
2500 BRIDGEWAY AT SAUSALITO
LOCATED ACROSS FROM AMERICAN DISTILLERIES



FINISHED PRODUCT — Mrs. Merle Greene of Kentfield surveys her work just after completing a rubbing of a Mayan stone monument in the Mexican jungle this summer. Her collection, considered one of the rarest of its kind, will go on display at the University of California's Berkeley campus tomorrow. It took her three years of exploring jungles in Mexico and Guatemala to complete the collection.

Theater Group Tells Hopes For $18 Million Art Center

By ELLEN BRY

The Atheneum Arts Foundation, the ambitious organization which plans an $18 million arts center in Marincello, is looking toward sponsoring another summer season of music and drama in Marin, though admittedly the foundation is short of money.

The foundation is planning a "benefit" series of performances in San Francisco, Marin and the East Bay beginning in January and lasting into spring. Next summer's performing programs might be performed at the Marincello site, if an adequate stage and audience area could be constructed, said A. L. Nieri of Novato, vice president of the foundation.

But more likely the foundation will continue to use the Mount Tamalpais State Park site, known as the Mountain Theater, which it rented from the state for $50 a performance.

Nieri said negotiations with officers of Frouge Corp. and Thomas Frouge would continue next month to complete details of the transfer of land to the foundation.

The parcel, expected to be about 25 acres, will be purchased by the foundation, Nieri said. It will be sold to the foundation "at cost," and will be located in the central valley of the development, said Henry Grant, Frouge Corp. vice president in Sausalito.

The land first was publicized as a gift from Frouge to the foundation. Nieri said plans for the land to be purchased by the Atheneum Arts Foundation. Frouge Corp. would give the foundation a series of donations over the years which would return the cost of the land. Nieri explained.

Neiri estimated that the cost of the arts center would be approximately $18 million and said that funds would be requested from national foundations and from individuals.

The center is planned to have an auditorium seating 1,500 persons, music building seating 300 persons, theater building, movie and television building, dance building, fine arts building, a Greek-style amphitheater, administration building, dormitories and studios to house visiting artists and lecturers. There will be a literary department, lecture halls, bookshop and printing facilities, research department and library.

The center was designed by San Francisco architect William Mooser Jr., who is on the board of the foundation.

"It will take a long time to raise the funds," Nieri commented.

Lately there have been rumors of the Atheneum having trouble paying its bills and its performers.

The foundation brought well known and little known performers to the outdoor theater for programs each Saturday and Sunday afternoon for a month last summer. There were ballet and modern dance with Ruth St. Denis, harp playing and performances of new musical works, the San Francisco Mime Troupe with Agnes Moorehead, plays, folk singing and a jazz concert.

Last summer's programs brought in audiences ranging from about 500 to 3,000 persons, with the jazz and folk singing programs proving the most popular.

The summer series would have "broken even" if the foundation had not paid performers union scale, when applicable, or the going rate for performances, said Lyle Leverich of San Francisco, executive director of the foundation.

Nieri, vice president of Bank of Marin, said the foundation had no funds now. "Just like the opera and everything else, they (the foundation) have to be subsidized. Costs are pretty high; you just don't get it back in gate receipts," he said.

Two Women Get Prizes For Art

Two Marin County artists were awarded prizes last week at the 40th Annual Exhibition of San Francisco Women Artists now being held at the San Francisco Museum of Art.

Prize winning Marin exhibitors in the show which will run until Dec. 13 were M. M. Horton of Mill Valley and Mary Case Dekker of Corte Madera. Mrs. Horton's award was in painting; Mrs. Case's award was in sculpture.

Three Children Killed By Fire

MADERA (AP)—A fire, apparently starting in the kitchen, raced through a small house and killed the three children of Mrs. Beatrice Spratt, 23.

Firemen said the blaze last night killed Brian Smith, 3; Dashol Riddles, 2; and Diana Johnson, 1. They had different fathers, firemen added.

The mother was visiting a neighbor when the fire started. She returned to find the structure in flames.

Man, Woman Injured As Car Rolls Over

Erika M. Lueders, 24, of Palo Alto and Charles L. Johnson, 30, of San Francisco were treated at Marin General Hospital early today after their southbound car skidded, hit a wall and rolled over in the Waldo Tunnel on Highway 101, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Johnson, who was driving, was treated for multiple cuts on head and left wrist. Miss Lueders was treated for cuts on her head.

Maya Carvings, Rubbings To Go On U.C. Display

A Kentfield artist's rare collection of rubbings from Maya stone carvings will go on display tomorrow at the University of California, Berkeley.

Mrs. Merle Green of 4 Hillside Avenue, art teacher at the San Rafael Military Academy, spent three years fighting jungle heat and rain to make the reproductions of stone tombs and monuments in Mexico and Guatemala.

Officials of both countries lifted long standing government bans against making such rubbings when Mrs. Greene began her series of expeditions into the jungle in 1962.

While the rubbing process itself involved many hours of tedious work, using special types of paper and pigment to insure a clear image of the monuments, one of the biggest problems was getting the rubbings safely out of the jungle, Mrs. Greene said.

Sudden rains would come, causing hours of work to vanish in a few minutes. Or tropical insects would become stuck in the paint.

The carvings depict the life of a great civilization which once dominated the central spine of what is now called Middle America. It has all but vanished since the 17th century.

Mrs. Greene's collection will be on view at the university's Lowie Museum of Anthropology through Jan. 17.

London Thieves Get Costly Haul

LONDON (AP) — Jewelry worth more than a quarter-million pounds (700,000) was taken from the strongroom of a fashionable West End shop today by a gang that worked its way in with acetylene torches.

A spokesman for Carrington's and Co., on Regent Street, made the estimate and added: "It is probably far in excess of a quarter of a million."

Insurance valuers, whose standard reward for stolen goods is 10 per cent, posted a reward of 30,000 pounds ($84,000).

18th Century Farce Scheduled At College

The Italian 18th century farce, "Servant of Two Masters," by Carlo Goldoni, is being rehearsed by the College of Marin drama department.

The play, second fall semester production for the department, will be staged Dec. 3, 4, 9, 10 and 11 att he college's Little Theater in Harlan Hall.

Drama director James Dunn described the play, in the tradition of the "Commedia Dell-'Arte," as a Mack Sennett, pie-in-the-face type comedy. After its run at the college, the play will tour other Bay Area colleges and high schools, he said.

Leading role in the production —that of Truffaldino, the comic servant — will be played by Roger Lane of San Rafael, who had a supporting role in the college's recent production of "Romeo and Juliet" and has been active in Marin Shakespeare Festival productions the last two years.

Others in the cast are: Kent Kay and James Land of Mill Valley, Alex Scheremetow of Fairfax, David Dukes of San Rafael, Lawrie Driscoll of Novato, Paul Abbot of Mill Valley, Valice Harder of Tiburon, Silvia Scott of Hamilton Air Force Base and Helen McDonald of Sausalito.

Scholar Honored

Cynthia G. Shone of 80 Forbes Avenue, San Rafael, was named to the dean's list at the University of California at Los Angeles this week for high-ranking academic achievement during the last spring semester.

San Francisco Symphony Set For Dec. 1

SAN FRANCISCO — The San Francisco Symphony Orchestra will open its 54th season Dec. 1 at 8:30 p.m. in the War Memorial Opera House.

The season includes a series of 20 regular programs, each to be repeated three times.

In addition to regular concerts will be five specical events, which begin Dec. 5 with "An Evening with Danny Kaye." Handel's "Messiah" will be presented in a special program on Dec. 23.

The opening program of the regular season will feature Claudio Arrau, Chilean pianist, in an all-Brahms program.

Guest conductors during the season will include Igor Stravinsky, Hans Schmidt - Isserstedt, Robert Craft and Aaron Copland.

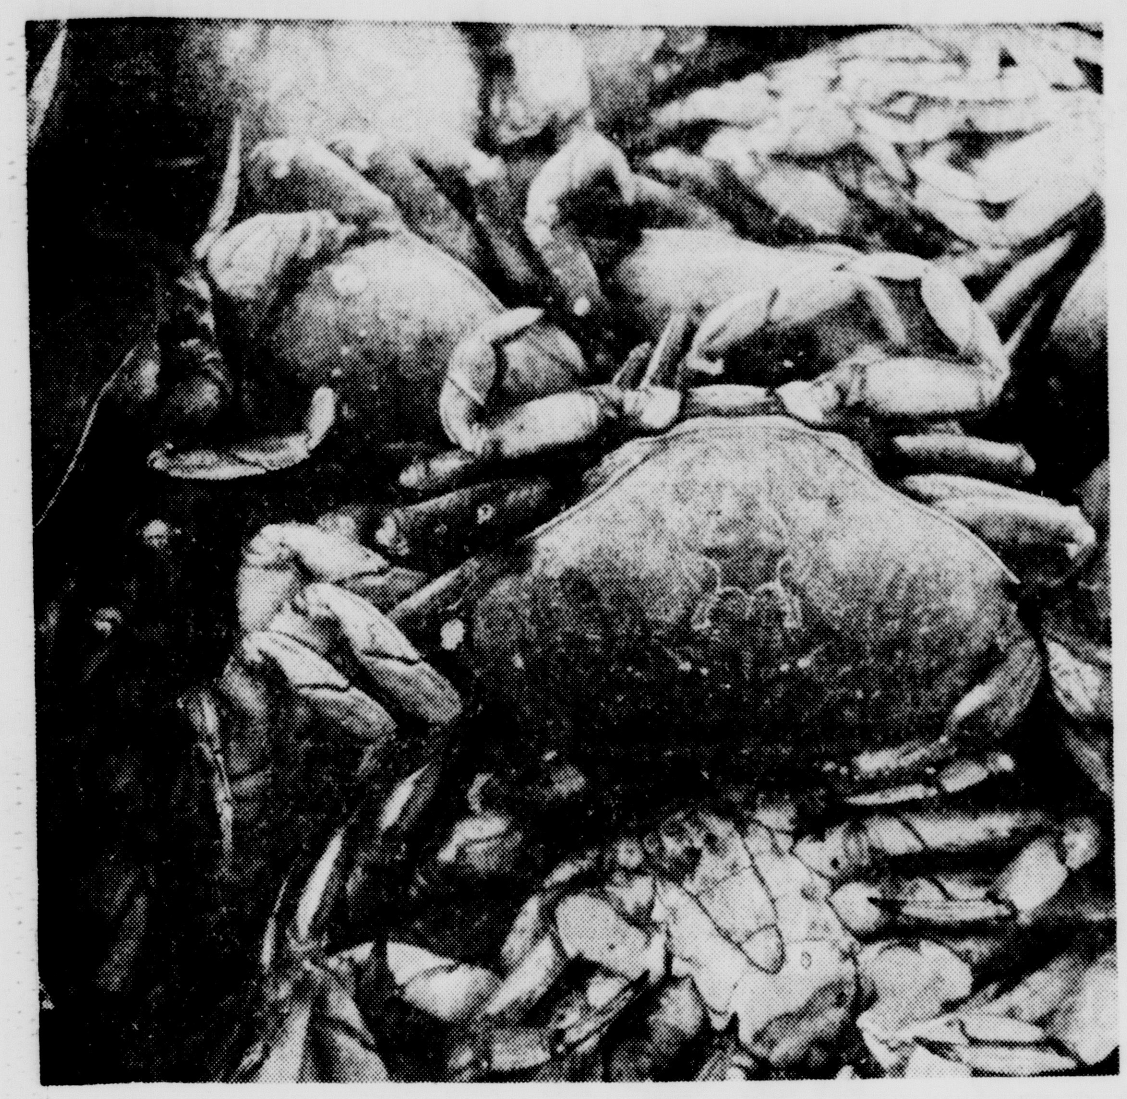
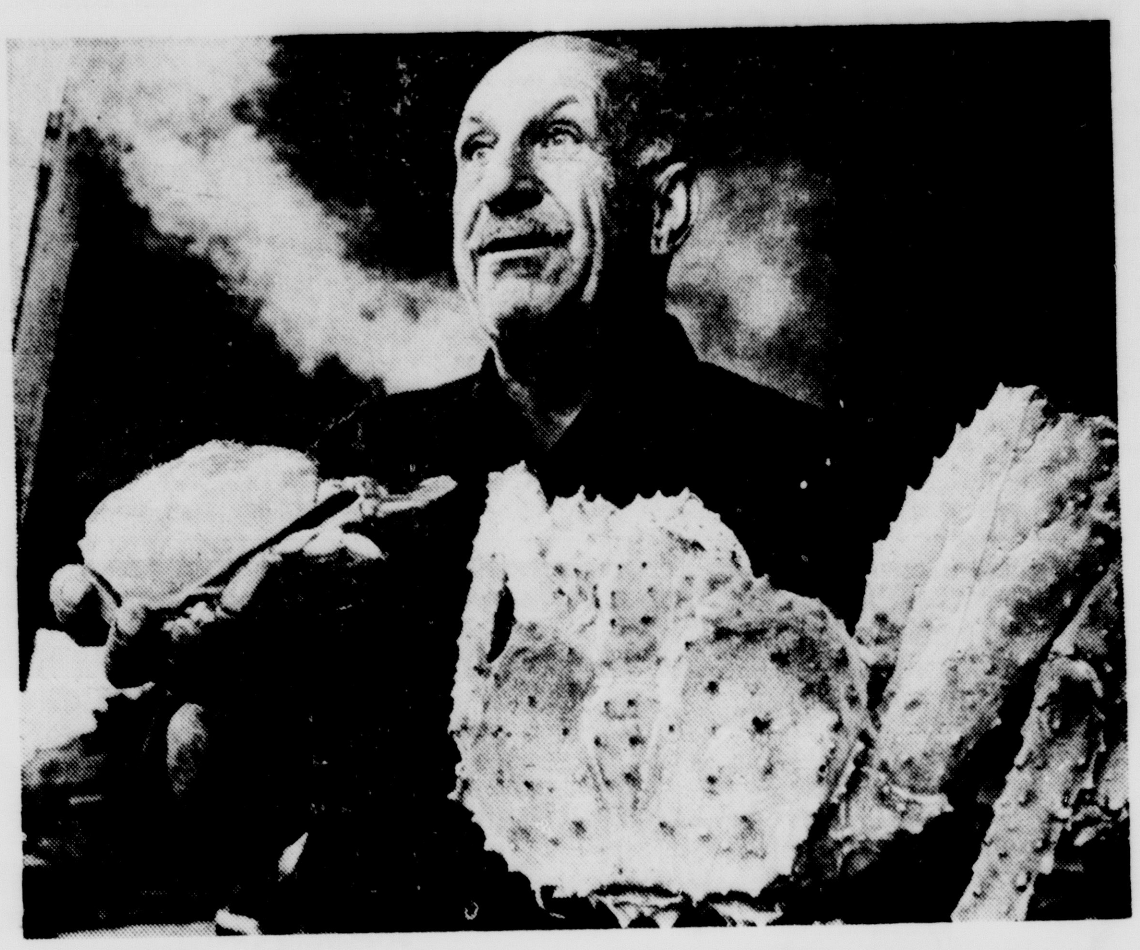
2500 BRIDGEWAY AT SAUSALITO

LOCATED ACROSS FROM AMERICAN DISTILLERIES

Crabbing— A Seagoing Industry



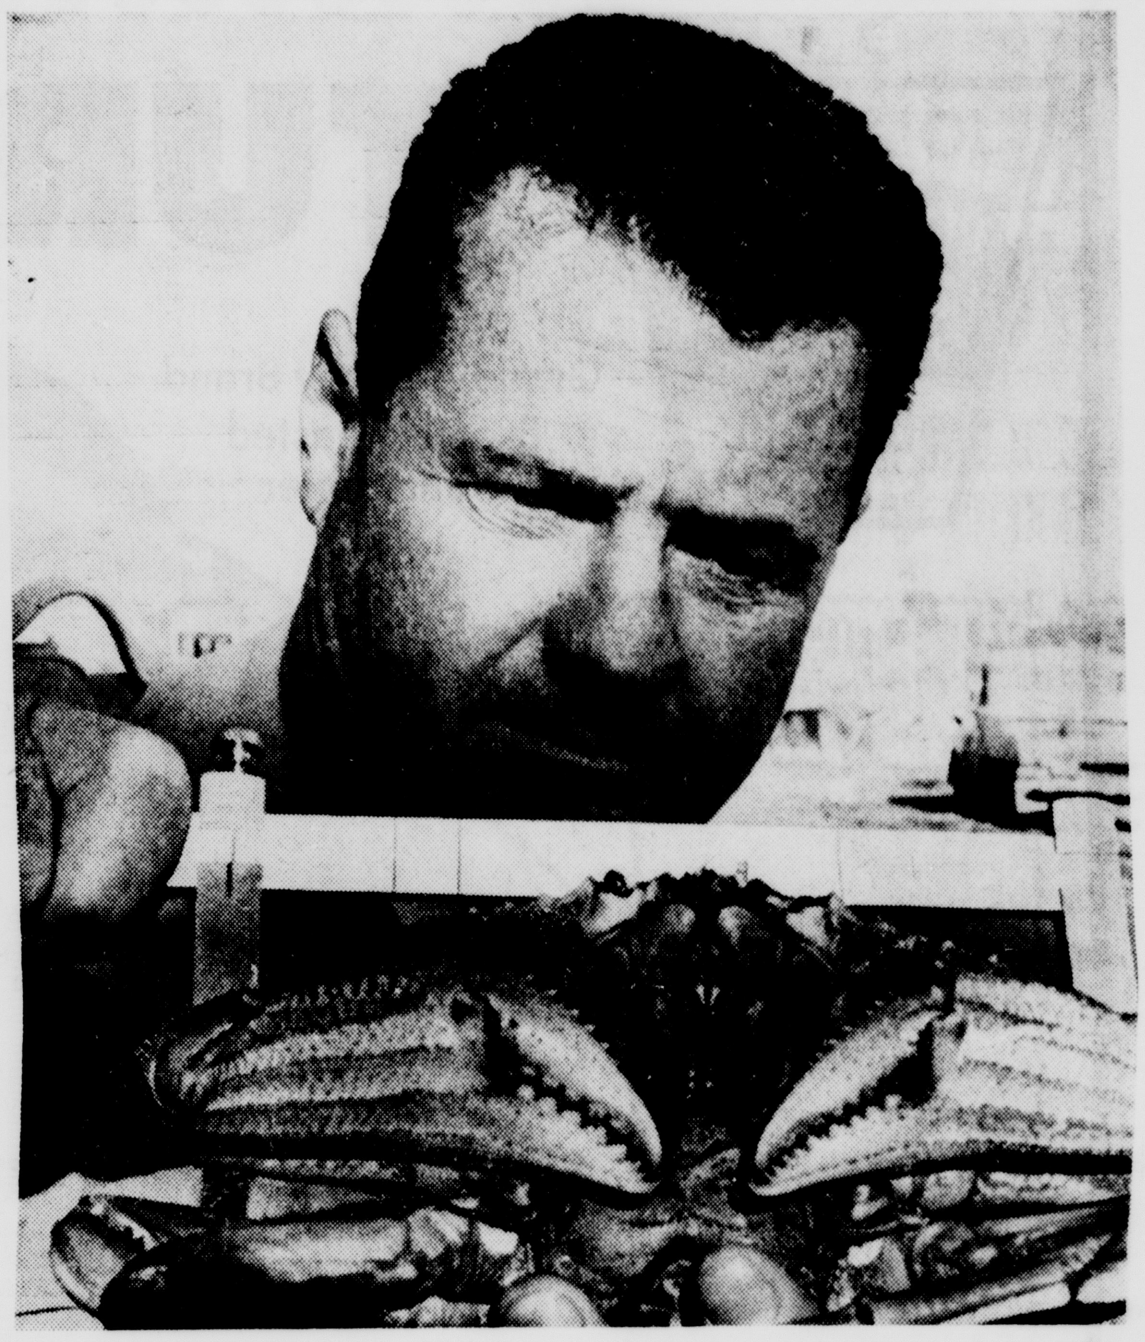
CRAB BOAT—About half a dozen boats are used for crabbing in Sausalito, switching to fishing for other game as the seasons change. The boats are 30 to 60 feet long. Each of the 100 to 200 crab pots they carry costs $35.



NORTHERN GIANT—Lefty Sturiale of Sausalito holds an Alaska king crab and one of the smaller local Dungeness crabs. The local crab catch has been poor again this year. Sturiale attributes it to warming currents in the area. The catch is expected to increase when the north-coast season opens Dec. 15 from north of Mendocino to Alaska.

CRAB POTS—The LCF is loaded with crab pots as Lloyd Jungculas, Al Young and Frank Stanley prepare for the next day's run. Boats leave in early morning darkness for bay area crab grounds and return in the afternoon. Baited pots are dumped over the side with buoys to mark their position and picked up later in the day.

COOKED CRAB—Sebastian (Lefty) Sturiale of the S. J. Sturiale Fish Co. in Sausalito pulls out a giant's portion of crabs from the homemade cooking pot stoked with wood. Sturiale has been in the fish business for 40 years.



DOUBLE CHECK—T. W. (Bill) Waters of the California Department of Fish and Game checks the size of a crab with calipers. Minimum size is six and one-quarter inches; only male crabs may be kept, females are thrown back when they are found in the pots. (Independent-Journal photos by Bob Hax)

College Of Marin Will Get $89,170 To Train Jobless

A grant to the College of Marin of $89,170 was announced today by the federal government as part of the Manpower Development and Training Act.

The grant will pay for the training of "unemployed or under-employed persons" as office clerks.

Under the original proposal submitted by the college for the program, two 30 - week courses would be given in succession, each training approximately 25 clerks. Trainees would be paid while they study, according to Joseph E. Berreuzo, assistant dean of technical and vocational education at the college.

Approximately $35,000 of the grant would be used for instruction purposes. The rest of the money would be paid to the trainees, said Berreuzo.

The first program is expected to begin Dec. 6 at the college's San Anselmo center at 21 Mariposa Avenue.

Courses in typing, business English, business mathematics, bookkeeping, operation of business machines, filing, and office procedure will be given during the 30 weeks of study, he said.

Selection of trainees will be through the State Department of Employment office in San Rafael. At the end of each program students will be placed in clerical jobs by the employment office.

Two Unhurt In Plane Landing

A pilot and an unidentified boy passenger escaped injury in an emergency landing at the Marin County Airport yesterday on one landing wheel.

The light, low-winged two-seater, piloted by Robert Kantner of The Lodge, Novato, came in with "one wheel up and one wheel down," and slid off the runway onto the field, reported Harry O. Tollefson, airport operator.

Damage to the plane was not extensive, Tollefson said.

The Novato Fire Department was called for standby duty as Kantner made his landing, but there was no fire.

Insurance Firm Announces Deal To Buy Courthouse

Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Co. is willing to put up $1.4 million for the courthouse property in San Rafael and let the county have the use of it for 50 years under a lease agreement that would require the county to pay off the principal plus $2,122,200 in interest without regaining title to the land.

The offer was reported by Richard Oesterman of Capital Assistance and Mortgage Co. of San Anselmo. County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen asked Oesterman to see what financing would be available from insurance companies.

Oesterman said today that reversion of the property to the county might be negotiated in detailed discussion if supervisors are interested.

County Auditor - Controller Michael Mitchell, who figured the total interest cost at the company's suggested five and three-eighths, per cent, said a revisionary clause likely would mean a higher interest rate.

The county retirement board has agreed in principle that it would authorize a similar investment of retirement board funds, possibly at 5.5 per cent interest over 30 years, with the land reverting to the county at the end of that time.

Two Surfers Win Honors For Rescues

One hundred persons attended a meeting Saturday night in Bolinas at which two Mill Valley surfers were awarded certificates of merit for the rescue of two girls from Bolinas Lagoon July 5, and members of the North Point Surfers were given a general commendation.

Surfers James Taldo, 16, and David Barca, 17, were given American Red Cross certificates of merit by James R. Williams, volunteer water safety consultant of the Marin County Red Cross chapter.

They were also awarded certificates of appreciation from the Windansea Surf Club of San Diego by Thor Svenson, San Diego surfing council official.

Barca and Taldo, by surfboard, rescued two girls when one lost her grip on an inner tube float, causing both to be in danger of drowning in a fast current. Identity of the girls, though sought by the Red Cross, was never learned.

Svenson, who came to Bolinas last year to work with the North Point Surfers to help them achieve more rapport with the community, told the audience that the Marin County Surfers' image has been "greatly improved. They have a lot of credit coming to them that is oftentimes unrecognized."

Four Persons Killed In Crash

VANDENBERG AFB (UPI)— Four persons were killed yesterday in a two-car collision near the entrance to this base, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The victims were Mrs. Barbara Daniels, 27, and her son, Joseph, 5, Frank Tennison, 21, of Vandenberg AFB, and his passenger, Milton Dickinson, 22, Lompoc.

Mrs. Daniels and her son were passengers in an auto driven by her husband, Roland, 30. He and a daughter, Mary, 7, were injured in the crash.

Former Newsman Starts Job For Marin Medical Society

Edward J. Collins Jr., a former newspaperman, has started work as executive secretary of Marin Medical Society.

He succeeds Jeffrey Blankfort of Mill Valley, who will leave Dec. 1 on a trip to Europe.

Collins, 32, comes to the society's San Rafael office from Oakland, where he was executive secretary of the California Veterinary Medical Assn. for five years.

For two years, he was executive manager of the Oakland Junior Chamber of Commerce. A journalism graduate of University of California, he formerly was managing editor of the Brawley Daily News in Imperial County.

He lives in Kensington, Contra Costa County, with his wife, Dorothy, and their seven-year-old daughter, Lori. He said he hopes to make his home in Marin within a few months.

The Olympic Peninsula in Washington has one of the heaviest annual rainfalls in the United States, and therefore some of the most luxuriant vegetation.

Contract Talk Set

Marin Hospital District trustees, meeting tomorrow at 7 p.m. in the Marin General Hospital Coral Room, will be asked to approve a contract with College of Marin to provide practical experience for students in the college's registered nursing program.

S/Sgt. Gaudencio M. Capil, recently returned from Korea, is the new detachment sergeant at the Army Air Defense Command's Sixth Region headquarters in Sausalito, succeeding SFC Jacinto S. Sanchio Siso, who will leave soon for Santo Domingo.

Unification Question Not Answered By Dixie Figures

By RICHARD LYTTLE

Is Dixie School District's relatively low expenditure per pupil an argument against the proposed unification of Dixie and San Rafael Elementary School District with San Rafael High School District?

Dixie Supt. Dennie B. Willis thinks not. He points out that looking at one set of comparisons does not give the full picture.

The two elementary district's are almost the same size. Dixie has 4,200 elementary school pupils, while San Rafael has 4,500.

San Rafael however, is highest in assessed value of any elementary school district in the county with $20,400 assessed value per pupil. Dixie is fourth in assessed value, with $8,100 per pupil.

Looking at these figures, one might conclude that unification would be of great benefit to the Dixie district because it would add to the assessed value.

However, figures prepared by County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell for Dixie district's finance committee show that Dixie is spending only $239.84 per pupil in local property taxes while San Rafael is spending $480.47.

Using total expenditures, with state and federal funds, bond issue payments and general property taxes, the comparison is $542.88 per pupil for Dixie to $706.60 for San Rafael.

Willis says this may be due to careful budgeting in part, and tight budgeting is a matter of necessity in the Dixie district.

"We don't have any more money and that's the reason we don't spend any more," he said.

One fact that gives Dixie a break in expenses is that the district is so new. In 1954 it had only 50 pupils. At that time there were already 3,000 in the San Rafael district.

As a consequence, few of the teachers in the Dixie district are at the top of the salary scale. In San Rafael, more than half are at the top of the scale, Willis estimated.

"We take advantage of this," he said.

In time, this advantage will vanish. Also, Willis said, any discussion of the finances in unification must consider the tax rate itself.

San Rafael Elementary District tax, with 25 cents for over-rides and 35.5 cents for bonds, comes to a total $2.355 per $100 of assessed valuation. Dixie's, with 29 cents for over-rides and 38.5 for bonds, comes to $3.125.

"They've got the assessed value," Willis said.

Contract Awarded

Shields Construction Co. of Novato has been awarded a $2,174 contract to alter the x-ray diagnostic room in Building 515 at Hamilton Air Force Base, the base procurement office at Hamilton announced today.

Injured Driver Refuses Treatment

Thomas M. Shine, 22, of San Francisco refused treatment at San Rafael General Hospital refused treatment at San Rafael General Hospital Saturday night for cuts and bruises on his right shoulder which the California Highway Patrol reported he received when he drove his eastbound auto off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard into a ditch one-half mile east of highway 101.

Shine was booked at county jail on a charge of being drunk in or about an auto. He was later released on $110 bail.

Canada produces $800-million worth of textiles annually.

San Rafael Man Hospitalized With Chin Cuts

Henry E. Sanderson, 34, of 240 Linden Lane, San Rafael, was in fair condition in Marin General Hospital today with cuts on the chin and other injuries apparently suffered when his car hit a stalled car in the slow north-bound lane on Highway 101 at the north end of the Richardson Bay Bridge early Saturday.

Walter J. Connors of 10 Mount Tenaya Drive, San Rafael, told the California Highway Patrol that he was standing near his stalled car when another auto struck it and then drove on.

Shortly before the patrol received Connors's call, Corte Madera Police stopped Sanderson on Paradise Drive. His car was dented they said, and he had cuts on his chin. He thought he had been in an accident but could not remember where, police said.

The highway patrol reported the dents on the two cars matched.

1 large loaf bread for dressing
Canned Cream
1 cube butter
2 eggs, beaten
1 cup Parmesan cheese
½ tsp baking soda
Salt and pepper to taste

Cube bread including crusts and set aside. Wash fresh spinach and drain. Now put through fine blade of food chopper. (Place a bowl beneath the chopper—it will drip!). Add spinach to bread. Saute' sausage meat until red disappears. Drain and add to spinach mixture. In clean frypan, melt butter and saute' onion, garlic, parsley, and celery until just brown. Add to spinach mixture. Add seasonings, eggs, cheese and enough canned cream to moisten mixture. Add baking soda and mix well. . . . This is enough stuffing for a 15-pound turkey. A 12 to 16 lb. turkey requires 4½ to 5½ hours in a 325° oven.

CASHEW PIE
Slowly beat ¾ cup sugar into 3 lightly beaten eggs. Add ½ cup dark corn syrup and ½ cup light corn syrup. Add ½ cube melted butter. Pour this mixture into 9-inch unbaked pie shell and bake in 375° oven 30 minutes. Now sprinkle 1 cup coarsely chopped cashews over pie and bake 15 minutes longer. Serve with dollop whipped cream.

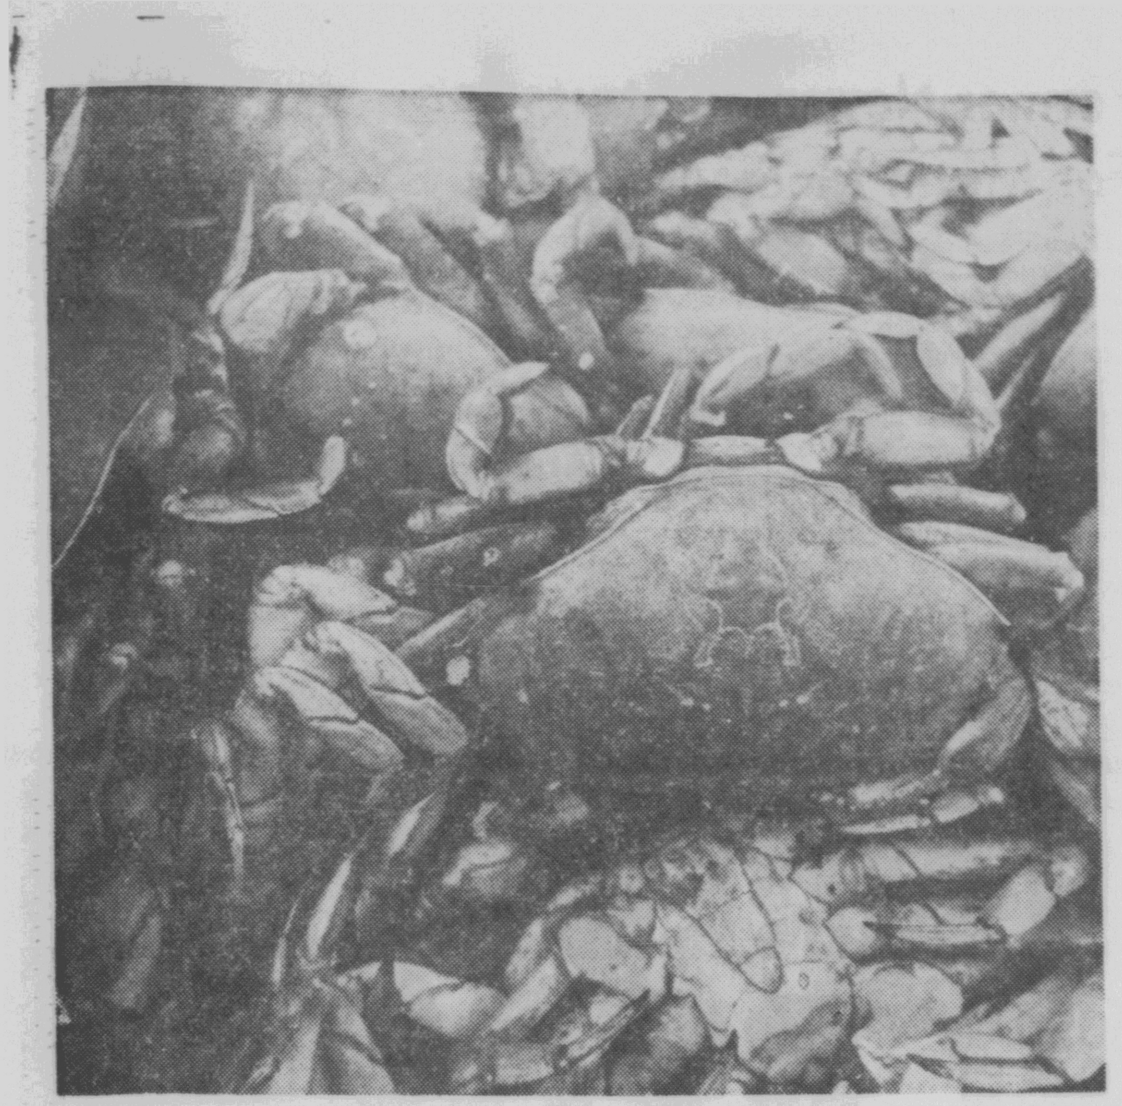
Crabbing— A Seagoing Industry



CRAB BOAT—About half a dozen boats are used for crabbing in Sausalito, switching to fishing for other game as the seasons change. The boats are 30 to 60 feet long. Each of the 100 to 200 crab pots they carry costs $35.

NORTHERN GIANT—Lefty Sturiale of Sausalito holds an Alaska king crab and one of the smaller local Dungeness crabs. The local crab catch has been poor again this year. Sturiale attributes it to warming currents in the area. The catch is expected to increase when the north-coast season opens Dec. 15 from north of Mendocino to Alaska.

CRAB POTS—The LCF is loaded with crab pots as Lloyd Jungculas, Al Young and Frank Stanley prepare for the next day's run. Boats leave in early morning darkness for bay area crab grounds and return in the afternoon. Baited pots are dumped over the side with buoys to mark their position and picked up later in the day.

COOKED CRAB—Sebastian (Lefty) Sturiale of the S. J. Sturiale Fish Co. in Sausalito pulls out a giant's portion of crabs from the homemade cooking pot stoked with wood. Sturiale has been in the fish business for 40 years.

DOUBLE CHECK—T. W. (Bill) Waters of the California Department of Fish and Game checks the size of a crab with calipers. Minimum size is six and one-quarter inches; only male crabs may be kept, females are thrown back when they are found in the pots. (Independent-Journal photos by Bob Hax)

College Of Marin Will Get $89,170 To Train Jobless

A grant to the College of Marin of $89,170 was announced today by the federal government as part of the Manpower Development and Training Act.

The grant will pay for the training of "unemployed or under-employed persons" as office clerks.

Under the original proposal submitted by the college for the program, two 30 - week courses would be given in succession, each training approximately 25 clerks. Trainees would be paid while they study, according to Joseph E. Berreuzo, assistant dean of technical and vocational education at the college.

Approximately $35,000 of the grant would be used for instruction purposes. The rest of the money would be paid to the trainees, said Berreuzo.

The first program is expected to begin Dec. 6 at the college's San Anselmo center at 21 Mariposa Avenue.

Courses in typing, business English, business mathematics, bookkeeping, operation of business machines, filing, and office procedure will be given during the 30 weeks of study, he said.

Selection of trainees will be through the State Department of Employment office in San Rafael. At the end of each program students will be placed in clerical jobs by the employment office.

Two Unhurt In Plane Landing

A pilot and an unidentified boy passenger escaped injury in an emergency landing at the Marin County Airport yesterday on one landing wheel.

The light, low-winged two-seater, piloted by Robert Kantner of The Lodge, Novato, came in with "one wheel up and one wheel down," and slid off the runway onto the field, reported Harry O. Tollefson, airport operator.

Damage to the plane was not extensive, Tollefson said.

The Novato Fire Department was called for standby duty as Kantner made his landing, but there was no fire.

Insurance Firm Announces Deal To Buy Courthouse

Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Co. is willing to put up $1.4 million for the courthouse property in San Rafael and let the county have the use of it for 50 years under a lease agreement that would require the county to pay off the principal plus $2,122,200 in interest without regaining title to the land.

The offer was reported by Richard Oesterman of Capital Assistance and Mortgage Co. of San Anselmo. County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen asked Oesterman to see what financing would be available from insurance companies.

Oesterman said today that reversion of the property to the county might be negotiated in detailed discussion if supervisors are interested.

County Auditor - Controller Michael Mitchell, who figured the total interest cost at the company's suggested five and three-eighths, per cent, said a revisionary clause likely would mean a higher interest rate.

The county retirement board has agreed in principle that it would authorize a similar investment of retirement board funds, possibly at 5.5 per cent interest over 30 years, with the land reverting to the county at the end of that time.

Two Surfers Win Honors For Rescues

One hundred persons attended a meeting Saturday night in Bolinas at which two Mill Valley surfers were awarded certificates of merit for the rescue of two girls from Bolinas Lagoon July 5, and members of the North Point Surfers were given a general commendation.

Surfers James Taldo, 16, and David Barca, 17, were given American Red Cross certificates of merit by James R. Williams, volunteer water safety consultant of the Marin County Red Cross chapter.

They were also awarded certificates of appreciation from the Windansea Surf Club of San Diego by Thor Svenson, San Diego surfing council official.

Barca and Taldo, by surfboard, rescued two girls when one lost her grip on an inner tube float, causing both to be in danger of drowning in a fast current. Identity of the girls, though sought by the Red Cross, was never learned.

Svenson, who came to Bolinas last year to work with the North Point Surfers to help them achieve more rapport with the community, told the audience that the Marin County Surfers' image has been "greatly improved. They have a lot of credit coming to them that is oftentimes unrecognized."

HOW TO PLAY
WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

World's Greatest Bridge Ace Can't Think For Partner, Too

Benito Garozzo, considered by many experts to be the best bridge player in the world, plans to visit the United States this winter to display fine Italian jewelry and to play some bridge.

If you see him in action, don't expect miracles; he can play only one side of the table.

Opening lead — ♡ 9

When today's hand was dealt Garozzo had already played several rubbers of a friendly match against my wife and me and had discovered that we hadn't come seven thousand miles to underbid.

If he picked the right opening lead he would have a chance to defeat the contract.

EXPERT'S INTUITION

Garozzo sensed, heaven knows how, that hearts was the right suit, and he made the best expert lead—the nine of hearts.

This rode around to my jack, after which the opponents were in position to take three heart tricks whenever they got in.

The only trouble was that Garozzo's partner read the lead as the "top of nothing," in which case the ace of hearts would be in my hand.

BAD GUESS

I led a spade to the king and returned a club to the king. Now I had to guess which of the black suits would break favorably.

I guessed wrong, by cashing the ace of spades before leading a spade to dummy's queen.

When I returned another club from dummy, East stepped up with the ace. He could then defeat the contract by leading a low heart, since Garozzo would take the ace of hearts and cash a spade before returning his other heart.

GAROZZO TOO GOOD

What saved my bacon was the fact that Garozzo was too good for his own partner.

East thought that I had the ace of hearts and that his partner had the ace of diamonds. Acting on this impression, East returned a diamond and I went up with the ace and took ten tricks before the mice got at them.

"Never mind," I consoled Garozzo, who was disappointed at the outcome, "I won't tell anybody about this hand. I'll just put it in my column."

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 2 NT (22 to 24 points), and the next player passes.

♠ K Q 6 2
♥ Q 8 6 5
♦ J 7 4

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid three clubs, the Stayman Convention.

This asks partner to bid a major suit of four or more cards if he has one. Otherwise, he bids three diamonds.

Game in a major will probably be a trifle safer than game at notrump.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, Nov. 22, the 326th day of 1965 with 39 to follow.

The moon is new; the morning star is Jupiter; the evening stars are Mars, Venus and Saturn.

In 1909, Miss Helen Hayes made her New York stage debut in the play "In Old Dutch."

In 1950, a train wreck at the peak of the evening commuting hours killed 79 persons and injured hundreds outside New York City.

In 1960, the U.S. Navy launched the Ethan Allen, its most powerful atomic submarine.

In 1963, President John F. Kennedy was killed in Dallas. Within hours, Lyndon B. Johnson was sworn in to succeed the assassinated President. The same day, Patrolman J. D. Tippit was killed trying to apprehend suspect Lee Harvey Oswald, who was later captured, and two days later killed by Jack Ruby.

A thought for the day — American essayist Ralph Waldo Emerson wrote: "The true test of civilization is, not the census, nor the size of cities, nor the crops—no, but the kind of man the country turns out."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

Forrest Gist Named To Head Marin Shrine

FORREST T. C. GIST
Club's 51st president

Forrest T. C. Gist of 212 Goodhill Road, Kentfield, has been elected the new president of the Marin County Shrine Club. He is the club's 51st president and succeeds Wesley V. Smith of San Rafael.

Gist is a retired architect of San Francisco. He is crator of Islem Tempel Divan in San Francisco.

Other new officers are Austin W. Little of San Rafael, first vice president, Frank Thatcher of Greenbrae, second vice president, C. R. Banfield of Fairfax, secretary-treasurer, and Elliot Seymour of Tiburon, executive officer. Installation will be in January.

Boys Center Fete

Hanna Boys Center, Sonoma, will hold its 16th anniversary open house next Sunday from 1 to 4:30 p.m. Many Marin County boys have been accepted at the home, which houses neglected children.

Four Persons Killed In Crash

VANDENBERG AFB (UPI)—Four persons were killed yesterday in a two-car collision near the entrance to this base, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The victims were Mrs. Barbara Daniels, 27, and her son, Joseph, 5, Frank Tennison, 21, of Vandenberg AFB, and his passenger, Milton Dickinson, 22, Lompoc.

Mrs. Daniels and her son were passengers in an auto driven by her husband, Roland, 30. He and a daughter, Mary, 7, were injured in the crash.

Former Newsman Starts Job For Marin Medical Society

EDWARD J. COLLINS JR.
New man for medics

Edward J. Collins Jr., a former newspaperman, has started work as executive secretary of Marin Medical Society.

He succeeds Jeffrey Blankfort of Mill Valley, who will leave Dec. 1 on a trip to Europe.

Collins, 32, comes to the society's San Rafael office from Oakland, where he was executive secretary of the California Veterinary Medical Assn. for five years.

For two years, he was executive manager of the Oakland Junior Chamber of Commerce. A journalism graduate of University of California, he formerly was managing editor of the Brawley Daily News in Imperial County.

He lives in Kensington, Contra Costa County, with his wife, Dorothy, and their seven-year-old daughter, Lori. He said he hopes to make his home in Marin within a few months.

The Olympic Peninsula in Washington has one of the heaviest annual rainfalls in the United States, and therefore some of the most luxuriant vegetation.

Contract Talk Set

Marin Hospital District trustees, meeting tomorrow at 7 p.m. in the Marin General Hospital Coral Room, will be asked to approve a contract with College of Marin to provide practical experience for students in the college's registered nursing program.

Recruiters Change

S/Sgt. Gaudencio M. Capil, recently returned from Korea, is the new detachment sergeant at the Army Air Defense Command's Sixth Region headquarters in Sausalito, succeeding SFC Jacinto S. Sanchio Siso, who will leave soon for Santo Domingo.

CASHEW PIE

JOLLY ROAST TURKEY WITH ITALIAN DRESSING
1½ lbs pork sausage meat
2 bunches fresh spinach
3 stalks celery, diced
1 large onion, chopped
1 clove garlic
½ cup chopped parsley
¾ tsp Bell's seasoning
1 large loaf bread for dressing
Canned Cream
1 cube butter
2 eggs, beaten
1 cup Parmesan cheese
½ tsp baking soda
Salt and pepper to taste

Cube bread including crusts and set aside. Wash fresh spinach and drain. Now put through fine blade of food chopper. (Place a bowl beneath the chopper—it will drip!). Add spinach to bread. Saute' sausage meat until red disappears. Drain and add to spinach mixture. In clean frypan, melt butter and saute' onion, garlic, parsley, and celery until just brown. Add to spinach mixture. Add seasonings, eggs, cheese and enough canned cream to moisten mixture. Add baking soda and mix well. . . . This is enough stuffing for a 15-pound turkey. A 12 to 16 lb. turkey requires 4½ to 5½ hours in a 325° oven.

CASHEW PIE
Slowly beat ¾ cup sugar into 3 lightly beaten eggs. Add ½ cup dark corn syrup and ½ cup light corn syrup. Add ½ cube melted butter. Pour this mixture into 9-inch unbaked pie shell and bake in 375° oven 30 minutes. Now sprinkle 1 cup coarsely chopped cashews over pie and bake 15 minutes longer. Serve with dollop whipped cream.

Returned Tax Bills Present Difficulties

Marin County Treasurer-Tax Collector Stanley J. Fontez needs some help in solving an annual mystery.

Of the 73,593 tax bills mailed out by the office last month, the post office has returned about 1,000.

These are cases where the property owner's address is no longer valid or the deed information was illegible or not properly interpreted.

Fontez said these people must have known they should receive tax bills but did not call his office. Only exception would be in cases where owners have arranged for agents to make the payments.

First installment (half) payment of the tax is due Dec. 10. Late payments will be with a 6 per cent penalty.

Five Marinites Due New Posts As Navy Men

Five Navy enlisted men from Marin County have completed recruit training and are now on home leave before starting tours of duty in different parts of the country.

David M. Black, firemen apprentice, 23 Underhill Road, Mill Valley, and Robert L. Hills, fireman apprentice, 580 Pinewood Drive, San Rafael, will report aboard the aircraft carrier Kearsarge at her home port in Long Beach.

George M. Dobson, seaman apprentice, 2 Olive Avenue, San Anselmo, will attend engineman school at the Naval Service Schools Command, Great Lakes, Ill., and Eduardo M. Fontana, seaman apprentice, 55 Corte Comoda, Greenbrae, will report for duty with Commander Service Forces Pacific in Hawaii.

Charles R. Miles, hospitalman, 566 Heather Way, San Rafael, will train at the Naval Hospital in San Diego.

Car Stolen

David Kosofsky of Ellenville, N.Y., reported to police that his 1962 white Corvette convertible was stolen while parked at Zack's-by-the-Bay, Bridgeway and Turney Street, Sausalito, yesterday.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Presbyopiacs Greatly Helped When They Try On Bifocal Glasses

VAN DELLEN

When a 42-year-old man steps out of a telephone booth with a directory to find a number, he is a candidate for the presbyopia club. He needs glasses to correct a visual defect that occurs with advancing years. The point of focus has receded beyond the distance at which he reads ordinary print (approximately 9 inches). The alternative is to hold the book farther away but the arms can be stretched just so far.

The eyes can adjust to minor defects to maintain clear vision. The pupils contract, the lenses change and the person squints to shut out the rays of light that distort the image. But the day of reckoning comes because there is a limit to how much strain the eyes can take to focus the rays. Glasses solve the problem by making near vision easier; there is no need to continue holding the hymnal or menu at arm's length to read.

Close work becomes a pleasure when vision becomes clear again. Necessity is the mother of invention. This may explain why glasses were invented centuries ago; the craftsman or artist was through at 40 without them. The same applied to women who sewed or knitted socks and sweaters.

The individual whose occupation calls for combined close and distant work soon finds ordinary reading specs inadequate. It isa nnoying to take them off and on to conduct business and herein lies the value of bifocals. These lenses are ground so that the lower part is used for near vision and the upper is clear or refracted for distance. Half glasses also are available. In this way the user need not change glasses when he switches from close to distant vision.

BIFOCALS do not satisfy everyone. The individual can see everything within 20 inches and beyond 50, but not what is between. He requires better visual acuity for this intermediate space, and here is where trifocals come in handy. With a single pair of glasses, the person is able to read the paper, look at the calendar on the wall, and enjoy the picture on the billboard across the street.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

CYSTIC SWELLINGS

F. T. writes: Could a person have a ganglion anywhere but on the wrist?

REPLY

Yes, over tendon sheaths anywhere. However, these cyst-like lesions are more common on the wrist. They are easily remedied by injections of ACTH or related hormones.

ASPIRIN AND HAIR

M. W. writes: I take aspirin every day for arthritis but people tell me it will dry the scalp and cause falling hair. Is this true?

REPLY

No. Aspirin is well tolerated by most humans, but too much will disturb the stomach rather than the hair.

HECTIC FLUSH

Mrs. E. T. writes: Why do I become florid and feverish after a few cocktails?

REPLY

Because alcohol dilates the blood vessels, which makes the skin warm and flushed.

MIGRAINE

Mrs. C. writes: Is shock therapy ever recommended for intense and frequent migraine attacks?

REPLY

No.

TYPE OF TONSILITIS

F. S. writes: What is lingual tonsilitis?

REPLY

Infection of the tonsil-like tissue located at the root of the tongue.

BOTH ARE CURABLE

S. A. writes: I know people who have been cured of peptic ulcer. Why can't spastic bowel be cured?

REPLY

I know people who have been cured of spastic bowel. Both conditions tend to recur, however, if the causative factors return.

RUBBING MAY HELP

J. Y. writes: Will rubbing the body with alcohol help arthritis by improving the circulation?

REPLY

The massage, not the alcohol, will improve circulation to the skin. Symptoms may be improved after the procedure, but it is doubtful whether rubbing the outside will affect the circulation to the deeper structures, including the aching joint.

HOLLOW-EYED

W. Q. writes: What causes sunken, lifeless eyes in a 34-year-old man?

EXERCISE AND ARTHRITIS

D. A. writes: Are daily setting-up exercises bad for a person with arthritis of the spine?

REPLY

Only if the exercises produce or aggravate distress. Proper exercises will strengthen the muscles of the back, thus giving additional support to the structure.

NO VEGETABLES

C. F. writes: I am middle-aged and my diet consists of meat, potatoes, milk, oatmeal, and eggs. I do not like vegetables. Must I eat them?

REPLY

Vegetables are not absolutely necessary provided the diet otherwise is adequate.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Negligence May Injure Others

Gene lived in a crowded neighborhood. He had two cars but only a one-car garage. He often parked his older car in the street or on his garage driveway. Many other people parked their cars in his driveway or just turned their cars around it.

One afternoon, Sally Slipper suddenly slipped on the accumulated grease there. She complained to Gene.

When Sally found that she had hurt her back badly, she sued Gene. Gene claimed that he didn't put the grease there. For all he knew, other cars had.

The court ruled that the jury could determine that Gene's cars created the hazard. If Gene failed to inspect and clean away the grease left by his car, he would have to pay for the damages.

You are not always liable to a person hurt on your sidewalk. Not the ownership but what the property owner does, is what makes the sidewalk dangerous.

Did the property owner do something to create a hazard to pedestrians? Suppose the owner lets his water drain over the sidewalk making it slippery. Suppose he lets vines extend beyond his land. Suppose he stacks vegetables so that people run into them. Il this creates hazards.

If things are left on the sidewalk by third parties, or are blown there by heavy winds, the owner is seldom to blame.

Most prudent home owners have liability policies to protect them when they are at fault.

Everybody must use "ordinary care" not to do things that may harm others.

Sometimes the city or county may place special duties on property owners. There may be city lines, ordinances about putting things on sidewalks, for water drainage, or general safety rules about hanging things from buildings over sidewalks. These rules may impose other duties, violation of which is negligence "in itself," needing no further proof of intention.

Sidewalk defects themselves are the responsibility of the city. If the city officials know or should know of cracks, or other hazards, and have the money to make repairs, the city must do so. Its failure is negligence. Citizens hurt as a result can hold the city responsible.

Unification Question Not Answered By Dixie Figures

By RICHARD LYTTLE

Is Dixie School District's relatively low expenditure per pupil an argument against the proposed unification of Dixie and San Rafael Elementary School District with San Rafael High School District?

Dixie Supt. Dennie B. Willis thinks not. He points out that looking at one set of comparisons does not give the full picture.

The two elementary district's are almost the same size. Dixie has 4,200 elementary school pupils, while San Rafael has 4,500.

San Rafael however, is highest in assessed value of any elementary school district in the county with $20,400 assessed value per pupil. Dixie is fourth in assessed value, with $8,100 per pupil.

Looking at these figures, one might conclude that unification would be of great benefit to the Dixie district because it would add to the assessed value.

However, figures prepared by County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell for Dixie district's finance committee show that Dixie is spending only $239.84 per pupil in local property taxes while San Rafael is spending $480.47.

Using total expenditures, with state and federal funds, bond issue payments and general property taxes, the comparison is $542.88 per pupil for Dixie to $706.60 for San Rafael.

Willis says this may be due to careful budgeting in part, and tight budgeting is a matter of necessity in the Dixie district.

"We don't have any more money and that's the reason we don't spend any more," he said.

One fact that gives Dixie a break in expenses is that the district is so new. In 1954 it had only 50 pupils. At that time there were already 3,000 in the San Rafael district.

As a consequence, few of the teachers in the Dixie district are at the top of the salary scale. In San Rafael, more than half are at the top of the scale, Willis estimated.

"We take advantage of this," he said.

In time, this advantage will vanish. Also, Willis said, any discussion of the finances in unification must consider the tax rate itself.

San Rafael Elementary District tax, with 25 cents for over-rides and 35.5 cents for bonds, comes to a total $2.355 per $100 of assessed valuation. Dixie's, with 29 cents for over-rides and 38.5 for bonds, comes to $3.125.

"They've got the assessed value," Willis said.

Contract Awarded

Shields Construction Co. of Novato has been awarded a $2,174 contract to alter the x-ray diagnostic room in Building 515 at Hamilton Air Force Base, the base procurement office at Hamilton announced today.

Injured Driver Refuses Treatment

Thomas M. Shine, 22, of San Francisco refused treatment at San Rafael General Hospital refused treatment at San Rafael General Hospital Saturday night for cuts and bruises on his right shoulder which the California Highway Patrol reported he received when he drove his eastbound auto off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard into a ditch one-half mile east of highway 101.

Shine was booked at county jail on a charge of being drunk in or about an auto. He was later released on $110 bail.

Canada produces $800-million worth of textiles annually.

San Rafael Man Hospitalized With Chin Cuts

Henry E. Sanderson, 34, of 240 Linden Lane, San Rafael, was in fair condition in Marin General Hospital today with cuts on the chin and other injuries apparently suffered when his car hit a stalled car in the slow north-bound lane on Highway 101 at the north end of the Richardson Bay Bridge early Saturday.

Walter J. Connors of 10 Mount Tenaya Drive, San Rafael, told the California Highway Patrol that he was standing near his stalled car when another auto struck it and then drove on.

Shortly before the patrol received Connors's call, Corte Madera Police stopped Sanderson on Paradise Drive. His car was dented they said, and he had cuts on his chin. He thought he had been in an accident but could not remember where, police said.

The highway patrol reported the dents on the two cars matched.

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW
WHEN MOM SOUNDED POP OUT ON A BIRTHDAY GIFT FOR HIM — WOW! WAS HE FULL OF BIG IDEAS!
I THOUGHT I'D HAVE YOU TELL ME WHAT YOU REALLY NEED! IT'S SO PRACTICAL THAT WAY!
WELL, I COULD USE A PIPE....OR A SMOKING JACKET, OR A PAIR OF GOLF SHOES OR A CASHMERE SWEATER, OR ...OR...
BUT WHEN HER BIRTHDAY ROLLS AROUND HE CAN'T THINK OF A SINGLE THING EXCEPT... CANDY!
I DIDN'T KNOW WHAT ELSE TO GET YOU! HAPPY BIRTHDAY, DEAR!

"Are we very mad at Daddy?"

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, Nov. 22, the 326th day of 1965 with 39 to follow.

The moon is new; the morning star is Jupiter; the evening stars are Mars, Venus and Saturn.

In 1909, Miss Helen Hayes made her New York stage debut in the play "In Old Dutch."

In 1950, a train wreck at the peak of the evening commuting hours killed 79 persons and injured hundreds outside New York City.

In 1960, the U.S. Navy launched the Ethan Allen, its most powerful atomic submarine.

In 1963, President John F. Kennedy was killed in Dallas. Within hours, Lyndon B. Johnson was sworn in to succeed the assassinated President. The same day, Patrolman J. D. Tippit was killed trying to apprehend suspect Lee Harvey Oswald, who was later captured, and two days later killed by Jack Ruby.

A thought for the day — American essayist Ralph Waldo Emerson wrote: "The true test of civilization is, not the census, nor the size of cities, nor the crops—no, but the kind of man the country turns out."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

World's Greatest Bridge Ace Can't Think For Partner, Too

Benito Garozzo, considered by many experts to be the best bridge player in the world, plans to visit the United States this winter to display fine Italian jewelry and to play some bridge.

If you see him in action, don't expect miracles; he can play only one side of the table.

Opening lead — ♡ 9

When today's hand was dealt Garozzo had already played several rubbers of a friendly match against my wife and me and had discovered that we hadn't come seven thousand miles to underbid.

If he picked the right opening lead he would have a chance to defeat the contract.

EXPERT'S INTUITION

Garozzo sensed, heaven knows how, that hearts was the right suit, and he made the best expert lead—the nine of hearts.

This rode around to my jack, after which the opponents were in position to take three heart tricks whenever they got in.

The only trouble was that Garozzo's partner read the lead as the "top of nothing," in which case the ace of hearts would be in my hand.

BAD GUESS

I led a spade to the king and returned a club to the king. Now I had to guess which of the black suits would break favorably.

I guessed wrong, by cashing the ace of spades before leading a spade to dummy's queen.

When I returned another club from dummy, East stepped up with the ace. He could then defeat the contract by leading a low heart, since Garozzo would take the ace of hearts and cash a spade before returning his other heart.

GAROZZO TOO GOOD

What saved my bacon was the fact that Garozzo was too good for his own partner.

East thought that I had the ace of hearts and that his partner had the ace of diamonds. Acting on this impression, East returned a diamond and I went up with the ace and took ten tricks before the mice got at them.

"Never mind," I consoled Garozzo, who was disappointed at the outcome, "I won't tell anybody about this hand. I'll just put it in my column."

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 2 NT (22 to 24 points), and the next player passes.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid three clubs, the Stayman Convention.

This asks partner to bid a major suit of four or more cards if he has one. Otherwise, he bids three diamonds.

Game in a major will probably be a trifle safer than game at notrump.

Returned Tax Bills Present Difficulties

Marin County Treasurer-Tax Collector Stanley J. Fontez needs some help in solving an annual mystery.

Of the 73,593 tax bills mailed out by the office last month, the post office has returned about 1,000.

These are cases where the property owner's address is no longer valid or the deed information was illegible or not properly interpreted.

Fontez said these people must have known they should receive tax bills but did not call his office. Only exception would be in cases where owners have arranged for agents to make the payments.

First installment (half) payment of the tax is due Dec. 10. Late payments will be with a 6 per cent penalty.

Five Marinites Due New Posts As Navy Men

Five Navy enlisted men from Marin County have completed recruit training and are now on home leave before starting tours of duty in different parts of the country.

David M. Black, firemen apprentice, 23 Underhill Road, Mill Valley, and Robert L. Hills, fireman apprentice, 580 Pinewood Drive, San Rafael, will report aboard the aircraft carrier Kearsarge at her home port in Long Beach.

George M. Dobson, seaman apprentice, 2 Olive Avenue, San Anselmo, will attend engineman school at the Naval Service Schools Command, Great Lakes, Ill., and Eduardo M. Fontana, seaman apprentice, 55 Corte Comoda, Greenbrae, will report for duty with Commander Service Forces Pacific in Hawaii.

Charles R. Miles, hospitalman, 566 Heather Way, San Rafael, will train at the Naval Hospital in San Diego.

Presbyopiacs Greatly Helped When They Try On Bifocal Glasses

VAN DELLEN

When a 42-year-old man steps out of a telephone booth with a directory to find a number, he is a candidate for the presbyopia club. He needs glasses to correct a visual defect that occurs with advancing years. The point of focus has receded beyond the distance at which he reads ordinary print (approximately 9 inches). The alternative is to hold the book farther away but the arms can be stretched just so far.

The eyes can adjust to minor defects to maintain clear vision. The pupils contract, the lenses change and the person squints to shut out the rays of light that distort the image. But the day of reckoning comes because there is a limit to how much strain the eyes can take to focus the rays. Glasses solve the problem by making near vision easier; there is no need to continue holding the hymnal or menu at arm's length to read.

Close work becomes a pleasure when vision becomes clear again. Necessity is the mother of invention. This may explain why glasses were invented centuries ago; the craftsman or artist was through at 40 without them. The same applied to women who sewed or knitted socks and sweaters.

The individual whose occupation calls for combined close and distant work soon finds ordinary reading specs inadequate. It isa nnoying to take them off and on to conduct business and herein lies the value of bifocals. These lenses are ground so that the lower part is used for near vision and the upper is clear or refracted for distance. Half glasses also are available. In this way the user need not change glasses when he switches from close to distant vision.

BIFOCALS do not satisfy everyone. The individual can see everything within 20 inches and beyond 50, but not what is between. He requires better visual acuity for this intermediate space, and here is where trifocals come in handy. With a single pair of glasses, the person is able to read the paper, look at the calendar on the wall, and enjoy the picture on the billboard across the street.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

CYSTIC SWELLINGS

F. T. writes: Could a person have a ganglion anywhere but on the wrist?

REPLY

Yes, over tendon sheaths anywhere. However, these cyst-like lesions are more common on the wrist. They are easily remedied by injections of ACTH or related hormones.

ASPIRIN AND HAIR

M. W. writes: I take aspirin every day for arthritis but people tell me it will dry the scalp and cause falling hair. Is this true?

REPLY

No. Aspirin is well tolerated by most humans, but too much will disturb the stomach rather than the hair.

HECTIC FLUSH

Mrs. E. T. writes: Why do I become florid and feverish after a few cocktails?

REPLY

Because alcohol dilates the blood vessels, which makes the skin warm and flushed.

MIGRAINE

Mrs. C. writes: Is shock therapy ever recommended for intense and frequent migraine attacks?

REPLY

No.

TYPE OF TONSILITIS

F. S. writes: What is lingual tonsilitis?

REPLY

Infection of the tonsil-like tissue located at the root of the tongue.

BOTH ARE CURABLE

S. A. writes: I know people who have been cured of peptic ulcer. Why can't spastic bowel be cured?

REPLY

I know people who have been cured of spastic bowel. Both conditions tend to recur, however, if the causative factors return.

RUBBING MAY HELP

J. Y. writes: Will rubbing the body with alcohol help arthritis by improving the circulation?

REPLY

The massage, not the alcohol, will improve circulation to the skin. Symptoms may be improved after the procedure, but it is doubtful whether rubbing the outside will affect the circulation to the deeper structures, including the aching joint.

HOLLOW-EYED

W. Q. writes: What causes sunken, lifeless eyes in a 34-year-old man?

EXERCISE AND ARTHRITIS

D. A. writes: Are daily setting-up exercises bad for a person with arthritis of the spine?

REPLY

Only if the exercises produce or aggravate distress. Proper exercises will strengthen the muscles of the back, thus giving additional support to the structure.

NO VEGETABLES

C. F. writes: I am middle-aged and my diet consists of meat, potatoes, milk, oatmeal, and eggs. I do not like vegetables. Must I eat them?

REPLY

Vegetables are not absolutely necessary provided the diet otherwise is adequate.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Negligence May Injure Others

Gene lived in a crowded neighborhood. He had two cars but only a one-car garage. He often parked his older car in the street or on his garage driveway. Many other people parked their cars in his driveway or just turned their cars around it.

One afternoon, Sally Slipper suddenly slipped on the accumulated grease there. She complained to Gene.

When Sally found that she had hurt her back badly, she sued Gene. Gene claimed that he didn't put the grease there. For all he knew, other cars had.

The court ruled that the jury could determine that Gene's cars created the hazard. If Gene failed to inspect and clean away the grease left by his car, he would have to pay for the damages.

You are not always liable to a person hurt on your sidewalk. Not the ownership but what the property owner does, is what makes the sidewalk dangerous.

Did the property owner do something to create a hazard to pedestrians? Suppose the owner lets his water drain over the sidewalk making it slippery. Suppose he lets vines extend beyond his land. Suppose he stacks vegetables so that people run into them. ll this creates hazards.

If things are left on the sidewalk by third parties, or are blown there by heavy winds, the owner is seldom to blame.

Most prudent home owners have liability policies to protect them when they are at fault.

Everybody must use "ordinary care" not to do things that may harm others.

Sometimes the city or county may place special duties on property owners. There may be city lines, ordinances about putting things on sidewalks, for water drainage, or general safety rules about hanging things from buildings over sidewalks. These rules may impose other duties, violation of which is negligence "in itself." needing no further proof of intention.

Sidewalk defects themselves are the responsibility of the city. If the city officials know or should know of cracks, or other hazards, and have the money to make repairs, the city must do so. Its failure is negligence. Citizens hurt as a result can hold the city responsible.

Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.

Bolinas Firemen Aid Choking Baby

Fast action by Bolinas volunteer firemen was believed to have saved the life Saturday of a one-week-old baby.

Mrs. Linal De Ronden Pos of Birch and Poplar streets telephoned firemen at 9:25 p.m. saying her child, Rosemarie, was choking. She and her husband brought the baby to the fire department where volunteer firemen gave the child resuscitation for four or five minutes. Later, at home, the baby was checked by a doctor and found to be all right.

"The fast action of the volunteers probably saved the baby's life," said Fire Chief Jose Silva today.

Sausalito Spanish Program Report Set

Armando Flores, Spanish teacher in Sausalito School District, will speak on the Spanish program at the board of trustees meeting at 8 p.m. today in the district office.

Trustees will also hear a report by district nurse Meredith Ball on "Family Life Education and Health Education" and will discuss establishment of a building study committee.

Taxpayer Election

Francis J. Carr, 110 Hivista Road, Sausalito, manager of the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. tax department, has been elected treasurer and chairman of the finance committee of the California Taxpayers' Assn.

Indonesia Army To Fight Reds

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Indonesian regional commanders last night fully endorsed the army chief's crackdown on the Communists and pledged to carry it out in their regions, the official news agency Antara reported.

The army chief, Maj. Gen. Suharto, met with the commanders in Jakarta after they had met with President Sukarno at the Bogor presidential palace 40 miles south of Jakarta.

Sukarno in a speech yesterday appealed for an end to the campaign of "killing, destruction and hatred" against the Communists. He warned that if Indonesians continue to fight each other, the nation will destroy itself from within.

TELEVISION REVIEW

This Is The Week That Is With TV

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—It isn't often that an upcoming week of television can be recommended, but this Thanksgiving season seems to be an exception. Starting tomorrow night, an impressive number of entertainment specials, public affairs programs and documentaries will be presented by the networks through the weekend.

Tomorrow's entertainment special is CBS-TV's "Salute to Stan Laurel," an all-star comedy hour in memory of the late entertainer, with Dick Van Dyke as host, and guests including Lucille Ball, Danny Kaye, Buster Keaton, Phil Silvers and Bob Newhart.

Also tomorrow, there is CBS-TV's "National Citizenship Test," an audience-involvement program in which viewers will be asked 42 questions examining their knowledge of a citizen's "rights, obligations and responsibilities." This hour was postponed from Nov. 9 because of the northeast power failure. The test center is in New York.

On Wednesday, Frank Sinatra will appear in a one-man, one-hour show on NBC-TV, singing many of the songs he has been associated with in the past 25 years. The same night, the same network will offer a David Brinkley hour, "Congress Needs Help," based on a study by a top management and consulting firm, evaluating the operating machinery of that legislative body.

And a third special network broadcast Wednesday is ABC-TV's "Pro Football: Mayhem on a Sunday Afternoon," an hour documentary looking at the craze over the sport in the United States, and tracing the history of gridiron competition.

Thursday, Thanksgiving Day, finds this schedule of specials:

—ABC-T's tour of Washington, D.C., with Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, underscoring the nation's beautification program.

—NBC-TV's "Words and Music by Cole Porter," an hour of song and dance starring Maurice Chevalier, Robert Goulet and Nancy Ames.

—An ABC-TV hour with Sammy Davis and some musically talented youngsters, which is "set in a children's world of play."

—Macy's annual Thanksgiving Day parade in New York, on NBC-TV.

CBS-TV's "Thanksgiving Day Jubilee," featuring holiday spectacles in New York, Philadelphia, Detroit and Toronto.

Friday, NBC-TV has an entertainment documentary entitled "The Incredible World of James Bond," dealing with the famous fictional Agent 007, and including an interview with his late creator, Ian Fleming.

Finally, on Sunday, there is a Julie Andrews musical special on NBC-TV, with Gene Kelly as her guest, as well as the following hours:

—On ABC-TV, an original musical comedy special which looks at the story of Little Red Riding Hood from the wolf's point of view, and stars Liza Minnelli, Cyril Ritchard and Vic Damone.

On NBC-TV, a documentary, "Who Shall Live?", about the failure to save many victims of uremic poisoning despite a major medical breakthrough, an artificial kidney machine.

Redwood Students Due College Talks

Three college representatives will visit Redwood High School in the next seven days.

At 12:30 p.m. tomorrow a representative for Claremont Men's College, Harvey Mudd College and Pitzer College, all of Claremont, will meet with students.

At 9 a.m. Wednesday a representative from the University of Chicago will come, and at 3:05 p.m. next Monday a representative from George Fox College, Newberg, Ore., will be on campus.

Fairfax Citizens To Hear Planning Aide

Santa Clara County Planning Director Carl Belser will speak to the final orientation session of the Fairfax Citizens Planning Committee, working on a general plan for the city, at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Fairfax Women's Club.

At another meeting of the group Thursday, about 75 persons heard Marin County Planning Director B. D. Dobbs discuss the plan.

Lee Baldwin Is Novato Queen

Lee Baldwin was crowned football queen at the Novato High School coronation ball, "Autumn Fantasy," in the school gymnasium Saturday night.

Lee won in viting Friday in a field of six candidates. Other candidates were Marilyn Benaski, Karen Leech, Sue Spencer, Barbara Wagner and Anita Watson.

Corte Madera Public Safety Ceremony Set

Corte Madera's new Public Safety Building will be dedicated Dec. 4 at 2 p.m. during ceremonies including speeches, guided tours and refreshments.

Tours of the building, which now houses the town's police and fire departments, will be led by Police and Fire Chief Frank L. Nelson.

Speakers scheduled for the dedication ceremony are Peter H. Behr, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales, Sheriff Louis Mountanos and County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom. Master of ceremonies will be Mayor Edward W. Colthurst. Invocation will be by Rev. Tod W. Ewald of Holy Innocent's Episcopal Parish in Corte Madera.

The new building at Tamalpais Drive and Pixley Avenue is the first station in the county specifically designed to house both police and fire departments.

The $174,400 construction cost was paid with funds from an April, 1964, general obligation bond issue. Balance of the bond fund will go for construction of a substation in east Corte Madera.

Architects of the building were Crawford and Banning of San Rafael. Fostmeier Construction Co. of Petaluma was general contractor.

The tour of the building after the Dec. 4 ceremony will end with refreshments served by the women's auxiliary of the Marin County Fire Assn.

Deer Lose Lives To Automobiles

SUSANVILLE (AP)—Automobiles killed 710 deers on northern California roads during the first 10 months of 1965.

The State Department and Highways and the State Fish and Game Commission, reporting that yesterday, said they did not know how many deer were hit and crawled off in the woods to die.

No human life was lost, the agencies said.

Elmer Doty, fish and game inspector, and the California Highway Patrol advocated lesser speed limits for night use in deer areas.

Apartment House Zone Set For Plan Hearing

San Rafael planning commissioners will hold the second of two hearings tomorrow on a plan to raise the minimum square footage required in apartment zones.

The commission will meet at 7:30 p.m. at city hall.

Commissioners were told at the first hearing that the change would affect more than 1,000 lots in the city. Proposed is an increase in the footage requirement from 1,000 to 1,250 square feet of land per apartment unit.

Second hearings are also scheduled on the application of Kerner-Bellam Realty Co. to rezone land on the east side of Kerner Boulevard, and on that of the Draper Companies for commercial zoning in two lots near the Emporium's east parking lot.

Also on the agenda is builder Douglas M. Christensen's request for a use permit to build an administrative-professional building at the Northgate Shopping Center.

Other permits to be considered are those asked by Neil Shooter to erect a 50-foot radio transmitting tower on a commercial building at 77 Larkspur Street and by United Ambulance Service to move its operations to 18 and 20 G Street.

Permits for advertising signs will be sought by Murphy-Laster Realty and the Bermuda Palms Motel.

Final item on the agenda is the request of Eugene P. Aureguy of Mill Valley and Harold G. MacKenzie of Novato to remove earth from the site of a proposed shopping center across Highway 101 from the Northgate Shopping Center.

Acting City Planner Charles J. Linthicum told commissioners Nov. 9 that the excavation, in which dirt is being moved out of the city limits to the site of the veterans memorial building and county fair auditorium at Marin Civic Center, was in violation of the zoning ordinance since no permit was issued.

The city subsequently issued a stop order on the excavation.

Uniform Stolen

Nancy Carol Brusati, 28 Tampa Drive, San Rafael, reported to police Friday the theft of a Dominican School uniform, worth $57, from her auto parked in a lot at Northgate Shopping Center.

Floyd's One Last Chance, But Clay's Solid Favorite

Independent Journal Sports

FOURTH SECTION Mon., Nov. 22, 1965 37

By MURRAY ROSE

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Floyd Patterson, who made fistic history several times in his erractic career, gets what has to be his last chance at boxing's most prized crown when he takes on heavyweight champion Cassius Clay tonight.

The onetime boy wonder of the ring, knocked out by Sonny Liston in the first round here 28 months ago, is a 3-1 underdog to the all-conquering 23-year-old Clay at Convention Center in a 15-rounder that very few believe will go more than a few rounds.

Patterson, two-time holder of the title and the youngest ever to win it at 21, will be pitting the dynamite of his leaping left hook against the speed and power of the taller and heavier defender.

The consesus is that if the 30-year-old 6-foot New Yorker doesn't nail the 6-foot-3 Clay early with a jarring hook, he will crumble from the jolting jabs and flashing, two-hand combinations of the Louisville Lip.

Clay, cocky and confident as a Las Vegas night club comic with a 10-year contract, had a couple of parting words to newsmen yesterday:

"Come early," he said.

Previously the bold, brash champion had said he was undecided whether he would knock out "The Rabbit" — as he calls Patterson — in a few rounds or punish him for seven or eight before belting him out for the count.

"If I take him out in one round, people will say it's a fix," said Clay, or Muhammad Ali, as he prefers to be called. "If I give him a hard beating and knock him out in the seventh or eighth round, people gonna say I'm cruel."

The betting is 5-6 and take your pick — even money in man to man odds — that the fight won't go more than five rounds.

It will be broadcast by ABC radio and telecast by closed circuit to more than 200 outlets in the United States and Canada. It also will be beamed via early bird satellite to early morning viewers in theaters in the British Isles.

Starting time for the title fight will be about 7:30 p.m.

The fans will come early. Most remember that three of the last four heavyweight fights —two of them involving Patterson — ended in the first round.

There hasn't been a decision in a heavyeight title fight since Rocky Marciano outpointed Ezzard Charles in the 15 rounds of their first fight 11½ years ago. There have been 16 heavyeight title fights since then and all of them have ended in knockouts.

Patterson has been involved in 11 of them, winning eight and losing three.

The sensitive, introverted challenger became the first man ever to win the heavyweight crown twice when he regained the crown from Sweden's Ingemar Johansson on a fifth round knockout in 1960.

It was a leaping left hook, carrying all of Patterson's weight behind it, that knocked Johansson unconscious, his legs quivering, at the New York Polo Grounds.

"I feel that I'm in fine condition, mentally and physically, as I was for the second fight with Ingemar," said Patterson at a press conference yesterday. "I feel just as confident now as I did then. I just feel I'm going to win."

Patterson denied that he had said that "the opposition camp" — meaning Clay's camp — had caused him any difficulty.

"I've had no difficulty with the opposition camp," he told newsmen. "I stressed in an interview the other day that I had difficulty in my own camp."

He declined to elaborate but said "I'll be in a position to say more after the fight."

Both he and Clay were examined Sunday and declared in excellent physical condition by Dr. Donald Romeo, chief examining physician of the Nevada Athletic Commission.

"Patterson's mental outlook is

Boo-Birds Of Unhappiless At Kezar; A Three-Point Landing

Pro football is a funny game (ha-ha). I can remember three games (Vikings, Colts, Dallas) the 49ers lost but should have won. Yesterday they won a game they should have lost to the pathetic Rams.

If you had a worst enemy you should have taken him to Kezar yesterday. Until the last eight minutes or so it was that dull. A real lemon. If tranquilizer manufacturers could have bottled three quarters of yesterday's game they'd have made a fortunue.

EVEN CLEMENTINE looked bored and she (hee?) is the 49er mascot. I'm beginning to think Clemmy is fickle. When the Rams established what appeared to be a safe 27-13 lead in the fourth quarter, Clemmie moved over to the Los Angeles side of the field. Then when the 49ers came back to tie it up at 27-27 I noticed her or him (herm?) in the end zone area, right in the middle. Then when the 49ers mustered their forces to win in the final nine seconds, Clemmy trotted back to the 49er bench. If you think I'm going to say this is a classic case of from fickle in the middle to mustered on top you must think I'm a bigger—than Clemmy. Frank-ly, I'm a has-bun in the punderful world of sports.

EARLY IN the game you got the idea the 49ers would win by three points because the Ram placekicker missed a seven-yard field goal. This is difficult for an amateur to miss, let alone a pro. Especially when you compare the seven-yard miss to 49er Tommy Davis' good ones from 50, 39 and 22 yards. The script writer really had an imagination. Toe-be or not toe-be.

THE BOO-BIRDS of happiless replaced the seagulls yesterday and while they have a different calling card, the former got their message across to poor John, honest John Brodie. Our hero had trouble making ends meet for awhile, so on a couple of occasions he used his running backs as pass receivers, figuring where there's a Willard there's a way; and the shortest distance between two points is an Old Crow. Especially out of the tight formation.

The boo-zers really got on Brodie when Ram Dan McIlhany intercepted a fourth quarter pass. Poor John must have thought Hugh was making a comeback because he threw it right to him. Can we help it if John can't spell?

UNTIL THE fourth quarter rally, the most enjoyable part of the game was the performance by the 110-piece Medford (Ore.) high school band. The kids from up north really gave forth with a stirring rendition of Happy Birthday 49ers on the S. F. team's 20th anniversary and followed it up with a trumpet solo of "I Left My Heart In San Francisco."

I THOUGHT it was Gabriel blowing his horn, but he waited until the fourth quarter to blow it. After all, Roman wasn't spilled in a day.

One last thought: With all those boo birds flying around yesterday, I'm glad it was Brodie and Davis and Co. who made that perfect three-point landing.

Munson Out For Season, Undergoes Knee Surgery

SANTA MONICA (AP) —Los Angeles Ram quarterback Bill Munson underwent surgery last night for repair of knee damage suffered earlier in the day in a game with the San Francisco 49ers.

A Ram spokesman, who flew here with Munson after the Rams' 30-27 loss, said the ligament and cartilage damage in Munson's right knee would keep him out for the rest of the season.

Munson was met at St. John's Hospital by Dr. Daniel Levinthal, who with team physician Dr. John Perry decided upon immediate surgery.

Munson injured the same knee earlier this year in a National Football League contest with the Minnesota Vikings. That time, the man who hit him was Bill Jobko, who used to play for the Rams and who works out with Munson in the nearby San Fernando Valley during the off season.

This time, the man who tackled him in San Francisco was Clark Miller, a former teammate and fraternity brother of Munson's at Utah State.

49ers Nip Rams On Davis Kick, 30-27

By JACK STEVENSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A large segment of San Francisco fans who booed John Brodie unmercifully must still feel sheepish today.

Trailing the Los Angeles Rams 27-13 with less than nine minutes to play, the 49ers marshalled their forces yesterday and, with quarterback Brodie at the helm, they rallied to win 30-27 on a 23-yard field goal by Tommy Davis with just six seconds left.

So the fortunes of the Rams go from bad to worse. They lost first string quarterback Bill Munson for the season late in the first half and lost the game in the second — their eighth defeat.

A roar of disapproval went up when two Brodie passes were intercepted in the opening minutes of the fourth quarter. Then Jim Johnson picked off a Roman Gabriel throw and the 49ers clicked. Brodie hit Ken Willard with an eight - yard touchdown throw and followed five minutes later with a 15-yard scoring pitch to Dave Parks. After a short punt by the Rams' Jon Kilgore in the waning minutes, the 49ers drove from their 49 to the 15 and Davis came on to boot his third field goal of the game and put the 49ers National Football League record at 5-5.

Now they hit the road to play at Minnesota on Sunday while Green Bay invades Los Angeles.

Coach Harland Svare fumed over the play that cut down Munson. The quarterback suffered torn ligaments in his right knee and possible cartilage damage when he was hit by defensive end Clark Miller either while he was throwing a pass or immediately afterward.

No penalty was called against Miller although two plays before he had drawn a 15-yard penalty for roughing the passer.

"Munson was hit after he threw the ball," Svare said bitterly. "He didn't have the ball, did he? It was definitely illegal. If it was legal, then the defense could get every quarterback in the league.

"A quarterback is defenseless after he throws the ball."

Great Drama In Colts' Win; Green Bay Smashes Vikes

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jimmy Orr has set a National Football League record.

He's the fastest in-out-in patient in NFL history.

The slender flanker back suffered an injured right shoulder in the second period at Baltimore yesterday, and later went to a nearby hospital for X-rays. By the fourth period he was out of the hospital and back in the game — and helped the Colts to their eighth straight victory, 34-24 over the Philadelphia Eagles.

Orr, whose injury proved to be a pulled muscle, returned to Memorial Stadium with seven minutes to play and the Colts holding a tenuous 27-24 lead. While the crowd of 60,238 roared, he raced dramatically onto the field and directly to the Colts huddle.

Johnny Unitas and Lenny Moore hooked up on a 47-yard pass on the first play, then on the second Unitas lofted a 22-yarder to Orr in the end zone — and the game was clinched.

By winning, the Colts raised their record to 9-1 and maintained their one-game lead in the Western Division over Green Bay. A ferocious defense fired a 28-point final quarter that enabled the Packers to rout the Minnesota Vikings 38-13.

BROWNS WIN

The Cleveland Browns, with to key interceptions in the closing moments, added to their Eastern lead with a 24-17 decision over the Dallas Cowboys. New York's surprising Giants tied St. Louis for second place with a 28-15 victory over the Cardinals as defensive back Dick Lynch starred.

Cleveland is 8-2, New York and St. Louis 5-5, with four games to go.

Gale Sayers' touchdown run in the third quarter and a tough defense led the Chicago Bears over the Detroit Lions 17-10; Tommy Davis' 23-yard field goal with six seconds to play gave the San Francisco 49ers a 30-27 victory over the Los Angeles Rams, and the Washington Redskins beat Pittsburgh's fumbling Steelers 31-3

Unitas, who sat out last week's game as understudy Gary Cuozzo threw five scoring passes against Minnesota, hit Moore on a 57-yard TD strike and Jerry Logan, followed with a 36-yard scoring run with an intercepted pass as Baltimore took a 14-0 lead over Philadelphia.

But the Eagles made a tingler out of it, and went ahead in the third period 24-20 when Norm Snead threw his second touchdown pass — seven yards to Ray Poage. However, Unitas passed the Colts downfield early in the last quarter and Moore plunged one yard for the go-ahead score

WHEN A COLD SPELL hits Jack Daniel's Hollow everybody would like to help make the charcoal that smooths out our Tennessee whiskey.

The ancient Charcoal Mellowing process we use to gentle our whiskey calls for seeping every drop down through 10 feet of hard maple charcoal. And it has to be rick-burned in the open air. We still make our own charcoal this way just as Mr. Jack did a century ago. The folks in the rickyard are especially glad we've never changed. After a sip of Jack Daniel's, we believe you'll be glad too.

Bolinas Firemen Aid Choking Baby

Fast action by Bolinas volunteer firemen was believed to have saved the life Saturday of a one-week-old baby.

Mrs. Linal De Ronden Pos of Birch and Poplar streets telephoned firemen at 9:25 p.m. saying her child, Rosemarie, was choking. She and her husband brought the baby to the fire department where volunteer firemen gave the child resuscitation for four or five minutes. Later, at home, the baby was checked by a doctor and found to be all right.

"The fast action of the volunteers probably saved the baby's life," said Fire Chief Jose Silva today.

Indonesia Army To Fight Reds

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Indonesian regional commanders last night fully endorsed the army chief's crackdown on the Communists and pledged to carry it out in their regions, the official news agency Antara reported.

The army chief, Maj. Gen. Suharto, met with the commanders in Jakarta after they had met with President Sukarno at the Bogor presidential palace 40 miles south of Jakarta.

Sukarno in a speech yesterday appealed for an end to the campaign of "killing, destruction and hatred" against the Communists. He warned that if Indonesians continue to fight each other, the nation will destroy itself from within.

TELEVISION REVIEW

This Is The Week That Is With TV

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—It isn't often that an upcoming week of television can be recommended, but this Thanksgiving season seems to be an exception. Starting tomorrow night, an impressive number of entertainment specials, public affairs programs and documentaries will be presented by the networks through the weekend.

Tomorrow's entertainment special is CBS-TV's "Salute to Stan Laurel," an all-star comedy hour in memory of the late entertainer, with Dick Van Dyke as host, and guests including Lucille Ball, Danny Kaye, Buster Keaton, Phil Silvers and Bob Newhart.

Also tomorrow, there is CBS-TV's "National Citizenship Test," an audience-involvement program in which viewers will be asked 42 questions examining their knowledge of a citizen's "rights, obligations and responsibilities." This hour was postponed from Nov. 9 because of the northeast power failure. The test center is in New York.

On Wednesday, Frank Sinatra will appear in a one-man, one-hour show on NBC-TV, singing many of the songs he has been associated with in the past 25 years. The same night, the same network will offer a David Brinkley hour, "Congress Needs Help," based on a study by a top management and consulting firm, evaluating the operating machinery of that legislative body.

And a third special network broadcast Wednesday is ABC-TV's "Pro Football: Mayhem on a Sunday Afternoon," an hour documentary looking at the craze over the sport in the United States, and tracing the history of gridiron competition.

Thursday, Thanksgiving Day, finds this schedule of specials:

—ABC-T's tour of Washington, D.C., with Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, underscoring the nation's beautification program.

—NBC-TV's "Words and Music by Cole Porter," an hour of song and dance starring Maurice Chevalier, Robert Goulet and Nancy Ames.

—An ABC-TV hour with Sammy Davis and some musically talented youngsters, which is "set in a children's world of play."

—Macy's annual Thanksgiving Day parade in New York, on NBC-TV.

CBS-TV's "Thanksgiving Day Jubilee," featuring holiday spectacles in New York, Philadelphia, Detroit and Toronto.

Friday, NBC-TV has an entertainment documentary entitled "The Incredible World of James Bond," dealing with the famous fictional Agent 007, and including an interview with his late creator, Ian Fleming.

Finally, on Sunday, there is a Julie Andrews musical special on NBC-TV, with Gene Kelly as her guest, as well as the following hours:

—On ABC-TV, an original musical comedy special which looks at the story of Little Red Riding Hood from the wolf's point of view, and stars Liza Minnelli, Cyril Ritchard and Vic Damone.

On NBC-TV, a documentary, "Who Shall Live?", about the failure to save many victims of uremic poisoning despite a major medical breakthrough, an artificial kidney machine.

Redwood Students Due College Talks

Three college representatives will visit Redwood High School in the next seven days.

At 12:30 p.m. tomorrow a representative for Claremont Men's College, Harvey Mudd College and Pitzer College, all of Claremont, will meet with students.

At 9 a.m. Wednesday a representative from the University of Chicago will come, and at 3:05 p.m. next Monday a representative from George Fox College, Newberg, Ore., will be on campus.

Fairfax Citizens To Hear Planning Aide

Santa Clara County Planning Director Carl Belser will speak to the final orientation session of the Fairfax Citizens Planning Committee, working on a general plan for the city, at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Fairfax Women's Club.

At another meeting of the group Thursday, about 75 persons heard Marin County Planning Director B. D. Dobbs discuss the plan.

Lee Baldwin Is Novato Queen

Lee Baldwin was crowned football queen at the Novato High School coronation ball, "Autumn Fantasy," in the school gymnasium Saturday night.

Lee won in viting Friday in a field of six candidates. Other candidates were Marilyn Benaski, Karen Leech, Sue Spencer, Barbara Wagner and Anita Watson.

Corte Madera Public Safety Ceremony Set

Corte Madera's new Public Safety Building will be dedicated Dec. 4 at 2 p.m. during ceremonies including speeches, guided tours and refreshments.

Tours of the building, which now houses the town's police and fire departments, will be led by Police and Fire Chief Frank L. Nelson.

Speakers scheduled for the dedication ceremony are Peter H. Behr, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales, Sheriff Louis Mountanos and County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom. Master of ceremonies will be Mayor Edward W. Colthurst. Invocation will be by Rev. Tod W. Ewald of Holy Innocent's Episcopal Parish in Corte Madera.

The new building at Tamalpais Drive and Pixley Avenue is the first station in the county specifically designed to house both police and fire departments.

The $174,400 construction cost was paid with funds from an April, 1964, general obligation bond issue. Balance of the bond fund will go for construction of a substation in east Corte Madera.

Architects of the building were Crawford and Banning of San Rafael. Fostmeier Construction Co. of Petaluma was general contractor.

The tour of the building after the Dec. 4 ceremony will end with refreshments served by the women's auxiliary of the Marin County Fire Assn.

Deer Lose Lives To Automobiles

SUSANVILLE (AP)—Automobiles killed 710 deers on northern California roads during the first 10 months of 1965.

The State Department and Highways and the State Fish and Game Commission, reporting that yesterday, said they did not know how many deer were hit and crawled off in the woods to die.

No human life was lost, the agencies said.

Elmer Doty, fish and game inspector, and the California Highway Patrol advocated lesser speed limits for night use in deer areas.

Defense, Rescues Raiders, 28-20

OAKLAND (AP) — Oakland's Raiders thank their defensive platoon for keeping them alive in the American Football League's western division race.

The score stood 14-14 after three quarters of play against the Broncos at Denver on Sunday. In the final period the Oakland offense controlled the ball on exactly a dozen plays.

Yet the Raiders won 28-20 because in that fourth stanza linebacker Gus Otto intercepted a John McCormick pass and ran it back 68 yards to score, and defensive halfback Dave Grayson picked off another and carried it 47 yards to score.

Even one of the first two Oakland touchdowns was set up by the defense. Warren Powers grabbed a McCormick pass and carried it to the Denver six. After a penalty, Tom Flores passed three yards to Art Powell for the score.

The victory gives Oakland a 6-4-1 record. First place San Diego at 6-2-2 has a Thanksgiving Day date against Eastern leader Buffalo.

The Raiders don't play again until they meet the Broncos again, this time at Oakland, on Dec. 5.

At Denver, the Raider offense clicked in the first half and scored on a 77-yard touchdown march in the second period, the score coming on a 34 - yard Flores to Clem Daniels play. The Powell touchdown boosted the count to 14-0.

But the Broncos came back and knotted the count on a two-yard smash by Wendell Hayes and an 11-yard pass from McCormick to Lionel Taylor. The final Denver score came in the fourth period on an eight-yard pass to Taylor from Jacky Lee.

Fortunately for Oakland, McCormick had a bad day. He completed only 13 of 36 passes and had four of them intercepted. The Raiders connected on 20 of 46 passes for 272 yards and overall outgained the last place Broncos 381 to 251.

Colts Win; Packers Clobber Minnesota

ception by Boyd, and Jimmy Orr's dramatic re-entry.

The Packers continued to suffer from offensive sluggishness, but their defense destroyed the Vikings in a last-period uprising. A 47-yard touchdown pass in the opening seconds of the final quarter, Bart Starr to Boyd Dowler, gave Green Bay a 17-14 edge.

Then Ray Nitschke's recovery of Bill Brown's fumble set up a Packer touchdown, Doug Hart scored another on a 20-yard run with another Brown fumble, Herb Adderley intercepted a Minnesota pass, and Lionel Aldridge fell on a Viking fumble that led to the game's final TD.

Dallas twice threatened to tie the Browns in the closing minutes but was thwarted both times by interceptions of Don Meredith passes. The first was by Vince Costello in the end zone, when Meredith threw on first down at the Cleveland one. Ross Fichtner made the decisive steal with about a minute to go.

BROWN SCORES

Jim Brown bulled over for one Cleveland touchdown and gained 99 yards on the day. LeRoy Kelly scored for the winners on a 67-yard punt return, and Frank Ryan tossed a five-yard TD pass to Gary Collins.

Lynch set up the first Giant touchdown against St. Louis with a pass interception on Buddy Humphrey, subbing for the injured Charley Johnson, and scored the clincher on a 60-yard run with a fumble recovery. Earl Morrall passed for three New York touchdowns.

Sayers' raced 20 yards for his 12th touchdown of the season on the Bears' fifth play of the second half at Detroit. Chicago's defense then made the 17-10 score stand up by allowing the Lions to penetrate Bear territory only once in the last two periods.

Warriors Vs. Hawks Tonight

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The San Francisco Warriors would probably be happy if Southern hospitality somehow includes a victory tonight over the St. Louis Hawks in a game at Memphis.

The Warriors have lost their past three National Basketball Assn. games, dropping the last one 133-117 to the Los Angeles Lakers Saturday night at Las Vegas, Nev.

The Hawks Saturday beat the Detroit Pistons 110-101 at St. Louis. The Hawks had a wider margin when they defeated the Warriors 138 - 133 at St.Louis Nov. 13, the last time the teams met.

San Francisco led the Lakers at Las Vegas 56-50 at the half, climbing to a 15-point lead soon after the buzzer sounded. Then Jerry West and Elgin Baylor went to work for Los Angeles.

Darrall Imhoff put the Lakers ahead 93-92 and San Francisco never regained the lead. West led with 34 points and Guy Rodgers topped San Francisco scoring with 23.

Jeers To Cheers—Brodie Rallies 49ers To Victory

Ironically, Miller and Munson were teammates and fraternity brothers during their collegiate days at Utah State. Miller said, "It's my business to get to the passer. I'm never trying to hurt anybody; we make our living being well. It was all confused."

Joe Carollo, one of the Ram linemen protecting the passer, said Miller had been knocked down, then got up and cut down Munson.

Matt Hazeltine, 49er linebacker, said, "It looked like Munson was stepping up into the pocket to throw when Clark got to him. It looked legal."

Roman Gabriel took over and, although he ran three yards for one touchdown and threw 40 to Jack Snow for another, he connected on only seven of 24 passes.

Brodie, meanwhile, hit 23 of 37 for 214 yards.

Coach Jack Christiansen of the 49ers said, "We looked real bad in the first half. I'm glad I didn't listen to the crowd and take John Brodie out when they booed.

"John threw a few bad balls today but he threw a few exceptional ones, too."

Brodie completed 23 out of 37 passes, including two for touchdowns.

Christiansen said, "That was a beautiful throw to Ken Willard for one touchdown and another beauty to Dave Parks for the tying touchdown."

Christiansen praised Brodie for his smart use of the clock near the end of the game.

The referee started to call time out with 30 seconds left and the ball on the Ram 15. Brodie objected he had not asked for time out and the clock kept moving until nine seconds were left.

He then called time out and Davis kicked the winning field goal. Time ran out with the ensuing 49er kickoff.

Brodie said, "Too many games have been won and lost in this league on the last play. I didn't want that to happen here.

"The LA defense is tops. They are tough.

"Davis was kicking well all day. We figured if we got to the 25 we had it."

Davis enjoyed a fine afternoon. Before booting the winning field goal, he had hit from 50 and 39 yards and the three conversions.

The Rams' early scores came on a 17-yard field goal by Bruce Gossett and a 10-yard Munson pass to Tommy McDonald. Gossett later contributed a 31-yard field goal to the Ram production.

CLAY SOLID FAVORITE; FLOYD'S LAST CHANCE

much brighter this time," commented Romeo when asked if he noted any difference beteen Patterson now and 28 months ago.

It was that far back when Patterson was knocked out in the first round for the second straight time by Sonny Liston. Most everyone felt that Patterson was washed up for keeps then.

But the determined ex-champion returned to his rustic training camp retreat, rallied to win five straight bouts, and once again wound up with a chance at the title.

That in itself was a monumental upset. His record is 43-4 including 32 knockouts. He has been stopped three times — once by Johansson and twice by Liston.

Everyone knows about Clay's record of 21 straight, 17 of them by knockouts, since turning pro after his 1960 triumphs in the Olympic Games. The Greatest doesn't let anyone forget.

Clay on the title when Liston quit on his stool after the sixth round of their first fight in 1964 and retained it by blitzing Liston in the first round of their controversial return at Lewiston, Maine, last May 25.

Whether it turns out to be a quickie or not, the fighters will cash in handsomely. The promoters predict a $750,000 purse for Clay and a $375,000 pot for Patterson, who already has grossed more than $7 million in his 12-year pro career.

FLOYD PATTERSON
His last chance

Al Bolan, running the promotion here for Inter-Continental Promotions, Inc., said Convention Center will have a capacity crowd of 8,200 and gross about $350,000. Clay gets 40 per cent and Patterson 20 per cent of all radio, television and movie rights.

Scoring will be done by the referee, to be announced at fight time, and to judges, the five-point must system will be used. The winner of a round will get five points, the loser four or less. For an even round each will get five points.

Terrell Guaranteed Fight With Winner

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Both heavyweight champion Cassius Clay and challenger Floyd Patterson have signed $50,000 bond agreements that the winner of their title fight tonight will meet Ernie Terrell within six months, the president of the World Boxing Assn. said yesterday.

Jim Deskin, president of the WBA and executive secretary of the Nevada Athletic Commission, said, however, that Terrell has not posted such a bond yet, although he had been requested to do so.

Terrell, of Chicago, is the WBA's heavyweight champion, but the Clay-Patterson fight still is billed as for the world title here. Deskin said that both Clay and Patterson have stated there is not a return bout contract or agreement.

The WBA head also said that there is a stipulation in the bond agreement that says that both Patterson and Clay, as well as the WBA must be satisfied that any manager, trainer or any person or firm or corporation having any property interest in Terrell must be free of any underworld contacts.

The California Athletic Commission released a statement the other day urging all boxing organizations to refrain from undesirable influences.

Terrell says he is his own manager.

Two Old-Timers With AFL Houston Oilers

HOUSTON (UPI) — The Houston Oilers of the American Football League have two of football's oldsters on their squad. They are quarterback George Blanda and lineman Bud McFadin. Both are 37 and they are the two oldest players in the AFL.

Easy Triumph

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mildred (Babe Didrikson) Zaharias won the 1954 U.S. Women's Open golf championship by 12 strokes. This is a USGA record for the largest winning margin in a stroke play tournament.

Apartment House Zone Set For Plan Hearing

San Rafael planning commissioners will hold the second of two hearings tomorrow on a plan to raise the minimum square footage required in apartment zones.

The commission will meet at 7:30 p.m. at city hall.

Commissioners were told at the first hearing that the change would affect more than 1,000 lots in the city. Proposed is an increase in the footage requirement from 1,000 to 1,250 square feet of land per apartment unit.

Second hearings are also scheduled on the application of Kerner-Bellam Realty Co. to rezone land on the east side of Kerner Boulevard, and on that of the Draper Companies for commercial zoning in two lots near the Emporium's east parking lot.

Also on the agenda is builder Douglas M. Christensen's request for a use permit to build an administrative-professional building at the Northgate Shopping Center.

Other permits to be considered are those asked by Neil Shooter to erect a 50-foot radio transmitting tower on a commercial building at 77 Larkspur Street and by United Ambulance Service to move its operations to 18 and 20 G Street.

Permits for advertising signs will be sought by Murphy-Laster Realty and the Bermuda Palms Motel.

Final item on the agenda is the request of Eugene P. Aureguy of Mill Valley and Harold G. MacKenzie of Novato to remove earth from the site of a proposed shopping center across Highway 101 from the Northgate Shopping Center.

Acting City Planner Charles J. Linthicum told commissioners Nov. 9 that the excavation, in which dirt is being moved out of the city limits to the site of the veterans memorial building and county fair auditorium at Marin Civic Center, was in violation of the zoning ordinance since no permit was issued.

The city subsequently issued a stop order on the excavation.

Uniform Stolen

Nancy Carol Brusati, 28 Tampa Drive, San Rafael, reported to police Friday the theft of a Dominican School uniform, worth $57, from her auto parked in a lot at Northgate Shopping Center.

All Major Bowl Berths Filled; MSU Vs. Bruins

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It isn't often that a winner, a big winner, is in the position of resorting to the old, old lament of the losers, "wait 'til next year."

Michigan State qualifies.

The Spartans, the No. 1 team in the country, winner of 10 straight and secure in a Rose Bowl berth, now have only to wait until next year to find out if they win the national collegiate football championship.

They took a giant step toward that title — to be determined in an Associated Press poll after the Jan. 1 bowl games — with a rousing 12-3 victory over rugged Notre Dame Saturday, completing a perfect season.

Their Rose Bowl opponent — almost certain to be UCLA — was scheduled to be announced today. UCLA, the No. 7 team in the country, upset sixth-ranked Southern Cal 20-16 Saturday for a 7-1-1 mark that may have clinched the spot.

Washington State, another contender, had its hopes dashed 27-9 by Washington. The selection committee was to meet today. If it selects UCLA, that will make the major bowl line-up look like this:

ROSE BOWL — Michigan State, 10-0, vs. UCLA, 7-1-1.

COTTON BOWL — Arkansas, 10-0, vs. Louisiana State, 7-3.

SUGAR BOWL — Missouri, 7-2-1, vs. Florida, 6-3.

ORANGE BOWL — Nebraska, 9-0, vs. Alabama, 7-1-1.

GATOR BOWL — Georgia Tech, 6-2-1, vs. Texas Tech, 8-2.

Arkansas, the second-ranked team in the country, wrapped up its second straight perfect season and Cotton Bowl berth with a 42-14 romp over Texas Tech, ranked No. 9. Jon Brittenum directed Arkansas scoring drives of 68, 72, 53, 73 and 69 yards that knocked Tech out of a possible Cotton Bowl spot. They settled for the Gator Bowl berth opposite Georgia Tech.

The victory was Arkansas' 22nd straight, longest in the nation. The second longest, 17, was halted at Princeton, N.J., when Dartmouth closed out a 9-0 season and won the Ivy League title by beating Princeton 28-24.

Louisiana State accepted a Cotton Bowl bid after a 62-0 rout of Tulane, while Florida backed into the Sugar Bowl, accepting a previously offered invitation after losing to Miami, Fla. 16-13. They will oppose Missouri, No. 8, which closed out with a 44-20 victory over Kansas.

Alabama, the No. 5 team in the nation, had a day off and took the opportunity to accept a bid to the Orange Bowl.

All the other major spots had been filled previously.

IRISH STOPPED

Michigan State's magnificent defense dominated in the clash with Notre Dame, Saturday's top game. Notre Dame's impressive corps of running backs were limited to a minus 12 yards rushing.

It as the third time this season the front line defense of Harold Lucas, Bubba Smith, Don Bierowicz, Buddy Owens and Bob Viney had limited the opposition to negative rushing yards.

In some of the other traditional games, Harvard blanked Yale 13-0, Purdue edged Indians 26-21, Illinois beat Northestern 20-6, Ohio Stated Edged Michigan 9-7, Minnesota crushed Wisconsin 42-7, Duke took North Carolina 34-7, Pittsburgh nipped Penn State 30-27 and South Carolina edged Clemson 17-16.

Bobby Burnett, Arkansas — scored three touchdowns, set up one with 83-yard run and gained 133 yards rushing in 42-24 comeback victory over Texas Tech.

Gary Beban, UCLA — Fired 52-yard touchdown pass with 2:39 remaining to give Bruins 20-16 victory over Southern California.

Clinton Jones, Michigan State — Ran for 117 yards and one touchdown in 12-3 triumph over Notre Dame.

Johnny Rowland, Missouri — Ran for three touchdowns, set up another with 35-yard punt return, came up with interception and fumble recovery in 44-20 victory over Kansas.

Kenny Lucas, Pittsburgh — Completed 18 of 24 passes for 228 yards and one touchdown in 30-27 upset of Penn State.

Bob Davis, Virginia — Passed for four touchdowns and scored a fifth as Cavaliers tripped Maryland 33-27.

Floyd Little, Syracuse — Scored on 62-yard punt runback and 45-yard screen pass, gained 286 yards over-all in 21-13 victory over Boston College.

Kent Nix, TCU — Passed for four first-half touchdowns and ran for another in 42-14 rout of Rice.

Frank Rogers, Colorado — Caught 57-yard scoring pass and kicked two long field goals in 19-6 victory over Air Force.

Bob Hall, Brown — Hit on 10 of 18 passes for 105 yaards, ran for 60 yards and three touchdowns as Bruins whipped Columbia 51-7.

Jim Grabowski, Illinois — Bulled for 187 yards, breaking two more Big Ten rushing records, in 20-6 victory over Northwestern.

Mickey Beard, Dartmouth — Set up the first three touchdowns with his passing and tossed a 79-yarder for the fourth score as Indians snapped Princeton's 17-game winning streak and won Ivy League title with 28-14 victory.

CAL LOSES THE BIG GAME—AGAIN

Stanford Sets Goal: '66 Title

STANFORD (AP) — Football 1965 goes into history for both California and Stanford, the latter the winner of the Big Game for the fifth straight year but both winding up better than in recent seasons.

The Indians defeated the Bears 9-7 on Terry DeSylvia's 23-yard field goal and Ray Handley's 12-yard touchdown run to give Stanford a 6-3-1 record, the best since 1955.

Although pleased with the victory, Coach John Ralston said, "We've got a lot of work ahead of us. Our goal is to win the conference championship. When we come to the conference games next year, they're the ones we've got to win."

All three Stanford losses were to Pacific Athletic Conference foes — Southern California, Washington and UCLA.

Returning for Stanford will be such players as quarterback Dave Lewis, fullbacks John Read and Jack Root and end Bob Conrad.

California finished with a 5-5 won-lost record and Coach Ray Willsey commented, "I'm as disappointed to lose to Stanford as any other alumnus, but on the whole season, I feel we're closing the gap."

Next season the Bears have returnees including quarterback Dan Berry, halfbacks Lloyd Reist and Ted Parks and fullback Frank Lynch.

Both clubs lose their top rushers of 1965 — Ray Handley of Stanford and Tom Relles of California.

Handley gained 91 yards net as the Big Game's leading rusher while Relles had 81 on the ground and caught two passes for 32 more. Linebacker Bob Rath, also a Stanford senior, was named the outstanding lineman in the game by newsmen.

Neither team could score in the first half although Stanford reached the California one before Handley fumbled a pitchout and the Bears took over.

The Indians also reached the one in the third period. On third down, Read lost a yard and then Stanford was penalized five for taking too much time. So Terry DeSylvia came on to boot a 23-yard field goal.

Opening the fourth quarter, the Bears went on the march travelling 62 yards with Relles booming the final four for the touchdown. Dan Sinclair booted the conversion.

Stanford's sputtering offense finally began to purr. Phil Humphreys returned the kickoff from the 10 to the 30 and in 11 plays the Indians had the winning touchdown.

UCLA WRITES COAST CINDERELLA STORY

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Pacific Athletic Conference fathers will have no trouble today selecting the Bruins of UCLA for the Rose Bowl where they'll battle a return engagement against the only club that beat them this year.

UCLA's sophomore quarterback Gary Beban and the Washington Huskies made things easy for the ballot casters.

The Bruin star threw two touchdown passes in the final four minutes to beat Southern California 20-16 while Washington handed WSU its first PAC defeat by a convincing 27-9 count.

So UCLA completes its conference schedule 4-0, USC stands 4-1 and WSU 2-1. PAC rules require the formality of a vote to officially name UCLA to face Michigan State in the bowl at Pasadena on Jan. 1.

Back on Sept. 18 in East Lansing, UCLA and Michigan State inaugurated their 1965 campaigns with the Spartans winning 13-3 to start an undefeated season. And not since then have the Bruins lost although they did battle to a 14-14 tie with Sugar Bowl-bound Missouri.

In Saturday's other two PAC traditionals, Stanford edged California 9-7 and Oregon State beat Oregon 19-14. Independent San Jose State saw its five-game winning string snipped by Fresno State 24-18.

Two games remain on the docket before Rose Bowl time. Wyoming's Cowboys play Southern California on Nov. 27 and UCLA winds up its regular season on Dec. 4 at Tennessee.

The Bruins had been outplayed by the Trojans of USC through most of their traditional clash before Beban struck with scoring passes of 34 and 52 yards to bring off the victory. The first went to Dick Witcher and a two-point conversion cut the USC lead to 16-14.

Then came the obvious — an onside kickoff by UCLA. Dallas Grider fell on it to give the Bruins possession again. Beban was thrown for a loss but then found Kurt Altenberg with the clinching pass.

Washington's Tod Hullin meanwhile was passing for two touchdowns to keep Washington State out of the Cinderella picture. Nobody had figured either UCLA or Washington State in the title picture at the start of the campaign.

Hullin's touchdown throws came on plays covering 27 yards with Omar Parker the receiver and 54 to Dave Williams.

Oregon State's defense set up three touchdowns in the triumph over Oregon. Thurman Bell ran back an intercepted pass to score and also picked off a pass that thwarted the Oregon comeback drive in the final minutes.

Seals Snap Slump, Jolt League Leading Bucks

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Seals are getting ready for more visitors from the Northwest this week to try to match their conquest of the Western Hockey League leaders.

The Seals toppled the league-leading Portland Buckaroos, 7-3 Saturday night. San Francisco had lost three straight games before meeting Portland, scoring only one goal against Seattle, Vancouver and Pittsburgh.

The Seals moved fast against Portland, jumping to a 4-1 lead in the first period. New Seals coach Charley Burns scored one goal and Gerry Brisson scored two.

Wayne Connelly also scored for San Francisco and Cliff Schmautz made the Buckaroos' goal.

Connelly scored again in the third period. Al Nicholson and Tom Thurlby also hit the net for San Francisco.

Bill Saunders hit Portland's two final goals.

Floyd's One Last Chance, But Clay's Solid Favorite

By MURRAY ROSE

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Floyd Patterson, who made fistic history several times in his erractic career, gets what has to be his last chance at boxing's most prized crown when he takes on heavyweight champion Cassius Clay tonight.

The onetime boy wonder of the ring, knocked out by Sonny Liston in the first round here 28 months ago, is a 3-1 underdog to the all-conquering 23-year-old Clay at Convention Center in a 15-rounder that very few believe will go more than a few rounds.

Patterson, two-time holder of the title and the youngest ever to win it at 21, will be pitting the dynamite of his leaping left hook against the speed and power of the taller and heavier defender.

The consesus is that if the 30-year-old 6-foot New Yorker doesn't nail the 6-foot-3 Clay early with a jarring hook, he will crumble from the jolting jabs and flashing, two-hand combinations of the Louisville Lip.

Clay, cocky and confident as a Las Vegas night club comic with a 10-year contract, had a couple of parting words to newsmen yesterday:

"Come early," he said.

Previously the bold, brash champion had said he was undecided whether he would knock out "The Rabbit" — as he calls Patterson — in a few rounds or punish him for seven or eight before belting him out for the count.

"If I take him out in one round, people will say it's a fix," said Clay, or Muhammad Ali, as he prefers to be called. "If I give him a hard beating and knock him out in the seventh or eighth round, people gonna say I'm cruel."

The betting is 5-6 and take your pick — even money in man to man odds — that the fight won't go more than five rounds.

It will be broadcast by ABC radio and telecast by closed circuit to more than 200 outlets in the United States and Canada. It also will be beamed via early bird satellite to early morning viewers in theaters in the British Isles.

Starting time for the title fight will be about 7:30 p.m.

The fans will come early. Most remember that three of the last four heavyweight fights—two of them involving Patterson — ended in the first round.

There hasn't been a decision in a heavyeight title fight since Rocky Marciano outpointed Ezzard Charles in the 15 rounds of their first fight 11½ years ago. There have been 16 heavyeight title fights since then and all of them have ended in knockouts.

Patterson has been involved in 11 of them, winning eight and losing three.

The sensitive, introverted challenger became the first man ever to win the heavyweight crown twice when he regained the crown from Sweden's Ingemar Johansson on a fifth round knockout in 1960.

It was a leaping left hook, carrying all of Patterson's weight behind it, that knocked Johansson unconscious, his legs quivering, at the New York Polo Grounds.

"I feel that I'm in fine condition, mentally and physically, as I was for the second fight with Ingemar," said Patterson at a press conference yesterday. "I feel just as confident now as I did then. I just feel I'm going to win."

Patterson denied that he had said that "the opposition camp" — meaning Clay's camp — had caused him any difficulty.

"I've had no difficulty with the opposition camp," he told newsmen. "I stressed in an interview the other day that I had difficulty in my own camp."

He declined to elaborate but said "I'll be in a position to say more after the fight."

Both he and Clay were examined Sunday and declared in excellent physical condition by Dr. Donald Romeo, chief examining physician of the Nevada Athletic Commission.

"Patterson's mental outlook is

Boo-Birds Of Unhappiless At Kezar; A Three-Point Landing

Pro football is a funny game (ha-ha). I can remember three games (Vikings, Colts, Dallas) the 49ers lost but should have won. Yesterday they won a game they should have lost to the pathetic Rams.

If you had a worst enemy you should have taken him to Kezar yesterday. Until the last eight minutes or so it was that dull. A real lemon. If tranquilizer manufacturers could have bottled three quarters of yesterday's game they'd have made a fortunue.

EVEN CLEMENTINE looked bored and she (hee?) is the 49er mascot. I'm beginning to think Clemmy is fickle. When the Rams established what appeared to be a safe 27-13 lead in the fourth quarter, Clemmie moved over to the Los Angeles side of the field. Then when the 49ers came back to tie it up at 27-27 I noticed her or him (herm?) in the end zone area, right in the middle. Then when the 49ers mustered their forces to win in the final nine seconds, Clemmy trotted back to the 49er bench. If you think I'm going to say this is a classic case of from fickle in the middle to mustered on top you must think I'm a bigger—than Clemmy. Frank-ly, I'm a has-bun in the punderful world of sports.

EARLY IN the game you got the idea the 49ers would win by three points because the Ram placekicker missed a seven-yard field goal. This is difficult for an amateur to miss, let alone a pro. Especially when you compare the seven-yard miss to 49er Tommy Davis' good ones from 50, 39 and 22 yards. The script writer really had an imagination. Toe-be or not toe-be.

THE BOO-BIRDS of happiless replaced the seagulls yesterday and while they have a different calling card, the former got their message across to poor John, honest John Brodie. Our hero had trouble making ends meet for awhile, so on a couple of occassions he used his running backs as pass receivers, figuring where there's a Willard there's a way; and the shortest distance between two points is an Old Crow. Especially out of the tight formation.

The boo-zers really got on Brodie when Ram Dan McIlhany intercepted a fourth quarter pass. Poor John must have thought Hugh was making a comeback because he threw it right to him. Can we help it if John can't spell?

UNTIL THE fourth quarter rally, the most enjoyable part of the game was the performance by the 110-piece Medford (Ore.) high school band. The kids from up north really gave forth with a stirring rendition of Happy Birthday 49ers on the S. F. team's 20th anniversary and followed it up with a trumpet solo of "I Left My Heart In San Francisco."

I THOUGHT it was Gabriel blowing his horn, but he waited until the fourth quarter to blow it. After all, Roman wasn't spilled in a day.

One last thought: With all those boo birds flying around yesterday, I'm glad it was Brodie and Davis and Co. who made that perfect three-point landing.

Munson Out For Season, Undergoes Knee Surgery

SANTA MONICA (AP) —Los Angeles Ram quarterback Bill Munson underwent surgery last night for repair of knee damage suffered earlier in the day in a game with the San Francisco 49ers.

A Ram spokesman, who flew here with Munson after the Rams' 30-27 loss, said the ligament and cartilage damage in Munson's right knee would keep him out for the rest of the season.

Munson was met at St. John's Hospital by Dr. Daniel Levinthal, who with team physician Dr. John Perry decided upon immediate surgery.

Munson injured the same knee earlier this year in a National Football League contest with the Minnesota Vikings. That time, the man who hit him was Bill Jobko, who used to play for the Rams and who works out with Munson in the nearby San Fernando Valley during the off season.

This time, the man who tackled him in San Francisco was Clark Miller, a former teammate and fraternity brother of Munson's at Utah State.

49ers Nip Rams On Davis Kick, 30-27

By JACK STEVENSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A large segment of San Francisco fans who booed John Brodie unmercifully must still feel sheepish today.

Trailing the Los Angeles Rams 27-13 with less than nine minutes to play, the 49ers marshalled their forces yesterday and, with quarterback Brodie at the helm, they rallied to win 30-27 on a 23-yard field goal by Tommy Davis with just six seconds left.

So the fortunes of the Rams go from bad to worse. They lost first string quarterback Bill Munson for the season late in the first half and lost the game in the second — their eighth defeat.

A roar of disapproval went up when two Brodie passes were intercepted in the opening minutes of the fourth quarter. Then Jim Johnson picked off a Roman Gabriel throw and the 49ers clicked. Brodie hit Ken Willard with an eight - yard touchdown throw and followed five minutes later with a 15-yard scoring pitch to Dave Parks. After a short punt by the Rams' Jon Kilgore in the waning minutes, the 49ers drove from their 49 to the 15 and Davis came on to boot his third field goal of the game and put the 49ers National Football League record at 5-5.

Now they hit the road to play at Minnesota on Sunday while Green Bay invades Los Angeles.

Coach Harland Svare fumed over the play that cut down Munson. The quarterback suffered torn ligaments in his right knee and possible cartilage damage when he was hit by defensive end Clark Miller either while he was throwing a pass or immediately afterward.

No penalty was called against Miller although two plays before he had drawn a 15-yard penalty for roughing the passer.

"Munson was hit after he threw the ball," Svare said bitterly. "He didn't have the ball, did he? It was definitely illegal. If it was legal, then the defense could get every quarterback in the league.

"A quarterback is defenseless after he throws the ball."

Great Drama In Colts' Win; Green Bay Smashes Vikes

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jimmy Orr has set a National Football League record.

He's the fastest in-out-in patient in NFL history.

The slender flanker back suffered an injured right shoulder in the second period at Baltimore yesterday, and later went to a nearby hospital for X-rays. By the fourth period he was out of the hospital and back in the game — and helped the Colts to their eighth straight victory, 34-24 over the Philadelphia Eagles.

Orr, whose injury proved to be a pulled muscle, returned to Memorial Stadium with seven minutes to play and the Colts holding a tenuous 27-24 lead. While the crowd of 60,238 roared, he raced dramatically onto the field and directly to the Colts huddle.

Johnny Unitas and Lenny Moore hooked up on a 47-yard pass on the first play, then on the second Unitas lofted a 22-yarder to Orr in the end zone — and the game was clinched.

By winning, the Colts raised their record to 9-1 and maintained their one-game lead in the Western Division over Green Bay. A ferocious defense fired a 28-point final quarter that enabled the Packers to rout the Minnesota Vikings 38-13.

BROWNS WIN

The Cleveland Browns, with to key interceptions in the closing moments, added to their Eastern lead with a 24-17 decision over the Dallas Cowboys. New York's surprising Giants tied St. Louis for second place with a 28-15 victory over the Cardinals as defensive back Dick Lynch starred.

Cleveland is 8-2, New York and St. Louis 5-5, with four games to go.

Gale Sayers' touchdown run in the third quarter and a tough defense led the Chicago Bears over the Detroit Lions 17-10; Tommy Davis' 23-yard field goal with six seconds to play gave the San Francisco 49ers a 30-27 victory over the Los Angeles Rams, and the Washington Redskins beat Pittsburgh's fumbling Steelers 31-3

Unitas, who sat out last week's game as understudy Gary Cuozzo threw five scoring passes against Minnesota, hit Moore on a 57-yard TD strike and Jerry Logan, followed with a 36-yard scoring run with an intercepted pass as Baltimore took a 14-0 lead over Philadelphia.

But the Eagles made a tingler out of it, and went ahead in the third period 24-20 when Norm Snead threw his second touchdown pass — seven yards to Ray Poage. However, Unitas passed the Colts downfield early in the last quarter and Moore plunged one yard for the go-ahead score

WHEN A COLD SPELL hits Jack Daniel's Hollow everybody would like to help make the charcoal that smooths out our Tennessee whiskey.

The ancient Charcoal Mellowing process we use to gentle our whiskey calls for seeping every drop down through 10 feet of hard maple charcoal. And it has to be rick-burned in the open air. We still make our own charcoal this way just as Mr. Jack did a century ago. The folks in the rickyard are especially glad we've never changed. Game Postponed

Wet grounds postponed until the end of the season yesterday's San Francisco Winter Semi-Professional Baseball League encounter between the Litchfields of Marin and Flying Goose Sporting Goods of San Francisco.

A. J. Foyt Wins Thriller In Phoenix

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Veteran A. J. Foyt of Houston, Tex., won a red-hot duel with 1965 United States Auto Club champion Mario Andretti yesterday to capture the 16th annual Bobby Ball Memorial 200 mile auto race.

Andretti led most of the race after winning the pole position with a world record qualifying performance for a one mile closed track. A cracked axle on the 193rd lap forced him to settle for second.

Andretti, of Nazareth, Pa., qualified at 121.41 miles per hour on the Phoenix International Raceway mile oval.

The yellow flag was out several times for spinouts, cutting Foyt's winning speed to 99.998 miles per hour. Foyt collected $6,030 for his fifth championship event victory of 1965 and he clinched second place behind Andretti in 1965 USAC standings.

Foyt, Andretti and fourth place Joe Leonard of San Jose, Calif., drove rear-engine Fords. Bobby Unser of Albuquerque, N.M., finished third in a rear-engine Offenhauser and Don Branson of Champaign, Ill., as fifth in an Offenhauser roadster.

Andretti collected $3,618 for his second place finish. Unser won $1,929.60, Leonard $1,509.50 and Branson $1,206.60.

Foyt stayed on Andretti's heels the first half of the race, grabbed the lead on the 99th lap, and lost it back to Andretti on the 108th.

Roger Ward was running a strong third when a broken fuel line forced him from the race on the 173rd lap.

There were no serious accidents and no injuries in the race, witnessed by 16,248.

I've Got A Secret, Says Al Besselink

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Veteran Al Besselink, who won the Caracas Open Golf Tournament, is so impressed with what he calls a putting secret he says he will be the man to beat in 1966.

"The way I played this tournament, I'm not afraid of Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus or any of the others," Besselink said after closing out with a final round 66 yesterday for 275.

Besselink, who declined to say what his secret is, finished just one stroke up on Art Wall, who came from well back with a seven-under-par 63 for 276.

Besselink, 41, from Grossinger, N.Y., had rounds of 73-68-68-66 in scoring his third triumph in as many tries in this tournament. The victory was worth $2,500.

Canada's Wilf Homenuik, who led through the second and third rounds, finished with a 71 for 279 and a share of third with Jack Rule and Spain's Angel Miguel.

Defense, Rescues Raiders, 28-20

OAKLAND (AP) — Oakland's Raiders thank their defensive platoon for keeping them alive in the American Football League's western division race.

The score stood 14-14 after three quarters of play against the Broncos at Denver on Sunday. In the final period the Oakland offense controlled the ball on exactly a dozen plays.

Yet the Raiders won 28-20 because in that fourth stanza linebacker Gus Otto intercepted a John McCormick pass and ran it back 68 yards to score, and defensive halfback Dave Grayson picked off another and carried it 47 yards to score.

Even one of the first two Oakland touchdowns was set up by the defense. Warren Powers grabbed a McCormick pass and carried it to the Denver six. After a penalty, Tom Flores passed three yards to Art Powell for the score.

The victory gives Oakland a 6-4-1 record. First place San Diego at 6-2-2 has a Thanksgiving Day date against Eastern leader Buffalo.

The Raiders don't play again until they meet the Broncos again, this time at Oakland, on Dec. 5.

At Denver, the Raider offense clicked in the first half and scored on a 77-yard touchdown march in the second period, the score coming on a 34 - yard Flores to Clem Daniels play. The Powell touchdown boosted the count to 14-0.

But the Broncos came back and knotted the count on a two-yard smash by Wendell Hayes and an 11-yard pass from McCormick to Lionel Taylor. The final Denver score came in the fourth period on an eight-yard pass to Taylor from Jacky Lee.

Fortunately for Oakland, McCormick had a bad day. He completed only 13 of 36 passes and had four of them intercepted. The Raiders connected on 20 of 46 passes for 272 yards and overall outgained the last place Broncos 381 to 251.

ception by Boyd, and Jimmy Orr's dramatic re-entry.

The Packers continued to suffer from offensive sluggishness, but their defense destroyed the Vikings in a last-period uprising. A 47-yard touchdown pass in the opening seconds of the final quarter, Bart Starr to Boyd Dowler, gave Green Bay a 17-14 edge.

Then Ray Nitschke's recovery of Bill Brown's fumble set up a Packer touchdown, Doug Hart scored another on a 20-yard run with another Brown fumble, Herb Adderley intercepted a Minnesota pass, and Lionel Aldridge fell on a Viking fumble that led to the game's final TD.

Dallas twice threatened to tie the Browns in the closing minutes but was thwarted both times by interceptions of Don Meredith passes. The first was by Vince Costello in the end zone, when Meredith threw on first down at the Cleveland one. Ross Fichtner made the decisive steal with about a minute to go.

BROWN SCORES

Jim Brown bulled over for one Cleveland touchdown and gained 99 yards on the day. LeRoy Kelly scored for the winners on a 67-yard punt return, and Frank Ryan tossed a five-yard TD pass to Gary Collins.

Lynch set up the first Giant touchdown against St. Louis with a pass interception on Buddy Humphrey, subbing for the injured Charley Johnson, and scored the clincher on a 60-yard run with a fumble recovery. Earl Morrall passed for three New York touchdowns.

Sayers' raced 20 yards for his 12th touchdown of the season on the Bears' fifth play of the second half at Detroit. Chicago's defense then made the 17-10 score stand up by allowing the Lions to penetrate Bear territory only once in the last two periods.

Warriors Vs. Hawks Tonight

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The San Francisco Warriors would probably be happy if Southern hospitality somehow includes a victory tonight over the St. Louis Hawks in a game at Memphis.

The Warriors have lost their past three National Basketball Assn. games, dropping the last one 133-117 to the Los Angeles Lakers Saturday night at Las Vegas, Nev.

The Hawks Saturday beat the Detroit Pistons 110-101 at St. Louis. The Hawks had a wider margin when they defeated the Warriors 138 - 133 at St.Louis Nov. 13, the last time the teams met.

San Francisco led the Lakers at Las Vegas 56-50 at the half, climbing to a 15-point lead soon after the buzzer sounded. Then Jerry West and Elgin Baylor went to work for Los Angeles.

Darrall Imhoff put the Lakers ahead 93-92 and San Francisco never regained the lead. West led with 34 points and Guy Rodgers topped San Francisco scoring with 23.

Jeers To Cheers—Brodie Rallies 49ers To Victory

Ironically, Miller and Munson were teammates and fraternity brothers during their collegiate days at Utah State. Miller said, "It's my business to get to the passer. I'm never trying to hurt anybody; we make our living being well. It was all confused."

Joe Carollo, one of the Ram linemen protecting the passer, said Miller had been knocked down, then got up and cut down Munson.

Matt Hazeltine, 49er linebacker, said, "It looked like Munson was stepping up into the pocket to throw when Clark got to him. It looked legal."

Roman Gabriel took over and, although he ran three yards for one touchdown and threw 40 to Jack Snow for another, he connected on only seven of 24 passes.

Brodie, meanwhile, hit 23 of 37 for 214 yards.

Coach Jack Christiansen of the 49ers said, "We looked real bad in the first half. I'm glad I didn't listen to the crowd and take John Brodie out when they booed.

"John threw a few bad balls today but he threw a few exceptional ones, too."

Brodie completed 23 out of 37 passes, including two for touchdowns.

Christiansen said, "That was a beautiful throw to Ken Willard for one touchdown and another beauty to Dave Parks for the tying touchdown."

Christiansen praised Brodie for his smart use of the clock near the end of the game.

The referee started to call time out with 30 seconds left and the ball on the Ram 15. Brodie objected he had not asked for time out and the clock kept moving until nine seconds were left.

He then called time out and Davis kicked the winning field goal. Time ran out with the ensuing 49er kickoff.

Brodie said, "Too many games have been won and lost in this league on the last play. I didn't want that to happen here.

"The LA defense is tops. They are tough.

"Davis was kicking well all day. We figured if we got to the 25 we had it."

Davis enjoyed a fine afternoon. Before booting the winning field goal, he had hit from 50 and 39 yards and the three conversions.

The Rams' early scores came on a 17-yard field goal by Bruce Gossett and a 10-yard Munson pass to Tommy McDonald. Gossett later contributed a 31-yard field goal to the Ram production.

much brighter this time," commented Romeo when asked if he noted any difference beteen Patterson now and 28 months ago.

It was that far back when Patterson was knocked out in the first round for the second straight time by Sonny Liston. Most everyone felt that Patterson was washed up for keeps then.

But the determined ex-champion returned to his rustic training camp retreat, rallied to win five straight bouts, and once again wound up with a chance at the title.

That in itself was a monumental upset. His record is 43-4 including 32 knockouts. He has been stopped three times — once by Johansson and twice by Liston.

Everyone knows about Clay's record of 21 straight, 17 of them by knockouts, since turning pro after his 1960 triumphs in the Olympic Games. The Greatest doesn't let anyone forget.

Clay on the title when Liston quit on his stool after the sixth round of their first fight in 1964 and retained it by blitzing Liston in the first round of their controversial return at Lewiston, Maine, last May 25.

Whether it turns out to be a quickie or not, the fighters will cash in handsomely. The promoters predict a $750,000 purse for Clay and a $375,000 pot for Patterson, who already has grossed more than $7 million in his 12-year pro career.

FLOYD PATTERSON
His last chance

Al Bolan, running the promotion here for Inter-Continental Promotions, Inc., said Convention Center will have a capacity crowd of 8,200 and gross about $350,000. Clay gets 40 per cent and Patterson 20 per cent of all radio, television and movie rights.

Scoring will be done by the referee, to be announced at fight time, and to judges, the five-point must system will be used. The winner of a round will get five points, the loser four or less. For an even round each will get five points.

Two Old-Timers With AFL Houston Oilers

HOUSTON (UPI) — The Houston Oilers of the American Football League have two of football's oldsters on their squad. They are quarterback George Blanda and lineman Bud McFadin. Both are 37 and they are the two oldest players in the AFL.

Easy Triumph

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mildred (Babe Didrikson) Zaharias won the 1954 U.S. Women's Open golf championship by 12 strokes. This is a USGA record for the largest winning margin in a stroke play tournament.

Terrell Guaranteed Fight With Winner

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Both heavyweight champion Cassius Clay and challenger Floyd Patterson have signed $50,000 bond agreements that the winner of their title fight tonight will meet Ernie Terrell within six months, the president of the World Boxing Assn. said yesterday.

Jim Deskin, president of the WBA and executive secretary of the Nevada Athletic Commission, said, however, that Terrell has not posted such a bond yet, although he had been requested to do so.

Terrell, of Chicago, is the WBA's heavyweight champion, but the Clay-Patterson fight still is billed as for the world title here. Deskin said that both Clay and Patterson have stated there is not a return bout contract or agreement.

The WBA head also said that there is a stipulation in the bond agreement that says that both Patterson and Clay, as well as the WBA must be satisfied that any manager, trainer or any person or firm or corporation having any property interest in Terrell must be free of any underworld contacts.

The California Athletic Commission released a statement the other day urging all boxing organizations to refrain from undesirable influences.

Terrell says he is his own manager.

Downturning Market Is Led By Coppers

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed sharply lower with coppers leading the downturn. Kennecott was off half a dozen points late in the day and other stocks in the group also were off sharply.

Selling spread to steels, autos, chemicals, color television makers, other electronics, office equipments and other groups.

A published report that orders from the auto industry for steel were lagging was cited as another discouraging factor.

Volume for the day was estimated at 6.4 million shares compared with 6.8 million Friday.

Copper stocks took sharp losses in the wake of the rollback of the price increase for copper. Kennecott, the biggest producer, dropped half a dozen points. Anaconda and Phelps Dodge lost about 2 each and International Nickel 1.

Selling spread to the recently-popular color television issues, other electronics, aerospace stocks and office equipments.

Off a point or so were IBM, Control Data, United Aircraft, Boeing, Montgomery Ward, Chrysler, Du Pont, Union Carbide and Pennsylvania Rail-Road.

Fairchild Hiller, fractionally higher, was pacing the list on volume.

United Gas was up nearly 3 on news of a tender off at $41 a share for its stock by Pennzoil, which dropped about 2.

National Biscuit was unchanged and Coca Cola down a point following news they had dropped their merger talks.

Down about 2 were Diners' Club, Emery Air Freight and Bristol Myers.

Losses of a point or so were shown by Magma Copper, Inspiration Copper and G. D. Searle.

Prices worked generally lower in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate and U.S. Treasury bonds were mostly unchanged in light trading.

To generate steam electricity, the TVA has bought $180-million worth of coal.

Corte Madera Merchants Elect Stucky As President

Howard Stucky, manager of the Montgomery Ward and Co. store in Corte Madera, was elected president of the Corte Madera Center Merchants Council during the annual membership meeting Saturday.

Other officers elected were: Robert Rivers, manager of Toy World, vice president; B. A. Sill, manager of Crocker-Citizens National Bank, treasurer, and Hollie L. Smith, insurance agent, secretary-manager.

Elected to the board of directors were: Anthony Munoz, manager of the J. C. Penney Co. store; Max Daost, co-owner of Harmony Music Center; Caspar Borst, manager of Smith's Men's Store; Louis Malvino, co-owner of Louis George Clothiers, and Lewis Ripperger, manager of F. W. Woolworth Co. store.

The merchants council also agreed to resume regular monthly luncheon meetings on the first Tuesday of each month and to allow the Corte Madera Lions Club to use the shopping center for its Christmas tree sales program.

Lot Demands To Increase

SAN FRANCISCO—The demand for prime marina lots will continue to be strong in California during the next 10 years, says marina authority Frederick J. Pausch of Wilsey, Ham and Blair.

Pausch, speaking to Northern California chapter of the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers Thursday went on to say that by 1975 California will have more than 500,000 registered boat owners, compared to 100,000 in 1955.

The demand for places to keep these boats will encourage more commercial developments. This water oriented population, with more leisure time on their hands, he said, will become residential marina lot buyers.

Prices of marina lots will continue to spiral, he said, and cited instances where 25 foot frontage lots now cost upwards of $3,000 a front foot in established areas and upwards of $30,000 for plain lots in new developments. Buyers, he observed usually are professional and semi-professional men in the 30-50 age bracket.

Contract Awarded For Recorders

REDWOOD CITY—The American Broadcasting Co. has awarded a contract for more than $900,000 to Ampex Corp. for 10 high band color videotape recorders, it was announced today by Arthur H. Hausman, Ampex group vice president.

The VR-2000 videotape recorders will be used for studio work and in mobile vans in New York City and Hollywood. The current order will bring the number of VR-2000s used by ABC to 17, three of which are now in use in New York and four in Hollywood.

Economist Sees No End To Growth

SAN FRANCISCO—The nation's economy is strong and probably will grow even stronger during the coming year, but the threat of inflation is increasingly serious.

That was the comment by Leslie C. Peacock, vice president, and economist of Crocker-Citizens National Bank, who spoke Thursday evening at a meeting of the San Francisco chapter of the Financial Executives Institute.

Dr. Peacock noted that economic activity throughout the country has been expanding for nearly five years and that widespread indications point to a continuation of that expansion.

Consumers, businesses and manufacturers, and governmental units are expected to increase their spending during the coming months and thus intensify the demand for goods and services, he said.

"If there is a basis for concern—or at the very least for questioning—it lies not so much in uncertainty over the direction in which the economy is headed, but rather in uncertainty over the manner in which national economic policy may respond to the shifting nature of our economic problems," Dr. Peacock said.

He was strongly skeptical of the ability of the federal government to deal with rising inflationary pressures by relying on the administration's wage-price guidelines.

Hardware Store Pulls Switch; Starts Competing With Groceries

It's not unusual these days to find food and drug emporiums entering into some phase of the hardware business—but to run across a hardware store veering in the opposite direction is something entirely different.

Paradise Hardware, opened over two years ago by Edward and Irene Henly in the Paradise Shopping Center, Corte Madera, has pulled just such a switch.

Recent expansion of the store into double its former size has caused the Henlys to open what you might call a bath boutique—with linens, rugs, shower curtains and other accessories—along with gold fixtures.

A gourmet section, generally devoted to cookware, doesn't stop there but goes on to stocks of spices, condiments and other such items. And the gift department, with its housewares, candles and copperware, has borrowed a drug store sundry—greeting cards.

The Henlys believe it is the only hardware store in California that's carpeted (part way, that is).

Grand opening next Friday, Saturday and Sunday features gifts and prizes.

NEW ASSIGNMENTS at Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. have transferred Gordon J. Schmidt of Novato from his post of employment manager for the East Bay to employment manager for San Francisco. He succeeds Dan E. McCarthy of Kentfield who has been made a plant staff supervisor.

Schmidt began his telephone career in 1959 as a directory salesman. He has been East Bay employment manager, headquartered in Oakland, about a year. McCarthy joined PT&T in 1936 in the commercial department. Except for one assignment in New York several years ago, he has worked in Bay Area offices and was San Francisco employment manager about a year.

E. S. MERRIMAN AND SONS, Bay Area mortgage banking firm with a branch office in San Rafael, is now mortgage loan correspondent for Connecticut General Life Insurance Co. of Hartford, which ranks eighth among companies in North America with its 16 million dollars of life insurance in force. The company will seek investment opportunities in major commercial properties — office buildings, warehouse and distribution facilities, retail stores and institutional properties. David Grinsfelder is manager for Merriman in San Rafael.

Croke

GEORGE CROKE of Fairfax, representative with the York Securities Corp. office in San Rafael, has been named chairman of the Marin General Hospital Community Council, which he helped organize.

FOUR MARIN MEN attended the recent Point of Purchase Advertising Institute show in Chicago: William Cadell of Belvedere and Richard Kiechle of Mill Valley, representing Thomas A. Schutz Co., and Eugene Chase of Tiburon and Edward C. Roualdes of San Rafael, representing Pacific Lithographic Co.

SPEAKING of advertising, ad agency copywriters in Marin are being urged to enter this year's San Francisco Copywriter's Club annual competition. Work done between Nov. 1, 1964 through Oct. 31, 1965 may be entered in the categories of television, radio, consumer magazines, newspapers, business publications and multi-media complete campaigns. Deadline for entries is Dec. 14. Contact John Mercer of Richard N. Meltzer Advertising, Inc., San Francisco, for more information.

MARVIN C. ENGLISH of Petaluma has been appointed a district agent in the San Rafael district agency of Prudential Insurance Co.

All Major Bowl Berths Filled; MSU Vs. Bruins

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It isn't often that a winner, a big winner, is in the position of resorting to the old, old lament of the losers, "wait 'til next year."

Michigan State qualifies.

The Spartans, the No. 1 team in the country, winner of 10 straight and secure in a Rose Bowl berth, now have only to wait until next year to find out if they win the national collegiate football championship.

They took a giant step toward that title — to be determined in an Associated Press poll after the Jan. 1 bowl games — with a rousing 12-3 victory over rugged Notre Dame Saturday, completing a perfect season.

Their Rose Bowl opponent — almost certain to be UCLA — was scheduled to be announced today. UCLA, the No. 7 team in the country, upset sixth-ranked Southern Cal 20-16 Saturday for a 7-1-1 mark that may have clinched the spot.

Washington State, another contender, had its hopes dashed 27-9 by Washington. The selection committee was to meet today. If it selects UCLA, that will make the major bowl line-up look like this:

ROSE BOWL — Michigan State, 10-0, vs. UCLA, 7-1-1.

COTTON BOWL — Arkansas, 10-0, vs. Louisiana State, 7-3.

SUGAR BOWL — Missouri, 7-2-1, vs. Florida, 6-3.

ORANGE BOWL — Nebraska, 9-0, vs. Alabama, 7-1-1.

GATOR BOWL — Georgia Tech, 6-2-1, vs. Texas Tech, 8-2.

Arkansas, the second-ranked team in the country, wrapped up its second straight perfect season and Cotton Bowl berth with a 42-14 romp over Texas Tech, ranked No. 9. Jon Brittenum directed Arkansas scoring drives of 68, 72, 53, 73 and 69 yards that knocked Tech out of a possible Cotton Bowl spot. They settled for the Gator Bowl berth opposite Georgia Tech.

The victory was Arkansas' 22nd straight, longest in the nation. The second longest, 17, was halted at Princeton, N.J., when Dartmouth closed out a 9-0 season and won the Ivy League title by beating Princeton 28-24.

Louisiana State accepted a Cotton Bowl bid after a 62-0 rout of Tulane, while Florida backed into the Sugar Bowl, accepting a previously offered invitation after losing to Miami, Fla. 16-13. They will oppose Missouri, No. 8, which closed out with a 44-20 victory over Kansas.

Alabama, the No. 5 team in the nation, had a day off and took the opportunity to accept a bid to the Orange Bowl.

All the other major spots had been filled previously.

IRISH STOPPED

Michigan State's magnificent defense dominated in the clash with Notre Dame, Saturday's top game. Notre Dame's impressive corps of running backs were limited to a minus 12 yards rushing.

It as the third time this season the front line defense of Harold Lucas, Bubba Smith, Don Bierowicz, Buddy Owens and Bob Viney had limited the opposition to negative rushing yards.

In some of the other traditional games, Harvard blanked Yale 13-0, Purdue edged Indians 26-21, Illinois beat Northestern 20-6, Ohio Stated Edged Michigan 9-7, Minnesota crushed Wisconsin 42-7, Duke took North Carolina 34-7, Pittsburgh nipped Penn State 30-27 and South Carolina edged Clemson 17-16.

SATURDAY'S HEROES

Saturday's College Football Stars
By The Associated Press

Bobby Burnett, Arkansas — scored three touchdowns, set up one with 83-yard run and gained 133 yards rushing in 42-24 comeback victory over Texas Tech.

Gary Beban, UCLA — Fired 52-yard touchdown pass with 2:39 remaining to give Bruins 20-16 victory over Southern California.

Clinton Jones, Michigan State — Ran for 117 yards and one touchdown in 12-3 triumph over Notre Dame.

Johnny Rowland, Missouri — Ran for three touchdowns, set up another with 35-yard punt return, came up with interception and fumble recovery in 44-20 victory over Kansas.

Kenny Lucas, Pittsburgh — Completed 18 of 24 passes for 228 yards and one touchdown in 30-27 upset of Penn State.

Bob Davis, Virginia — Passed for four touchdowns and scored a fifth as Cavaliers tripped Maryland 33-27.

Floyd Little, Syracuse — Scored on 62-yard punt runback and 45-yard screen pass, gained 286 yards over-all in 21-13 victory over Boston College.

Kent Nix, TCU — Passed for four first-half touchdowns and ran for another in 42-14 rout of Rice.

Frank Rogers, Colorado — Caught 57-yard scoring pass and kicked two long field goals in 19-6 victory over Air Force.

Bob Hall, Brown — Hit on 10 of 18 passes for 105 yaards, ran for 60 yards and three touchdowns as Bruins whipped Columbia 51-7.

Jim Grabowski, Illinois — Bulled for 187 yards, breaking two more Big Ten rushing records, in 20-6 victory over Northwestern.

Mickey Beard, Dartmouth — Set up the first three touchdowns with his passing and tossed a 79-yarder for the fourth score as Indians snapped Princeton's 17-game winning streak and won Ivy League title with 28-14 victory.

CAL LOSES THE BIG GAME—AGAIN

Stanford Sets Goal: '66 Title

STANFORD (AP) — Football 1965 goes into history for both California and Stanford, the latter the winner of the Big Game for the fifth straight year but both winding up better than in recent seasons.

The Indians defeated the Bears 9-7 on Terry DeSylvia's 23 - yard field goal and Ray Handley's 12 - yard touchdown run to give Stanford a 6-3-1 record, the best since 1955.

Although pleased with the victory, Coach John Ralston said, "We've got a lot of work ahead of us. Our goal is to win the conference championship. When we come to the conference games next year, they're the ones we've got to win."

All three Stanford losses were to Pacific Athletic Conference foes — Southern California, Washington and UCLA.

Returning for Stanford will be such players as quarterback Dave Lewis, fullbacks John Read and Jack Root and end Bob Conrad.

California finished with a 5-5 won-lost record and Coach Ray Willsey commented, "I'm as disappointed to lose to Stanford as any other alumnus, but on the whole season, I feel we're closing the gap."

Next season the Bears have returnees including quarterback Dan Berry, halfbacks Lloyd Reist and Ted Parks and fullback Frank Lynch.

Both clubs lose their top rushers of 1965 — Ray Handley of Stanford and Tom Relles of California.

Handley gained 91 yards net as the Big Game's leading rusher while Relles had 81 on the ground and caught two passes for 32 more. Linebacker Bob Rath, also a Stanford senior, was named the outstanding lineman in the game by newsmen.

Neither team could score in the first half although Stanford reached the California one before Handley fumbled a pitch-out and the Bears took over.

The Indians also reached the one in the third period. On third down, Read lost a yard and then Stanford was penalized five for taking too much time. So Terry DeSylvia came on to boot a 23-yard field goal.

Opening the fourth quarter, the Bears went on the march travelling 62 yards with Relles booming the final four for the touchdown. Dan Sinclair booted the conversion.

Stanford's sputtering offense finally began to purr.Phil Humphreys returned the kickoff from the 10 to the 30 and in 11 plays the Indians had the winning touchdown.

UCLA WRITES COAST CINDERELLA STORY

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Pacific Athletic Conference fathers will have no trouble today selecting the Bruins of UCLA for the Rose Bowl where they'll battle a return engagement against the only club that beat them this year.

UCLA's sophomore quarterback Gary Beban and the Washington Huskies made things easy for the ballot casters.

The Bruin star threw two touchdown passes in the final four minutes to beat Southern California 20-16 while Washington handed WSU its first PAC defeat by a convincing 27-9 count.

So UCLA completes its conference schedule 4-0, USC stands 4-1 and WSU 2-1. PAC rules require the formality of a vote to officially name UCLA to face Michigan State in the bowl at Pasadena on Jan. 1.

Back on Sept. 18 in East Lansing, UCLA and Michigan State inaugurated their 1965 campaigns with the Spartans winning 13-3 to start an undefeated season. And not since then have the Bruins lost although they did battle to a 14-14 tie with Sugar Bowl-bound Missouri.

In Saturday's other two PAC traditionals, Stanford edged California 9-7 and Oregon State beat Oregon 19-14. Independent San Jose State saw its five-game winning string snipped by Fresno State 24-18.

Two games remain on the docket before Rose Bowl time. Wyoming's Cowboys play Southern California on Nov. 27 and UCLA winds up its regular season on Dec. 4 at Tennessee.

The Bruins had been outplayed by the Trojans of USC through most of their traditional clash before Beban struck with scoring passes of 34 and 52 yards to bring off the victory. The first went to Dick Witcher and a two-point conversion cut the USC lead to 16-14.

Then came the obvious — an onside kickoff by UCLA. Dallas Grider fell on it to give the Bruins possession again. Beban was thrown for a loss but then found Kurt Altenberg with the clinching pass.

Washington's Tod Hullin meanwhile was passing for two touchdowns to keep Washington State out of the Cinderella picture. Nobody had figured either UCLA or Washington State in the title picture at the start of the campaign.

Hullin's touchdown throws came on plays covering 27 yards with Omar Parker the receiver and 54 to Dave Williams.

Oregon State's defense set up three touchdowns in the triumph over Oregon. Thurman Bell ran back an intercepted pass to score and also picked off a pass that thwarted the Oregon comeback drive in the final minutes.

Seals Snap Slump, Jolt League Leading Bucks

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Seals are getting ready for more visitors from the Northwest this week to try to match their conquest of the Western Hockey League leaders.

The Seals toppled the league-leading Portland Buckaroos, 7-3 Saturday night. San Francisco had lost three straight games before meeting Portland, scoring only one goal against Seattle, Vancouver and Pittsburgh.

The Seals moved fast against Portland, jumping to a 4-1 lead in the first period. New Seals coach Charley Burns scored one goal and Gerry Brisson scored two.

Wayne Connelly also scored for San Francisco and Cliff Schmautz made the Buckaroos' goal.

Connelly scored again in the third period. Al Nicholson and Tom Thurlby also hit the net for San Francisco.

Bill Saunders hit Portland's two final goals.

Cranston Is Due Praise For Contribution Stand

State Controller Alan Cranston is to be commended for his public announcement that he will not accept campaign contributions from state inheritance tax appraisers, who are appointed by the controller.

The system of political patronage, whereby the state controller can reward faithful party workers by naming them to the lucrative inheritance tax posts, was in effect long before Cranston ever thought of seeking the office.

This patronage system has always provided the controller in office with a built-in source of campaign support. The 151 inheritance tax appraisers, who owe their lucrative jobs to the controller, would be natural backers of the controller in any election.

Controller Cranston could have sat back and taken full advantage of this as a source of campaign funds.

This self-imposed ban against cash contributions by his inheritance tax appraisers does not stop the appraisers from helping him in other ways during political campaigns. Inheritance tax appraisers, like any other citizens, would have the right to support and work for any candidate running for political office.

This, however, does not detract from the fact that Cranston's ban on cash contributions by his appointees constitutes a potential sacrifice on his part.

Cranston gives this reason for the ban against receiving contributions from his appraisers:

"I am convinced that the present system is essentially the most efficient and economical possible for the state, for the courts and for heirs. I am determined that the system should not be susceptible to unfair attacks because of excessive discussion about campaign contributions."

We have often contended that the system itself is conducive to an abuse of power. Through no fault of Controller Cranston's, the law allows the controller to hand-pick his inheritance tax appraisers. We still believe the system should be replaced by some other system that does not involve political patronage.

On this point, we disagree with the controller. But short of a complete change in the system, we must agree that Controller Cranston is making an effort to eliminate some of the doubts that have been cast about the relationship between the controller and the appraisers.

Last summer Cranston suggested several reforms of his own including: (1) giving local probate courts the final say on inheritance tax appointments, nominated by the controller, and (2) establishing some minimum qualifications for the appraisers.

And now comes his ban on contributions by appraisers.

You've got to hand it to Cranston for trying to clean up a system that can be used and abused to full political advantage.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

LEAD MORE THAN A HALF-LIFE

In his book, "The Decline of Pleasure," Walter Kerr referred to the enervating restlessness and boredom of those who live only for themselves.

Mr. Kerr wrote: "If I were required to put into a single sentence my own explanation of the state of our hearts, heads and nerves, I would do it this way: We are vaguely wretched because we are leading half-lives, half-heartedly and with only one-half of our minds actively engaged in making contact with the universe about us."

God Himself made us to love others. If we fail to do so, we gradually destroy ourselves. Our better nature corrodes through non-use. We stunt our own mental, emotional and spiritual growth. We are the victims of our own selfishness.

Instead of allowing yourself to slip into habits of selfishness, make a special effort, with God's help, to throw yourself into the situation of others.

Then you will give sympathy, not look for it—and your zest for living will grow accordingly.

"I came that they may have life, and have it more abundantly." (John 10:10)

Inspire me, O Holy Spirit, with a wide-ranging interest in others.

Patrick A Touch Of New Blood But Chance Of Election Slim

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The forthcoming political campaigns received a touch of new blood when an unknown candidate, William P. Patrick, head of a cosmetics manufacturing concern in San Rafael, announced he would seek the Republican nomination for the governorship.

The fate of unknown candidates in California for high office always has resulted in somewhat ignominious defeat for the aspirants, and there is no reason to suspect the results will be anything else for the Marin county businessman who has, so he says, a million and a half dollars to pour into his campaign.

RELATIVELY speaking, it is simple for anyone with money, or the prospect of money, to declare himself a candidate for governor.

Practically speaking, however, the odds are a million to one that the unknown and politically untried candidate will get enough votes to make counting worthwhile.

IT IS ALSO relatively easy for a candidate with money to hire a "build-up" organization and through such an organization's ingenuity, get to be better known among the voters of the state, which Patrick apparently has done. But it is far more difficult to convince these voters that they should mark X on the ballot when election time rolls around.

BE THAT as it may, Patrick's declaration may spark some new interest in the elections.

Patrick says it is because he is a concerned citizen who does not feel represented by announced candidates that he decided to run for office. Further, he states:

"I believe that political integrity and a consequent rational approach toward issues is more important than contrived political controversy and name calling directed toward voting blocs and groups.

"I think it is sheer fraud when government executives and legislators spend more time appealing to prejudices and seeking political credits than in seeking a rational solution to pressing problems.

"I DON'T WANT to be, and I don't want any concerned citizen to be, an IBM card in a party file or a faceless member of a label, libel, slogan society only sought and listened to by the politicians when we fit into a voting pigeonhole. It is because I need to be an individual and not a bloc ready for manipulation that I have decided to run."

More Queries Raised About Marincello

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Mr. John Peter Erickson's article on "Who Needs Marincello?" which appeared in the Independent - Journal of Nov. 13, was very interesting. This article also suggests some serious thinking. I also would like to know these things:

1. Who needs Marincello other than the Frouge Corp.?

2. Who's going to pay for:

a. The new school properties and buildings?

b. A new dam for additional water supplies?

c. Miles of water lines and pumps?

d. Sewage disposal plants and pipe lines?

e. Fire protection facilities?

f. A new bridge across the Gate to handle more traffic?

I would like to hear someone explain how the present inhabitants of Marin County are going to escape all these expenses.

Creek's Concrete Fate Not Desired

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In Re. Corte Madera Creek Flood Control:

Your edition of Nov. 10 presented a statement by Mrs. Kaenel which this writer wholeheartedly endorses.

From memory as a student at Marin College, it is pleasant to conjure the vision of a lovely stream coursing the campus in those years B.C.—Before Concrete.

Behind my back was another picture as the same purling brook was constricted to pass ignominiously through a most unimaginative culvert beneath Kentfield Avenue, thence flowing eastward beside the marshlands extending from one-time Ross Landing. For what was it questing? Only a bed it could call its own, and a rendezvous at last with other streams in the Bay.

Is there not indeed a high point of the absurd in this baying for flood control within a county with no stream that even remotely approaches the proportions of a river, a county bidding to soon bury all its pleasant little brooks inside cyclone fences and below several feet of concrete?

Somewhere there must be a vast project that would require all the talents of the U.S. Corps of Engineers, and when I suggest somewhere, I do mean far away from Marin County.

Blackout, Nuclear Issue Anniversary

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Tuesday (Nov. 9) will almanac as the day of the big Back East blackout. This is classic irony; commemorating the first anniversary of PG&E's forced abandonment of the Point Reyes nuclear fission plant, which was to help certify such a farce couldn't happen here.

Particularly with smog also topping recent news. Cheap electrically powered trucks delivered bread in San Francisco during the roaring 20s. Forty thousand electric cars cruise England today. These are smog free.

On second thought, maybe this shouldn't be printed. It might start another politically inspired study, the modern American method of doing nothing. At the taxpayer's expense!

Why Government Secrecy Policy?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It appears that there was, indeed, a peace innuendo by the Viet Cong last year, and this information was not permitted to us.

It may be naive in this day and age to feel that our government's policies and actions are predicated on the will of the people, but this is the conceit that is still taught in our classrooms and voiced in every election campaign, so that it is fair to wonder: If the public is not informed, how can it function politically?

We are now beyond the time of alternatives to the commitment of full military force in Viet Nam, and in this time of crisis, it is all the more important for our government officials to trust us with information if our way of life is to be tried in order to again be proved true; a necessary factor for its existence.

Participant Differs On Kentfield Issue

Editor, Independent-Journal:

To clarify a few points, regarding your article of Nov. 9: "Kentfield Board Hears Secretary; No Action."

You quoted Supt. Harmon's reason for not being invited to the closed session with Mrs. Eleanor Ceglarz as, "the board felt it would be best to talk with her without anybody from the administration present." Supt. Harmon deemed it necessary that he give the reason why he was not invited.

To quote another paragraph from your article "According to Harmon, Hennessy was the only parent interested in the matter in the audience last night." Supt. Harmon qualified his answer for not being invited to the closed session with Mrs. Ceglarz. Why, then did he choose to give the reason for me being the only parent in attendance? The reason being that said session was closed and the many interested parents were not in attendance due to this fact, and for no other reason. Statements of this nature do nothing to foster good relationships between the administration and the parents.

You also reported that Supt. Harmon said that Mrs. Eleanor Ceglarz was asked to resign, refused, and was transferred. The actual order of events were—asked to resign—refused—asked for a transfer—was refused — dismissed—dismissal rescinded with qualifications—two days later was informed that she was being transferred to Kent School.

Mrs. Ceglarz was loved and respected by parents and children alike. She was always generous with her time for others no matter how small or large the problem. Rare is the person who is competent, efficient and understanding enough to handle the public and her secretarial work so satisfactorily.

When the parents and children of Wolfe Grade School lose such a person one wonders, "is the administration at fault?"

Labor Is Scared Of Computers; Execs Can Keep Plants Going

By ROSCOE DRUMMOND and SAM ZAGORIA

(Zagoria is a member of the National Labor Relations Board and former assistant to Sen. Clifford Case of New Jersey.)
(Third of a Series)

WASHINGTON — Labor is scared of computerized automation.

This fear must be dealt with constructively if the vast benefits of automation are not to be lost.

Donald Michael, a leading social psychologist, estimates that workers displaced by computer automation "will probably change their skills no less than three times in the course of their active lives." This is an ominous warning.

Joseph Beirne, president of the Communications Workers of America, puts labor's most extreme anxiety in these words: "Automation is the science of making workers unnecessary."

THIS IS AN exaggeration, but it has elements of truth.

And there's this: Automated plants tend to be strikeproof. Example — union employees struck the automated Shell refinery in Deer Park, Tex., for nearly a year. Production was maintained at 80 per cent of normal, with all the union work done by supervisors. Even higher production was possible.

A handful of executives can frequently keep a plant going and this underscores the union premise that, if an effective strike cannot be mounted, an effective bargain cannot be made at the negotiating table.

FOR THE WORKERS in cybernated industry, working conditions change. The possibility of three-shift operations grows; chances for promotion are less since there are fewer supervisory levels to which to aspire. The work itself tends to be more monotonous and less sociable, and tends also to make management less patient with what it deems bad labor practices.

Union jurisdictional disputes sometimes follow the installation of a computer. In the newspaper industry, for example, computers can perform services for the composing room, mail room, accounting department, and advertising department. So which union is to have jurisdiction over the operation?

Union jurisdiction is only one problem. The labor movement as a whole may have to change its objectives. Automation will spur new interest in signing up white collar workers. In the steel industry, one of every four workers is a white collar worker while 30 years ago it was only one in nine.

Throughout the United States there are now more white collar workers than blue ones.

CONTRACTS emphasizing piece-work payments will decline since neither computers nor computer operators need such speed-up incentives. Similarly, wage payments, which used to recognize the number of workers being supervised, will instead tend now to acknowledge the value of the costly automated equipment being supervised.

From management's view the computer makes round-the-clock operations feasible and opens the way to the fullest use of capital investment.

Computers produce standardization since the cost of computers or their rental vary less than fluctuating labor costs. The computer is more adaptable to ups and downs in market demands; it is easier to unplug the computer a day or two than to lay off workers for a day or two.

One of the most telling factors obviously is that employers expect savings of such magnitude as to pay for the automatic equipment in less than five years. Recent tax changes offer added incentives to industry to move toward automation.

MANAGEMENTS have found computers handy in making their own decisions. The ability to deal simultaneously with many variables and to handle enormous amounts of information, more than man can, makes it possible for a computer to explore various courses of action in fractions of minutes.

Shriver Investigating Turmoil In Job Corps

By ROBERT S. ALLEN
and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Anti-poverty director Sargent Shriver is suspending the opening of additional Job Corps camps in urban areas while he tries to get at the bottom of the turmoil and scandals that have rocked eight now in operation.

Pending the outcome of this unannounced investigation, Shriver has ordered a slowdown in recruiting trainees for the existing camps.

THESE BACKSTAGE decisions will halt the launching of two new Job Corps centers scheduled for the end of this month. Announcement of them was to have been made by Thanksgiving.

Two congressional leaders who voted for the anti-poverty program but now are deeply disturbed by the disorders and misdeeds afflicting it triggered Shriver's probe.

This bipartisan demand was made by Sen. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky, ranking Republican on the Public Works Committee, and Rep. John Fogarty, D-R.I., chairman of the appropriations subcommittee in charge of the anti-poverty budget.

In separate letters they warned Shriver that unless he immediately initiates a thorough inquiry and forceful corrective measures, Congress will do so.

UNTIL IMPELLED to act by this blunt prodding, Shriver had minimized the numerous riots, demonstrations, irregularities and other disruptions that have plagued this phase of President's Johnson's $1.5 billion anti-poverty program. But the stern admonitions from Cooper and Fogarty, and mounting bipartisan criticism from other members of Congress caused Shriver to change his mind.

Not only is he going toinvestigate the job camps, but he will participate in that himself by personally visiting all of them. The eight centers are located at:

Camp Atterbury, Edinburg, Ind.; Camp Breckinridge, Morgansfield, Ky.; Camp Custer, Battle Creek, Mich.; Camp Gary, San Marcos, Tex.; Camp Kilmer, Edison, N. J.; Camp Parks, Pleasanton, Calif.; Camp Rodman, New Bedford, Mass.; Camp Tung Point, Astoria, Oregon.

Cooper particularly called for a prompt report on riot-torn Camp Breckinridge, where some of the worst incidents have occurred. Outside police authorities had to be summoned to quell recent outbreaks.

Other members of Congress aroused by job camp upheavals and scandals and demanding forceful corrective measures include Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., and Rep. Richard Roudebush, R-Ind.

HARTKE CALLED for an immediate sweeping investigation of Camp Atterbury, where a number of sex incidents have been reported. Roudebush urged that the Edinburg, Ind., center be closed down. He charged it is costing taxpayers around $22,000 per trainee.

A. J. Foyt Wins Thriller In Phoenix

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Veteran A. J. Foyt of Houston, Tex., won a red-hot duel with 1965 United States Auto Club champion Mario Andretti yesterday to capture the 16th annual Bobby Ball Memorial 200 mile auto race.

Andretti led most of the race after winning the pole position with a world record qualifying performance for a one mile closed track. A cracked axle on the 193rd lap forced him to settle for second.

Andretti, of Nazareth, Pa., qualified at 121.41 miles per hour on the Phoenix International Raceway mile oval.

The yellow flag was out several times for spinouts, cutting Foyt's winning speed to 99.998 miles per hour. Foyt collected $6,030 for his fifth championship event victory of 1965 and he clinched second place behind Andretti in 1965 USAC standings.

Foyt, Andretti and fourth place Joe Leonard of San Jose, Calif., drove rear-engine Fords. Bobby Unser of Albuquerque, N.M., finished third in a rear-engine Offenhauser and Don Branson of Champaign, Ill., as fifth in an Offenhauser roadster.

Andretti collected $3,618 for his second place finish. Unser won $1,929.60, Leonard $1,509.50 and Branson $1,206.60.

Foyt stayed on Andretti's heels the first half of the race, grabbed the lead on the 99th lap, and lost it back to Andretti on the 108th.

Roger Ward was running a strong third when a broken fuel line forced him from the race on the 173rd lap.

There were no serious accidents and no injuries in the race, witnessed by 16,248.

Art Ashe Beaten In Aussie Final

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Arthur Ashe of Australia got by Australian Davis Cupper Fred Stolle in his bid to win his second straight tennis singles championship in this country but then there was John Newcombe.

Ashe, who recently became the first American to win the Queensland title, lost to Newcombe, of Australia, 6-8, 7-2, 7-5, 6-1 yesterday in the final of the New South Wales Championship.

Nancy Richey of Dallas, Tex., also failed in her bid to win the women's singles crown, bowing in the final yesterday to Australia's Margaret Smith 6-2, 6-2.

In another final yesterday, Jim McManus of Berkeley, Calif., and Judy Tegart of Australia defeated Tom Okker of the Netherlands and Gail Sherriff of Australia 6-3, 6-2 for the mixed doubles crown.

I've Got A Secret, Says Al Besselink

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Veteran Al Besselink, who won the Caracas Open Golf Tournament, is so impressed with what he calls a putting secret he says he will be the man to beat in 1966.

"The way I played this tournament, I'm not afraid of Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus or any of the others," Besselink said after closing out with a final round 66 yesterday for 275.

Besselink, who declined to say what his secret is, finished just one stroke up on Art Wall, who came from well back with a seven-under-par 63 for 276.

Besselink, 41, from Grossinger, N.Y., had rounds of 73-68-68-66 in scoring his third triumph in as many tries in this tournament. The victory was worth $2,500.

Canada's Wilf Homenuik, who led through the second and third rounds, finished with a 71 for 279 and a share of third with Jack Rule and Spain's Angel Miguel.

Voices Again At Civic Center Are Jotted Down For Study

It took a long time for the supervisors' chambers at the Civic Center to clear after the decision on Marincello was made.

Even after all the people had gone, ghosts seemed to haunt the place. So I was not too surprised when this voice, a tenor voice, broke out in song.

I tried in vain to locate the covert Caruso, but the room, after careful search, proved to be empty.

All I can show in proof of this unsettling experience are a few snatches of the strange song which I jotted down on the back of my much worn out paper.

IT WENT SOMETHING like this:

IN THE BELLA, bella town Marinthello
Where the density is three-point-five D. U.,
You are Desdemona, I'm Othello,
And our dreams of love will all come true.
There's no Iago.
Oh, ain't that grand?
There's no Iago
In this plan.

IN THE BELA, bella town of Marinfello
Where the heavy mist is really only dew,
I'm gonna be a very healthy fellow,
And so, my dear, of course, are you.
There's no lumbago.
Oh, ain't that grand?
There's no lumbago
In this plan.

IT'S A BAD thing to admit hearing voices but of course, that was not the first time. No sirree!

When you walk by the row of empty supervisors' offices at the Civic Center, you can hear a low murmur from just about every one of them. The offices, however, are empty. This monotone is sometimes loud and clear, sometimes very faint. The words are always the same.

Who's ambitious?
No, not I.
You're thinking of the other guy.

HE'S EYEING higher office and sees big hope,
But he's looking through a telescope.
I wouldn't go to Washington.
I wouldn't go to Washington.
I wouldn't go to Washington,
Unless you made me.
So, persuade me.

SOMETIMES, when the voices are coming in strong, you can hurry by the offices and the words come together like an old English round.

I only tried this once, trotting by with one hand cupped to an ear. One of the secretaries saw me. Well, it was embarrassing. She knows I always stand still when listening at office doors.

I just shrugged and wandered away.

ART BUCHWALD

Princess Margaret, Lord Snowdon Had At Ball At Katzenbach Party

WASHINGTON — When orders went out that Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon wanted to meet only gay, young and amusing people in Washington, the job was turned over to attorney general Nicholas Katzenbach. The reason for this was that the attorney general is one of the few people who has access to the FBI files, and the FBI is the only government organization that has a complete list of all the young, gay, amusing people in the United States.

The guest list for Mr. and Mrs. Katzenbach's late night party was whittled down to 60 people. Everyone excelled in some specialty and was either known for his sparkle, his gaiety or his wit. The women of course were selected for their beauty, charm and table manners, although only omelettes were served.

Before the dance the guests held rehearsals to simulate every sort of situation that might come up.

"Suppose she says to you 'Where are you from?" I asked David Brinkley, one of the invited guests.

"I'll tell her I'm from North Carolina," he replied.

Everyone started chuckling.

"DO YOU THINK she'll get it?" I asked.

"Why not? They say she's a swinging princess."

"What will you say to her?" I asked columnist Russ Baker.

"I'll ask her if she's enjoying her trip to the United States."

"You wouldn't have the nerve," I challenged him.

"Katzenbach said we could say anything we wanted to."

"HAVE YOU THOUGHT of any funnies for the princess?" I asked Jack Valenti of the White House staff.

"I'm going to tell her the president was sorry he couldn't be at the party."

I doubled up with laughter, but then we had to leave for the dance.

As each person arrived they said something clever to Lydia Katzenbach, the hostess, or the attorney general. The best remark I heard was "Where can I put my coat?" Another person topped it though with "Where can I put my wife's coat?" It must have gone that way for an hour while we waited for Princess Margaret to arrive. Nobody was really trying hard, but in a group like this nobody had to. The cleverness and amusement came naturally.

Finally the princess arrived with Lord Snowdon and the party really got going. One person said to her royal highness, "How was Hollywood?" and you could instantly see she was amused. Another person said, "You must be so tired of it all," and the princess said, "Oh no, I'm enjoying it," which showed she could give as good as she could take.

AT 12:05 A.M. it was discovered that there were two people at the party that weren't gay and amusing. How they slipped by the FBI nobody will ever know. But the man kept saying "I want to go home," and his wife kept saying, "You can't until the princess leaves."

When Lord Snowdon heard them he roared with laughter, not realizing of course that they were serious. And so the evening went on without any let up in the clever repartee and fast give and take that has become so much part of young, gay Washington.

Even as the princess left, someone, we'll never know who, said to her, "You must come back and visit us again." The princess' eyes crinkled in a smile and you could tell she really had fun. It isn't every day that a royal personage gets to meet so many interesting people at one time.

Downturning Market Is Led By Coppers

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed sharply lower with coppers leading the downturn. Kennecott was off half a dozen points late in the day and other stocks in the group also were off sharply.

Selling spread to steels, autos, chemicals, color television makers, other electronics, office equipments and other groups.

A published report that orders from the auto industry for steel were lagging was cited as another discouraging factor.

Volume for the day was estimated at 6.4 million shares compared with 6.8 million Friday.

Copper stocks took sharp losses in the wake of the rollback of the price increase for copper. Kennecott, the biggest producer, dropped half a dozen points. Anaconda and Phelps Dodge lost about 2 each and International Nickel 1.

Selling spread to the recently-popular color television issues, other electronics, aerospace stocks and office equipments.

Off a point or so were IBM, Control Data, United Aircraft, Boeing, Montgomery Ward, Chrysler, Du Pont, Union Carbide and Pennsylvania Rail-Road.

Fairchild Hiller, fractionally higher, was pacing the list on volume.

United Gas was up nearly 3 on news of a tender off at $41 a share for its stock by Pennzoil, which dropped about 2.

National Biscuit was unchanged and Coca Cola down a point following news they had dropped their merger talks.

Down about 2 were Diners' Club, Emery Air Freight and Bristol Myers.

Losses of a point or so were shown by Magma Copper, Inspiration Copper and G. D. Searle.

Prices worked generally lower in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate and U.S. Treasury bonds were mostly unchanged in light trading.

To generate steam electricity, the TVA has bought $180-million worth of coal.

Corte Madera Merchants Elect Stucky As President

Howard Stucky, manager of the Montgomery Ward and Co. store in Corte Madera, was elected president of the Corte Madera Center Merchants Council during the annual membership meeting Saturday.

Other officers elected were: Robert Rivers, manager of Toy World, vice president; B. A. Sill, manager of Crocker-Citizens National Bank, treasurer, and Hollie L. Smith, insurance agent, secretary-manager.

Elected to the board of directors were: Anthony Munoz, manager of the J. C. Penney Co. store; Max Daost, co-owner of Harmony Music Center; Caspar Borst, manager of Smith's Men's Store; Louis Malvino, co-owner of Louis George Clothiers, and Lewis Ripperger, manager of F. W. Woolworth Co. store.

The merchants council also agreed to resume regular monthly luncheon meetings on the first Tuesday of each month and to allow the Corte Madera Lions Club to use the shopping center for its Christmas tree sales program.

Lot Demands To Increase

SAN FRANCISCO—The demand for prime marina lots will continue to be strong in California during the next 10 years, says marina authority Frederick J. Pausch of Wilsey, Ham and Blair.

Pausch, speaking to Northern California chapter of the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers Thursday went on to say that by 1975 California will have more than 500,000 registered boat owners, compared to 100,000 in 1955.

The demand for places to keep these boats will encourage more commercial developments. This water oriented population, with more leisure time on their hands, he said, will become residential marina lot buyers.

Prices of marina lots will continue to spiral, he said, and cited instances where 25 foot frontage lots now cost upwards of $3,000 a front foot in established areas and upwards of $30,000 for plain lots in new developments. Buyers, he observed usually are professional and semi-professional men in the 30-50 age bracket.

Contract Awarded For Recorders

REDWOOD CITY—The American Broadcasting Co. has awarded a contract for more than $900,000 to Ampex Corp. for 10 high band color videotape recorders, it was announced today by Arthur H. Hausman, Ampex group vice president.

The VR-2000 videotape recorders will be used for studio work and in mobile vans in New York City and Hollywood. The current order will bring the number of VR-2000s used by ABC to 17, three of which are now in use in New York and four in Hollywood.

Economist Sees No End To Growth

SAN FRANCISCO—The nation's economy is strong and probably will grow even stronger during the coming year, but the threat of inflation is increasingly serious.

That was the comment by Leslie C. Peacock, vice president, and economist of Crocker-Citizens National Bank, who spoke Thursday evening at a meeting of the San Francisco chapter of the Financial Executives Institute.

Dr. Peacock noted that economic activity throughout the country has been expanding for nearly five years and that widespread indications point to a continuation of that expansion.

Consumers, businesses and manufacturers, and governmental units are expected to increase their spending during the coming months and thus intensify the demand for goods and services, he said.

"If there is a basis for concern—or at the very least for questioning—it lies not so much in uncertainty over the direction in which the economy is headed, but rather in uncertainty over the manner in which national economic policy may respond to the shifting nature of our economic problems," Dr. Peacock said.

He was strongly skeptical of the ability of the federal government to deal with rising inflationary pressures by relying on the administration's wage-price guidelines.

Hardware Store Pulls Switch; Starts Competing With Groceries

It's not unusual these days to find food and drug emporiums entering into some phase of the hardware business—but to run across a hardware store veering in the opposite direction is something entirely different.

Paradise Hardware, opened over two years ago by Edward and Irene Henly in the Paradise Shopping Center, Corte Madera, has pulled just such a switch.

Recent expansion of the store into double its former size has caused the Henlys to open what you might call a bath boutique—with linens, rugs, shower curtains and other accessories—along with gold fixtures.

A gourmet section, generally devoted to cookware, doesn't stop there but goes on to stocks of spices, condiments and other such items. And the gift department, with its housewares, candles and copperware, has borrowed a drug store sundry—greeting cards.

The Henlys believe it is the only hardware store in California that's carpeted (part way, that is).

Grand opening next Friday, Saturday and Sunday features gifts and prizes.

NEW ASSIGNMENTS at Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. have transferred Gordon J. Schmidt of Novato from his post of employment manager for the East Bay to employment manager for San Francisco. He succeeds Dan E. McCarthy of Kentfield who has been made a plant staff supervisor.

Schmidt began his telephone career in 1959 as a directory salesman. He has been East Bay employment manager, headquartered in Oakland, about a year. McCarthy joined PT&T in 1936 in the commercial department. Except for one assignment in New York several years ago, he has worked in Bay Area offices and was San Francisco employment manager about a year.

E. S. MERRIMAN AND SONS, Bay Area mortgage banking firm with a branch office in San Rafael, is now mortgage loan correspondent for Connecticut General Life Insurance Co. of Hartford, which ranks eighth among companies in North America with its 16 million dollars of life insurance in force. The company will seek investment opportunities in major commercial properties — office buildings, warehouse and distribution facilities, retail stores and institutional properties. David Grinsfelder is manager for Merriman in San Rafael.

Croke

GEORGE CROKE of Fairfax, representative with the York Securities Corp. office in San Rafael, has been named chairman of the Marin General Hospital Community Council, which he helped organize.

FOUR MARIN MEN attended the recent Point of Purchase Advertising Institute show in Chicago: William Cadell of Belvedere and Richard Kiechle of Mill Valley, representing Thomas A. Schutz Co., and Eugene Chase of Tiburon and Edward C. Roualdes of San Rafael, representing Pacific Lithographic Co.

SPEAKING of advertising, ad agency copywriters in Marin are being urged to enter this year's San Francisco Copywriter's Club annual competition. Work done between Nov. 1, 1964 through Oct. 31, 1965 may be entered in the categories of television, radio, consumer magazines, newspapers, business publications and multi-media complete campaigns. Deadline for entries is Dec. 14. Contact John Mercer of Richard N. Meltzer Advertising, Inc., San Francisco, for more information.

MARVIN C. ENGLISH of Petaluma has been appointed a district agent in the San Rafael district agency of Prudential Insurance Co.

Changes Being Made In Business Listing

Biennial revision has begun on the Marin County Manufacturers Directory, according to the Marin County Development Assn., publishers of the directory.

New companies in the county or those wishing to make changes in their listing may contact the association at 824 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael.

The estimated population of tokyo as of Oct. 1 was 10,861,850, according to an announcement from the city.

Cranston Is Due Praise For Contribution Stand

State Controller Alan Cranston is to be commended for his public announcement that he will not accept campaign contributions from state inheritance tax appraisers, who are appointed by the controller.

The system of political patronage, whereby the state controller can reward faithful party workers by naming them to the lucrative inheritance tax posts, was in effect long before Cranston ever thought of seeking the office.

This patronage system has always provided the controller in office with a built-in source of campaign support. The 151 inheritance tax appraisers, who owe their lucrative jobs to the controller, would be natural backers of the controller in any election.

Controller Cranston could have sat back and taken full advantage of this as a source of campaign funds.

This self-imposed ban against cash contributions by his inheritance tax appraisers does not stop the appraisers from helping him in other ways during political campaigns. Inheritance tax appraisers, like any other citizens, would have the right to support and work for any candidate running for political office.

This, however, does not detract from the fact that Cranston's ban on cash contributions by his appointees constitutes a potential sacrifice on his part.

Cranston gives this reason for the ban against receiving contributions from his appraisers:

"I am convinced that the present system is essentially the most efficient and economical possible for the state, for the courts and for heirs. I am determined that the system should not be susceptible to unfair attacks because of excessive discussion about campaign contributions."

We have often contended that the system itself is conducive to an abuse of power. Through no fault of Controller Cranston's, the law allows the controller to hand-pick his inheritance tax appraisers. We still believe the system should be replaced by some other system that does not involve political patronage.

On this point, we disagree with the controller. But short of a complete change in the system, we must agree that Controller Cranston is making an effort to eliminate some of the doubts that have been cast about the relationship between the controller and the appraisers.

Last summer Cranston suggested several reforms of his own including: (1) giving local probate courts the final say on inheritance tax appointments, nominated by the controller, and (2) establishing some minimum qualifications for the appraisers.

And now comes his ban on contributions by appraisers.

You've got to hand it to Cranston for trying to clean up a system that can be used and abused to full political advantage.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

LEAD MORE THAN A HALF-LIFE

In his book, "The Decline of Pleasure," Walter Kerr referred to the enervating restlessness and boredom of those who live only for themselves.

Mr. Kerr wrote: "If I were required to put into a single sentence my own explanation of the state of our hearts, heads and nerves, I would do it this way: We are vaguely wretched because we are leading half-lives, half-heartedly and with only one-half of our minds actively engaged in making contact with the universe about us."

God Himself made us to love others. If we fail to do so, we gradually destroy ourselves. Our better nature corrodes through non-use. We stunt our own mental, emotional and spiritual growth. We are the victims of our own selfishness.

Instead of allowing yourself to slip into habits of selfishness, make a special effort, with God's help, to throw yourself into the situation of others.

Then you will give sympathy, not look for it—and your zest for living will grow accordingly.

"I came that they may have life, and have it more abundantly." (John 10:10)

Inspire me, O Holy Spirit, with a wide-ranging interest in others.

Patrick A Touch Of New Blood But Chance Of Election Slim

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The forthcoming political campaigns received a touch of new blood when an unknown candidate, William P. Patrick, head of a cosmetics manufacturing concern in San Rafael, announced he would seek the Republican nomination for the governorship.

The fate of unknown candidates in California for high office always has resulted in somewhat ignominious defeat for the aspirants, and there is no reason to suspect the results will be anything else for the Marin county businessman who has, so he says, a million and a half dollars to pour into his campaign.

RELATIVELY speaking, it is simple for anyone with money, or the prospect of money, to declare himself a candidate for governor.

Practically speaking, however, the odds are a million to one that the unknown and politically untried candidate will get enough votes to make counting worthwhile.

IT IS ALSO relatively easy for a candidate with money to hire a "build-up" organization and through such an organization's ingenuity, get to be better known among the voters of the state, which Patrick apparently has done. But it is far more difficult to convince these voters that they should mark X on the ballot when election time rolls around.

BE THAT as it may, Patrick's declaration may spark some new interest in the elections.

Patrick says it is because he is a concerned citizen who does not feel represented by announced candidates that he decided to run for office. Further, he states:

"I believe that political integrity and a consequent rational approach toward issues is more important than contrived political controversy and name calling directed toward voting blocs and groups.

"I think it is sheer fraud when government executives and legislators spend more time appealing to prejudices and seeking political credits than in seeking a rational solution to pressing problems.

"I DON'T WANT to be, and I don't want any concerned citizen to be, an IBM card in a party file or a faceless member of a label, libel, slogan society only sought and listened to by the politicians when we fit into a voting pigeonhole. It is because I need to be an individual and not a bloc ready for manipulation that I have decided to run."

More Queries Raised About Marincello

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Mr. John Peter Erickson's article on "Who Needs Marincello?" which appeared in the Independent - Journal of Nov. 13, was very interesting. This article also suggests some serious thinking. I also would like to know these things:

1. Who needs Marincello other than the Frouge Corp.?
2. Who's going to pay for:
   a. The new school properties and buildings?
   b. A new dam for additional water supplies?
   c. Miles of water lines and pumps?
   d. Sewage disposal plants and pipe lines?
   e. Fire protection facilities?
   f. A new bridge across the Gate to handle more traffic?

I would like to hear someone explain how the present inhabitants of Marin County are going to escape all these expenses.

Creek's Concrete Fate Not Desired

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In Re. Corte Madera Creek Flood Control:

Your edition of Nov. 10 presented a statement by Mrs. Kaenel which this writer wholeheartedly endorses.

From memory as a student at Marin College, it is pleasant to conjure the vision of a lovely stream coursing the campus in those years B.C.—Before Concrete.

Behind my back was another picture as the same purling brook was constricted to pass ignominiously through a most unimaginative culvert beneath Kentfield Avenue, thence flowing eastward beside the marshlands extending from one-time Ross Landing. For what was it questing? Only a bed it could call its own, and a rendezvous at last with other streams in the Bay.

Is there not indeed a high point of the absurd in this baying for flood control within a county with no stream that even remotely approaches the proportions of a river, a county bidding to soon bury all its pleasant little brooks inside cyclone fences and below several feet of concrete?

Somewhere there must be a vast project that would require all the talents of the U.S. Corps of Engineers, and when I suggest somewhere, I do mean far away from Marin County.

Blackout, Nuclear Issue Anniversary

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Tuesday (Nov. 9) will almanac as the day of the big Back East blackout. This is classic irony; commemorating the first anniversary of PG&E's forced abandonment of the Point Reyes nuclear fission plant, which was to help certify such a farce couldn't happen here.

Particularly with smog also topping recent news. Cheap electrically powered trucks delivered bread in San Francisco during the roaring 20s. Forty thousand electric cars cruise England today. These are smog free.

On second thought, maybe this shouldn't be printed. It might start another politically inspired study, the modern American method of doing nothing. At the taxpayer's expense!

Why Government Secrecy Policy?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It appears that there was, indeed, a peace innuendo by the Viet Cong last year, and this information was not permitted to us.

It may be naive in this day and age to feel that our government's policies and actions are predicated on the will of the people, but this is the conceit that is still taught in our classrooms and voiced in every election campaign, so that it is fair to wonder: If the public is not informed, how can it function politically?

We are now beyond the time of alternatives to the commitment of full military force in Viet Nam, and in this time of crisis, it is all the more important for our government officials to trust us with information if our way of life is to be tried in order to again be proved true; a necessary factor for its existence.

Participant Differs On Kentfield Issue

Editor, Independent-Journal:

To clarify a few points, regarding your article of Nov. 9: "Kentfield Board Hears Secretary; No Action."

You quoted Supt. Harmon's reason for not being invited to the closed session with Mrs. Eleanor Ceglarz as, "the board felt it would be best to talk with her without anybody from the administration present." Supt. Harmon deemed it necessary that he give the reason why he was not invited.

To quote another paragraph from your article "According to Harmon, Hennessy was the only parent interested in the matter in the audience last night." Supt. Harmon qualified his answer for not being invited to the closed session with Mrs. Ceglarz. Why, then did he choose to give the reason for me being the only parent in attendance? The reason being that said session was closed and the many interested parents were not in attendance due to this fact, and for no other reason. Statements of this nature do nothing to foster good relationships between the administration and the parents.

You also reported that Supt. Harmon said that Mrs. Eleanor Ceglarz was asked to resign, refused, and was transferred. The actual order of events were—asked to resign—refused—asked for a transfer—was refused — dismissed—dismissal rescinded with qualifications—two days later was informed that she was being transferred to Kent School.

Mrs. Ceglarz was loved and respected by parents and children alike. She was always generous with her time for others no matter how small or large the problem. Rare is the person who is competent, efficient and understanding enough to handle the public and her secretarial work so satisfactorily.

When the parents and children of Wolfe Grade School lose such a person one wonders, "is the administration at fault?"

Labor Is Scared Of Computers; Execs Can Keep Plants Going

By ROSCOE DRUMMOND and SAM ZAGORIA

(Zagoria is a member of the National Labor Relations Board and former assistant to Sen. Clifford Case of New Jersey.)

(Third of a Series)

WASHINGTON — Labor is scared of computerized automation.

This fear must be dealt with constructively if the vast benefits of automation are not to be lost.

Donald Michael, a leading social psychologist, estimates that workers displaced by computer automation "will probably change their skills no less than three times in the course of their active lives." This is an ominous warning.

Joseph Beirne, president of the Communications Workers of America, puts labor's most extreme anxiety in these words: "Automation is the science of making workers unnecessary."

THIS IS AN exaggeration, but it has elements of truth.

And there's this: Automated plants tend to be strikeproof. Example — union employees struck the automated Shell refinery in Deer Park, Tex., for nearly a year. Production was maintained at 80 per cent of normal, with all the union work done by supervisors. Even higher production was possible.

A handful of executives can frequently keep a plant going and this underscores the union premise that, if an effective strike cannot be mounted, an effective bargain cannot be made at the negotiating table.

FOR THE WORKERS in cybernated industry, working conditions change. The possibility of three-shift operations grows; chances for promotion are less since there are fewer supervisory levels to which to aspire. The work itself tends to be more monotonous and less sociable, and tends also to make management less patient with what it deems bad labor practices.

Union jurisdictional disputes sometimes follow the installation of a computer. In the newspaper industry, for example, computers can perform services for the composing room, mail room, accounting department, and advertising department. So which union is to have jurisdiction over the operation?

Union jurisdiction is only one problem. The labor movement as a whole may have to change its objectives. Automation will spur new interest in signing up white collar workers. In the steel industry, one of every four workers is a white collar worker while 30 years ago it was only one in nine.

Throughout the United States there are now more white collar workers than blue ones.

CONTRACTS emphasizing piece-work payments will decline since neither computers nor computer operators need such speed-up incentives. Similarly, wage payments, which used to recognize the number of workers being supervised, will instead tend now to acknowledge the value of the costly automated equipment being supervised.

From management's view the computer makes round-the-clock operations feasible and opens the way to the fullest use of capital investment.

Computers produce standardization since the cost of computers or their rental vary less than fluctuating labor costs. The computer is more adaptable to ups and downs in market demands; it is easier to unplug the computer a day or two than to lay off workers for a day or two.

One of the most telling factors obviously is that employers expect savings of such magnitude as to pay for the automatic equipment in less than five years. Recent tax changes offer added incentives to industry to move toward automation.

MANAGEMENTS have found computers handy in making their own decisions. The ability to deal simultaneously with many variables and to handle enormous amounts of information, more than man can, makes it possible for a computer to explore various courses of action in fractions of minutes.

Shriver Investigating Turmoil In Job Corps

By ROBERT S. ALLEN
and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Antipoverty director Sargent Shriver is suspending the opening of additional Job Corps camps in urban areas while he tries to get at the bottom of the turmoil and scandals that have rocked eight now in operation.

Pending the outcome of this unannounced investigation, Shriver has ordered a slowdown in recruiting trainees for the existing camps.

THESE BACKSTAGE decisions will halt the launching of two new Job Corps centers scheduled for the end of this month. Announcement of them was to have been made by Thanksgiving.

Two congressional leaders who voted for the anti-poverty program but now are deeply disturbed by the disorders and misdeeds afflicting it triggered Shriver's probe.

This bipartisan demand was made by Sen. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky, ranking Republican on the Public Works Committee, and Rep. John Fogarty, D-R.I., chairman of the appropriations subcommittee in charge of the anti-poverty budget.

In separate letters they warned Shriver that unless he immediately initiates a thorough inquiry and forceful corrective measures, Congress will do so.

UNTIL IMPELLED to act by this blunt prodding, Shriver had minimized the numerous riots, demonstrations, irregularities and other disruptions that have plagued this phase of President's Johnson's $1.5 billion anti-poverty program. But the stern admonitions from Cooper and Fogarty, and mounting bipartisan criticism from other members of Congress caused Shriver to change his mind.

Not only is he going toinvestigate the job camps, but he will participate in that himself by personally visiting all of them. The eight centers are located at:

Camp Atterbury, Edinburg, Ind.; Camp Breckinridge, Morgansfield, Ky.; Camp Custer, Battle Creek, Mich.; Camp Gary, San Marcos, Tex.; Camp Kilmer, Edison, N. J.; Camp Parks, Pleasanton, Calif.; Camp Rodman, New Bedford, Mass.; Camp Tung Point, Astoria, Oregon.

Cooper particularly called for a prompt report on riot-torn Camp Breckinridge, where some of the worst incidents have occurred. Outside police authorities had to be summoned to quell recent outbreaks.

Other members of Congress aroused by job camp upheavals and scandals and demanding forceful corrective measures include Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., and Rep. Richard Roudebush, R-Ind.

HARTKE CALLED for an immediate sweeping investigation of Camp Atterbury, where a number of sex incidents have been reported. Roudebush urged that the Edinburg, Ind., center be closed down. He charged it is costing taxpayers around $22,000 per trainee.

St. Louis Strike Still On

WASHINGTON (AP) — Striking McDonnell Aircraft Corp. machinists agreed today to go back to work at Cape Kennedy so as not to delay a Dec. 4 space shot, federal officials said.

The agreement, however, does not affect the strike of some 17,000 machinists against the company at St. Louis, Mo. The company is the prime contractor for Gemini space activities at Cape Kennedy and producer of Phantom jet fighters used in Viet Nam.

The AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists agreed to the request of Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz and Chief Federal Mediator William E. Simkin to pull down picket lines at Cape Kennedy and go back to work there.

Union vice president Eugene Glover said the machinists at Cape Kennedy will be advised to the decision immediately and "I assume that they will return" to work.

Glover and Robert Krone, McDonnell vice president, pledged meanwhile to continue round-the-clock negotiations to reach a final settlement in the dispute involving wages and working conditions.

Simkin said the picketing at Cape Kennedy so far had not obstructed the scheduled Dec. 4 launching of Gemini 7 with astronauts Frank Borman and James Lovell.

Talks on settlement of the strike had resumed at 9:15 a.m. EST today.

Nations Recall Kennedy Death

DALLAS (UPI)—"Almighty God, in whom we find refuge and strength, we begin our tasks this morning with the painful remembrance of this day two years ago when the pilgrimage of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy came to a close in this very room . . ." (Also see stories page 9).

Thus Chaplain Carl Nighswonger of Parkland Hospital began the first of many remembrances in Dallas, where President Kennedy was assassinated two years ago today. Nighswonger hung a wreath of white carnations on the door of trauma room 1, where Kennedy was pronounced dead at 1 p.m., CST (2 p.m. EST).

OTHER RITES

Other ceremonies scheduled today in Dallas included commemorative Catholic masses including one by the Rev. Oscar Huber, who administered the last rites to Kennedy.

Parkland officials at midnight gave orders that trauma room 1 was to be used only if victims of violence or accident overflowed the other two trauma rooms — emergency treatment rooms where surgical procedures are involved—in the hospital.

At last report, trauma room 1 had not been used since midnight.

Nighswonger put the wreath on the door at 8:30 a.m. this morning and recited a prayer.

"Although the wounds within have healed, the scars of our soul continue . . . may thy spirit be with his family this date and may we symbolize through this wreath our awareness of the depths of loss to his family and loved ones."

In Fredericksburg, Tex., President and Mrs. Johnson joined in non-denominational services held in a Catholic Church to honor the first Catholic president of the United States.

LBJ WREATH

A wreath from President Johnson was placed on Kennedy's grave during a ceremony in Arlington Cemetery in Washington today by Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach. The wreath was laid alongside two bouquets of flowers from Jacqueline Kennedy brought earlier today by Mrs. Hugh Auchincloss, mother of the president's widow.

Members of the Kennedy family and close associates of the late president visited the grave during the morning.

In various foreign capitals simple services were observed in memory of the American president.

Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt laid a wreath at the John F. Kennedy Memorial at city hall, where the late president in 1961 told hundreds of thousands "Ich bin ein Berliner" (I am a Berliner).

A special mass was celebrated in County Wexford, Ireland, ancestral home of the Kennedys which the late president visited in 1963.

Pedestrian Struck By Camper Dies

Hazel L. Phillips, 65, who was struck by a camper truck while crossing Second Street in San Rafael Friday, died Saturday afternoon at Ross General Hospital of her injuries.

The driver, Matthew J. Walsh, 51, of 110 Bayview Street, San Rafael, was cited for violating a pedestrian's right of way by San Rafael police. Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said today he did not intend to file a manslaughter charge since there did not appear to be gross negligence.

Walsh told San Rafael police at the time he did not see Miss Phillips, who lived at 38 Greenfield Avenue, San Rafael, as she crossed at G Street.

She had crossed the westbound lanes of the divided four-lane street, and a car in the fast lane eastbound had stopped for her, a witness, Russell Ahlgrim, of 10 Marin Road, Fairfax, told police.

Walsh's camper truck was in the outside lane, westbound. Miss Phillips was in a crosswalk when she was hit, and was knocked about 20 feet, police said.

The death was the 24th traffic fatality in Marin this year, and the third in San Rafael. There were 37 in the county to this date in 1964.

Ranch In Marin First Preserve

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Wheelwright, owners of the 650-acre Green Gulch Ranch in Southern Marin, today became the first land owners in California to sign an agricultural preserve contract.

The contract will allow the assessor to put a lower value on the ranch since the Wheelwrights agree it will remain in agricultural use for at least 10 years.

The arrangement is permitted under new legislation, authored by Assemblyman John C. Williamson, D-Bakersfield, who attended the signing ceremony at the Civic Center today to congratulate the citizens of Marin. He praised the Wheelrights and the board of supervisors.

Supervisor chairman Peter H. Behr declared that Dino Banducci, with more than 100 acres next to the Wheelwright property, has agreed to sign an agricultural preserve contract also.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney told the Independent-Journal that his office has received more than 100 inquiries from Marin ranchers regarding the new law.

Williamson gave Wheelwright and Behr straw hats with bright red bands that proclaimed them the first signers of an agricultural preserve agreement in the state. Behr signed for the county.

County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel said he still cannot say how much of a reduction in appraisal the Wheelwrights will enjoy. This will take more study, he said.

Others attending today's signing included Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, supervisors William A. Gnoss and representatives of county conservation groups and the California Farm Bureau.

Baby Birth Total Drops In U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) The nation's baby crop continued to decline through September.

Only an estimated 333,000 babies were born in September, the Public Health Service reported today. This is down from 356,000 in September, 1964.

The birth rate for September was 20.8 per 1,000 population, compared with 22.6 a year earlier.

The cumulative total for the first nine months of 1965 was 2,830,000, compared with 3,042,000 for the similar 1964 months, a decline of 7 per cent.

More Rain On Way For South State

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Heavy rain resumed this morning and the weather bureau said it would slosh an already sodden Southern California with two to four more inches today and tomorrow.

By mid-morning the newest storm, which started yesterday, had brought .73 of an inch and pushed the season total to 7.79—far above a normal of 1.37 to date.

Rangers Beat Two Attacks By Viet Cong

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — South Vietnamese forces beat back two heavy Communist assaults on the central coast today with help from U.S. Navy ships bombardment from off shore and air strikes later. U.S. and South Vietnamese officers said at least 200 of about 1,500 attackers were killed.

The attack broke before dawn and the U.S. advisers called for the bombardment from two 7th Fleet destroyers lying offshore. The Navy shells kept the attackers down until the weather cleared later in the day. Then U.S. and South Vietnamese planes and U.S. Marine helicopters attacked with napalm bombs and rockets.

Two U.S. Army advisers were killed in the heaviest assault, by 1,500 Viet Cong on a battalion of 500 rangers near Thach Tru, in Quang Ngai Province 320 miles northeast of Saigon.

The Americans were killed at an outpost on a hill about half a mile west of the government fort. A battalion of U.S. Marines was lifted by helicopter onto the hill to reinforce the Vietnamese rangers.

Attack planes silenced six 81-mm. Viet Cong mortars that were firing on the hill.

U.S. and South Vietnamese officers on the scene said at least 200 Viet Cong were killed. Associated Press correspondent George Esper said he counted more than 100 bodies.

Officials said government casualties were light, but Esper said their casualties appeared to be moderate. Many of the rangers were killed inside the fort in close-in fighting.

The Viet Cong assaulted the fort six times during an eight-hour period. They were beaten off by small arms, automatic weapons and hand grenades.

Government troops captured nearly 100 enemy weapons, many of them late-model types including recoilless rifles, light machine guns and Chinese-type assault rifles.

In other action about 1,000 Viet Cong hit a Vietnamese regiment and artillery command post 40 miles northwest of Saigon. A few of the attackers penetrated the post's defense perimeter but were thrown back. The Vietnamese claimed they killed 100 of the attackers.

Redwood Trees Hearing Starts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A battle to save more of California's majestic redwood trees from the woodman's axe moved into the national capital today.

Both supporters and opponents of controversial proposals to create a Redwood National Park voiced their views at a hearing called by Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall.

Members of congress, state and county officials, and spokesmen for the lumber industry and conservationists were invited to comment on the proposals.

Among those appearing at the hearing were state officials representing California Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who has joined Udall in urging creation of a redwood national park.

Legislation to authorize the park was introduced before congress adjourned by representatives Jeffery Cohelan, D-Calif.; John P. Saylor, R-Pa.; Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., and Phillip Burton, D-Calif.

The measure, as introduced by Cohelan, would authorize a 90,000-acre park encompassing two state parks and privately owned stands of virgin growth.

On introducing the legislation, Cohelan said it was one of the oldest items of "unfinished conservation business" awaiting action by congress.

Cohelan said preservation of the gigantic redwoods had first been urged in 1879 and that legislation to accomplish this had been introduced repeatedly in congress since 1911.

The California Democrat accused logging companies of deliberately speeding up the cutting of the huge trees to help defeat proposals to create the park.

Cohelan said it was imperative to move now to establish the park before the last virgin growth, outside of some 50,000 acres under federal and state protection, was wiped out.

The national park service protects 485 acres in the Muir Woods National Monument in Marin County, while about 50,000 acres are scattered in state parks.

Troops Won't Be Looking At Hair

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Dianna Lynn Batts, who assertedly finished second in the Miss World contest in London because she wore her hair down, not up, has been invited to join comedian Bob Hope's troop entertainment troupe.

"I don't care whether she wears her hair up or down," Hope said yesterday in announcing he had invited her to accompany his group this Christmas on a tour of South Viet Nam.

"Our GIs will be thrilled to see Miss Batts and they won't care if she comes out on stage wearing pigtails," Hope added.

Airports Shut, Forecaster Says More Rain Is Due

The week got off to a non-flying start today with thick fog closing down operations at Marin County Airport and Hamilton Air Force Base.

The rain the Weather Bureau has been telling the Bay Area to expect since Friday will probably arrive late tonight or tomorrow morning, according to the bureau's latest forecast.

Fog rolling in from the sea closed Marin County Airport early today and a spokesman said he did not expect the sun to burn through the murk much before noon.

Conditions were slightly better at Hamilton, where the air strip was closed to visual flying for four hours only—5 a.m. through 9 a.m.

Rain is predicted for almost all the state. The bureau said a low pressure area about 700 miles southwest of the Bay Area is moving inland, bringing cloud and rain with it.

U.S. Officials Told Stand Of Marinites

Special to the I-J

WASHINGTON — Residents of Marin County favor establishment of a Redwood National Park by better than an 8-to-1 margin, George E. McCabe of Santa Rosa, Sonoma State College dean, told Interior Department officials prior to opening of a hearing on the park today.

McCabe said a sample poll of residents of California's First Congressional District had been taken, which showed that throughout the district, the park was favored by better than 2-to-1.

He presented his figures at an informal meeting of Interior Department officials preceding the hearing on a bill to establish the park in Humboldt County redwoods.

McCabe attended as consultant for Rep. Jeffery Cohelan of Berkeley, who introduced the bill for the 90,000-acre national park.

Kenneth B. Pomeroy, chief forester of the American Forestry Assn., told the hearing: "Redwood experts agree that the finest groves in the entire redwood region are those in Humboldt, Prairie Creek, Del Norte and Jedediah Smith Redwoods state parks," and that the area proposed by Cohelan has "never been included in any of the long-range proposals of the Save the Redwoods League or in the North Coast Redwoods Master plan of the State of California." He declared that "any redwood national park worthy of the name will include one of the present state parks."

New York Rains Chill Princess

NEW YORK (AP) — Princess Margaret, sneezing in a chill rain, resumed her New York tour today with visits to Fifth Avenue department stores, a culture center, Wall Street and City Hall.

The princess, who took most of yesterday to rest from an exhausting Saturday night in Manhattan, sneezed several times in the rain as she went in and out of the fashionable stores.

Voices Again At Civic Center Are Jotted Down For Study

It took a long time for the supervisors' chambers at the Civic Center to clear after the decision on Marincello was made.

Even after all the people had gone, ghosts seemed to haunt the place. So I was not too surprised when this voice, a tenor voice, broke out in song.

I tried in vain to locate the covert Caruso, but the room, after careful search, proved to be empty.

All I can show in proof of this unsettling experience are a few snatches of the strange song which I jotted down on the back of my much worn out paper.

IT WENT SOMETHING like this:

IN THE BELLA, bella town Marinthello
Where the density is three-point-five D. U.,
You are Desdemona, I'm Othello,
And our dreams of love will all come true.
There's no Iago.
Oh, ain't that grand?
There's no Iago
In this plan.

IN THE BELA, bella town of Marinfello
Where the heavy mist is really only dew,
I'm gonna be a very healthy fellow,
And so, my dear, of course, are you.
There's no lumbago.
Oh, ain't that grand?
There's no lumbago
In this plan.

IT'S A BAD thing to admit hearing voices but of course, that was not the first time. No sirree!

When you walk by the row of empty supervisors' offices at the Civic Center, you can hear a low murmur from just about every one of them. The offices, however, are empty. This monotone is sometimes loud and clear, sometimes very faint. The words are always the same.

Who's ambitious?
No, not I.
You're thinking of the other guy.

HE'S EYEING higher office and sees big hope,
But he's looking through a telescope.
I wouldn't go to Washington.
I wouldn't go to Washington.
I wouldn't go to Washington,
Unless you made me.
So, persuade me.

SOMETIMES, when the voices are coming in strong, you can hurry by the offices and the words come together like an old English round.

I only tried this once, trotting by with one hand cupped to an ear. One of the secretaries saw me. Well, it was embarrassing. She knows I always stand still when listening at office doors.

I just shrugged and wandered away.

ART BUCHWALD

Princess Margaret, Lord Snowdon Had At Ball At Katzenbach Party

WASHINGTON — When orders went out that Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon wanted to meet only gay, young and amusing people in Washington, the job was turned over to attorney general Nicholas Katzenbach. The reason for this was that the attorney general is one of the few people who has access to the FBI files, and the FBI is the only government organization that has a complete list of all the young, gay, amusing people in the United States.

The guest list for Mr. and Mrs. Katzenbach's late night party was whittled down to 60 people. Everyone excelled in some specialty and was either known for his sparkle, his gaiety or his wit. The women of course were selected for their beauty, charm and table manners, although only omelettes were served.

Before the dance the guests held rehearsals to simulate every sort of situation that might come up.

"Suppose she says to you 'Where are you from?" I asked David Brinkley, one of the invited guests.

"I'll tell her I'm from North Carolina," he replied.

Everyone started chuckling.

"DO YOU THINK she'll get it?" I asked.

"Why not? They say she's a swinging princess."

"What will you say to her?" I asked columnist Russ Baker.

"I'll ask her if she's enjoying her trip to the United States."

"You wouldn't have the nerve," I challenged him.

"Katzenbach said we could say anything we wanted to."

"HAVE YOU THOUGHT of any funnies for the princess?" I asked Jack Valenti of the White House staff.

"I'm going to tell her the president was sorry he couldn't be at the party."

I doubled up with laughter, but then we had to leave for the dance.

As each person arrived they said something clever to Lydia Katzenbach, the hostess, or the attorney general. The best remark I heard was "Where can I put my coat?" Another person topped it though with "Where can I put my wife's coat?" It must have gone that way for an hour while we waited for Princess Margaret to arrive. Nobody was really trying hard, but in a group like this nobody had to. The cleverness and amusement came naturally.

Finally the princess arrived with Lord Snowdon and the party really got going. One person said to her royal highness, "How was Hollywood?" and you could instantly see she was amused. Another person said, "You must be so tired of it all," and the princess said, "Oh no, I'm enjoying it," which showed she could give as good as she could take.

AT 12:05 A.M. it was discovered that there were two people at the party that weren't gay and amusing. How they slipped by the FBI nobody will ever know. But the man kept saying "I want to go home," and his wife kept saying, "You can't until the princess leaves."

When Lord Snowdon heard them he roared with laughter, not realizing of course that they were serious. And so the evening went on without any let up in the clever repartee and fast give and take that has become so much part of young, gay Washington.

Even as the princess left, someone, we'll never know who, said to her, "You must come back and visit us again." The princess' eyes crinkled in a smile and you could tell she really had fun. It isn't every day that a royal personage gets to meet so many interesting people at one time.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Third Man Surrenders In Kidnaping

TACOMA, Wash (AP)—The third man sought in connection with the kidnaping of Charles Hyde III surrendered here early today.

He is James Edward Evans, a 31-year-old father named as an accomplice in the kidnaping by its admitted mastermind.

Baker

Sheriff's officers said Evans turned himself in to Chief Criminal Deputy George Janovich.

They would not say where Evans had been. They reported, however, he had just driven into Tacoma.

Detective Capt. Ernest Keck of the Pierce County sheriff's office disclosed yesterday he had received a telephone call Saturday night, presumably from California. Evans has a brother at Hayward.

Keck said Evans told him he understood he was wanted and was returning to Tacoma, where he has a wife and several small children.

The Hyde boy, 13, was abducted Wednesday morning, and released unharmed nine hours later, after his father paid $45,000 ransom.

The big break in the case came early Saturday when Tilford Baker, 34, a lanky Tacoma carpenter, turned himself in at the Pierce County sheriff's office.

"Baker said he did the planning—he masterminded the thing," said Janovich.

Baker is married and has two children.

He identified Dean Allen Bromley, 20, also of Tacoma, as the driver of the kidnap car.

Auriol Injured

HYERES, France (AP)—Former French President Vincent Auriol, 81, fractured his right hip yesterday in a fall while strolling around his property. Auriol, who was the first president of the Fourth Republic, was taken to a hospital in Hyeres, and his condition was reported as serious.

Russ Explosion?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Enery Commission said today seismic signals were recorded yesterday indicating a nuclear explosion in the Soviet testing area in the semi-Palatinsk region.

Safe Landing

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The pilot shut down one engine in which he heard a loud noise and landed a Boeing 720-B fanjet safely here Saturday night, Western Air Lines reported. Flight 659 from Sacramento to Los Angeles carried 122 passengers and a crew of seven. An airline spokesman said there was no explosion in the engine and the incident was logged as "a banging noise."

Romania Asks To Negotiate Viet Peace

Secretary Rusk Asserts Terms Unacceptable

VIENNA, Austria, (AP) — Romania's Communist leaders are acting as go-betweens for another Viet Nam peace effort, Austrian diplomats say.

The Austrian sources said Romanian efforts to achieve peace talks began last June after North Viet Nam put out peace feelers through Bucharest.

The diplomats said Romanian Premier Ion Gheorghe Maurer reported the moves to Austrian officials during an official visit to Vienna last week.

The diplomats said Maurer gave this account:

After the overtures from Hanoi, Romanian officials approached U.S. Ambassador William Crawford in Bucharest. The results of these contacts formed a basis for follow-up talks between Romanian Foreign Minister Cornelius Manescu and Secretary of State Dean Rusk at the United Nations in New York last month.

The outcome of these talks was not indicated.

Maurer told Austrian officials Romania is ready to mediate between the United States and North Viet Nam "whenever there is a chance of bringing the war to an end."

U.S. Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield and four other senators left Romania yesterday on their way to Saigon after talks with Romanian officials on the Viet Nam war. Mansfield told newsmen he could not reveal the substance of the talks.

There was no reaction from the State Department in Washington to the report of Romanian peace efforts.

In Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Rusk said in an ABC television interview that North Viet Nam has yet to show interest in any peace talks except on the basis of its "famous four points," which the United States has declared unacceptable.

Rusk was referring to a Hanoi statement last April setting these conditions for peace talks:

1. Withdrawal of all U.S. forces and bases from South Viet Nam;
2. A policy of no alliances for North and South Viet Nam;
3. Acceptance of the Viet Cong's political program for South Viet Nam;
4. Eventual unification of North and South Viet Nam without outside interference.

Rusk declined to elaborate on an earlier State Department comment that peace overtures made by Hanoi last year did not indicate a serious desire to negotiate.

In the fall of 1964, U.N. Secretary-General U Thant advised Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson that North Viet Nam was willing to send an emissary to Rangoon, Burma, for a secret meeting with a U.S. representative. The United States rejected that bid.

Observers in Washington said the U.S. government believed it was in too weak a position, militarily and diplomatically, to negotiate. It is felt that the U.S. position has improved considerably, and the Mansfield mission to Warsaw, Moscow, Romania, Saigon and other points could be a sign that the United States is actively seeking peace talks.

Communist Power Held Receding

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today that communism has receded in Latin America over the past few years.

"I think there is no doubt that it has lost strength in Latin America," Rusk said in an ABC television interview.

Rusk, who last visited South American in 1962, said there are indications Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro now "realizes that his type of activity cannot succeed."

He said Castro is perhaps less active now than before. And in some Latin-American countries the voters have rejected Castro as a solution to their problems, he said, adding:

"I think that undoubtedly the situation in the hemisphere is stronger today from that point of view than it was a year or two ago."

Rusk was to present the U.S. position to the inter-American conference this afternoon.

New Yorkers Win Bridge Contest

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Kaplan of New York City easily won the American Contract Bridge League's mixed pairs championship last night with 936½ match points.

The New Yorkers led through all four sessions of the contest.

Morris Portugal of Los Angeles and Malvin E. Klausner of Beverly Hills were second with 884.

Ivan Erdos, Los Angeles, and Mary Jane Farrell, Beverly Hills, were third with 865; Michael Lawrence, Berkeley, and Rhoda Lander, Los Angeles, were fourth with 832½; and Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Barlow, Sunnyvale, were fifth with 823.

March Disappoints Viet Protestors

OAKLAND (AP) — The Viet Nam Day Committee, which Saturday mounted an orderly parade of 10,000 against U. S. involvement in Viet Nam, still feels the sting of a persistent thorn.

"What we really wanted was to march to the Oakland Army Terminal on Maritime Street," Bill Miller, 24, a VDC leader, said yesterday.

"Judge William Sweigert's ruling not to allow that was very definitely unconstitutional. The street is a public thoroughfare."

Miller, who describes himself as a businessman, referred to a decision by U. S. District Court Judge Sweigert, to allow the parade over the protests of Oakland officials but under certain restrictions.

The judge set the route for the five-mile march from the University of California campus in adjoining Berkeley to Oakland's DeFremery Park.

The park is about a mile from the Army terminal — the point from which most U. S. soldiers are sent to Viet Nam.

The march went smoothly and the extent that this time we entered Oakland," said Miller. "But something new is in the offing. We may attempt a rally at the Army terminal."

The march ent smoothly and the marchers dispersed after a rally in the park, before the 5 p.m. time set by Judge Sweigert.

The Hell's Angels motorcycle club which skirmished with demonstrators Oct. 16 kept its promise to boycott the parade.

Parade monitors carried a VDC banner, the American flag and an olive branch symbol. Falling in behind them were the marchers, mostly persons in their teens and twenties.

They wore outfits ranging from jeans and sandals to business suits. A few were barefoot. A forest of anti-war placards sprouted above.

"It's the bombing; it's the bombing of all those people," said Diane Passage, 24, of San Francisco.

At the post-parade rally, VDC leaders called for contributions from the crowd to help pay off a debt variously estimated at between $5,000 and $15,000.

Napa Jail Is Dirty, State Board Says

NAPA (AP) — The Napa County jail fails to meet minimum requirements, says the State Board of Corrections.

A letter to the Board of Supervisors Saturday said the county failed to issue clean mattresses to all prisoners, had no standard clothing issue, no thermometer in the kitchen and showed generally poor standards of cleanliness.

Helpful hints from PG&E Home Economists

These tested hints can make kitchen tidiness less of a chore, by helping you keep things clean as you cook.

How to keep your kitchen clean... without slaving at it.

Prevent foods from boiling over or burning.

When a pot overboils, you're stuck with two cleaning jobs, the range and the utensil. To avoid boilovers, use a roomy utensil to boil foods that foam—like milk, rice, spaghetti, jelly. Set your minute timer to remind you when to turn the heat down. For open-pan meat roasting, use a low-sided bright pan and a low temperature (325°-350°). There's less spattering and your oven stays cleaner. When baking juicy pies, cut the top crust half an inch larger than the pie plate, tuck under the lower crust and crimp the edge high to hold in the juice. Cut a piece of foil about two inches larger than the pie plate and place it on the rack below to catch any boilover.

Clean your range as you use it.

Porcelain enamel is acid-resistant—but not acid-proof. If acid foods (milk, tomatoes, fruit) are spilled, wipe them up immediately with a dry cloth or paper towel. When your range is cool, wash the porcelain with a soapy cloth, rinse, and dry. A mild abrasive may be used to remove burned spots on chromium. Don't use scouring pads or other harsh abrasives on porcelain enamel—they make tiny scratches.

Do cooking fuels create dirt?

There is no significant difference in the cleanliness of cooking fuels. Neither gas nor electricity contribute any sort of soot or grease. The dirt which accumulates on kitchen walls, ceilings and curtains is the residue of grease-laden steam which escapes from uncovered skillets or pans. You can avoid much of this grime by placing a piece of paper towel over meat or chicken while browning. Also, when cooking vegetables, use a utensil with a closely-fitting cover, a small amount of water, and boil gently.

Free PG&E Cooking Schools.

PG&E Home Economists conduct free cooking schools in many communities each year. In demonstrations, they prepare meals and explain the operation of the appliances they use. You can pick up recipes for new dishes and tricks or shortcuts to make your kitchen hours more enjoyable. And it's free. Watch your newspaper for announcements.

Biggest Household Bargain.

There've been three major reductions in PG&E rates for household energy since 1961. In fact, the average PG&E household bill today is less than 30 years ago for the same amount of gas and electricity. Which makes PG&E service a bigger bargain than ever.

Johnson Takes Political Jaunt

JOHNSON CTY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson relaxed at his ranch today folowing a whirlwind political trip to San Antonio where he waded into a crowd to shake hands, give autographs and kiss children.

The excursion was in behalf of Democratic Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez of Texas.

The President told a shopping center crowd composed primarily of Mexican-Americans they had a right to be proud to have Mexican blood in their veins.

In addition to lauding Gonzalez as one of his best supporters in the House, Johnson praised Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex.

Yarborough, who was present, has been feuding with Gov. John Connally, a close Johnson ally.

After the speech Johnson walked out into the crowd. Twenty minutes later he left the square and walked behind the buildings where hundreds were gathered behind barriers and in the yards of neighboring homes.

Striding briskly through the gate of one of these, he sat down at a wooden yard table to chat with Sebastian Saldana, 43, a Kelly Air Force Base employee and the father of seven.

Quickly they were joined by Gonzalez, Yarborough, and Cantinflas, the Mexican comic who had spent the previous night at the Johnson ranch and had accompanied the President to San Antonio.

Other neighbors got a handshake, a 7-year-old girl a kiss and the Johnson party was off in the presidential helicopter for the ranch.

Today, the President and Mrs. Johnson were to attend a memorial service at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Fredericksburg in memory of President John F. Kennedy.

Other activities were expected to include the dispatch of a complimentary message to President Charles de Gaulle of France on his 75th birthday.

The President and De Gaulle haven't been getting along too well on some international matters and staff aides regarded this as an opportunity to warm relations somewhat.

Press secretary Bill D. Moyers, who flew to the ranch early Sunday after conferences in Washington, reported it hasn't been decided where Johnson will meet Chancellor Ludwig Erhard of West Germany at a Dec. 3-4 conference. Moyers said he was flying back to Washington today.

Christmas Seal Contributions Below Last Year

Contributions during the first five days of the 1965 Christmas Seal campaign are down more than $1,000 compared with the same period last year, Mrs. Charles R. Banfield, chairman, reported today.

"In contrast, cases of tuberculosis keep going up," she declared. "To date this year there have been 42 cases in Marin. Last year's 12-month total was 33."

So far, $9,608.06 has been received by the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn. Last year over the same number of days $10,642.48 had been received.

"Since Christmas Seals pay the bills, contributions determine the extent of our fight against TB," Mrs. Banfield said. "Next year we hope to help finance opening of closed files on cases that are considered inactive but which may be sources of infection. In other areas where this has been done, a high rate of active disease was uncovered."

Alcohol is a contributing factor in three out of every five highway accidents.

Lions Hold Session In Novato

Cabinet members of Lions International District 4-C2, covering the coastal area from Sausalito to the Oregon border, discussed membership, development and retention of Lions members at a two-day weekend session at the Lodge in Novato.

Cabinet members prepared resolutions which will be considered at their meeting in Fairfield, Solano County, Next February.

Approximately 75 Lions Club members and their wives attended the session. Max S. Martin of San Anselmo, deputy district governor, was chairman. The Novato Lions Club was host.

William H. Schwartz of Corte Madera, district public relations chairman, presented an 18-page district publication, "Lions Talk," and district officers presented reports on club development.

Women attending the session went on a chartered bus tour of Mount Tamalpais yesterday.

The cabinet represents 57 Lions Clubs, consisting of 2,500 members.

Board To Tour School

The Kentfield School District Board, meeting at 8 p.m. today at Greenbrae School, will tour that school and hear reports on its curriculum. The board will also be asked to approve funds for a paid speaker tentatively engaged for an assembly at Adaline E. Kent School.

San Rafael Meters Again Are Looted

More than 100 San Rafael parking meters were looted during the weekend, for the third time this month.

Someone with a key to the meters—the last of San Rafael's original parking meters and of different make from those more recently installed — is believed responsible for the thefts. The coin boxes of the 18-year-old meters can be unlocked with a special circular key.

How much loot was taken cannot be determined. If used to full capacity, the meters collect about 45 cents each per day—or $45 per day and $270 per week (six days' operation) for 100 meters.

A city employee empties the meters once each week.

This time, however, the weekend thief did not get a full week's receipts. City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen said the city started emptying the meters on Thursdays following the second looting the weekend of Nov. 6-7, so they contained only Friday and Saturday receipts. The thief had skipped one weekend before striking again.

New meter heads are on the way to replace the old ones, and are expected by Dec. 1.

"We're going to have to have a lot better police surveillance until those things come in," Andersen said.

It was police surveillance that discovered the looting. Patrolmen Barxdal W. Stinson and John F. Riordan, checking the meters early yesterday, found the coin boxes were empty.

Meters looted were in four off-street parking lots and along curbs on Fifth Avenue, police reported.

ernment casualties in the action.

U.S. troops suffered light casualties and U.S. Army helicopters, refueling trucks and buildings were damaged by a 15-minute mortar barrage on the Soc Trang airfield 95 miles southwest of Saigon, a U.S. spokesman said.

The spokesman refused to disclose the extent of damage under a new restriction on press coverage of the war.

U.S. 1st Infantry troops killed 40 Viet Cong and suffered light casualties in beating off an attack along the edge of the Communist D Zone about 40 miles north of Saigon. U.S. planes destroyed a village from which the Viet Cong was operating, a spokesman said.

Small government units reported killing 15 guerrillas in scattered clashes in the Mekong Delta.

Two Escapees Are Recaptured

MARTINEZ (AP) — Two of four prisoners who escaped from the Contra Costa County jail in Martinez yesterday were recaptured today.

Robert Burnett, 30, was spotted by two sheriff's reserve officers as he walked along a rural road 10 miles south of Martinez.

The capture was similar to that of Samuel Quinn, 25, another of the four jail escapers, who was retaken earlier walking on a roadside. Neither resisted arrest.

Donald Dacey, 23, who had broken out twice before, and Marcellus Warren, 28, broke out after Quinn got the drop on a deputy with a smuggled gun. Quinn took the officer's keys and freed the other three.

Two Hurt As Car, Motorcycle Hit

Two 16-year-old San Rafael boys received cuts and bruises when the motorcycle they were riding collided with a car at Fourth and B Streets Saturday.

Richard R. Rottman of 2146 Fifth Avenue, and his passenger, Bryan T. Halloran of 416 Forbes Avenue, were riding north on B Street at 5:40 p.m. when they were struck by a car turning left from B Street onto Fourth Street, reported police. Driver of the automobile was Herchel E. McKinney, 62, of 1203 E Street, San Rafael, police said.

She is survived by a brother, Clyde L. Phillips, San Rafael, and a sister, Mrs. Blanche C. Fogarty of Castro Valley.

Funeral services will be at 10 a.m. Wednesday at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be in Elm Ridge Cemetery, Grass Valley.

Broken Windows Are Reported

A spate of broken windows was reported to the San Rafael police over the weekend.

Patrolling police officers discovered windows broken in homes at 47 and 91 Louise Street at 3:17 a.m. today.

Dr. Morris Krutchkoff of 23 Valley View Avenue told police at 2:25 a.m. yesterday that a window had been broken in his car which was parked in front of his home.

Bradley E. Vote of 79 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, reported a broken window in his car, also parked at his residence, at 6:48 a.m.

August B. Voix, janitor for Kunst Painting Contractors at 76 Belvedere Street, reported that two large windows in the building had been broken by rocks during the weekend.

Postal Building Work Begins

Construction started today for a new main post office building for San Rafael, at 40 Bellam Boulevard.

The $730,000 building is being constructed by Southern California Industries, a firm which has built numerous post offices. It is scheduled to open in about seven months.

The present post office building at 910 D Street will be maintained as a branch building, according to Postmaster Warren H. Williams.

The building will have about 37,000 square feet of floor space on a parcel of land containing 112,000 square feet, with most of the rest of the area devoted to parking.

N. F. Wallach and Louis Frankel of Los Angeles will own the building and lease it to the federal government.

Size Of Class On Board Agenda

Trustees of Dixie School District tomorrow will discuss means of maintaining the average class size of 30 pupils in face of increasing enrollment.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. at the district office. The session was advanced from the regular Wednesday date because of Thanksgiving.

Supt. Dennie B. Willis will discuss the possibility of adjusting attendance areas for specific classes and the possibility of combination classes.

Ike To Change Hospitals Today

FT. GORDON, Ga. (AP — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was to head for Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington late today aboard a special train.

The 75-year-old general is recovering from his second heart attack, and doctors report they are pleased with his progress. He has been hospitalized at the Army hospital here since Nov. 9.

An Army ambulance will take Eisenhower to the railroad siding where he will be placed in his special compartment aboard the Army-ordered eight-car train. Another Army ambulance will meet the train about 14 hours later somewhere in the Washington area to move him to the hospital.

OBITUARIES

George W. Seaton Dies At 84

Masonic funeral for George W. Seaton, 84, who was the last surviving member of the original Corte Madera Town Council, will be held at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael, at 11 a.m. tomorrow.

Seaton, a retired fireman, died at a local hospital Saturday after a long illness.

One of the early settlers in Corte Madera, he served on the board of trustees when the town was incorporated in 1916. He served four years on the council.

He had lived at 107 Redwood Avenue for more than 60 years. After the death of his wife, Lottie, last year, he lived with his son, William H. Seaton, at 8 Willow Avenue, Corte Madera, and just before his hospitalization lived with his granddaughter, Mrs. Leland Jones, at 1431 Dawes Street, Novato.

Seaton served as fire chief and police chief in Corte Madera for six years in the late 1930s.

After retiring as chief, he worked in the fire department at Fort Cronkhite during World War II, and then at the end of the war retired again.

Prior to becoming police and fire chief, he had been chief shipping clerk for a wholesale shoe firm in San Francisco for 32 years.

Seaton, a native of Red Cloud, Neb., had been a resident of Marin County for 61 years.

Seaton was a gold star honorary member of the Corte Madera Volunteer Fire Department, a member of Marin Lodge 191, Free and Accepted Masons and Mira Monte Camp 359, Woodmen of the World.

Seaton and his wife celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary Nov. 22, 1964. She died Dec. 20, 1964.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Herman A. Sand, Novato; two sons, William H. Seaton, Corte Madera, and Richard G. Seaton, Walnut Creek; a sister, Mrs. Grace Gardiner, and a brother, Frank Seaton, both of Larkspur; five grandchildren, and eight great-grandchildren.

Funeral will be conducted by Marin Lodge 191, F. & A. M. Inurnment will be private.

MRS. MAYNARD

Funeral for Margarete Maynard, 36 Fairfax Avenue, San Rafael, a 31-year-old saleswoman at the House of Samples, San Rafael, will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

Mrs. Maynard died Saturday at a local hospital following a short illness.

She was the wife of Barron Maynard, a salesman for a San Rafael boat dealer, and came to this country from her native Germany seven years ago. She had lived in Marin County for a year.

Survivors are her husband and a daughter, Carmen; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Heiss of Germany and three brothers living also in Germany.

Burial arrangements are pending.

BERNICE DREYER

Requiem Mass will be offered for Mrs. Bernice Dreyer, 76, of 275 Los Angeles Boulevard, San Anselmo, at St. Brigid's Church, San Francisco, at 10 a.m. Wednesday.

Mrs. Dreyer suffered a fatal heart attack while driving her car at Los Angeles Boulevard and Santa Cruz Avenue at 3:42 p.m. Saturday.

San Anselmo police reported she was found slumped over the wheel but apparently had felt the attack coming because the car was stopped.

The San Anselmo Fire Department rushed a resuscitator to the scene, but Mrs. Dreyer was dead on arrival at Marin General Hospital at 4:07 p.m.

Coroner Frank J. Keaton said Mrs. Dreyer had been under a doctor's care and attributed her death to a heart attack.

Mrs. Dreyer was the widow of' Paul Dreyer of San Francisco, retired chief photographer for the San Francisco Examiner. She was a retired practical nurse.

Prior to living at the Los Angeles Boulevard address, she had lived with her daughter, Mrs. Theresa Christensen, at 37 Angela Avenue, San Anselmo, and in San Francisco.

Mrs. Dreyer formerly was married to the late Henry Estnes. She lived in Fairfax from 1941 to 1957 before moving to San Francisco.

She was a native of Etna, Siskiyou County.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Theresa Christensen, and a son, George Littlewood, both of San Anselmo; six grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Godeau Funeral Home, 41 Van Ness Avenue, San Francisco. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

REP. JOHN TABER

AUBURN, N.Y. (AP) — Former U.S. Rep. John Taber of Auburn, a veteran of 40 consecutive years in Congress, died today at a nursing home after a long illness. He was 85.

Taber, known in political circles as "the watchdog of the treasury," was ranking Republican members of the House appropriations committee from 1933 until his retirement in December, 1962. He had served on the committee since 1923 and was its chairman in 1947 and 1953.

Taber, an attorney, first was elected to Congress from the 36th district in 1922.

At the time of his retirement, he had the longest continuous tenure in the appropriations committee's history.

NAOUM BLINDER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —Naoum Blinder, who taught some of the world's finest violinists, is dead at 76.

Blinder, concert master of the San Francisco Symphony from 1932 until failing eyesight forced his retirement in 1957, died yesterday after a long illness.

Among his pupils were Isaac Stern, David Abel, Austin Reller, Nathin Rubin and Sabina Skalar.

Born in Russia, he was graduated from the Imperial Conservatory of Odessa at 14.

In 1928 he came to this country, through the efforts of Felix Warburg, a New York banker who worked with the Hoover Relief Mission.

GEORGE T. REID

Funeral for George T. Reid, 72, father of Mrs. Dorothy D. Stackman of San Anselmo, was scheduled today at the Parent Funeral Chapel, Petaluma.

A native of Oakland, Reid died Friday in a Santa Rosa hospital after a short illness.

He had lived in Petaluma 45 years, worked for California Poultry Producers and operated several ranches in the area before his retirement 16 years ago.

Survivors are his wife, Alice Reid; three daughters, Mrs. Stackman, Mrs. June Zeman of Vienna, Austria, and Mrs. Barbara Langdon of Petaluma; four sons, George J., Wesley C., Donald E. and Lee W. Reid, of Petaluma; 22 grandchildren, and one great-grandchild.

FRANK SMITH

Frank S. Smith Jr., former chief of the Sacramento County Probation department, died today at his home in Stinson Beach. He was 80 years old.

He had lived with his wife, Dorothy J. Smith, in his Spanish-style home near the junction of Panoramic and Shoreline highways since his retirement in 1949. He first went to work for Sacramento County in 1911, and was a native of Sacramento.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by two sons, William R. Smith of Sacramento and Frank S. Smith III of Stinson Beach; a brother, Dr. Merle P. Smith of Sacramento; two grandchildren, and one great-grandchild.

Requiem Mass will be offered at 10 a.m. Wednesday at the St. Mary Magdeline Church, Bolinas. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo. Burial will be in St. Mary Madgeline Cemetery, Bolinas.

The family has asked that memorial gifts be made to charity.

W. M. LANGDON

Funeral for Walton M. Langdon, father of Mrs. Ralph Chatoian of Novato, will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. in Marysville.

Langdon, 66, died Saturday night in a Marysville hospital after a short illness. He was a native of Marysville and had worked for the California State Department of Employment in the referee section before his retirement.

In addition to his daughter, surviving are his wife, Margaret, and two grandchildren.

DR. RALPH MADDOX

Funeral for Dr. Ralph L. Maddox, 44, of Novato, who died in a local hospital Friday, will be held at 9:45 a.m. tomorrow in the Redwood Chapel funeral home, Novato. Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

Memorial contributions to the Heart Fund or the Seventh-Day Adventist Church building fund would be appreciated by the family.

McCarthy Announces Candidacy

State Sen. John F. McCarthy, 41, R-San Rafael, who has represented Marin County for 15 years, will seek re-election in the newly formed 4th Senatorial District comprising Marin, Napa, and most of Solano County.

"I will be a candidate," the Senate minority leader declared today. "I intend to wage a strong campaign and with the good will and efforts of friends old and new, I intend to win.

"The role of a state senator today is an important one that requires experienced judgment. My decision to seek re-election is prompted by the belief that I have lived up to my commitments and responsibilities to the people of the district I have represented for 15 years and my sincere desire to continue to serve by putting my experience and energies to use representing the new Fourth District and the people of all California. In this decision I have the wholehearted and unanimous encouragement of my family and my many supporters."

POWER IN SOUTH

McCarthy noted that the reapportionment will concentrate vast political power in Southern California.

"Because of this it is vitally important that those representing the northern sector of this state be experienced legislators," he said.

"I am proud of my own record in the Legislature, proud of my committee service and proud of the fact that my colleagues have elected me to the Senate Rules Committee where I have served as vice-chairman and Senate minority leader for the past seven years.

FULL ATTENTION

"I pledge my full attention to the needs and problems of Marin, Napa, and Solano Counties and I pledge to serve to the fullest of my ability each and every resident within these counties."

McCarthy lives with his wife, Ursula, and their seven children in San Rafael.

He is vice president and general manager of the Robert McCarthy Co., a construction and development firm.

A native of San Franicsco, he attended public schools there and completed his education at University of San Francisco and Heald's Engineering College.

Driver Cut As Car Veers Into Yard

A San Rafael driver was cut on his right wrist when his car veered off Kent Avenue in Kentfield into the yard of Edward D. Jones, 190 Kent Avenue, damaging a wooden gate, driveway chain and wooden auto ramp at 7:15 a.m. yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The driver, Patrick Edward Carroll, 27, of 288 Mountain View Avenue, apparently dozed at the wheel, patrol officers reported. He was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Some say the bassett hound is a small bloodhound on a dachshund's legs.

Man Suspect In Ship Fire Killing 89, Newspaper Says

MIAMI, Fla. (AP—A 36-year-old man described as an "adult problem child" with a record of mental illness is under official scrutiny in connection with the fiery sinking of the Yarmouth Castle cruise ship that took 89 lives, the Miami Herald reports.

The disclosure came on the eve of a Coast Guard inquiry into the disaster Nov. 13 when the Yarmouth Castle went down 120 miles east of Miami en route to Nassau.

The "adult problem child," a passenger on the ship, was not named by the Herald and the newspaper did not specify who was making the investigation. However, the paper reported that two fires of undetermined origin broke out during the last two years in an enterprise operated by the man's family.

Petaluma in Sonoma County boasts the world's largest poultry hatchery.

Car Leaves Road, Driver Suffers Cuts

Thomas M. Shine, 22, of San Francisco, suffered facial cuts when his car veered off East Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, a half mile east of Highway 101, at 9:30 p.m. Saturday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The car crossed rocks and chunks of broken concrete before it stopped in mud at the edge of San Francisco Bay, the patrol reported. Shine was taken to San Rafael General Hospital where he was examined but refused treatment, the hospital reported.

Patrol Finds Auto At Span

The California Highway Patrol found an abandoned auto in the south-bound lanes at mid-span on the Golden Gate Bridge early today. Officers reported it is "highly probable" the driver leaped from the bridge.

The car is registered to Robert Quan, a 30-year-old Oakland mail clerk. His brother, Edward, called the highway patrol this morning and reported Robert left home about 2 a.m., leaving behind a note which indicated he was going to take his life.

Quan's 1956 Mercury was found nearly an hour after he left home. Officers found no wallet, note or other property of Quan's in the car.

Coat Stolen

Hazel Allan of 45 Raposa Vista, Novato, told Corte Madera police yesterday that her car coat and purse, containing $5, were stolen from the Corte Madera Recreation Center Saturday night.

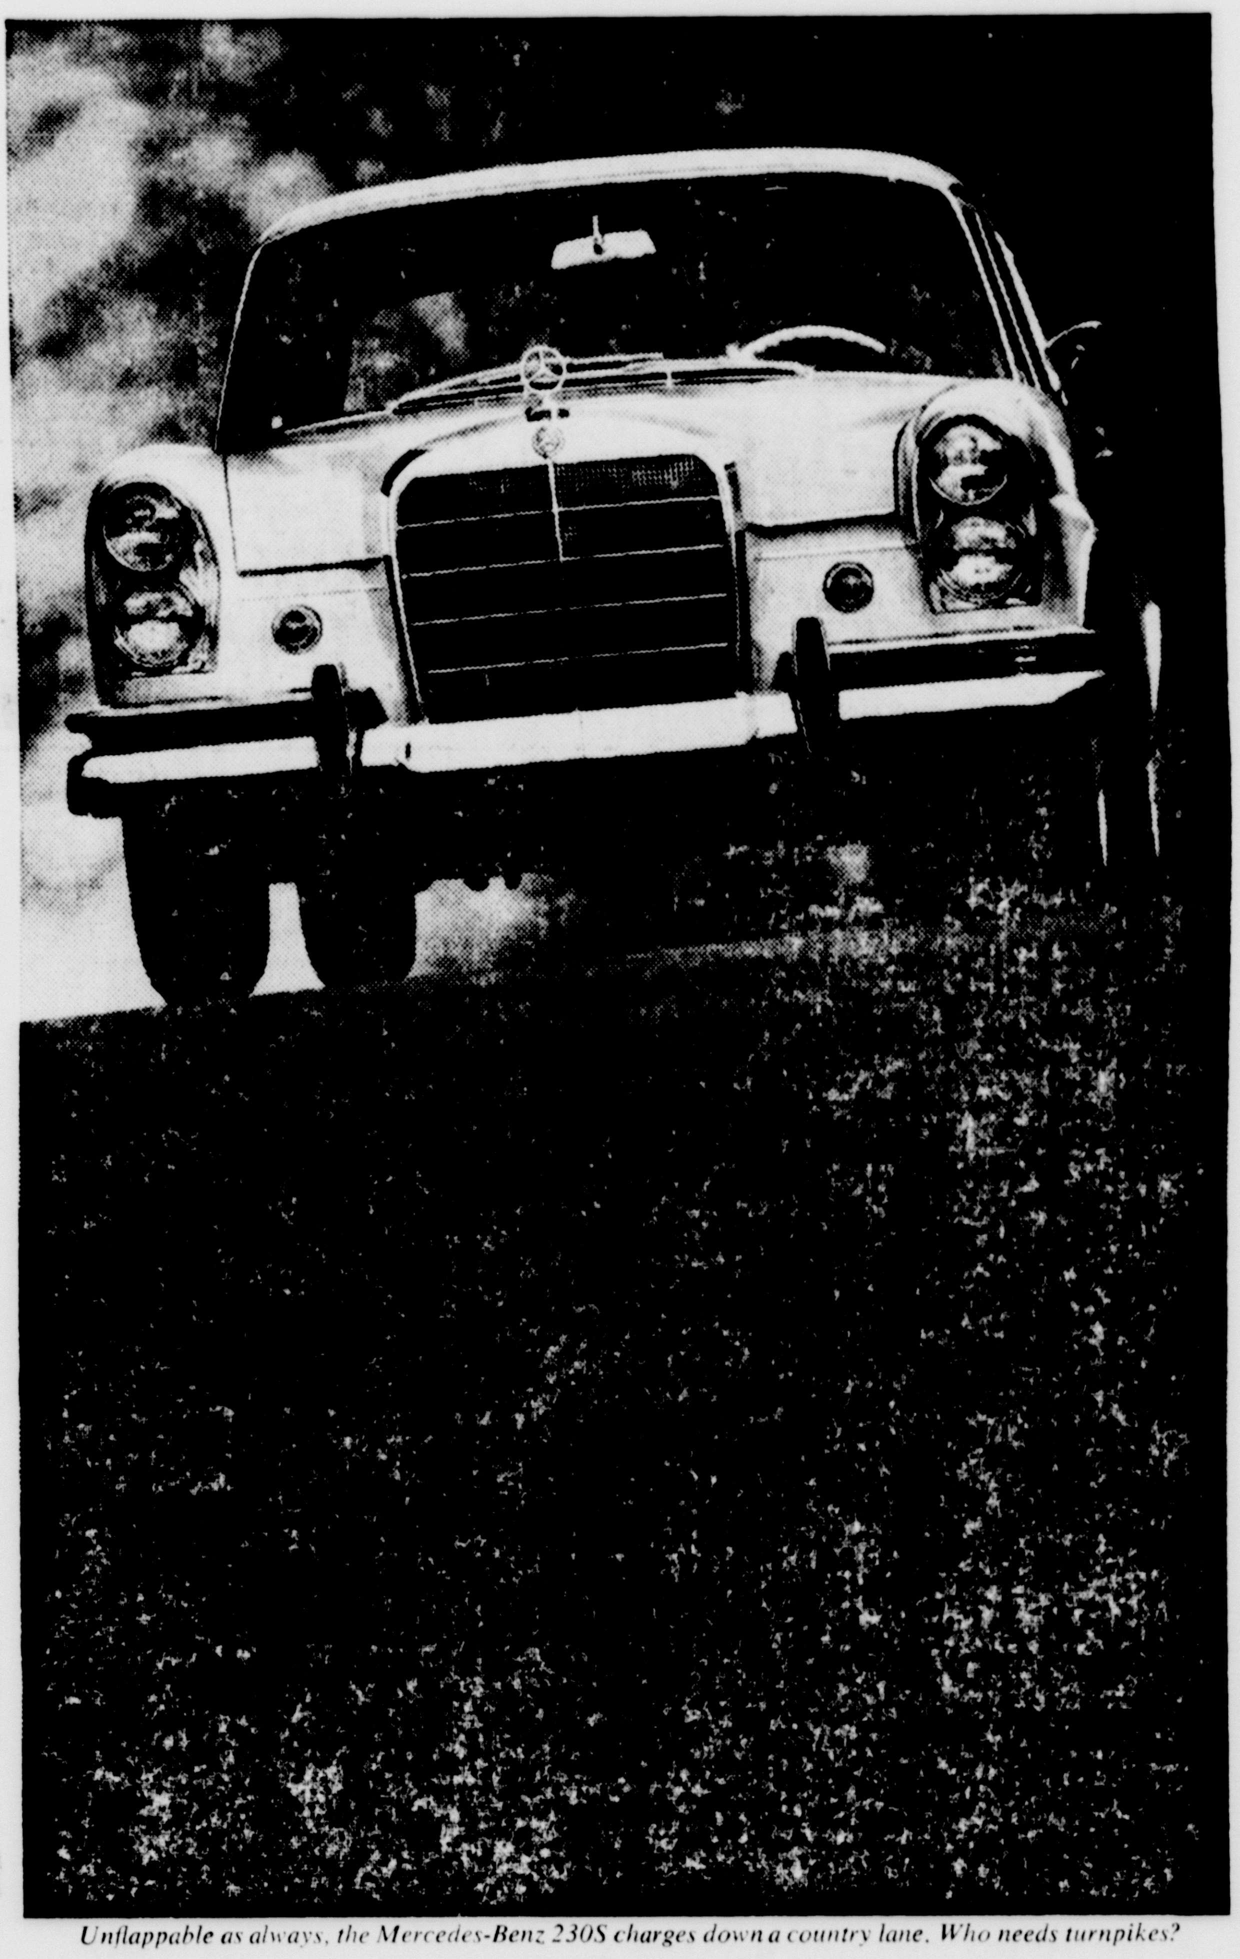
15 revealing facts about the Mercedes-Benz 230S for those who always thought it was a rich man's plaything.



Unflappable as always, the Mercedes-Benz 230S charges down a country lane. Who needs turnpikes?

The Mercedes-Benz 230S scorns hand-tooled inlays and power-operated gadgets. For $4,900, you get an efficiently engineered car built for a long, hard life on the world's worst roads. Take 3 minutes to read the intriguing details below.

1. The steering system of the Mercedes-Benz 230S avoids two common pitfalls—freakish lightness and truck-like sluggishness. You guide this car with satisfying exactness. You control it—it doesn't control you.

This steering system is a precision instrument—and it's built like one. Key suspension and steering gear parts are hand tightened with a special torque wrench. This ingenious gadget squirts a blot of yellow paint onto the part only when the correct pressure is reached. A follow-up inspector simply counts the blots for a foolproof final check.

Showroom snoopers: Count the blots yourself. Scrunch down and peer under the front end of any Mercedes-Benz—there they are, a dozen or so telltale yellow dabs. A reassuring sight.

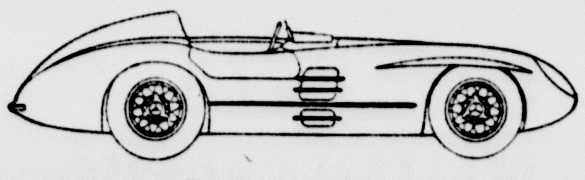
2. Heavy-duty springs and shock absorbers are standard equipment on the Mercedes-Benz 230S. It is a heavy-duty automobile. It has to be: Mercedes-Benz cars are sold in 148 countries. Durability is a big sales point to Afghanistanians, Colombians and Icelanders.

Test drivers: Blast the Mercedes-Benz 230S down the sort of road you'd skip on a Sunday drive. You'll pound over potholes without a qualm.

3. The body of the Mercedes-Benz 230S is a taut steel box, welded in 10,000 places. This "unit" structure is stronger than separate frame-and-body types. And the car grows old gracefully. Welds can't squeak, rattle or groan.

Bulldog grip

4. The fully independent suspension system under you in the Mercedes-Benz 230S would do credit to a racing car. As a matter of fact, it did. Its test-bed was the Mercedes-Benz 300SLR, World Champion sports-racing car a few years ago.



The 300SLR proved suspension in racing.

Just as Mercedes-Benz team racing drivers did back then, you slice through curves on a trim and even keel.

"The wheels always remain planted stubbornly on the road," says Car and Driver magazine. "Even the lumpiest surface can't budge them from their bulldog grip."

5. For a 1½-ton automobile with a top speed of 109 mph, the Mercedes-Benz 230S has immense braking power. Brutal panic stops can't fade its front disc brakes. Water won't turn them to sponge. In the Mercedes-Benz 230S, you stop with almost boring ease. The world could do with more monotony like this.

6. A 4-speed floor shift in the Mercedes-Benz 230S costs exactly as much extra as a column-mounted shift: nothing.

7. German driving conditions are an engine designer's nightmare. Gasoline costs 54¢ per gallon. Yet there is no highway speed limit. Mercedes-Benz engineers licked the problem with a 6-cylinder, single overhead camshaft engine that delivers high gas mileage and high cruising speed.

This lovingly balanced and assembled engine can dash along for endless hours at 90 mph—yet uses about half the fuel of many large V8's. It is neither a tiger nor a tabby.

Bring your magnifying glass

8. Mercedes-Benz employs one inspector for every 11 workers. And pays them to criticize their heads off.

You'll never clench your fists in fury at shabby workmanship. The paint job under the hood is every bit as good as it is on top. A sensitive finger can run from grille to tailpipe and never meet a sharp edge, a lump or a gap.

9. Mercedes-Benz shuns the Annual Model Change like the plague. You relax at "new model time" with the Mercedes-Benz 230S. How pleasant, not to feel betrayed.

Note: Last August, Mercedes-Benz announced its most sweeping changes in years. Many technical advances were made—without having to change the cars' looks.

In 14 years, 3 Mercedes-Benz model changes.

10. Seats in the Mercedes-Benz 230S were built up by orthopedic physicians, not whipped up by interior stylists. This is why you can drive 600 miles a day and not feel like an old laundry bag when you stop.

"When you sit down, you don't sort of disappear into the cushion," says David E. Davis Jr., editor of Car and Driver. "You're cradled in something that was really engineered to keep a human being where he belongs."

Mercedes-Benz motor cars: from $23,245 to $4,065

You may be able to afford a Mercedes-Benz without knowing it. Below are suggested retail prices* for 7 of the 15 Mercedes-Benz models.

600 Grand Mercedes	$23,245
300SE Coupe	11,737
230SL Roadster	6,262
230S Sedan	4,900
230 Sedan	4,250
200 Diesel Sedan	4,280
200 Sedan	4,065

11. You can go buy a new suit with the money you won't spend on premium-quality tires for your Mercedes-Benz 230S. They're mounted at the factory as standard equipment. And every wheel is balanced—even the spare.

12. You need never crack open a window to enjoy constant fresh-air ventilation. Air is drawn into the Mercedes-Benz 230S through a scoop on the hood. Stale air is exhausted through ducts behind the rear side windows.

Ingenious little valves, at either end of the instrument panel, blow warm air to the side windows for defrosting in cold weather. In muggy weather, you can adjust them with a fingertip for a stream of cooling air.

13. The engine and front suspension of the Mercedes-Benz 230S are mounted on a separate subframe that can be quickly removed, like a drawer, for major servicing.

14. At the proving ground, Mercedes-Benz engineers fire cars from rocket sleds to simulate head-on 65 mph collisions. Such tests have shown that doors stay closed and the passenger compartment stays intact.

The body of the Mercedes-Benz 230S is designed to fold at the front and rear under heavy impact: crash tests show that shock in the passenger area is reduced to one tenth of the amount recorded at the front bumper.

Mercedes-Benz cars enjoy a reputation as the world's safest passenger cars.

15. The Mercedes-Benz 230S repels status seekers. It is no bigger than it needs to be, and no more decorated than an efficient machine should be. All that is left is an automobile. Mercedes-Benz believes this is enough.

See for yourself

As your Mercedes-Benz dealer, we'll be glad to arrange a thorough demonstration drive in a 230S or other Mercedes-Benz model. You'll find it a remarkable experience to drive a car built to be the best—not the best seller.

JOHN NANCE GARNER AT 97

Tully Garner (right) the only son of former vice president John Nance Garner, greets his father last night on the eve of the elder Garner's 97th birthday. They chatted while seated beneath the huge oak trees that surround Garner's modest frame cottage in Uvalde, Tex. Garner began his political career with election as Uvalde County judge when Grover Cleveland was president. He was vice president under Franklin D. Roosevelt for two terms, but broke with the president in 1940 and took a train to Texas, never to return to Washington. (AP Wirephoto)

Drinking Scandal Figure Arrested In Dope Case

By RAY GIRARD

DARIEN, Conn., (AP) — Nine young persons, including Michael J. Smith, a key figure in a teen-age drinking scandal that shook this fashionable city a year ago, are free on bond today on narcotics charges.

Smith, 20, and eight friends were arrested yesterday in a predawn police raid on Smith's apartment. Eight were charged with violating the state narcotics act, and freed on bonds of $3,000 to $5,000.

The other, a 15-year-old girl whose name was withheld, was released in custody of her parents and will be referred to juvenile authorities.

Police said a "quantity of a substance believed to be marijuana" was found in the apartment shared by Smith and Jack White, 19.

Thirteen months ago, four socially prominent Darien couples and several other adults were arrested on charges of serving liquor to minors at private parties.

The charges resulted from reported drinking at coming-out parties for two debutantes and the death of an Eastern Air Lines executive's daughter, Nancy Hitchings, 17, in an automobile accident after the parties.

Smith was convicted of negligent homicide in the death of Miss Hitchings. He has an appeal pending.

During Smith's trial, Circuit Judge Rodney S. Eielson ordered the arrests of the adults involved in the parties.

A psychiatrist and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. George Hughes, appealed to the State Supreme Court their $500 fines on the charge of serving liquor to minors. The court declined to review their cases.

The others convicted did not appeal. Charges against five of the 13, including two caterers and a bartender, eventually were dropped.

Acting Police Chief Hugh McManus declined to say how yesterday's raid took place, except to say that the officers had search warrants, and that the raid was "a planned affair."

Among those arrested was Glenn Carter, 20, of neighboring New Canaan. Carter had testified as a prosecution witness in Smith's trial last year.

Carter said that he and some friends were visiting Smith and White. He said none of the six boys or three girls present had marihuana on his person, as far as he knew.

Besides Smith, White and Carter, others at the apartment were Thomas Alpert, 19, and William Weir, 20, Darien; Allen G. Lanier, 19, New York City; and Marilynn Zodda, 16, and Judy Melfi, 19, Darien, police said.

More than one-third of all highway accidents occur at the weekend.

Because of narrow streets, Sienna, Italy, has banned auto traffic in the center of town.

Novato Planners To Meet On 'Gasoline Crossroads'

The Novato Planning Commission will consider a "gasoline crossroads" in San Marin when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

Harker Development Corp. seeks permits for three service stations on three corners of the intersection of San Marin Drive and San Andreas Drive. These are for Shell Oil Co. on the northeast corner; Texaco Inc. on the southeast corner and Humble Oil Co. on the southwest corner.

The same company wants to start a neighborhood market on the lot south of the Humble Oil Co. station.

Other items to come before the planning commission include the Baimar Corp. plans for the crossroads manor, a 25-acre portion of the Scottsdale development; grading plans of Marin Oaks Development Co. for 34 acres at the end of Montura Way off Ignacio Boulevard, and the splitting of a 17,500-square foot lot on Olive Avenue, west of the Olive School, into two lots for Edward Jurkowski.

Woman Becomes Ill, Is Hospitalized

Mrs. Anna Niederholzer, 80, of San Francisco, was given resuscitation by the San Rafael Fire Department at 7:45 p.m. yesterday after she apparently suffered a heart attack at the home of James Finn, 281 Knight Drive, San Rafael.

She was reported in satisfactory condition today in San Rafael General Hospital.

Overdose Reported

Mrs. Margaret A. Zimmerman, 43, of 318 Los Cerros Drive, Greenbrae, was listed in good condition in hte General Hospital today after being admitted Saturday suffering from an overdose of tranquilizer pills. She was expected to be discharged from the hospital today, said a spokesman.

United Republicans Remain Conservative

FRESNO (UPI)—The United Republicans of California (UROC) left no doubt today that it intends to pursue its course as the conservative branch of the Republican party.

At a special statewide convention yesterday, about 800 delegates from 482 UROC units rejected an attempt to shift the 10,000 member orgaization toward more moderate positions of the Republican state central committee.

The move came on a proposed by laws amendment which would have put UROC members behind the "principles of the Republican party of California" instead of the "principles of Republicanism" as the by-laws read.

The proposed amendment was defeated on a standing vote in the only heated dispute of the two-day convention.

Craig Bull, the state vice president from Orinda, was loudly booed when he argued that UROC cannot be a "splinter group" from the rest of the Republican party. He appealed to the delegates to approve the amendment and bring UROC's views more in line with the rest of the Republican party of California.

Mrs. Lucille Hosmer, San Carlos, also appealed to the delegates to "stop trying to separate UROC from the other elements of the Republican party."

But opponents of the amendment countered that principles of the rest of the party can and do change according to the party platform and the fundamental conservative principles held by UROC remain unchanged since the founding in May, 1963.

Bull told newsmen after the amendment that the influence of the John Birch Society was felt in the vote that defeated the amendment.

"There was a John Birch Society element among the dissidents," he said, "but I wouldn't restrict it to them alone. The amendment failed because we didn't have enough people on the floor to pass it."

Presbyterians Are Asked To Stop Having Children

LOMITA (AP) — A Presbyterian minister says Presbyterians should stop having children to help solve the world's overpopulation problem.

"...As Christians," said the Rev. Eldon Durham, father of four, "...as Presbyterians we should cease having children of our own and begin to constitute families by means of adopting the unwanted, the disinherited, the dispised and rejected children..."

"Sex," added the 53-year-old minister in his sermon Sunday at St. Mark's Church, "is for pleasure as well as procreation."

For years, said the pastor, people have been asking why don't the Indians, or the Catholics, do something about the population problem.

"I am simply proposing that Presbyterians do something about it," he said.

His proposal, he said, would only be small salve to the population problem, since Presbyterians number only 3.5 million of the United States' 200 million and the world's three billion population.

Woman Hospitalized After Car Is Hit

Flora L. Hallin, 73, of 306 Third Street, Sausalito, was held for observation in Marin General Hospital today after she complained of chest pains following an auto accident on Highway 101 near the Sausalito - Marin City turn-off last night.

Her husband, Edward Hallin, 75, was driving south in the slow lane when his car was struck from behind by a vehicle driven by Joseph P. Belle, 32, of 855 Rincon Way, San Rafael, the California Highway Patrol reported.

JOINS TOP TEN—Joel Singer has been added to the Federal Bureau of Investigation's list of 10 most wanted men. Singer has been charged with participation in the spectacular Brinks Inc. robbery in Syracuse last month in which thieves blasted a hole in a vault wall with a 20-millimeter cannon and fled with $424,000. He replaces William Albert Tahl on the list following Tahl's arrest earlier this month by police in St. Louis, Mo.

ACLU Leader Reviews Stand

During the past session of Congress, the American Civil Liberties Union found itself in the unusual position of testifying in favor of pending legislation, rather than against, the organization's national director, Lawrence Speizer, told Marin chapter members yesterday.

Speaking to about 40 persons at the Kentfield home of Dr. Sam Hanzel, Speizer said the one exception was the ACLU attack on the Dirksen Amendment, which would have allowed one house of a two-house state legislature to be apportioned other than by population.

Speizer said the change in emphasis was made mainly because the make-up of Congress this year has been of people sympathetic to organization stands.

U.S.-State Court Relations Center On Stuffed Turkey

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court celebrated Thanksgiving ahead of time today by churning out a 6,000 ord opinion in a frozen stuffed turkey case.

The issue: Is it legal for New York state to require, as it does, that a frozen turkey carry a label showing separately the weights of the fowl and the filler?

The 6-3 decision: That weighty issue, which involves federal-state relations, must be decided by the Federal Circuit Court in New York. Therefore that court will conduct further proceedings.

The 6,000-word majority opinion, well-stuffed with legal language on the powers of lower courts, was delivered by Justice John M. Harlan.

He said the real issue was whether a special three-judge federal court, a one-judge federal court, or the much larger U.S. Circuit Court, all in New York City, should have decided the question.

He tapped the big circuit court as the one to decide. At the same time he said it was not appropriate for the three-judge federal court to act on the issue.

Harlan said a 1962 decision in another case could not stand any longer. That decision was that a three-judge court properly could rule in cases where a constitutional issue is at stake and also in cases where there is an alleged conflict beteen federal and state regulations.

Money Taken

Loss of $10 in a burglary of the home of Edward P. Thorsell, 48 Morning Sun Avenue, Homestead Valley, has been reported by sheriff's deputies. Officers said entry was via an open bedroom window.

Nearly 4-million electric can openers were sold last year.

Widow Wins Suit On Fatal Fright

NEW YORK (AP)—A widow has been awarded $740,000 for loss of her husband, who died of a heart attack brought on by fright.

On May 7, 1958, in Whitestone, Queens, a car smashed through the front lawn of Salvatore Capossela, 53, and almost rammed into the house where he and his wife, Catherine, were sitting by a window.

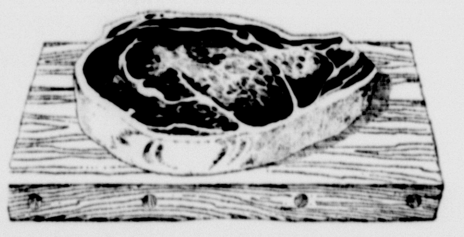
Going outside to talk to the driver, Capossela experienced pains in his arms and chest. Returning to the house, he collapsed and was dead 45 minutes later.

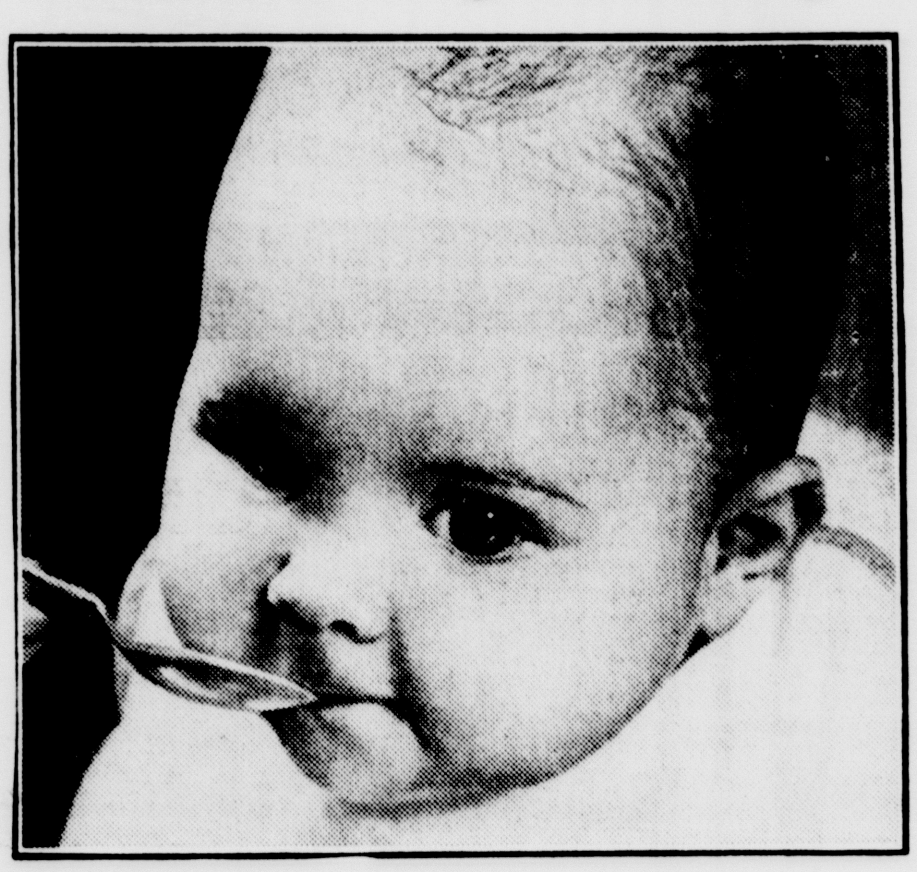
The award to the widow was made over the weekend by State Supreme Court Justice Nicholas M. Pette.

Water Tank Control Damaged By Vandals

Someone pried the lock off the Marin Municipal Water District water shed tank on Alto Hill Friday night, cutting mercury lines used to control flow of water into the tank.

District employee Ernest Roberts reported the vandalism at 3:15 p.m. Saturday, estimating damage at $300. He told police the act did not curb water supply to users in the Alto and Mill Valley area. The tank is on a fire trail off Corte Madera Grade.





Who has the extra-smooth texture in meats for your baby?

Gerber®...of course!

The smooth texture and moist consistency that make Gerber Strained Meats particularly palatable to your baby come from a special cooking process developed by Gerber and Armour.

Gerber Strained and Junior Meats are made from cuts carefully selected by Armour. Most of the fat is removed. Then, each meat is scientifically processed at the temperature and cooking time best suited to the individual type of meat.

This "custom-cooking" helps preserve nutritive values, and retains savory meat flavors that are sure to please your little one. But isn't that typical of the extra care you get—from a company that specializes in good things for baby?

Few Kennedy Men In White House

(EDITOR'S NOTE: President Johnson has completed two years as chief executive since the assassination of his predecessor, John F. Kennedy. UPI White House Reporter Merriman Smith describes Johnson's mood, condition and hopes for the future in the following dispatch.)

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UPI) — What happened in Dallas two years ago today is vividly remembered in President Johnson's White House, but the image of John F. Kennedy there is all but vanished.

On this anniversary of the assassination, there will be a respectful pause for Johnson's predecessor by the people who work for the President but all but a handful of those who knew Kennedy well have left.

For the most part, White House personnel, here and at the LBJ ranch in Texas, are occupied with getting the third year of the Johnson administration into high gear.

At the end of two years since Lyndon B. Johnson was thrust into the presidency, the White House has a full Texas flavor. The Irish mafia of the Kennedy days — Kenny O'Donnell, Pierre Salinger, Ted Sorenson, Dave Power, Ted Reardon—are gone.

Larry O'Brien, Kennedy's close political and congressional comrade, has moved out to become postmaster general. Harvardman Arthur Schlesinger has departed. Of the Kennedy inner council only McGeorge Bundy remains, and there has been speculation he may leave soon.

All of which means that as every president must, Johnson has put his own impress on the White House.

It was only a year ago this month that the Texan was elected to the presidency in his own right by an overwhelming margin. Until then, he had operated to a great extent under the shadow of the Kennedy image.

At the two-year milestone of his presidency, there is now no question of his mandate. The acceptance and approval of the American people of his conduct in office is staggeringly high. He has a Congress that in all but a few instances is quick to his bidding. The non-Communist world looks to his leadership.

Physically, he is convalescing from surgery that removed a gall bladder and kidney stone. But from all available evidence, his health is basically good and he is showing signs of bounce in his recuperation.

There is no question he will need stamina—physical and political — in the year ahead.

The steadily mounting pressures on the United States and the White House from the Viet Nam will occupy his every skill and ounce of patience. Unless there is a sudden break in the conflict, the burden of responsibility will be with Johnson every waking hour.

And 1966 is a political year. Johnson is expected to plunge full tilt into the campaigning for the Democratic congress he wants to carry out the rest of his Great Society legislative program.

To top it off, the President is expected in the months ahead to devote himself more than before to personal diplomacy. On his schedule is the visit next week of West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard to be followed later by meetings with the leaders of India and Pakistan.

There are also strong prospects that Johnson may commit himself to travels abroad next year.

In two years, the proud and sensitive Texan has achieved an effective blending of his public and private life. To a close observer, he not only likes the job—he devours it, lives it and relishes it even more so than his younger predecessor.

He likes to get down to his Texas ranch often and sometimes frets about the demands and limitations that confine him in the White House.

But even when relaxing on his ranch on the Pedernales River, Johnson never really leaves work.

He can be bouncing along a rocky hill road in his car, miles from the cares of state. Almost by impulse, he will pick up a microphone from under the dashboard and begin conferring with a staff aide. There's no waiting a minute or so, no waiting for an operator to place a call. It's a matter of picking up that microphone and let's get this business settled.

Kennedy Shooting Site To Have Plaza, Mark

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The spot where President John F. Kennedy was assassinated two years ago today is marked, so far, only by flowers and objects left by hundreds of visitors.

Next year, however, the City of Dallas plans to complete two memorials. One will be a 30-foot marker costing $20,000. The other will be a new plaza a block north of the assassination site.

The visitors come from all over America and from many foreign countries.

As the flowers they leave wither, the city has them taken away to be preserved in a cedar-paneled storeroom.

The flower wreaths number in the hundreds now. The stored collection includes many flags, plastic crosses and Bibles.

A large wooden chest contains the notepaper, postcards, and paper sacks on which visitors wrote about the feelings they experienced at the assassination site.

On the back of a Japanese fan, a Tokyo visitor wrote: "I loved you. I admire you forever. I will not be able to forget you. Your image will not die."

Two Michigan families signed a note that read: "We came a long way from Michigan to pay tribute to our late president Kennedy. May he rest in peace."

Within six months, Dallas city park director, L. B. Houston, hopes to unveil the marker memorial, consisting of three bronze panels set in native red granite, and containing a description of the tragedy using words and maps from the Warren Commission report.

The marker will be paid for from park department funds. It will be about 200 feet from the spot where the president was shot. Visitors will be able to glance up at the orange-brick Texas School Book Depository building from which Lee Harvey Oswald fired his rifle.

The plaza north of the assassination site will be known as Kennedy Memorial Plaza. It will contain a modest and dignified memorial in keeping with Mrs. Kennedy's wishes.

County buildings now on the site will be razed. Officials say the plaza should be completed by late 1966.

Youth Cited In Shoe Theft

Corte Madera police cited two 12-year-old Larkspur boys for petty theft Saturday afternoon after they admitted stealing two $15 pairs of shoes from the Montgomery Ward and Co. store in the Corte Madera Shopping Center.

The boys told police a friend promised to pay them $2 for each pair of shoes they brought him.

Security guard Ronald J. Guerra stopped them and called police.

THE WINNER

Well, sports fans, it's all over but the shouting and we're delighted to have made our point: Money Does So Grow On Trees. It has now been proven. D. E. Simonds of 23 La Cuesta, San Rafael, has won the thousand dollar first prize and Laura Alumbaugh of 267 Orris Terrace, Terra Linda, the one hundred dollar second prize and right smart dreamers they be, as can plainly be seen by their entries. It all goes to show that one pretty good way of getting rich fast is to hope real hard . . . and we approve of it. Of course, at Redwood National Bank we like to think we've some other ways of moving the old bank account size to a somewhat greater proportion by the rules of sound banking management and some of the new services a young vigorous team of bankers can perform. Charge-free checking accounts which maintain $200 is one way, a unique bank-by-mail program is another, the highest allowable savings interest rates is a third (up to 4½% for Savings Certificates) and we've some dynamic officers who can fill you in on the latest in whatever your financial needs call for. So, until the next money-tree contest it's back to the old grind and as we've been saying right along, we've been growing a pretty good looking money tree of our own for some three years now; our symbolic redwood. If you haven't had a close look at it yet, please come in and see what we mean.

California's Freeway Needs Are A Big Slice Of Nation's

WASHINGTON (AP)—California, allocated 5.28 per cent of the mileage in the nation's interstate highway system, has nearly 10 per cent of all the work remaining to complete the system throughout the country.

When highway planners in 1956 mapped the system of superhighways for which Congress authorized a 90 per cent federal contribution, 2,166 miles fell within California.

As of Sept. 30, California had opened 983.1 miles to traffic, had work under way on 1,179.4 miles, had 3.4 miles — represented by the San Francisco freeway — in the category of "preliminary or no work."

Of the interstate highway opened to traffic in the state, 632.4 miles is considered fully completed and 337.1 miles is classified as adequate for present traffic but still needing some work to bring it up to final standards. Another 13.6 miles was in toll roads.

Of the 1,179.4 miles under way, 304.1 miles as under construction and 875.3 miles on which engineering and right of way acquisition had begun.

The total cost of California interstate highway completed between July 1, 1956 and Sept. 30, 1965, was $1,022,200,000 of which the federal share was $889.8 million. The total cost of contracts under way or authorized was $1,204,500,000 with a federal share of $1,085,800,000.

As of Jan. 1, 1964, the Bureau of Public Roads reported to Congress that California required construction money totaling $1,966,169,000 to complete the interstate system within the state. Of this, the federal share was estimated at $1,799,438,000, or 9.787 per cent of the remaining total cost of the system throughout the country.

California's apportionment for the 12 months beginning next July 1 as $289,205,850, nearly 10 per cent of the $3 billion available throughout the nation.

The interstate highway act requires that all work on the 51,000-mile system be completed by Oct. 1, 1972.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, following a conference this week with Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor, said he was turned down on his proposal that federal funds earmarked for the San Francisco freeway be reallocated to the Century freeway in Los Angeles if a route dispute in San Francisco is not settled promptly.

California, he said, will lose $270 million of federal funds if San Francisco doesn't immediately agree on a route and get work started in time to meet the 1972 completion deadline.

A bureau of public roads spokesman confirmed Saturday that general policy at present is not to transfer interstate highway allocations from one project to another, but to let it lapse if it cannot be used.

The administration has proposed a five-month extension of the October 1972 deadline for completion of the roads and a five-month extension of the special taxes to raise about half the needed $3 billion.

United Crusade To Fete Backers With Luncheon

Thirty-two Marin County employee groups will be honored tomorrow for their support of the United Crusade.

The groups will receive the crusade Honor Plaque at a luncheon starting at noon at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel in San Francisco.

More than 100 other Marin groups will be given merit awards and certificates of achievement at the luncheon for increasing their voluntary support over the 1964 campaign.

Marin United Crusade chairman John D. LaNoue will make a final tabulation of receipts in the 1965 drive.

Incorporation Filed By Publishing Firm

The Pacific Sun Publishing Co., Inc., of Tamalpais Valley, has been filed as a corporation at the Sacramento office of Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan.

Directors of the new corporation, which publishes the weekly Pacific Sun, are Merril and Joann Grohman of 166 Bayview Drive, Tamalpais Valley, and Lambert Bergman of Palo Alto.

Liquor Fees Shared

Marin County has received $38,052 as its share of liquor license fees paid in the county. The money was allocated among the county government and the cities from which licenses were paid. The payment to San Rafael was $9,203.

Byrd Selected To Head Alumni

Emerson E. Byrd of San Anselmo, 1956 graduate of the College of Marin, has been elected president of the College of Marin Alumni Assn.

John R. Kunst and George V. Oliva, both of San Rafael, were elected vice president and treasurer, respectively. The officers' terms are for the 1965-66 school year.

The association also elected the three new members of its board of directors: Margaret Deedy of Ross, Richard Nave of San Rafael, and Judy Smith of Kentfield. Continuing board members are Donald Anderson of San Rafael, Marc Mezzetta of Corte Madera, Donald Presco of San Rafael, and Joseph D. Gargiulo of Novato.

Hydronephrosis Lectures From Yugoslavia To Iraq

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

A chapter on hydronephrosis proved the magic carpet that whisked a San Rafael doctor (at his own expense) to Yugoslavia and the Mid-East.

And if the magic carpet needed the help of jet planes to get him there, it turned into a plush red carpet to welcome him at such unlikely sounding places as Novi Sad, Yugoslavia, and Beirut, Lebanon.

The chapter is entitled "Surgical Corretcion of Hydronephrosis" and appeared in the second edition of "Campbell Urology," which is to urologists something like Blackstone used to be to lawyers.

It was written by Dr. William R. Smart of 75 Oakmont Avenue, San Rafael.

As a result of it, he received invitations to lecture in Yugoslavia, Iraq, Egypt and Lebanon — a tour from which he has just returned.

Dr. Smart regarded the trip as a goodwill mission for the United States "to some countries where we may not be regarded too highly." The State Department, however, snubbed his suggestion that it might pick up part of the expense tab; so Dr. Smart went on his own, combining lecturing and performing operations with a pleasure trip for himself and Mrs. Smart, who "celebrated" their 25th wedding anniversary in the air someplace between Beirut and Bangkok.

He was impressed not only by the warm welcome accorded him at every stop, but also by the fact that doctors in Iraq, Lebanon and Eygpt all speak English and write their medical papers in English. "It was only in Yugoslavia that I needed an interpreter," he reported.

Hydronephrosis may not sound like anything that would produce invitations from halfway around the world. It is, however, a very serious and not-uncommon ailment, and one which can very often be corrected by surgery.

Dr. Smart describes it as "progressive swelling of the kidney from an obstruction in the uretral-pelvic juncture where urine passes from the kidney to the ureter." The operations to correct it are called pyeloplasties or ureteropelviolasties.

Two of such operations were devised by Dr. Fred Foley of University of Minnesota, under whose tutelage Dr. Smart came when a resident at University of California Medical Center in San Francisco (where he is now associate professor). Dr. Smart has added five more.

Each is designed to rearrange tissue to open the passage into the ureter, thus freeing poisons from the kidney and restoring it to normal functioning. Dr. Smart calls this "corrective plastic surgery."

He demonstrated it with three operations each at Alexandria and Beirut during his tour (among some 125 such operations which he has performed). He also lectured to doctors at Belgrade, Novi Sad and Zagreb, Yugoslavia; Baghdad, Iraq; Alexandria, Egypt; and Beirut, Lebanon. In Yugoslavia, he had an interpreter who "could translate my talk into their language as fast as I gave it in English, and accurately," he said. In the other countries, the doctors understood his English (at Beirut, one doctor criticized his American freedom with the King's English).

"I think every urologist in the four countries heard me," Dr. Smart reported. "About 150 watched the operations."

DR. WILLIAM R. SMART
Hydronephrosis: magic carpet

He spoke also to annual meetings of medical societies in the four countries (some of which adjusted their schedules to make possible his appearance), and met with doctors in small groups.

The Marin urologist found the best-educated doctors in Yugoslavia and Lebanon, and the finest equipment in Belgrade and at the American University Hospital in Beirut.

He noted with interest the large number of young women entering the medical profession in the four countries, all of which have socialized medicine.

Much of the credit for the advance of urological knowledge among Yugoslav doctors he credited to Dr. Sava Petkovic, president of the Yugoslav Assn. of Urology (Udruzenje Urdga Jugoslavie) and professor of urology at University of Belgrade. Dr. Petrovic extended the invitation that drew Smart to Yugoslavia, which he had visited last year for the International Congress of Surgeons.

The Yugoslav doctors are all trained in their home country, he reported, although some go to England or France or come to the U.S.A. for additional training after graduation. He termed their education excellent.

"Lebanon is as high in urology and general practice of medicine as anywhere I went," said Smart. Many of the doctors there are American-trained.

Egypt (now part of the United Arab Republic) is "trying desperately to improve, but has not caught up," he said. Research facilities there are very limited.

Iraq is the most backward of the four countries in the practice of medicine, Dr. Smart believes, and he has a partial explanation: Iraqi doctors are British-trained or trained in their own country on the British plan. This calls for residence in surgery, with any other specialization being taken up after starting practice — in contrast to the American system of residency in whatever specialty the doctor plans to follow.

"An Iraqi doctor told me, 'we have the greatest taker-outers in the world," said Dr. Smart.

The Marinite noted one striking difference in hospital facilities here and in the countries he visited: "They have excellent hospitals in the big cities, but nowhere in a suburban area do you find a hospital to compare with Marin General here."

Wallace Rites In The Midwest

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Final public rites were planned at St. Paul's Episcopal Church here today for former Vice President Henry A. Wallace, 77, who died Thursday.

A native Iowan, Wallace died in a Danbury, Conn., hospital where he was taken from his home in South Salem, N.Y. A brief funeral service was conducted Saturday at Ridgefield, Conn., and the body was taken to Bridgeport, Conn., for cremation.

Wallace's ashes will be buried here Tuesday in a private service.

Tiburon Use Permit Goes To Council

The Tiburon City Council, meeting at 8 p.m. today at Del Mar School, is expected to grant a use permit to Belvedere Land Co. for a 1,200-square-foot addition to the post office building.

The addition will be used as temporary quarters for city offices and the Tiburon sheriff's substation.

The council will consider a demand from the Tiburon Sanitary District for repayment of $1,700 the district has spent on engineering studies on a Tiburon Boulevard flood control district. The sanitary district claims the city has been too slow in forming the flood control district.

The council is also expected to adopt an ordinance placing a one-year time limit on use permits.

Surgery Revealed On Admiral Nimitz

OAKLAND (AP)—Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, 80, is recuperating from a minor back operation of two weeks ago.

A Navy spokesman said Saurday the operation was kept secret at the request of Nimitz' family because the last time he was hospitalized he got so many get-well telegrams, letters and cards that it took the admiral longer to answer them than to recover.

County Experiments In Welfare For Aged

Friends and family, ministers and neighbors are being alerted to help Marin County Department of Social Services make a success of a two-year experiment aimed at removing obstacles in the administration of welfare services to the elderly.

"If anyone knows of an elderly person who genuinely needs the help of a social worker, a call to us will get a prompt response," says director Betty L. Presley.

"People in a community can help us to insure no one fails to get the assistance of a social worker owing to the change in procedure," she adds.

Until the experiment started Nov. 15, each applicant was checked for truth by a social worker. Now, affidavits filed by applicants are subject only to spot checks, and social workers are free to do work where it is needed.

Although some people receiving old-age security will have a social worker assigned to them, the great majority will get no help unless they ask for it, or someone applies on their behalf.

"That is where a person's friends and neighbors come in," states Miss Presley. "We are asking that they be alert to any situation of concern about an elderly person's welfare and contact us promptly."

Scouts' Gifts Bring Bear Rug

ARBUCKLE (AP) — A polar bear rug graces the Butte Area Council office of the Boy Scouts, thanks to gifts they and others made to crippled children in Alaska.

Scouts, ranchers and others in this area sent 2,000 pounds of pink beans, 2,000 pounds of lima beans, 1,500 pounds of walnuts and 100 pounds of almond meats to the Anchorage chapter of the Alaska Crippled Children's Assn.

The vegetables were sold by the Gilded Cage, an association store, and money turned over to the association.

Alaskans later sent the bear rug to Fritz Erdman, a Colusa rancher who sent 40,000 pounds of rice. Yesterday Erdman turned the rug over to John W. McConnell, scout executive.

County Will Try To Sell Excess Land

Bids will be opened at 10 a.m. tomorrow by Marin County Supervisors on six parcels of land declared surplus after right of way acquisitions for the Coyote Creek Flood control project.

Five of the parcels are near Flamingo Road, north of Tennessee Valley Road. The sixth is on Maple Street south of Highway 1.

Largest is a 108-by-92 foot parcel fronting on Cardinal Road off Flamingo. There is another smaller piece on Cardinal, two triangular pieces and a small strip on Flamingo. The piece on Maple is 50 by 155 feet.

The only legal building lot is the large one on Cardinal Road. The others would have to be added to adjacent property to provide a usable lot for a residence.

Kidnap Suspect Turns Self In

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—A 34-year-old Tacoma carpenter is being held in connection with the kidnaping of Charles Hyde III, Sheriff Jack Berry said Saturday.

Berry identified the man held as Tilford G. Baker. The sheriff said two other men are believed to have been involved.

The sheriff said Baker turned himself in to the sheriff shortly before 4 a.m. today and asked to give a statement to Berry regarding the kidnaping.

Report On Nuclear Arms Route Bared

NEW YORK (AP) — Reports that the Defense Department might be moving nuclear weapons through the city at night has caused some apprehension among officials.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner showed his concern yesterday when he released a report from his Technical Advisory Committee on Radiation.

"Upon several recent occasions," the report said, "the fire department has been requested to escort truck convoys reportedly carrying nuclear weapons through the city at night."

Such shipments could be going to nearby military bases or to piers for shipment overseas.

The report said repeated inquiries to the Department of Defense had been fruitless, "probably because of security reasons."

The committee, headed by Prof. Harold H. Rossi of Columbia University assured Wagner, however; that the city was "adequately protected from excess or unwarranted exposure to radiation and from the risks of peacetime nuclear disaster."

'Amigos' Group Discussion Set

Flora Mancebo and Richard Bac will talk of their experiences with Amigos Anonymous, the summer Mexican aid program at the next forum sponsored by the Junior Service Honorary at Terra Linda High School.

The session will be Dec. 13.

In January, Margaret Freedman will talk about her travels in Europe.

The Junior Services Honorary's first program was a discussion of the war in Viet Nam last month.

Times Says Weapons In Germany

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times has reported that U.S. nuclear warheads have been mounted secretly on planes and missiles of West Germany and other members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

A Washington dispatch in the Sunday Times also said the warheads had been in place for more than six years, although they remain in U.S. custody.

The Defense Department declined comment. It said it is department policy never to discuss the location or operations of nuclear weapons.

The Times story said the warheads are controlled by Americans "through a combination of physical and electronic controls" and cannot be used without U.S. approval.

Four Negro Homes Bombed In Charlotte

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — The homes of four Negro civil rights leaders, including the state president of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, were rocked by explosions early today, but no one was injured.

Chief of Police John S. Hord said the homes of Kelly Alexander, state president of the NAACP, and of his brother, Fred Alexander, were the most seriously damaged.

Blasts also occurred at the home of Dr. Reginald Hawkins, a dentist and militant civil rights leader, and the home of Julius Chambers, a young attorney who had handled many suits in behalf of Negro groups.

Hord, who arrived in the area 30 minutes after the blasts, said that in his opinion "it was a well-organized group.

"I'll guarantee you it was people who knew what they were doing. Whoever it was knew explosives and they knew the sections and how to get in and get out quickly."

In Raleigh, Gov. Dan Moore offered Charlotte officials the "full resources of our state investigative and law enforcement agencies."

Mayor Stan Brookshire of Charlotte said:

"These bombings are most unfortunate and uncalled for. Our whole city is shocked."

The Federal Bureau of Investigation joined the investigation of the blasts, which occurred at the four homes on Charlotte's West Side about 2:30 a.m.

State Growth Mark Forecast

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The nation's most populated state will begin pushing the 20 million mark by mid-1967.

That's the word from the State Department of Finance in its 1965 population report, released Saturday.

The state's population at mid-1965 was 18,756,000, the report said, an increase of 3 per cent over the previous year.

The department's Financial and Population Research Section said that by mid-1967 the population boom will reach an estimated 19,907,000.

The report said:

Public school enrollment has increased more than 40 per cent since the 1960 census.

The density of population in the state has increased by nearly 20 persons per square mile since 1960 with the City of San Francisco at the top of the density ranking.

New Boys' Clothing Found Near School

Packages containing 228 pairs of new boys' socks have been found alongside a creek near Bernard Hoffman School in Terra Linda, sheriff's officers said today.

John J. Weber, school employee, told deputies he found the socks, along with nine pairs of boys' pants and nine boys' shirts, while working on the school grounds. Officers said an invoice with the name, W. T. Grant Co., Corte Madera, was found among the items. Corte Madera police were notified to ascertain if the items were stolen.

Pools Lack Permit, Granted Variances

Marin County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill today granted variances for two pool decks built by Blue Haven Pools of San Rafael without permit.

The deck at the Franklin Lam home at 568 Shoreline Highway, Tamalpais Valley, protruded 19 feet into the 25-foot front yard setback. That pool deck at the Ronald Tennler home at 122 Bretano Way, Greenbrae, projected three feet into the seven-foot side set setback.

A five-megaton nuclear blast at ground level most likely would destroy buildings two miles from the point of explosion, defense officials say.

Marin Supervisors To Face Old Items

Marin County supervisors tomorrow will again debate several items that have been before them for sometime, including the future of the County Courthouse property, a center for older adults at the Civic Center and a dump in Corte Madera.

The board meeting will begin at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center. Supervisors are scheduled to hold a luncheon session with San Rafael city councilmen on the courthouse. In the morning, the board is expected to act on a contract with a market analyst on the property.

The Marin Senior Coordinating Council has asked that the board extend a lease for an activity center for seniors beyond next May.

Hearing on the proposed county dump on 100 acres on the south side of Corte Madera Creek has been set for 8 p.m. tomorrow. The dump operation would fill the land above tidal level. After 10 years, it would be converted to a municipal golf course.

The dump proposal has been protested by several residents in the area, and supervisors agreed on the public hearing before making any decision.

The county dump in Larkspur was closed last month, the filling operation there having gone to capacity.

State Reopens Study Of Redwood Highways

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The California Highway Commission has voted to reopen consideration of freeway routings for Jedediah Smith State Park in the Humboldt redwood region and to give further consideration to a route in the Prairie Creek Redwoods state parks.

Both routings have caused considerable controversy. The commission adopted a resolution directing the division of highways to carry on the studies.

In the case of Jedediah Smith, a routing was adopted more than a year ago with the blessing of the division of beaches and parks — in fact, the route adopted was better than the division had expected. However, since then the park commission has asked that purchase of rights of way for the route be halted until further studies are made.

The Prairie Creek routing has been under dispute for several years.

Robert B. Bradford, commission chairman and administrator of the transportation agency, said new legislation adopted in 1965 makes it possible for the commission to restudy the routes. The new law removed a requirement that freeways be built along the most direct and practical routes.

The commission resolution draws attention to the desirability of conserving the beauty of the state's natural resources, as well as providing safe and modern transportation capable of enhancing economic development.

The commission action suspends all action on the route adopted through Jedediah Smith in December, 1963. No route affecting Prairie Creek has been adopted as yet.

Bradford said the further studies will not result in any delays in ultimate freeway construction as no funds for highways in either park are included in the next budget.

Car Hits Poles, Driver Injured

John E. Young, 23, of 3603 Chileno Valley Road, suffered cuts of the nose, lip and forehead when his car struck two poles along Chinelo Valley Road, six-tenths of a mile west of Marshall - Petaluma Road at 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

Young's car sheared off a small pole and then struck a power pole after failing to negotiate a curve, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Young was treated at Hillcrest Hospital in Petaluma.

Girl Cut In Walk Through Window

Christy Periman, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Periman, 17 Joan Avenue, Novato, suffered cuts of both wrists, shoulder and face when she walked through a plate glass window at Nave Lanes, Ignacio, at 5:53 p.m. Saturday, the Marin County sheriff's office reported.

Christy was outside and was going into the building when she walked through the six-by-12 window, deputies reported. She was treated at Novato General Hospital.

State Employees Seek $35 Million Pay Boost

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The California State Employees' Assn. has urged the state personnel board to recommend salary increases for the 1966-67 year that would cost the state's general fund about $35 million.

Salary increases usually require substantial appropriations from special funds as well as the general fund.

Robert H. Sharpe, CSEA attorney, said the proposed salary increase would permit "justified" increases of 10 per cent for the lower paid classifications in the prisons, hospitals, police classes, teachers, building trades classes, social workers and conservation classes.

Others would receive a 5 per cent increase, all as of next July 1.

In addition, LeRoy Littlejohn, newly elected president of CSEA, asked the board to approve a 2.5 per cent pay increase for clerical employees not later Jan. 1, 1966. The clerical classes missed out on half the last pay raise.

"Clerical employees received only half the increase granted other state employees last July," Littlejohn said. "By any and all standards of comparison or justification, they are entitled to this overdue adjustment at the earliest possible time."

Littlejohn said the clerical pay increase could be financed from unallocated salary funds in the present budget.

The personnel board annually recommends to the governor in December its plans for increasing state salaries, to keep them in line with similar work in private industry.

No silver dollars have been minted since 1935 and none are expected to be produced for at least five years.

Salaries Again On Agenda

San Rafael Board of Education tomorrow will consider recommendations on teachers' salaries resulting from last week's joint meeting with the newly formed teachers negotiating council.

The board will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the administration building, Third and E streets.

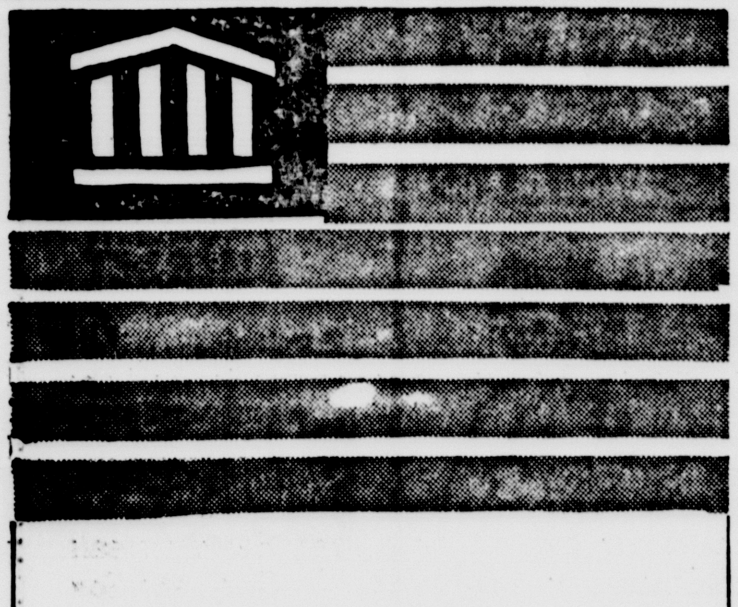
Although little indication was given at the joint meeting on action to be taken tomorrow, members may be asked to vote on a retroactive pay hike.

Teachers asked for a five per cent pay hike in the spring, but the board reduced this to 3.2 per cent at its budget sessions.

At the joint meeting last Thursday, F. Ewing Bone, chairman of the negotiating council, said faculty morale "is currently low and continuing to deteriorate."

Supt. Bert C. Corona put forward several proposals at the last reguler meeting of the board Nov. 9.

One was that a retroactive pay hike be granted to bridge the gap between the 3.2 per cent and the five per cent figures. This would cost $27,000 each for the high school and elementary district, he said.



It's our problem...
the colleges have it

It concerns us all if the colleges are turning away qualified applicants—and for lack of room this is happening more and more frequently.

We urgently need college-educated leaders—all we can get. They, in the aggregate, manage our resources, manpower and human skills.

A loss in leadership would slow down our economic growth. It would threaten jobs, opportunities and our standard of living.

The colleges are doing their best, but there are shortages in classrooms, facilities and teachers.

It's everybody's problem—and it's urgent. Give to the college of your choice.

College is America's best friend

Holiday Mail Tips Given By Postmaster

"Put zip into your Christmas mailing and get it away early" is the advice of Marin County postmasters, expecting another bumper crop of mail this year.

Said Warren H. Williams, San Rafael postmaster, "With the cooperation of the public, we expect to handle an even greater volume of mail with less effort than during the 1964 Christmas rush."

He offered this advice to mailers:

1. Up-date last year's address list and include zip codes.
2. Prepare a gift list as soon as possible and be sure to have enough shipping materials on hand.
3. Use first class postage on greeting cards to insure forwarding or returning if undelivered, providing a return address is on the envelope.
4. Be sure cartons are packed tightly by filling empty spaces with stuffing material. Every parcel should have a slip enclosed with the name and address of the sender, the addressee and a list of the contents in the event the exterior wrapper comes off.
5. Address all letters, cards and packages as clearly as possible and mail early and often, instead of at the last minute.

The use of the zip code, said Williams, will speed up the handling of Christmas mail.

Starting Dec. 6, all Marin post offices will remain open until 5:30 p.m. each night, including Saturdays.

Indicators Show Business Decline

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Three key business indicators—factory orders for durable goods, personal income and housing starts—all declined in October.

However, government officials said there were explanations for the first two: A lull in defense buying and the fact that personal income had spurted in September because of payment of lump-sum retroactive Social Security benefits.

Council To Meet

The Fairfax City Council, in an adjourned meeting at 8 p.m. today at the Fairfax Women's Club, will again take up a proposed park and recreation agreement with the Fairfax School District, and will discuss a resolution on the nation's role in Viet Nam.

WE SEW SEATS

Car seats. With split seams.

For example . . . the little VW is a mighty fine car. It's put together by strong mechanics. They have contests to see who can tighten the bolts best. They never come apart.

Except at the seams. We sew them up. With dacron thread. And they never come apart!

(Sam, incidentally, pioneered the use of dacron thread in the automotive field in Marin. Just one of our many firsts.)

We sew seams for Fords, Chevs. and Plymouths, TRs, MGAs, and Alfas. And many more, too.

We also install seat covers, auto glass and convertible tops, carpets, headrests and armrests. And many more.

Stop in today and show us your seam problem. Or seat cover problem. Or glass breakage.

We'll be happy to see you!

Southern Favorite— Sweet Potato Pie

If your family has never tasted sweet potatoes prepared in a dessert, they have a pleasant treat in store with this delectable Lemony Sweet Potato Pie.

Sweet potato pie originated in the South and is a cousin to the New England squash pie. It's very similar in texture, flavor and appearance to the popular pumpkin pie.

WHY NOT PLAY a little game with those seated at your table: Have them guess the main ingredient. Most will assume it is pumpkin. But when you reveal the presence of sweet potatoes, you'll draw many a compliment for your ingenuity. Meanwhile, you'll be satisfying requests for seconds on the delicious slices.

Sweet potato pies can be baked in several ways. This recipe gives a slight variation to the original, by the addition of lemon juice and chopped pecans. Serve it warm or cold crowned with whipped cream or butter pecan ice cream.

The use of canned sweet potatoes and convenient bottled lemon juice helps cut your preparation time. You can also purchase pecans already chopped and use a packaged pie crust mix.

Sweet potatoes are especially plentiful this time of year, however, so you may wish to use the fresh variety. The recipe gives you an alternative.

LEMONY SWEET POTATO PIE

Pastry for one-crust, 9-inch pie
3 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon ginger
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup bottled lemon juice
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1½ cups sieved cooked sweet potatoes (about 1 lb. 2 oz. can, or two large fresh sweet potatoes, cooked)
½ cup chopped pecans
Whipped cream or ice cream

Prepare pastry; line pie pan and flute edge. Combine eggs, brown sugar, milk, cinnamon, nutmeg, ginger and salt. Mix well. Add bottled lemon juice and melted butter or margarine. With electric mixer or rotary beater, blend in sieved sweet potatoes and pecans. Pour into pastry shell and bake in a 375°F. oven, about 50 to 60 minutes or until knife inserted near center of pie comes out clean. Serve with whipped cream or ice cream.

AN OLD SOUTHERN favorite, sweet potato pie becomes a delicious surprise when you unveil it at the dessert course. Bottled lemon juice and chopped pecans give an extra perkiness to the flavor, and whipped cream or ice cream add the perfect finishing touch.

A New Version— Beans And Rice

When you are in a hurry, this pantry shelf special may fit in.

Chili Beans with Rice
Salad Bowl French Bread
Sliced Pineapple Beverage

CHILI BEANS WITH RICE

2 cans (1 pound each) barbecue beans
1 teaspoon chili powder (or more to taste)
1 cup rice, cooked
1 cup grated cheddar chese

In a large skillet, mix the beans and chili powder; heat slowly, stirring often. Serve over the rice and sprinkle with the cheese. Makes four large servings.

CHOCOLATE RAISIN Pie is somewhat reminiscent of the famous cheese pies which perennially pop up this time of year where good desserts are being served. Perfect for the merry round of holiday entertaining, when nothing tops pie for a dessert.

Chocolate Raisin Pie Makes A Really Spectacular Dessert

There comes a time in the merry round of holiday entertaining when nothing will take the place of pie for dessert. With this thought in mind, we have come up with a scrumptious new and interesting chocolate raisin pie. It is somewhat reminiscent of the famous chess pies which perennially pop up this time of year where good desserts are being served.

Before serving the pie, mask the top with whipped cream. Then to make it a real spectacular dessert, garnish with chocolate leaves and a few additional raisins. With a little patience, you too can produce the chocolate leaves by following our simple instructions.

CHOCOLATE LEAF RAISIN PIE

1½ cups California ssedless raisins
½ cup pecans
1½ (1-ounce) squares unsweetened chocolate
3 eggs
⅓ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ cup dark corn syrup
2 tablespoons soft butter
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 unbaked (nine-inch) pie shell
1 cup whipping cream

Chop raisins and nuts. Melt chocolate. Beat eggs until fluffy; then beat in sugar, salt, melted chocolate, syrup, butter and vanilla. Stir in raisins and nuts. Turn into unbaked pie shell. Bake below center in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 40 to 45 minutes. Cool thoroughly. Cover with whipped cream. Decorate as desired with chocolate leaves and raisins. Makes one (nine-inch) pie.

CHOCOLATE LEAVES: Spread underside of small clean dry leaves thickly (one-eighth-inch) with melted semi-sweet chocolate. Chill, then peel off leaves.

LIKE A CUSTARD

Pie With A Peanut Flavor

As the holidays close in on us, party momentum increases and a festive air surrounds day and evening gatherings. Whether it be a bridge luncheon, a dinner for six, or a dessert and coffee party, the sweet ending is viewed with anticipation by many guests. Plan to serve a fabulous item that will really be a conversation piece. Such an idea is a pumpkin cream pie with a dry toasted peanut crust. The crunchy peanut flavored crust holds a smooth, slightly spicy pumpkin filling and is chilled to cut like a perfect custard. Decorated with whipped cream and topped with chopped dry toasted peanuts, it is the piece de resistance of the party.

1¼ cups sifted all purpose flour
¼ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup soft margarine
½ cup ground dry toasted peanuts
3 tablespoons water

Preheat oven to 425° F. Sift flour, salt together. Cut margarine into dry ingredients with pastry blender or two knives until it resembles coarse cornmeal. Add nuts and mix lightly with fork. Sprinkle water slowly over dry ingredients while stirring mixture up from bottom of bowl with fork. Press dough together to form ball. Roll out on lightly floured board to 11-inch circle. Fit into nine-inch pie plate. Cut edges to one inch. Fold under and flute. Prick with fork. Bake 12-15 minutes or until golden grown. Cool thoroughly.

FILLING

1 cup cold milk
2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
¾ cup canned pumpkin
1½ teaspoons cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon ginger
1 pint vanilla ice cream, softened
½ cup chopped dry oasted peanuts
½ pint heavy cream

In one-half cup cold milk, soften gelatine. Meanwhile, heat pumpkin with remaining milk, cinnamon, nutmeg, and ginger. Add softened gelatine to hot milk mixture and stir until gelatine is completely dissolved and mixture smooth. Remove from heat. Add ice cream and stir until well mixed and smooth. Chill until mixture mounds when lifted out with tablespoon. Meanwhile, whip cream stiff. Stir whipped cream into gelatine mixture. Spoon into prepared shell. Sprinkle top with chopped peanuts. Chill until firm, about four hours. Garnish with whipped cream, if desired.

PUMPKIN ICE CREAM pie with a dry toasted peanut crust will be perfect to serve at a bridge luncheon, dinner for six, or a dessert and coffee party.

Hospital's 'Art On Wheels'

The "Art A La Carte," a lending library of art work and books, has been rolling through the halls of Ross General Hospital since May of this year. The unique service to the patients of Ross Hospital was begun by the Ross Hospital Volunteer Service after hearing of the success of similar programs in some large Eastern hospitals.

The cart, which was designed by the Ray Winther Co. of South San Francisco and built by students at Redwood High School, carries books as well as art works and is wheeled from room to room by the volunteers. Patients may select from the cart any of the books or framed pictures that they wish and the selection is theirs for the length of their stay or until they wish a change.

CHOICE IS the basis of the art cart program. When a patient selects a picture he likes for his hospital room wall, he has been given an easy way to express his individuality and to reflect his personality upon the often impersonal surroundings of the hospital. The pictures that are chosen for the cart are for the most part cheerful pictures, stimulating but not controversial, restful but not dull, pleasant in color but not harsh or gaudy.

The subjects are varied to suit all tastes, portraits, landscapes, seascapes, still lifes, flowers and outdoor scenes such as sailing and fishing. By checking the file that is kept on the cart, the volunteers have discovered that Marin County patients have a preference for seascapes and landscapes. The fact that a painting is a reproduction of a Van Gogh, Cezanne or Gauguin, is not as important to a patient as visual appeal.

THE OVERALL acceptance and therapeutic value of the art cart program to the patients at Ross Hospital has been echoed by physicians and staff. In fact the enthusiasm has been such that the volunteers feel it is time to expand the program so that the service can be extended to all parts of the hospital.

Reproductions make up a large part of the selection on the art cart, but Bay Area artists have been showing an increased interest in the project and a number of original paintings have been donated by them.

MRS. DORIS MORRISON, president of the Marin Society of Artists, is enthusiastic about the project and has mentioned that some paintings are promised by artist members.

Those interested in donating original paintings or suitable reproductions may obtain more information about "Art A La Carte" from Mesdames Kenneth Carmichael, orientation chairman and chairman of the art cart, or Allen Zeiss, president of the Ross Hospital Volunteer Service.

Stewardesses Now Designing Own Uniforms

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Most major airlines name designers to re-design stewardess uniforms. But one line, Panagra, pulled a practical switch. It let its flight hostesses design their own. The girls produced a one-button jacket with just barely the suggestion of a fit. A white blouse is collarless, rounded at the neck and loose. The skirt has seamless front and the new cap is a round beret worn on the back of the head and stuck with the light green color traditional to the airlines.

SEEING THE SOVIET

Glimpse Presents Realities Of Everyday Life In Moscow

First of a series of articles on a just-completed trip through Russia and India.

By BARBARA HOSMER

"Are you the Americans?"—one is greeted almost shyly at the Moscow airport by a pert young woman in a camel-colored coat who explains that she is to be the guide.

"I wondered then, 'What will they be like, my Americans'" she is to confess to us weeks later. "What will they look like, what will they want to do? Will they like it here?"

Her heavy coat is buttoned closely over a warm skirt and sweater against the night air and a wool scarf now covers her French-twist hairdo as she shepherds us toward the Soviet capital with the aid of bus and driver.

THE PANES ARE streaked with a light drizzle which a day later will turn into the earliest Moscow snow that Russians can recall in 20 years. The highway is dark after the brightness of the modern airport, and only after some 15 minutes do the lights of small houses and the apartment blocks on the outskirts begin to show. "Drugstore," "Fruits, Vegetables, Milk" reads Russian neon lettering on the stores along broad avenues, while in the four-story apartments above people can be glimpsed through uncurtained windows reading, having supper or otherwise busy. Some have television, which is programmed for evening hours and Sunday. The traffic is not heavy, but steady, largely trucks, busses and taxis, with an occasional private auto.

"That is Children's World, the department store just for children's things," points out the guide, yet a little shy and tentative although eager to explain where we will stay and what we'll do and see in the city that has been home for all her 25 years. (Still, she prefers Leningrad, with its more sophisticated feeling and beauty.)

"Will they like it here?" — A good question judging from usual accounts by Americans who've partaken of Soviet tourist hospitality. From their writings it would seem that many never leave their hotels, and their entire description of the vast USSR is a list of hotel inconveniences, with special attention to negligent elevator service and a shortage of sink stoppers. Others extend themselves to condemn food and government, and end there, apparently seeing nothing else noteworthy, leaving one to wonder what land, people and buildings really look like, or are they considered simply propaganda?

NOWHERE DO THEY mention that Moscow skies are sometimes blue and the summers hot, or that flowers bloom in every planted area and are popular sale items at state-operated sidewalk kiosks. Or that the seat of the government where the Supreme Soviet meets is the former Nicholas Palace built in 1755 inside the Kremlin walls, a yellow building with bright green roof topped by the red state flag. Or that along with the usual deep yellow buildings of old Moscow can be seen the palaces and eccentric houses of the former aristocrats and wealthy merchant families of pre-revolutionary times, as well as homes of Chekov, Tolstoy and Dostoevsky, and monastery-fortresses built for defense in the 14th and 15th centuries. Or that Muscovites own or borrow country cottages to spend the warm summer days.

Perhaps it's not worth mentioning that people cross the busiest streets through underground passages, avoiding accident or need to stop traffic, or that Russians may either rent or own their homes, which their children can inherit, or that they cannot own land but can lease it from the state to build a house and make a garden.

And bathtub stoppers can be more important than the banks of soft-drink machines copied from America that fill glasses with weak fruit "soda" for 10 kopecks or the ice cream cones vended by white-clad matrons in parks, stores and theaters and handed to you with sanitary tongs.

And there are other everyday insignificances: very few dogs in sight but an occasional cat makes its way through the courtyard of the old wooden apartment houses set up piece by piece by tremendous cranes, a reminder that the move from farm to city is not peculiar to the West.

SOVIET CITIES have stoplights and a policeman will whistle down the driver who runs through one even quicker than in America, and lucky is the man who gets off with just a warning — otherwise it's a fine and report to superior, (but not Siberia). Shopping for food in long lines is a daily tedium so more glassed-in kiosks on sidewalks sell fruits and vegetables, cabbages from vast bins, while others dispense books, flowers, magazines or Pravda, Izvestia and Krokodile, the humor publication. A variety of Russian books are on sale along the sidewalks from bookmobiles and in special stores, and business is brisk.

Viewing The Soviet: Notes And Scenes In The Capital

Streets have nearly no litter and very little paper seems available as wrappers to make litter anyway, although the old women with brooms scratch up a few things for their refuse cans in their daily work along walkways. Each shopper nets his purchases unwrapped in a string bag, and in season you can find where oranges are sold by following the bags "upstream" along the sidewalk to the source. Fruit and flowers are highly treasured in the land of long winters. . . .

Popular riverboat cafes float on the Moscow river, and hydrofoils zoom over the surface there as well as on the Neva in Leningrad and along the Dnieper from Kiev. Ski jumps are found within the city, and boys and young men eagerly climb the high ladder of the one in the park near Moscow University to practice even without snow. A tremendous circular swimming pool is heated the year around for outdoor splashing, and hardy young men can be seen stroking along while it's snowing, the steam swirling up around them in the icy air.

"Will they like it?" wonder the Russians, who've never seen any country but their own.

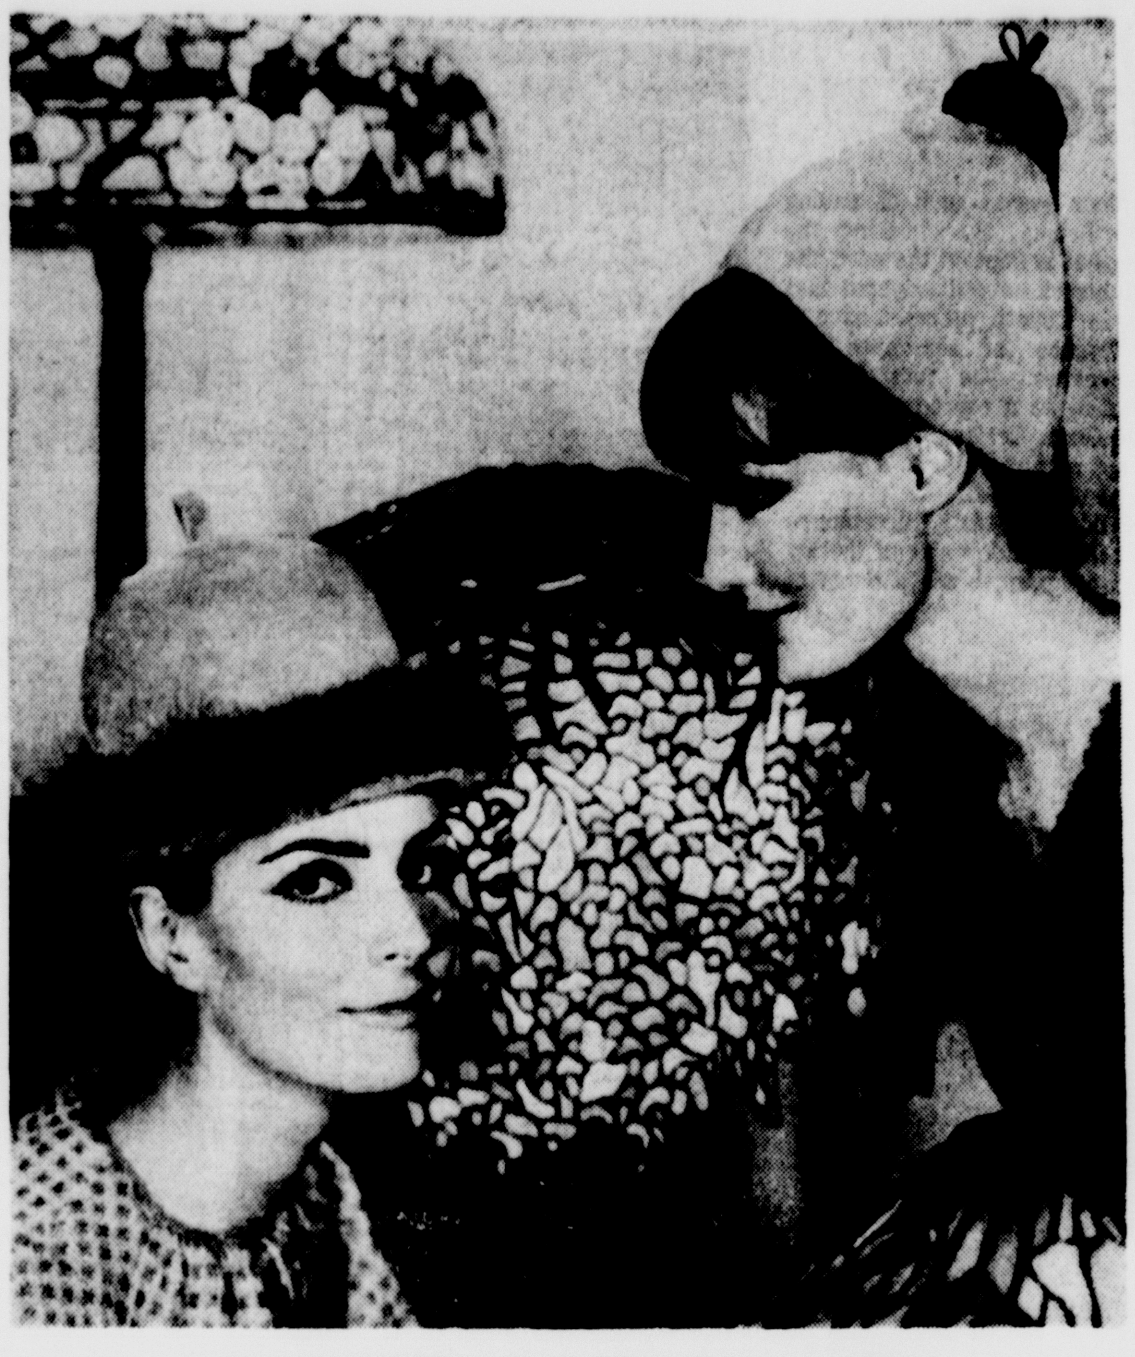
"You only see what they want you to," comments the typical cynic here at home in America, a land where the ideal of the open mind was once venerated and still is not a crime. Maybe, but would he even see it? Would he even bother to really look, or simply make the long journey to reconfirm prejudices and add a line or two to the others' list of hotel inconveniences? The prospective traveler from the West would do well to ask himself first, and then pack a sink stopper in his luggage. . .

Job's Daughters Elect Officers

Mill Valley's Bethel 119 of the International Order of Job's Daughters elected officers for the next term at their recent meeting in the Mill Valley Masonic Temple.

They are Jane Cleaveland, honored queen, who will succeed Janet Krone; Sheryl Norush, senior princess; Shannon Pixley, junior princess; Jill Gobershock, guide, and Joan De Lasaux, marshal.

Following the election several members passed their proficiency test under the direction of Jill Gobershock. They are Claudette Browing, Charmaine Browing, Clista Ellis, Claudia Puharich and Ellen Turner.



MAKING AN ENTRANCE

The velvet hat makes its entrance to the fashion scene for winter in these versions with crowns up, punctuating their height with topknot decor. They're by Adolfo II, designed in lustrous boulevard velvet; left, a fluff of matching marabou on dashing fedora with stand-up loop on top; and at right a streamered rosette of black grosgrain ruffles perches atop a domed cone which sits lightly at the back of the head.

Teen-Agers, Problems Just About Same World Over

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — Many American teen-agers, asked to explain their pursuit of pleasure via drinking bouts and sexual experimentation, most often blame the bomb.

The reasoning: Enjoy today because tomorrow might not come. The threat of nuclear war, according to studies by sociologists, gives the teen-agers their biggest worry.

But what about teen-agers the world over? What do they worry about?

The question was put to 70 of them from 40 nations at the Girl Scout Senior Round-up in Farragut, Idaho.

Strangely, very few said they worried about the bomb, marking the most significant difference between their worries and those of contemporary American teen-agers.

Although our customs and circumstances differ, teen-agers are just about the same the world over.

They are, in effect, full of curiosity, hope for a better future, and faith capable of believing that the world tomorrow will have fewer problems as people get to understand one another better.

Orturn Berger, 19, from Bremen, Germany, said that a problem in her land is that the relationship between young people and adults is not as close as it used to be.

Control by parents in America puzzled Ann-Grete Gissemann, of Sjaelland, Denmark.

"Girls in my country seem to have more freedom," she said.

The girls in Denmark, according to Anne-Grete, go steady more than American girls do. She was astounded that a girl could not go out by herself in Memphis, Tenn., where she lived for four weeks.

Tytti Tamminen, 17, from Helsinki, Finland, said girls in her land go with boys and marry at a later age than do Americans. "Maybe it's the cold weather," she said.

Constanza Calderoni, 19, of Mexico City, reported that dress and social life is much more formal in her hometown than it is in America. Girls hardly ever wear shorts or blue jeans. They wear dresses everywhere. When they date, they have a chaperon.

Wilma Tellez, 17, from Bogota, Colombia, said teen-agers in her country worry about getting good jobs after school.

She worries because strikes and politics by students — picketing and demonstrations — sometimes interfere with the educational process.

The only dating that exists is chaperoned or in parties with lots of boys and girls.

"Teen-age independence," she said, "is more of a problem in America. For the adults."

Miss Buggey Will Marry December 19

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Buggey of Mill Valley are announcing the coming marriage of their daughter, Carolyn Lea Buggey, to Francis C. Elkins of Merced.

Carolyn was graduated from Tamalpais High School and attended the College of Marin and is employed by the Pacific Telephone Co.

The future bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Elkins of Oroville, was graduated from Chico State College and is a secondary teacher at Merced High School.

The couple plans to wed at Trinity Methodist Church in Chico on Dec. 19.

Greater Safety In Family Auto

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Greater safety for the driver and passengers in the family auto is in store because of recent developments in the design and equipment of new cars, as well as continued emphasis on seat belts. So reports the Division of Accident Prevention of the Public Health Service (PHS).

The PHS has supported 69 research projects in the field of traffic injury prevention at a cost of $8 million.

Judy Curry Bride At Novato Church

Judy L. Curry, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Robert W. Moore of Terra Linda, became the bride of David S. Ralph of Novato at Our Lady of Loretto Church in a 2:30 p.m. ceremony on Saturday.

Col. Moore gave his daughter in marriage at the double-ring wedding in which she wore a full-length gown of white peau de soie in a sheath style with a full train.

Maid of honor was Patricia Lynn Cunningham of San Rafael who was dressed in a full length dress of gold chiffon over taffeta. Bridesmaids Pamela Edison of Santa Venetia, Deana Machado of Petaluma and Sharon Ralph of Novato, sister of the bridegroom, were similarly dressed.

Cheryl Machado of Petaluma was flower girl and her brother, Mitchell, was ringbearer.

Robert Jordan of San Francisco acted as best man with Al Nelson of Novato, Dennis Herning of Sacramento and Michael Curry of San Rafael, brother of the bride, ushering.

A reception followed at the Hamilton Air Force Base Officers' Club.

Judy was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and is employed with Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. Mrs. Oma May Howerton of San Rafael is her grandmother.

The bridegroom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Ralph of Novato, was graduated from Novato High School and is presently employed with Pacific Construction Supply. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Barrise and Mrs. Leona Perry, all of San Francisco.

Following a wedding trip to Southern California, the couple will reside in San Rafael.

Sugar And Proteins Flavor Milk

DAVIS (UPI) — University of California researchers have found that the amount of cream in milk doesn't determine flavor so much as the other things that are in it — such as sugar and protein.

Rose Marie Pangborn and Walker L. Dunkley of the Department of Food Science and Technology reached that conclusion after feeding various kinds of milk to a panel of tasters.

She found that the cream content of milk could be reduced almost by half before the tasters could notice the difference. But the panelists could detect a change in taste when a much smaller percentage of milk sugar or protein was removed.

The 'Mod Look'

London and its "mod look" has received the supreme honor. French designer Yves St. Laurent, the 29-year-old responsible for all those Mondrian dresses, says that he thinks English styles are young and fun. And, he adds, they've pepped up the fashion world.

THE HE-MAN

Masculinity Subtle Thing To Define—

What makes some men symbols of masculinity while others — often bigger and brawnier — are not?

The impression of masculinity, conveyed as much by a man's attitudes as by his actions and physique, is a subtle thing indeed. Many men, the psychologists tell us, cling to false or outworn notions of masculinity. They may even scorn as "unmanly" the very traits that women like most in a man!

How's your Masculinity Quotient? This light-hearted quiz, based on information gleaned from psychologists, sociologists, historians and other experts, may give you an idea of how successfully you project a he-man image to the world.

HAVE YOU given up wishing your shoulders were broader and your biceps bulgier? Congratulations! You're a hard-headed realist — which, in contemporary American society, is considered a very masculine thing to be. Besides, you've grasped the essential fact that conquering heroes come in all sizes — remember Napoleon?

One thing you shouldn't be "realistic" about: excess flab. Keep in trim, no matter what your build; such muscles as you possess should be lean and hard.

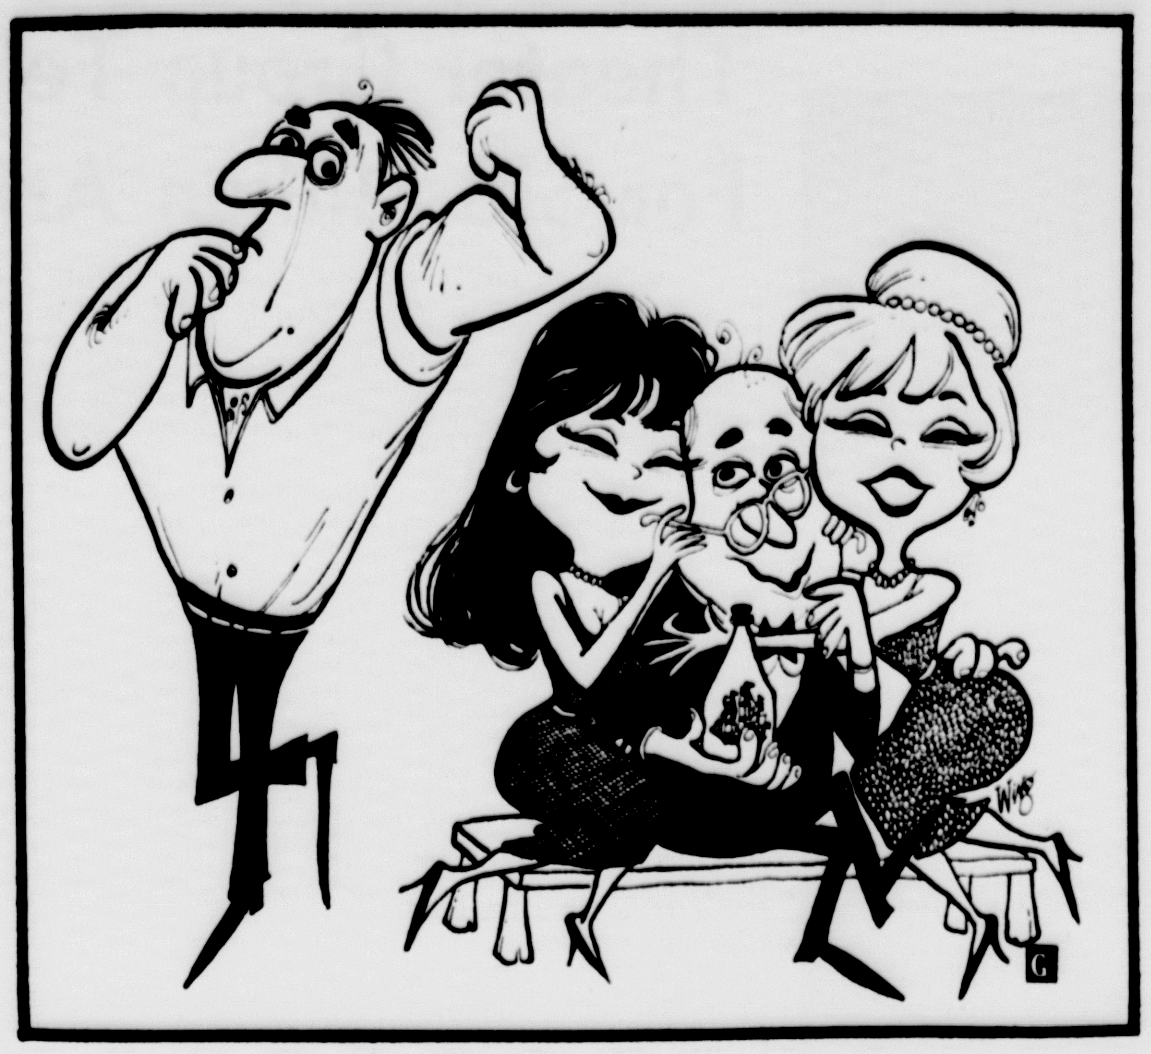
DO YOU TAKE an interest in men's fashions? The notion that he-men don't care about clothes may have gone over big in frontier days, when a pair of trousers was just something to attach a holster to; it's a little outmoded now. Women not only appreciate good grooming and clothes sense in a man — many of them consider male sloppiness a downright insult! So do bosses and personnel men, incidentally.

The idea is to give careful thought to your appearance while seeming casual and offhand about it. Like the movie star, symbol of suave masculinity, who is said to spend his leisure hours in custom-made blue jeans!

DO YOU THINK scents for men make good sense? That noble Roman warrior and lover, Marc Antony, would have agreed. So would Cleopatra — she went wild over the scents of mint and marjoram with which he anointed himself, in accord with the spicy Roman custom of the day. It you want a less antique precedent, one company estimates that some $44 million worth of aftershave lotions are sold each year in the U.S. Interestingly, masculine scent preferences seem to have changed little since Marc Antony's day. Spicy fragrances are still classic; old spice is a nationwide favorite. It all seems to show that the he-man, then as now, is the fellow who can lead women by the nose.

DO YOU EVER feel you just don't understand women? This may be a good sign. Men have long suspected — and many psychologists now agree — that men and women really do speak different languages. Even the everyday word "closet," for example, in a word association test given by Dr. Catherine Cox Miles, provokes different male-female responses; it made most men subjects think of "door," most women of "clothes." And as for the simple word "no" — well, listen to one authority: "To a man, 'no' usually means 'no' — and that's that. But a woman feels she can always reopen the subject later." So don't worry about your communications problems with the opposite sex — they may just show how masculine you are.

ARE YOU a man of fewer words than your wife or sweetheart? Again, a good sign. Though the "strong, silent type" is not necessarily the epitome of maleness, there seems to be some scientific evidence for the male belief that women out-talk men. What's more, they do it at every stage of life. Girl babies tend to talk earlier and more distinctly than baby boys. Sociologists who studied young children found that when boys and girls of similar backgrounds were compared, the girls as a group had larger vocabularies and spoke in longer sentences! (Let her have the last word — and feel smug about your he-man rating.)



YOU DON'T need brawn if you use your brain to project a he-man image, experts say. Use toiletries with a masculine aroma—women adore them! Be a "man of few words"—studies show that women out-talk men from babyhood on!

DO YOU HATE to waste words on gossip? Of course you do. Everyone knows that only women gossip; men tell each other what's new with Smith or Jones. But a rose by any other name . . . the fact is that a startling number of men enjoy a pastime that bears a remarkable resemblance to gossip. And this activity, while enjoyable, does nothing for anyone's image.

ARE YOU decisive? Down through the centuries, the ability to make a decision and stick to it has been deemed a manly trait — and its opposite attributed (by men, naturally) to the female of the species. "A fickle and changeful thing is woman ever," said the poet Virgil 2000 years ago. Not only is it still considered woman's prerogative to change her mind at will or whim — but a man's decision-making ability is now more highly valued than ever before. In several polls that rated the relative prestige of various occupations, executives and businessmen — in other words, the decision-makers — ranked near the top. Moral: show decisiveness and you may rate — not only with the ladies, but with the boss as well.

DO YOU HAVE a definite personal style? The man who's individualistic — whether rugged or not — cay convey a more masculine impression than the guy who blends in with the crowd. Do you have definite, well-thought-out opinions on politics . . . modern art . . . women's fashions? Are you a "type" — tweedy or sophisticated — in the way you dress and groom yourself? The gals may love you for it!

IT YOU'RE NOT a Don Juan, are you glad instead of sorry about it? A great many men consider the Don Juan type ultra - masculine; surprisingly, most psychologists disagree. Clinical psychologist Dr. Albert Ellis voices a common view when he states that the Don Juan "is an emotionally weak . . . individual who is trying to reassure himself of how 'strong' or 'masculine' he is." The one-woman type family man is usually much more of a real he-man, according to the mind-probers.

ARE YOU SOFT-spoken . . . keep your temper pretty well under control? Gentleness, especially toward those weaker than yourself, is more masculine a trait than some men think. The "tough guy," psychologists say, is often trying to compensate for his feelings of inadequacy; the truly self-confident male is usually strong enough psychologically to resist the temptation to bully others.

Gather Tie-Backs

When washing sheer curtains, put all the tie-backs together in a mesh bag or a pillowcase, laundry experts suggest. This way they won't get lost in the wash water or the dryer. Also: Pin them together on the line to save suntitng for each pair when it is time to hang the curtains again.

FINISHED PRODUCT — Mrs. Merle Greene of Kentfield surveys her work just after completing a rubbing of a Mayan stone monument in the Mexican jungle this summer. Her collection, considered one of the rarest of its kind, will go on display at the University of California's Berkeley campus tomorrow. It took her three years of exploring jungles in Mexico and Guatemala to complete the collection.

Maya Carvings, Rubbings To Go On U.C. Display

A Kentfield artist's rare collection of rubbings from Maya stone carvings will go on display tomorrow at the University of California, Berkeley.

Mrs. Merle Green of 4 Hillside Avenue, art teacher at the San Rafael Military Academy, spent three years fighting jungle heat and rain to make the reproductions of stone tombs and monuments in Mexico and Guatemala.

Officials of both countries lifted long standing government bans against making such rubbings when Mrs. Greene began her series of expeditions into the jungle in 1962.

While the rubbing process itself involved many hours of tedious work, using special types of paper and pigment to insure a clear image of the monuments, one of the biggest problems was getting the rubbings safely out of the jungle, Mrs. Greene said.

Sudden rains would come, causing hours of work to vanish in a few minutes. Or tropical insects would become stuck in the paint.

The carvings depict the life of a great civilization which once dominated the central spine of what is now called Middle America. It has all but vanished since the 17th century.

Mrs. Greene's collection will be on view at the university's Lowie Museum of Anthropology through Jan. 17.

London Thieves Get Costly Haul

LONDON (AP) — Jewelry worth more than a quarter-million pounds (700,000) was taken from the strongroom of a fashionable West End shop today by a gang that worked its way in with acetylene torches.

A spokesman for Carrington's and Co., on Regent Street, made the estimate and added:

"It is probably far in excess of a quarter of a million."

Insurance valuers, whose standard reward for stolen goods is 10 per cent, posted a reward of 30,000 pounds ($84,000).

18th Century Farce Scheduled At College

The Italian 18th century farce, "Servant of Two Masters," by Carlo Goldoni, is being rehearsed by the College of Marin drama department.

The play, second fall semester production for the department, will be staged Dec. 3, 4, 9, 10 and 11 att he college's Little Theater in Harlan Hall.

Drama director James Dunn described the play, in the tradition of the "Commedia Dell-'Arte," as a Mack Sennett, pie-in-the-face type comedy. After its run at the college, the play will tour other Bay Area colleges and high schools, he said.

Leading role in the production —that of Truffaldino, the comic servant — will be played by Roger Lane of San Rafael, who had a supporting role in the college's recent production of "Romeo and Juliet" and has been active in Marin Shakespeare Festival productions the last two years.

Others in the cast are: Kent Kay and James Land of Mill Valley, Alex Scheremetow of Fairfax, David Dukes of San Rafael, Lawrie Driscoll of Novato, Paul Abbot of Mill Valley, Valice Harder of Tiburon, Silvia Scott of Hamilton Air Force Base and Helen McDonald of Sausalito.

Scholar Honored

Cynthia G. Shone of 80 Forbes Avenue, San Rafael, was named to the dean's list at the University of California at Los Angeles this week for high-ranking academic achievement during the last spring semester.

San Francisco Symphony Set For Dec. 1

SAN FRANCISCO — The San Francisco Symphony Orchestra will open its 54th season Dec. 1 at 8:30 p.m. in the War Memorial Opera House.

The season includes a series of 20 regular programs, each to be repeated three times.

In addition to regular concerts will be five specical events, which begin Dec. 5 with "An Evening with Danny Kaye." Handel's "Messiah" will be presented in a special program on Dec. 23.

The opening program of the regular season will feature Claudio Arrau, Chilean pianist, in an all-Brahms program.

Guest conductors during the season will include Igor Stravinsky, Hans Schmidt - Isserstedt, Robert Craft and Aaron Copland.

Theater Group Tells Hopes For $18 Million Art Center

By ELLEN BRY

The Atheneum Arts Foundation, the ambitious organization which plans an $18 million arts center in Marincello, is looking toward sponsoring another summer season of music and drama in Marin, though admittedly the foundation is short of money.

The foundation is planning a "benefit" series of performances in San Francisco, Marin and the East Bay beginning in January and lasting into spring. Next summer's performing programs might be performed at the Marincello site, if an adequate stage and audience area could be constructed, said A. L. Nieri of Novato, vice president of the foundation.

But more likely the foundation will continue to use the Mount Tamalpais State Park site, known as the Mountain Theater, which it rented from the state for $50 a performance.

Nieri said negotiations with officers of Frouge Corp. and Thomas Frouge would continue next month to complete details of the transfer of land to the foundation.

The parcel, expected to be about 25 acres, will be purchased by the foundation, Nieri said. It will be sold to the foundation "at cost," and will be located in the central valley of the development, said Henry Grant, Frouge Corp. vice president in Sausalito.

The land first was publicized as a gift from Frouge to the foundation. Nieri said plans for the land to be purchased by the Atheneum Arts Foundation. Frouge Corp. would give the foundation a series of donations over the years which would return the cost of the land. Nieri explained.

Neiri estimated that the cost of the arts center would be approximately $18 million and said that funds would be requested from national foundations and from individuals.

The center is planned to have an auditorium seating 1,500 persons, music building seating 300 persons, theater building, movie and television building, dance building, fine arts building, a Greek-style amphitheater, administration building, dormitories and studios to house visiting artists and lecturers. There will be a literary department, lecture halls, bookshop and printing facilities, research department and library.

The center was designed by San Francisco architect William Mooser Jr., who is on the board of the foundation.

"It will take a long time to raise the funds," Nieri commented.

Lately there have been rumors of the Atheneum having trouble paying its bills and its performers.

The foundation brought well known and little known performers to the outdoor theater for programs each Saturday and Sunday afternoon for a month last summer. There were ballet and modern dance with Ruth St. Denis, harp playing and performances of new musical works, the San Francisco Mime Troupe with Agnes Moorehead, plays, folk singing and a jazz concert.

Last summer's programs brought in audiences ranging from about 500 to 3,000 persons, with the jazz and folk singing programs proving the most popular.

The summer series would have "broken even" if the foundation had not paid performers union scale, when applicable, or the going rate for performances, said Lyle Leverich of San Francisco, executive director of the foundation.

Nieri, vice president of Bank of Marin, said the foundation had no funds now. "Just like the opera and everything else, they (the foundation) have to be subsidized. Costs are pretty high; you just don't get it back in gate receipts," he said.

Two Women Get Prizes For Art

Two Marin County artists were awarded prizes last week at the 40th Annual Exhibition of San Francisco Women Artists now being held at the San Francisco Museum of Art.

Prize winning Marin exhibitors in the show which will run until Dec. 13 were M. M. Horton of Mill Valley and Mary Case Dekker of Corte Madera. Mrs. Horton's award was in painting; Mrs. Case's award was in sculpture.

Three Children Killed By Fire

MADERA (AP)—A fire, apparently starting in the kitchen, raced through a small house and killed the three children of Mrs. Beatrice Spratt, 23.

Firemen said the blaze last night killed Brian Smith, 3; Dashol Riddles, 2; and Diana Johnson, 1. They had different fathers, firemen added.

The mother was visiting a neighbor when the fire started. She returned to find the structure in flames.

Man, Woman Injured As Car Rolls Over

Erika M. Lueders, 24, of Palo Alto and Charles L. Johnson, 30, of San Francisco were treated at Marin General Hospital early today after their southbound car skidded, hit a wall and rolled over in the Waldo Tunnel on Highway 101, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Johnson, who was driving, was treated for multiple cuts on head and left wrist. Miss Lueders was treated for cuts on her head.

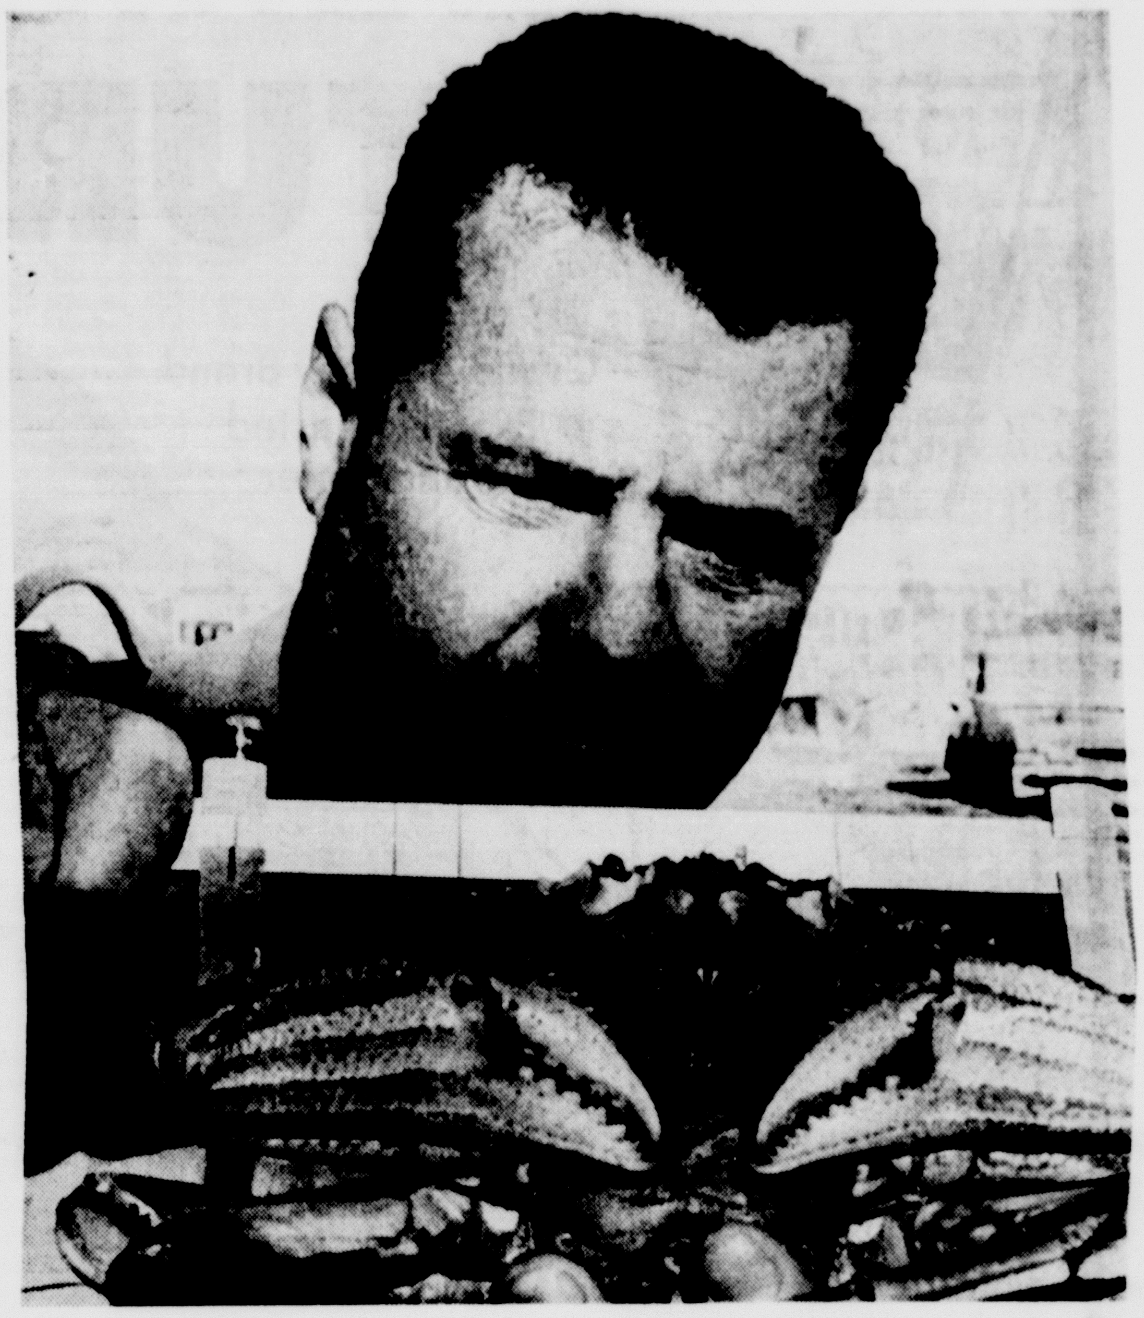
Crabbing— A Seagoing Industry

CRAB BOAT—About half a dozen boats are used for crabbing in Sausalito, switching to fishing for other game as the seasons change. The boats are 30 to 60 feet long. Each of the 100 to 200 crab pots they carry costs $35.

NORTHERN GIANT—Lefty Sturiale of Sausalito holds an Alaska king crab and one of the smaller local Dungeness crabs. The local crab catch has been poor again this year. Sturiale attributes it to warming currents in the area. The catch is expected to increase when the north-coast season opens Dec. 15 from north of Mendocino to Alaska.

CRAB POTS—The LCF is loaded with crab pots as Lloyd Jungculas, Al Young and Frank Stanley prepare for the next day's run. Boats leave in early morning darkness for bay area crab grounds and return in the afternoon. Baited pots are dumped over the side with buoys to mark their position and picked up later in the day.

COOKED CRAB—Sebastian (Lefty) Sturiale of the S. J. Sturiale Fish Co. in Sausalito pulls out a giant's portion of crabs from the homemade cooking pot stoked with wood. Sturiale has been in the fish business for 40 years.



DOUBLE CHECK—T. W. (Bill) Waters of the California Department of Fish and Game checks the size of a crab with calipers. Minimum size is six and one-quarter inches; only male crabs may be kept, females are thrown back when they are found in the pots. (Independent-Journal photos by Bob Hax)

College Of Marin Will Get $89,170 To Train Jobless

A grant to the College of Marin of $89,170 was announced today by the federal government as part of the Manpower Development and Training Act.

The grant will pay for the training of "unemployed or under-employed persons" as office clerks.

Under the original proposal submitted by the college for the program, two 30 - week courses would be given in succession, each training approximately 25 clerks. Trainees would be paid while they study, according to Joseph E. Berreuzo, assistant dean of technical and vocational education at the college.

Approximately $35,000 of the grant would be used for instruction purposes. The rest of the money would be paid to the trainees, said Berreuzo.

The first program is expected to begin Dec. 6 at the college's San Anselmo center at 21 Mariposa Avenue.

Courses in typing, business English, business mathematics, bookkeeping, operation of business machines, filing, and office procedure will be given during the 30 weeks of study, he said.

Selection of trainees will be through the State Department of Employment office in San Rafael. At the end of each program students will be placed in clerical jobs by the employment office.

Two Unhurt In Plane Landing

A pilot and an unidentified boy passenger escaped injury in an emergency landing at the Marin County Airport yesterday on one landing wheel.

The light, low-winged two-seater, piloted by Robert Kantner of The Lodge, Novato, came in with "one wheel up and one wheel down," and slid off the runway onto the field, reported Harry O. Tollefson, airport operator.

Damage to the plane was not extensive, Tollefson said.

The Novato Fire Department was called for standby duty as Kantner made his landing, but there was no fire.

Insurance Firm Announces Deal To Buy Courthouse

Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Co. is willing to put up $1.4 million for the courthouse property in San Rafael and let the county have the use of it for 50 years under a lease agreement that would require the county to pay off the principal plus $2,-122,200 in interest without regaining title to the land.

The offer was reported by Richard Oesterman of Capital Assistance and Mortgage Co. of San Anselmo. County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen asked Oesterman to see what financing would be available from insurance companies.

Oesterman said today that reversion of the property to the county might be negotiated in detailed discussion if supervisors are interested.

County Auditor - Controller Michael Mitchell, who figured the total interest cost at the company's suggested five and three-eighths, per cent, said a revisionary clause likely would mean a higher interest rate.

The county retirement board has agreed in principle that it would authorize a similar investment of retirement board funds, possibly at 5.5 per cent interest over 30 years, with the land reverting to the county at the end of that time.

Two Surfers Win Honors For Rescues

One hundred persons attended a meeting Saturday night in Bolinas at which two Mill Valley surfers were awarded certificates of merit for the rescue of two girls from Bolinas Lagoon July 5, and members of the North Point Surfers were given a general commendation.

Surfers James Taldo, 16, and David Barca, 17, were given American Red Cross certificates of merit by James R. Williams, volunteer water safety consultant of the Marin County Red Cross chapter.

They were also awarded certificates of appreciation from the Windansea Surf Club of San Diego by Thor Svenson, San Diego surfing council official.

Barca and Taldo, by surfboard, rescued two girls when one lost her grip on an inner tube float, causing both to be in danger of drowning in a fast current. Identity of the girls, though sought by the Red Cross, was never learned.

Svenson, who came to Bolinas last year to work with the North Point Surfers to help them achieve more rapport with the community, told the audience that the Marin County Surfers' image has been "greatly improved. They have a lot of credit coming to them that is oftentimes unrecognized."

The Dead Sea contains so much salt that only the strongest winds can whip up its surface.

From Tiburon National Bank

It makes good sense to invest dollars to improve the value of your home by remodeling, landscaping, adding a room, or even installing a swimming pool. However, few of us have the ready cash available to pay for such a major project. Discuss your problem with one of our experienced loan officers. He will pass on many worthwhile tips and show you how our low bank rates on home improvement loans can save you money. Remember: at Tiburon National Bank you're a name . . . not just a number.

Four Persons Killed In Crash

VANDENBERG AFB (UPI)—Four persons were killed yesterday in a two-car collision near the entrance to this base, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The victims were Mrs. Barbara Daniels, 27, and her son, Joseph, 5, Frank Tennison, 21, of Vandenberg AFB, and his passenger, Milton Dickinson, 22, Lompoc.

Mrs. Daniels and her son were passengers in an auto driven by her husband, Roland, 30. He and a daughter, Mary, 7, were injured in the crash.

Former Newsman Starts Job For Marin Medical Society

EDWARD J. COLLINS JR.
New man for medics

Edward J. Collins Jr., a former newspaperman, has started work as executive secretary of Marin Medical Society.

He succeeds Jeffrey Blankfort of Mill Valley, who will leave Dec. 1 on a trip to Europe.

Collins, 32, comes to the society's San Rafael office from Oakland, where he was executive secretary of the California Veterinary Medical Assn. for five years.

For two years, he was executive manager of the Oakland Junior Chamber of Commerce. A journalism graduate of University of California, he formerly was managing editor of the Brawley Daily News in Imperial County.

He lives in Kensington, Contra Costa County, with his wife, Dorothy, and their seven-year-old daughter, Lori. He said he hopes to make his home in Marin within a few months.

The Olympic Peninsula in Washington has one of the heaviest annual rainfalls in the United States, and therefore some of the most luxuriant vegetation.

Contract Talk Set

Marin Hospital District trustees, meeting tomorrow at 7 p.m. in the Marin General Hospital Coral Room, will be asked to approve a contract with College of Marin to provide practical experience for students in the college's registered nursing program.

Recruiters Change

S/Sgt. Gaudencio M. Capil, recently returned from Korea, is the new detachment sergeant at the Army Air Defense Command's Sixth Region headquarters in Sausalito, succeeding SFC Jacinto S. Sanchio Siso, who will leave soon for Santo Domingo.

Unification Question Not Answered By Dixie Figures

By RICHARD LYTTLE

Is Dixie School District's relatively low expenditure per pupil an argument against the proposed unification of Dixie and San Rafael Elementary School District with San Rafael High School District?

Dixie Supt. Dennie B. Willis thinks not. He points out that looking at one set of comparisons does not give the full picture.

The two elementary district's are almost the same size. Dixie has 4,200 elementary school pupils, while San Rafael has 4,500.

San Rafael however, is highest in assessed value of any elementary school district in the county with $20,400 assessed value per pupil. Dixie is fourth in assessed value, with $8,100 per pupil.

Looking at these figures, one might conclude that unification would be of great benefit to the Dixie district because it would add to the assessed value.

However, figures prepared by County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell for Dixie district's finance committee show that Dixie is spending only $239.84 per pupil in local property taxes while San Rafael is spending $480.47.

Using total expenditures, with state and federal funds, bond issue payments and general property taxes, the comparison is $542.88 per pupil for Dixie to $706.60 for San Rafael.

Willis says this may be due to careful budgeting in part, and tight budgeting is a matter of necessity in the Dixie district.

"We don't have any more money and that's the reason we don't spend any more," he said.

One fact that gives Dixie a break in expenses is that the district is so new. In 1954 it had only 50 pupils. At that time there were already 3,000 in the San Rafael district.

As a consequence, few of the teachers in the Dixie district are at the top of the salary scale. In San Rafael, more than half are at the top of the scale, Willis estimated.

"We take advantage of this," he said.

In time, this advantage will vanish. Also, Willis said, any discussion of the finances in unification must consider the tax rate itself.

San Rafael Elementary District tax, with 25 cents for over-rides and 35.5 cents for bonds, comes to a total $2.355 per $100 of assessed valuation. Dixie's, with 29 cents for over-rides and 38.5 for bonds, comes to $3.125.

"They've got the assessed value," Willis said.

Injured Driver Refuses Treatment

Thomas M. Shine, 22, of San Francisco refused treatment at San Rafael General Hospital refused treatment at San Rafael General Hospital Saturday night for cuts and bruises on his right shoulder which the California Highway Patrol reported he received when he drove his eastbound auto off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard into a ditch one-half mile east of highway 101.

Shine was booked at county jail on a charge of being drunk in or about an auto. He was later released on $110 bail.

Canada produces $800-million worth of textiles annually.

San Rafael Man Hospitalized With Chin Cuts

Henry E. Sanderson, 34, of 240 Linden Lane, San Rafael, was in fair condition in Marin General Hospital today with cuts on the chin and other injuries apparently suffered when his car hit a stalled car in the slow north-bound lane on Highway 101 at the north end of the Richardson Bay Bridge early Saturday.

Walter J. Connors of 10 Mount Tenaya Drive, San Rafael, told the California Highway Patrol that he was standing near his stalled car when another auto struck it and then drove on.

Shortly before the patrol received Connors's call, Corte Madera Police stopped Sanderson on Paradise Drive. His car was dented they said, and he had cuts on his chin. He thought he had been in an accident but could not remember where, police said.

The highway patrol reported the dents on the two cars matched.

JOLLY ROAST TURKEY WITH ITALIAN DRESSING
1½ lbs pork sausage meat
2 bunches fresh spinach
3 stalks celery, diced
1 large onion, chopped
1 clove garlic
½ cup chopped parsley
¾ tsp Bell's seasoning
1 large loaf bread for dressing
Canned Cream
1 cube butter
2 eggs, beaten
1 cup Parmesan cheese
½ tsp baking soda
Salt and pepper to taste

Cube bread including crusts and set aside. Wash fresh spinach and drain. Now put through fine blade of food chopper. (Place a bowl beneath the chopper—it will drip!). Add spinach to bread. Saute' sausage meat until red disappears. Drain and add to spinach mixture. In clean frypan, melt butter and saute' onion, garlic, parsley, and celery until just brown. Add to spinach mixture. Add seasonings, eggs, cheese and enough canned cream to moisten mixture. Add baking soda and mix well. . . . This is enough stuffing for a 15-pound turkey. A 12 to 16 lb. turkey requires 4½ to 5½ hours in a 325° oven.

CASHEW PIE
Slowly beat ¾ cup sugar into 3 lightly beaten eggs. Add ½ cup dark corn syrup and ½ cup light corn syrup. Add ½ cube melted butter. Pour this mixture into 9-inch unbaked pie shell and bake in 375° oven 30 minutes. Now sprinkle 1 cup coarsely chopped cashews over pie and bake 15 minutes longer. Serve with dollop whipped cream.

HOW TO PLAY
WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

World's Greatest Bridge Ace Can't Think For Partner, Too

Benito Garozzo, considered by many experts to be the best bridge player in the world, plans to visit the United States this winter to display fine Italian jewelry and to play some bridge.

If you see him in action, don't expect miracles; he can play only one side of the table.

Opening lead — ♡ 9

When today's hand was dealt Garozzo had already played several rubbers of a friendly match against my wife and me and had discovered that we hadn't come seven thousand miles to underbid.

If he picked the right opening lead he would have a chance to defeat the contract.

EXPERT'S INTUITION

Garozzo sensed, heaven knows how, that hearts was the right suit, and he made the best expert lead—the nine of hearts.

This rode around to my jack, after which the opponents were in position to take three heart tricks whenever they got in.

The only trouble was that Garozzo's partner read the lead as the "top of nothing," in which case the ace of hearts would be in my hand.

BAD GUESS

I led a spade to the king and returned a club to the king. Now I had to guess which of the black suits would break favorably.

I guessed wrong, by cashing the ace of spades before leading a spade to dummy's queen.

When I returned another club from dummy, East stepped up with the ace. He could then defeat the contract by leading a low heart, since Garozzo would take the ace of hearts and cash a spade before returning his other heart.

GAROZZO TOO GOOD

What saved my bacon was the fact that Garozzo was too good for his own partner.

East thought that I had the ace of hearts and that his partner had the ace of diamonds. Acting on this impression, East returned a diamond and I went up with the ace and took ten tricks before the mice got at them.

"Never mind," I consoled Garozzo, who was disappointed at the outcome, "I won't tell anybody about this hand. I'll just put it in my column."

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 2 NT (22 to 24 points), and the next player passes.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid three clubs, the Stayman Convention.

This asks partner to bid a major suit of four or more cards if he has one. Otherwise, he bids three diamonds.

Game in a major will probably be a trifle safer than game at notrump.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, Nov. 22, the 326th day of 1965 with 39 to follow.

The moon is new; the morning star is Jupiter; the evening stars are Mars, Venus and Saturn.

In 1909, Miss Helen Hayes made her New York stage debut in the play "In Old Dutch."

In 1950, a train wreck at the peak of the evening commuting hours killed 79 persons and injured hundreds outside New York City.

In 1960, the U.S. Navy launched the Ethan Allen, its most powerful atomic submarine.

In 1963, President John F. Kennedy was killed in Dallas. Within hours, Lyndon B. Johnson was sworn in to succeed the assassinated President. The same day, Patrolman J. D. Tippit was killed trying to apprehend suspect Lee Harvey Oswald, who was later captured, and two days later killed by Jack Ruby.

A thought for the day — American essayist Ralph Waldo Emerson wrote: "The true test of civilization is, not the census, nor the size of cities, nor the crops—no, but the kind of man the country turns out."

NOTICE OF NON-RESPONSIBILITY

I will not be responsible for any debts or obligations contracted by persons other than myself on or after THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1965.

Dated: November 18, 1965.

BERTHA E. FLOYD
No. 1974 Nov. 19, 20, 22, 23, 24, 1965.

Returned Tax Bills Present Difficulties

Marin County Treasurer-Tax Collector Stanley J. Fontez needs some help in solving an annual mystery.

Of the 73,593 tax bills mailed out by the office last month, the post office has returned about 1,000.

These are cases where the property owner's address is no longer valid or the deed information was illegible or not properly interpreted.

Fontez said these people must have known they should receive tax bills but did not call his office. Only exception would be in cases where owners have arranged for agents to make the payments.

First installment (half) payment of the tax is due Dec. 10. Late payments will be with a 6 per cent penalty.

Five Marinites Due New Posts As Navy Men

Five Navy enlisted men from Marin County have completed recruit training and are now on home leave before starting tours of duty in different parts of the country.

David M. Black, firemen apprentice, 23 Underhill Road, Mill Valley, and Robert L. Hills, fireman apprentice, 580 Pinewood Drive, San Rafael, will report aboard the aircraft carrier Kearsarge at her home port in Long Beach.

George M. Dobson, seaman apprentice, 2 Olive Avenue, San Anselmo, will attend engineman school at the Naval Service Schools Command, Great Lakes, Ill., and Eduardo M. Fontana, seaman apprentice, 55 Corte Comoda, Greenbrae, will report for duty with Commander Service Forces Pacific in Hawaii.

Charles R. Miles, hospitalman, 566 Heather Way, San Rafael, will train at the Naval Hospital in San Diego.

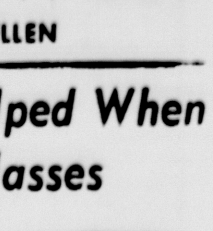
Car Stolen

David Kosofsky of Ellenville, N.Y., reported to police that his 1962 white Corvette convertible was stolen while parked at Zack's-by-the-Bay, Bridgeway and Turney Street, Sausalito, yesterday.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Presbyopiacs Greatly Helped When They Try On Bifocal Glasses



VAN DELLEN

When a 42-year-old man steps out of a telephone booth with a directory to find a number, he is a candidate for the presbyopia club. He needs glasses to correct a visual defect that occurs with advancing years. The point of focus has receded beyond the distance at which he reads ordinary print (approximately 9 inches). The alternative is to hold the book farther away but the arms can be stretched just so far.

The eyes can adjust to minor defects to maintain clear vision. The pupils contract, the lenses change and the person squints to shut out the rays of light that distort the image. But the day of reckoning comes because there is a limit to how much strain the eyes can take to focus the rays. Glasses solve the problem by making near vision easier; there is no need to continue holding the hymnal or menu at arm's length to read.

Close work becomes a pleasure when vision becomes clear again. Necessity is the mother of invention. This may explain why glasses were invented centuries ago; the craftsman or artist was through at 40 without them. The same applied to women who sewed or knitted socks and sweaters.

The individual whose occupation calls for combined close and distant work soon finds ordinary reading specs inadequate. It isa nnoying to take them off and on to conduct business and herein lies the value of bifocals. These lenses are ground so that the lower part is used for near vision and the upper is clear or refracted for distance. Half glasses also are available. In this way the user need not change glasses when he switches from close to distant vision.

BIFOCALS do not satisfy everyone. The individual can see everything within 20 inches and beyond 50, but not what is between. He requires better visual acuity for this intermediate space, and here is where trifocals come in handy. With a single pair of glasses, the person is able to read the paper, look at the calendar on the wall, and enjoy the picture on the billboard across the street.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

CYSTIC SWELLINGS

F. T. writes: Could a person have a ganglion anywhere but on the wrist?

REPLY

Yes, over tendon sheaths anywhere. However, these cyst-like lesions are more common on the wrist. They are easily remedied by injections of ACTH or related hormones.

ASPIRIN AND HAIR

M. W. writes: I take aspirin every day for arthritis but people tell me it will dry the scalp and cause falling hair. Is this true?

REPLY

No. Aspirin is well tolerated by most humans, but too much will disturb the stomach rather than the hair.

HECTIC FLUSH

Mrs. E. T. writes: Why do I become florid and feverish after a few cocktails?

REPLY

Because alcohol dilates the blood vessels, which makes the skin warm and flushed.

MIGRAINE

Mrs. C. writes: Is shock therapy ever recommended for intense and frequent migraine attacks?

REPLY

No.

TYPE OF TONSILITIS

F. S. writes: What is lingual tonsilitis?

REPLY

Infection of the tonsil-like tissue located at the root of the tongue.

BOTH ARE CURABLE

S. A. writes: I know people who have been cured of peptic ulcer. Why can't spastic bowel be cured?

REPLY

I know people who have been cured of spastic bowel. Both conditions tend to recur, however, if the causative factors return.

RUBBING MAY HELP

J. Y. writes: Will rubbing the body with alcohol help arthritis by improving the circulation?

REPLY

The massage, not the alcohol, will improve circulation to the skin. Symptoms may be improved after the procedure, but it is doubtful whether rubbing the outside will affect the circulation to the deeper structures, including the aching joint.

HOLLOW-EYED

W. Q. writes: What causes sunken, lifeless eyes in a 34-year-old man?

EXERCISE AND ARTHRITIS

D. A. writes: Are daily setting-up exercises bad for a person with arthritis of the spine?

REPLY

Only if the exercises produce or aggravate distress. Proper exercises will strengthen the muscles of the back, thus giving additional support to the structure.

NO VEGETABLES

C. F. writes: I am middle-aged and my diet consists of meat, potatoes, milk, oatmeal, and eggs. I do not like vegetables. Must I eat them?

REPLY

Vegetables are not absolutely necessary provided the diet otherwise is adequate.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Negligence May Injure Others

Gene lived in a crowded neighborhood. He had two cars but only a one-car garage. He often parked his older car in the street or on his garage driveway. Many other people parked their cars in his driveway or just turned their cars around it.

One afternoon, Sally Slipper suddenly slipped on the accumulated grease there. She complained to Gene.

When Sally found that she had hurt her back badly, she sued Gene. Gene claimed that he didn't put the grease there. For all he knew, other cars had.

The court ruled that the jury could determine that Gene's cars created the hazard. If Gene failed to inspect and clean away the grease left by his car, he would have to pay for the damages.

You are not always liable to a person hurt on your sidewalk. Not the ownership but what the property owner does, is what makes the sidewalk dangerous.

Did the property owner do something to create a hazard to pedestrians? Suppose the owner lets his water drain over the sidewalk making it slippery. Suppose he lets vines extend beyond his land. Suppose he stacks vegetables so that people run into them. ll this creates hazards.

If things are left on the sidewalk by third parties, or are blown there by heavy winds, the owner is seldom to blame.

Most prudent home owners have liability policies to protect them when they are at fault.

Everybody must use "ordinary care" not to do things that may harm others.

Sometimes the city or county may place special duties on property owners. There may be city lines, ordinances about putting things on sidewalks, for water drainage, or general safety rules about hanging things from buildings over sidewalks. These rules may impose other duties, violation of which is negligence "in itself," needing no further proof of intention.

Sidewalk defects themselves are the responsibility of the city. If the city officials know or should know of cracks, or other hazards, and have the money to make repairs, the city must do so. Its failure is negligence. Citizens hurt as a result can hold the city responsible.

Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.

Bolinas Firemen Aid Choking Baby

Fast action by Bolinas volunteer firemen was believed to have saved the life Saturday of a one-week-old baby.

Mrs. Linal De Ronden Pos of Birch and Poplar streets telephoned firemen at 9:25 p.m. saying her child, Rosemarie, was choking. She and her husband brought the baby to the fire department where volunteer firemen gave the child resuscitation for four or five minutes. Later, at home, the baby was checked by a doctor and found to be all right.

"The fast action of the volunteers probably saved the baby's life," said Fire Chief Jose Silva today.

Sausalito Spanish Program Report Set

Indonesia Army To Fight Reds

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Indonesian regional commanders last night fully endorsed the army chief's crackdown on the Communists and pledged to carry it out in their regions, the official news agency Antara reported.

The army chief, Maj. Gen. Suharto, met with the commanders in Jakarta after they had met with President Sukarno at the Bogor presidential palace 40 miles south of Jakarta.

Sukarno in a speech yesterday appealed for an end to the campaign of "killing, destruction and hatred" against the Communists. He warned that if Indonesians continue to fight each other, the nation will destroy itself from within.

TELEVISION REVIEW

This Is The Week That Is With TV

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—It isn't often that an upcoming week of television can be recommended, but this Thanksgiving season seems to be an exception. Starting tomorrow night, an impressive number of entertainment specials, public affairs programs and documentaries will be presented by the networks through the weekend.

Tomorrow's entertainment special is CBS-TV's "Salute to Stan Laurel," an all-star comedy hour in memory of the late entertainer, with Dick Van Dyke as host, and guests including Lucille Ball, Danny Kaye, Buster Keaton, Phil Silvers and Bob Newhart.

Also tomorrow, there is CBS-TV's "National Citizenship Test," an audience-involvement program in which viewers will be asked 42 questions examining their knowledge of a citizen's "rights, obligations and responsibilities." This hour was postponed from Nov. 9 because of the northeast power failure. The test center is in New York.

On Wednesday, Frank Sinatra will appear in a one-man, one-hour show on NBC-TV, singing many of the songs he has been associated with in the past 25 years. The same night, the same network will offer a David Brinkley hour, "Congress Needs Help," based on a study by a top management and consulting firm, evaluating the operating machinery of that legislative body.

And a third special network broadcast Wednesday is ABC-TV's "Pro Football: Mayhem on a Sunday Afternoon," an hour documentary looking at the craze over the sport in the United States, and tracing the history of gridiron competition.

Thursday, Thanksgiving Day, finds this schedule of specials:

—ABC-T's tour of Washington, D.C., with Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, underscoring the nation's beautification program.

—NBC-TV's "Words and Music by Cole Porter," an hour of song and dance starring Maurice Chevalier, Robert Goulet and Nancy Ames.

—An ABC-TV hour with Sammy Davis and some musically talented youngsters, which is "set in a children's world of play."

—Macy's annual Thanksgiving Day parade in New York, on NBC-TV.

CBS-TV's "Thanksgiving Day Jubilee," featuring holiday spectacles in New York, Philadelphia, Detroit and Toronto.

Friday, NBC-TV has an entertainment documentary entitled "The Incredible World of James Bond," dealing with the famous fictional Agent 007, and including an interview with his late creator, Ian Fleming.

Finally, on Sunday, there is a Julie Andrews musical special on NBC-TV, with Gene Kelly as her guest, as well as the following hours:

—On ABC-TV, an original musical comedy special which looks at the story of Little Red Riding Hood from the wolf's point of view, and stars Liza Minnelli, Cyril Ritchard and Vic Damone.

On NBC-TV, a documentary, "Who Shall Live?", about the failure to save many victims of uremic poisoning despite a major medical breakthrough, an artificial kidney machine.

Redwood Students Due College Talks

Three college representatives will visit Redwood High School in the next seven days.

At 12:30 p.m. tomorrow a representative for Claremont Men's College, Harvey Mudd College and Pitzer College, all of Claremont, will meet with students.

At 9 a.m. Wednesday a representative from the University of Chicago will come, and at 3:05 p.m. next Monday a representative from George Fox College, Newberg, Ore., will be on campus.

Fairfax Citizens To Hear Planning Aide

Santa Clara County Planning Director Carl Belser will speak to the final orientation session of the Fairfax Citizens Planning Committee, working on a general plan for the city, at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Fairfax Women's Club.

At another meeting of the group Thursday, about 75 persons heard Marin County Planning Director B. D. Dobbs discuss the plan.

Lee Baldwin Is Novato Queen

Lee Baldwin was crowned football queen at the Novato High School coronation ball, "Autumn Fantasy," in the school gymnasium Saturday night.

Lee won in viting Friday in a field of six candidates. Other candidates were Marilyn Benaski, Karen Leech, Sue Spencer, Barbara Wagner and Anita Watson.

Corte Madera Public Safety Ceremony Set

Corte Madera's new Public Safety Building will be dedicated Dec. 4 at 2 p.m. during ceremonies including speeches, guided tours and refreshments.

Tours of the building, which now houses the town's police and fire departments, will be led by Police and Fire Chief Frank L. Nelson.

Speakers scheduled for the dedication ceremony are Peter H. Behr, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales, Sheriff Louis Mountanos and County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom. Master of ceremonies will be Mayor Edward W. Colthurst. Invocation will be by Rev. Tod W. Ewald of Holy Innocent's Episcopal Parish in Corte Madera.

The new building at Tamalpais Drive and Pixley Avenue is the first station in the county specifically designed to house both police and fire departments.

The $174,400 construction cost was paid with funds from an April, 1964, general obligation bond issue. Balance of the bond fund will go for construction of a substation in east Corte Madera.

Architects of the building were Crawford and Banning of San Rafael. Fostmeier Construction Co. of Petaluma was general contractor.

The tour of the building after the Dec. 4 ceremony will end with refreshments served by the women's auxiliary of the Marin County Fire Assn.

Deer Lose Lives To Automobiles

SUSANVILLE (AP)—Automobiles killed 710 deers on northern California roads during the first 10 months of 1965.

The State Department and Highways and the State Fish and Game Commission, reporting that yesterday, said they did not know how many deer were hit and crawled off in the woods to die.

No human life was lost, the agencies said.

Elmer Doty, fish and game inspector, and the California Highway Patrol advocated lesser speed limits for night use in deer areas.

Apartment House Zone Set For Plan Hearing

San Rafael planning commissioners will hold the second of two hearings tomorrow on a plan to raise the minimum square footage required in apartment zones.

The commission will meet at 7:30 p.m. at city hall.

Commissioners were told at the first hearing that the change would affect more than 1,000 lots in the city. Proposed is an increase in the footage requirement from 1,000 to 1,250 square feet of land per apartment unit.

Second hearings are also scheduled on the application of Kerner-Bellam Realty Co. to rezone land on the east side of Kerner Boulevard, and on that of the Draper Companies for commercial zoning in two lots near the Emporium's east parking lot.

Also on the agenda is builder Douglas M. Christensen's request for a use permit to build an administrative-professional building at the Northgate Shopping Center.

Other permits to be considered are those asked by Neil Shooter to erect a 50-foot radio transmitting tower on a commercial building at 77 Larkspur Street and by United Ambulance Service to move its operations to 18 and 20 G Street.

Permits for advertising signs will be sought by Murphy-Laster Realty and the Bermuda Palms Motel.

Final item on the agenda is the request of Eugene P. Aureguy of Mill Valley and Harold G. MacKenzie of Novato to remove earth from the site of a proposed shopping center across Highway 101 from the Northgate Shopping Center.

Acting City Planner Charles J. Linthicum told commissioners Nov. 9 that the excavation, in which dirt is being moved out of the city limits to the site of the veterans memorial building and county fair auditorium at Marin Civic Center, was in violation of the zoning ordinance since no permit was issued.

The city subsequently issued a stop order on the excavation.

Uniform Stolen

Nancy Carol Brusati, 28 Tampa Drive, San Rafael, reported to police Friday the theft of a Dominican School uniform, worth $57, from her auto parked in a lot at Northgate Shopping Center.

Floyd's One Last Chance, But Clay's Solid Favorite

By MURRAY ROSE

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Floyd Patterson, who made fistic history several times in his erractic career, gets what has to be his last chance at boxing's most prized crown when he takes on heavyweight champion Cassius Clay tonight.

The onetime boy wonder of the ring, knocked out by Sonny Liston in the first round here 28 months ago, is a 3-1 underdog to the all-conquering 23-year-old Clay at Convention Center in a 15-rounder that very few believe will go more than a few rounds.

Patterson, two-time holder of the title and the youngest ever to win it at 21, will be pitting the dynamite of his leaping left hook against the speed and power of the taller and heavier defender.

The consesus is that if the 30-year-old 6-foot New Yorker doesn't nail the 6-foot-3 Clay early with a jarring hook, he will crumble from the jolting jabs and flashing, two-hand combinations of the Louisville Lip.

Clay, cocky and confident as a Las Vegas night club comic with a 10-year contract, had a couple of parting words to newsmen yesterday:

"Come early," he said.

Previously the bold, brash champion had said he was undecided whether he would knock out "The Rabbit" — as he calls Patterson — in a few rounds or punish him for seven or eight before belting him out for the count.

"If I take him out in one round, people will say it's a fix," said Clay, or Muhammad Ali, as he prefers to be called. "If I give him a hard beating and knock him out in the seventh or eighth round, people gonna say I'm cruel."

The betting is 5-6 and take your pick — even money in man to man odds — that the fight won't go more than five rounds.

It will be broadcast by ABC radio and telecast by closed circuit to more than 200 outlets in the United States and Canada. It also will be beamed via early bird satellite to early morning viewers in theaters in the British Isles.

Starting time for the title fight will be about 7:30 p.m.

The fans will come early. Most remember that three of the last four heavyweight fights —two of them involving Patterson — ended in the first round.

There hasn't been a decision in a heavyeight title fight since Rocky Marciano outpointed Ezzard Charles in the 15 rounds of their first fight 11½ years ago. There have been 16 heavyeight title fights since then and all of them have ended in knockouts.

Patterson has been involved in 11 of them, winning eight and losing three.

The sensitive, introverted challenger became the first man ever to win the heavyweight crown twice when he regained the crown from Sweden's Ingemar Johansson on a fifth round knockout in 1960.

It was a leaping left hook, carrying all of Patterson's weight behind it, that knocked Johansson unconscious, his legs quivering, at the New York Polo Grounds.

"I feel that I'm in fine condition, mentally and physically, as I was for the second fight with Ingemar," said Patterson at a press conference yesterday. "I feel just as confident now as I did then. I just feel I'm going to win."

Patterson denied that he had said that "the opposition camp" — meaning Clay's camp — had caused him any difficulty.

"I've had no difficulty with the opposition camp," he told newsmen. "I stressed in an interview the other day that I had difficulty in my own camp."

He declined to elaborate but said "I'll be in a position to say more after the fight."

Both he and Clay were examined Sunday and declared in excellent physical condition by Dr. Donald Romeo, chief examining physician of the Nevada Athletic Commission.

"Patterson's mental outlook is

Boos Backfire As Brodie & Co. Rally To Win

Boo-Birds Of Unhappiless At Kezar; A Three-Point Landing

Pro football is a funny game (ha-ha). I can remember three games (Vikings, Colts, Dallas) the 49ers lost but should have won. Yesterday they won a game they should have lost to the pathetic Rams.

If you had a worst enemy you should have taken him to Kezar yesterday. Until the last eight minutes or so it was that dull. A real lemon. If tranquilizer manufacturers could have bottled three quarters of yesterday's game they'd have made a fortunue.

EVEN CLEMENTINE looked bored and she (hee?) is the 49er mascot. I'm beginning to think Clemmy is fickle. When the Rams established what appeared to be a safe 27-13 lead in the fourth quarter, Clemmie moved over to the Los Angeles side of the field. Then when the 49ers came back to tie it up at 27-27 I noticed her or him (herm?) in the end zone area, right in the middle. Then when the 49ers mustered their forces to win in the final nine seconds, Clemmy trotted back to the 49er bench. If you think I'm going to say this is a classic case of from fickle in the middle to mustered on top you must think I'm a bigger—than Clemmy. Frank-ly, I'm a has-bun in the punderful world of sports.

EARLY IN the game you got the idea the 49ers would win by three points because the Ram placekicker missed a seven-yard field goal. This is difficult for an amateur to miss, let alone a pro. Especially when you compare the seven-yard miss to 49er Tommy Davis' good ones from 50, 39 and 22 yards. The script writer really had an imagination. Toe-be or not toe-be.

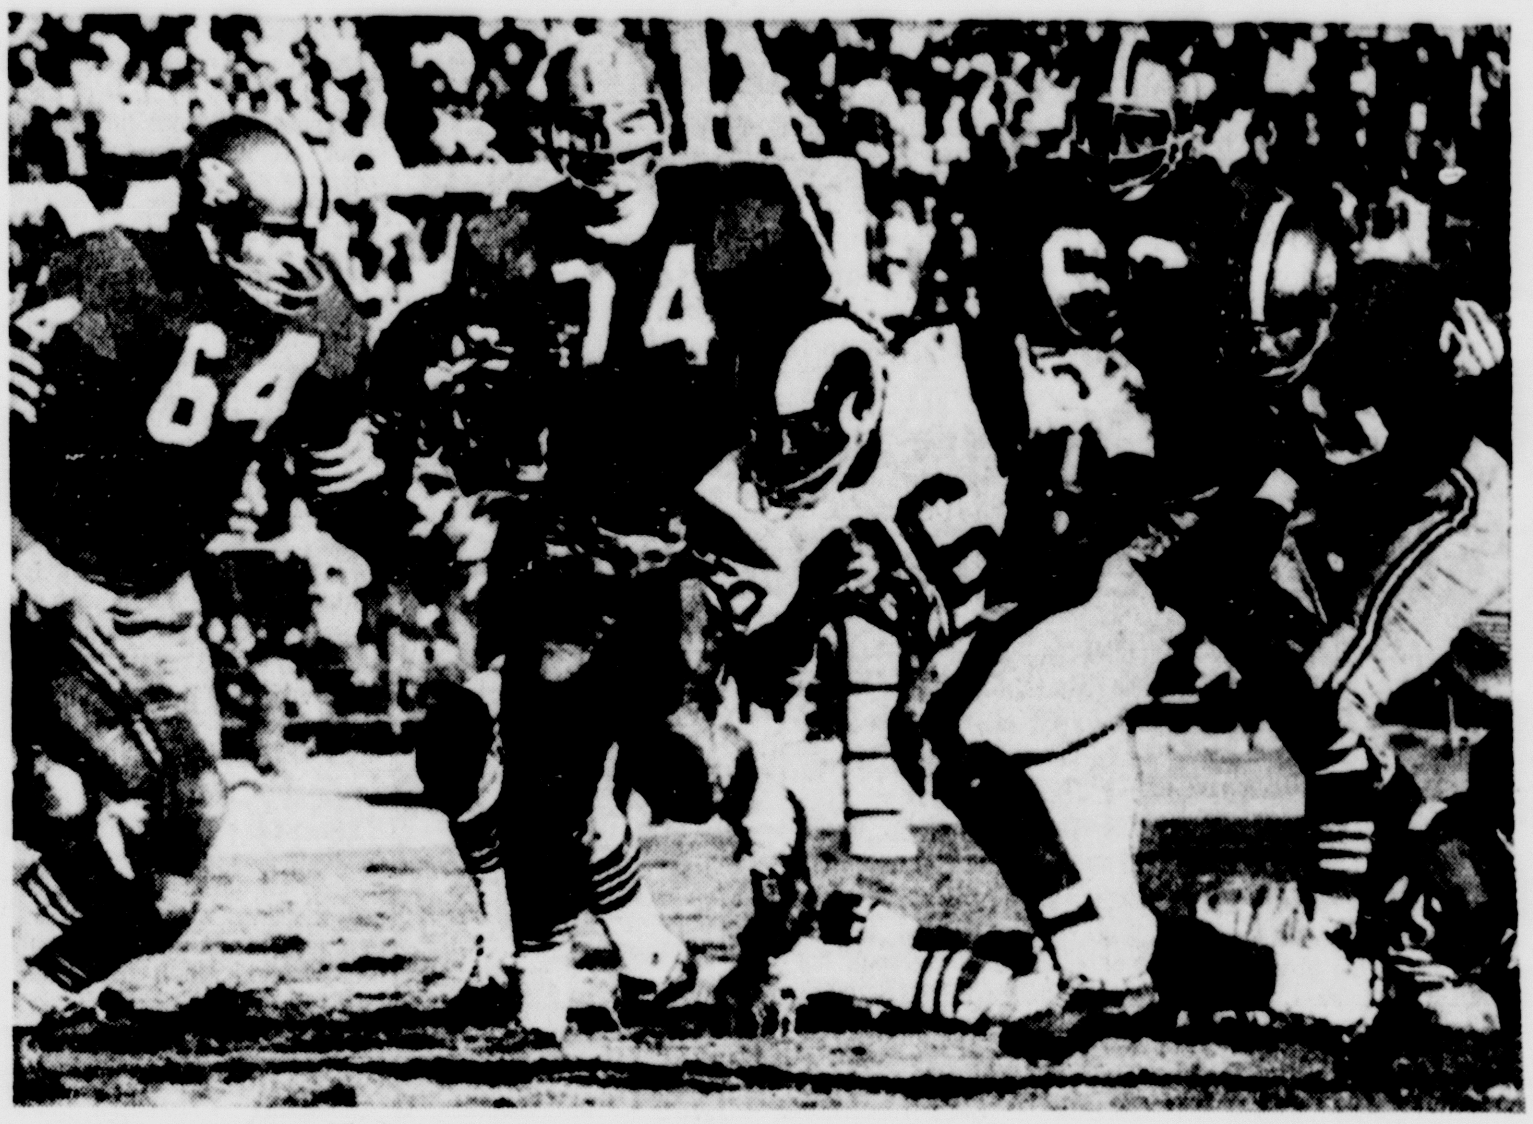
THE BOO-BIRDS of happiless replaced the seagulls yesterday and while they have a different calling card, the former got their message across to poor John, honest John Brodie. Our hero had trouble making ends meet for awhile, so on a couple of occasions he used his running backs as pass receivers, figuring where there's a Willard there's a way; and the shortest distance between two points is an Old Crow. Especially out of the tight formation.

The boo-zers really got on Brodie when Ram Dan McIlhany intercepted a fourth quarter pass. Poor John must have thought Hugh was making a comeback because he threw it right to him. Can we help it if John can't spell?

UNTIL THE fourth quarter rally, the most enjoyable part of the game was the performance by the 110-piece Medford (Ore.) high school band. The kids from up north really gave forth with a stirring rendition of Happy Birthday 49ers on the S. F. team's 20th anniversary and followed it up with a trumpet solo of "I Left My Heart In San Francisco."

I THOUGHT it was Gabriel blowing his horn, but he waited until the fourth quarter to blow it. After all, Roman wasn't spilled in a day.

One last thought: With all those boo birds flying around yesterday, I'm glad it was Brodie and Davis and Co. who made that perfect three-point landing.



TRAPPED—Rams' fullback Ben Wilson (36) managed to weave and dodge his way through this trap for 18-yard gain in third quarter of yesterday's game at Kezar. Finally trapping him were 49ers Dave Wilcox (64), Clark Miller (74), Roland Lakes (60) and George Donnelly (20).

49ers Nip Rams On Davis Kick, 30-27

By JACK STEVENSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A large segment of San Francisco fans who booed John Brodie unmercifully must still feel sheepish today.

Trailing the Los Angeles Rams 27-13 with less than nine minutes to play, the 49ers marshalled their forces yesterday and, with quarterback Brodie at the helm, they rallied to win 30-27 on a 23-yard field goal by Tommy Davis with just six seconds left.

So the fortunes of the Rams go from bad to worse. They lost first string quarterback Bill Munson for the season late in the first half and lost the game in the second — their eighth defeat.

A roar of disapproval went up when two Brodie passes were intercepted in the opening minutes of the fourth quarter. Then Jim Johnson picked off a Roman Gabriel throw and the 49ers clicked. Brodie hit Ken Willard with an eight - yard touchdown throw and followed five minutes later with a 15-yard scoring pitch to Dave Parks. After a short punt by the Rams' Jon Kilgore in the waning minutes, the 49ers drove from their 49 to the 15 and Davis came on to boot his third field goal of the game and put the 49ers National Football League record at 5-5.

Now they hit the road to play at Minnesota on Sunday while Green Bay invades Los Angeles.

Coach Harland Svare fumed over the play that cut down Munson. The quarterback suffered torn ligaments in his right knee and possible cartilage damage when he was hit by defensive end Clark Miller either while he was throwing a pass or immediately afterward.

No penalty was called against Miller although two plays before he had drawn a 15-yard penalty for roughing the passer.

"Munson was hit after he threw the ball," Svare said bitterly. "He didn't have the ball, did he? It was definitely illegal. If it was legal, then the defense could get every quarterback in the league.

"A quarterback is defenseless after he throws the ball."

Great Drama In Colts' Win; Green Bay Smashes Vikes

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jimmy Orr has set a National Football League record.

He's the fastest in-out-in patient in NFL history.

The slender flanker back suffered an injured right shoulder in the second period at Baltimore yesterday, and later went to a nearby hospital for X-rays. By the fourth period he was out of the hospital and back in the game — and helped the Colts to their eighth straight victory, 34-24 over the Philadelphia Eagles.

Orr, whose injury proved to be a pulled muscle, returned to Memorial Stadium with seven minutes to play and the Colts holding a tenuous 27-24 lead. While the crowd of 60,238 roared, he raced dramatically onto the field and directly to the Colts huddle.

Johnny Unitas and Lenny Moore hooked up on a 47-yard pass on the first play, then on the second Unitas lofted a 22-yarder to Orr in the end zone — and the game was clinched.

By winning, the Colts raised their record to 9-1 and maintained their one-game lead in the Western Division over Green Bay. A ferocious defense fired a 28-point final quarter that enabled the Packers to rout the Minnesota Vikings 38-13.

BROWNS WIN

The Cleveland Browns, with to key interceptions in the closing moments, added to their Eastern lead with a 24-17 decision over the Dallas Cowboys. New York's surprising Giants tied St. Louis for second place with a 28-15 victory over the Cardinals as defensive back Dick Lynch starred.

Cleveland is 8-2, New York and St. Louis 5-5, with four games to go.

Gale Sayers' touchdown run in the third quarter and a tough defense led the Chicago Bears over the Detroit Lions 17-10; Tommy Davis' 23-yard field goal with six seconds to play gave the San Francisco 49ers a 30-27 victory over the Los Angeles Rams, and the Washington Redskins beat Pittsburgh's fumbling Steelers 31-3

Unitas, who sat out last week's game as understudy Gary Cuozzo threw five scoring passes against Minnesota, hit Moore on a 57-yard TD strike and Jerry Logan, followed with a 36-yard scoring run with an intercepted pass as Baltimore took a 14-0 lead over Philadelphia.

But the Eagles made a tingler out of it, and went ahead in the third period 24-20 when Norm Snead threw his second touchdown pass — seven yards to Ray Poage. However, Unitas passed the Colts downfield early in the last quarter and Moore plunged one yard for the go-ahead score

DRAMATIC RETURN

Munson Out For Season, Undergoes Knee Surgery

SANTA MONICA (AP) —Los Angeles Ram quarterback Bill Munson underwent surgery last night for repair of knee damage suffered earlier in the day in a game with the San Francisco 49ers.

A Ram spokesman, who flew here with Munson after the Rams' 30-27 loss, said the ligament and cartilage damage in Munson's right knee would keep him out for the rest of the season.

Munson was met at St. John's Hospital by Dr. Daniel Levinthal, who with team physician Dr. John Perry decided upon immediate surgery.

Munson injured the same knee earlier this year in a National Football League contest with the Minnesota Vikings. That time, the man who hit him was Bill Jobko, who used to play for the Rams and who works out with Munson in the nearby San Fernando Valley during the off season.

This time, the man who tackled him in San Francisco was Clark Miller, a former teammate and fraternity brother of Munson's at Utah State.

WHEN A COLD SPELL hits Jack Daniel's Hollow everybody would like to help make the charcoal that smooths out our Tennessee whiskey.

The ancient Charcoal Mellowing process we use to gentle our whiskey calls for seeping every drop down through 10 feet of hard maple charcoal. And it has to be rick-burned in the open air. We still make our own charcoal this way just as Mr. Jack did a century ago. The folks in the rickyard are especially glad we've never changed. After a sip of Jack Daniel's, we believe you'll be glad too.

Defense, Rescues Raiders, 28-20

OAKLAND (AP) — Oakland's Raiders thank their defensive platoon for keeping them alive in the American Football League's western division race.

The score stood 14-14 after three quarters of play against the Broncos at Denver on Sunday. In the final period the Oakland offense controlled the ball on exactly a dozen plays.

Yet the Raiders won 28-20 because in that fourth stanza linebacker Gus Otto intercepted a John McCormick pass and ran it back 68 yards to score, and defensive halfback Dave Grayson picked off another and carried it 47 yards to score.

Even one of the first two Oakland touchdowns was set up by the defense. Warren Powers grabbed a McCormick pass and carried it to the Denver six. After a penalty, Tom Flores passed three yards to Art Powell for the score.

The victory gives Oakland a 6-4-1 record. First place San Diego at 6-2-2 has a Thanksgiving Day date against Eastern leader Buffalo.

The Raiders don't play again until they meet the Broncos again, this time at Oakland, on Dec. 5.

At Denver, the Raider offense clicked in the first half and scored on a 77-yard touchdown march in the second period, the score coming on a 34 - yard Flores to Clem Daniels play. The Powell touchdown boosted the count to 14-0.

But the Broncos came back and knotted the count on a two-yard smash by Wendell Hayes and an 11-yard pass from McCormick to Lionel Taylor. The final Denver score came in the fourth period on an eight-yard pass to Taylor from Jacky Lee.

Fortunately for Oakland, McCormick had a bad day. He completed only 13 of 36 passes and had four of them intercepted. The Raiders connected on 20 of 46 passes for 272 yards and overall outgained the last place Broncos 381 to 251.

Colts Win; Packers Clobber Minnesota

ception by Boyd, and Jimmy Orr's dramatic re-entry.

The Packers continued to suffer from offensive sluggishness, but their defense destroyed the Vikings in a last-period uprising. A 47-yard touchdown pass in the opening seconds of the final quarter, Bart Starr to Boyd Dowler, gave Green Bay a 17-14 edge.

Then Ray Nitschke's recovery of Bill Brown's fumble set up a Packer touchdown, Doug Hart scored another on a 20-yard run with another Brown fumble, Herb Adderley intercepted a Minnesota pass, and Lionel Aldridge fell on a Viking fumble that led to the game's final TD.

Dallas twice threatened to tie the Browns in the closing minutes but was thwarted both times by interceptions of Don Meredith passes. The first was by Vince Costello in the end zone, when Meredith threw on first down at the Cleveland one. Ross Fichtner made the decisive steal with about a minute to go.

BROWN SCORES

Jim Brown bulled over for one Cleveland touchdown and gained 99 yards on the day. LeRoy Kelly scored for the winners on a 67-yard punt return, and Frank Ryan tossed a five-yard TD pass to Gary Collins.

Lynch set up the first Giant touchdown against St. Louis with a pass interception on Buddy Humphrey, subbing for the injured Charley Johnson, and scored the clincher on a 60-yard run with a fumble recovery. Earl Morrall passed for three New York touchdowns.

Sayers' raced 20 yards for his 12th touchdown of the season on the Bears' fifth play of the second half at Detroit. Chicago's defense then made the 17-10 score stand up by allowing the Lions to penetrate Bear territory only once in the last two periods.

Warriors Vs. Hawks Tonight

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The San Francisco Warriors would probably be happy if Southern hospitality somehow includes a victory tonight over the St. Louis Hawks in a game at Memphis.

The Warriors have lost their past three National Basketball Assn. games, dropping the last one 133-117 to the Los Angeles Lakers Saturday night at Las Vegas, Nev.

The Hawks Saturday beat the Detroit Pistons 110-101 at St. Louis. The Hawks had a wider margin when they defeated the Warriors 138 - 133 at St.Louis Nov. 13, the last time the teams met.

San Francisco led the Lakers at Las Vegas 56-50 at the half, climbing to a 15-point lead soon after the buzzer sounded. Then Jerry West and Elgin Baylor went to work for Los Angeles.

Darrall Imhoff put the Lakers ahead 93-92 and San Francisco never regained the lead. West led with 34 points and Guy Rodgers topped San Francisco scoring with 23.

Jeers To Cheers—Brodie Rallies 49ers To Victory

Ironically, Miller and Munson were teammates and fraternity brothers during their collegiate days at Utah State. Miller said, "It's my business to get to the passer. I'm never trying to hurt anybody; we make our living being well. It was all confused."

Joe Carollo, one of the Ram linemen protecting the passer, said Miller had been knocked down, then got up and cut down Munson.

Matt Hazeltine, 49er linebacker, said, "It looked like Munson was stepping up into the pocket to throw when Clark got to him. It looked legal."

Roman Gabriel took over and, although he ran three yards for one touchdown and threw 40 to Jack Snow for another, he connected on only seven of 24 passes.

Brodie, meanwhile, hit 23 of 37 for 214 yards.

Coach Jack Christiansen of the 49ers said, "We looked real bad in the first half. I'm glad I didn't listen to the crowd and take John Brodie out when they booed.

"John threw a few bad balls today but he threw a few exceptional ones, too."

Brodie completed 23 out of 37 passes, including two for touchdowns.

Christiansen said, "That was a beautiful throw to Ken Willard for one touchdown and another beauty to Dave Parks for the tying touchdown."

Christiansen praised Brodie for his smart use of the clock near the end of the game.

The referee started to call time out with 30 seconds left and the ball on the Ram 15. Brodie objected he had not asked for time out and the clock kept moving until nine seconds were left.

He then called time out and Davis kicked the winning field goal. Time ran out with the ensuing 49er kickoff.

Brodie said, "Too many games have been won and lost in this league on the last play. I didn't want that to happen here.

"The LA defense is tops. They are tough.

"Davis was kicking well all day. We figured if we got to the 25 we had it."

Davis enjoyed a fine afternoon. Before booting the winning field goal, he had hit from 50 and 39 yards and the three conversions.

The Rams' early scores came on a 17-yard field goal by Bruce Gossett and a 10-yard Munson pass to Tommy McDonald. Gossett later contributed a 31-yard field goal to the Ram production.

CLAY SOLID FAVORITE; FLOYD'S LAST CHANCE

much brighter this time," commented Romeo when asked if he noted any difference beteen Patterson now and 28 months ago.

It was that far back when Patterson was knocked out in the first round for the second straight time by Sonny Liston. Most everyone felt that Patterson was washed up for keeps then.

But the determined ex-champion returned to his rustic training camp retreat, rallied to win five straight bouts, and once again wound up with a chance at the title.

That in itself was a monumental upset. His record is 43-4 including 32 knockouts. He has been stopped three times — once by Johansson and twice by Liston.

Everyone knows about Clay's record of 21 straight, 17 of them by knockouts, since turning pro after his 1960 triumphs in the Olympic Games. The Greatest doesn't let anyone forget.

Clay on the title when Liston quit on his stool after the sixth round of their first fight in 1964 and retained it by blitzing Liston in the first round of their controversial return at Lewiston, Maine, last May 25.

Whether it turns out to be a quickie or not, the fighters will cash in handsomely. The promoters predict a $750,000 purse for Clay and a $375,000 pot for Patterson, who already has grossed more than $7 million in his 12-year pro career.

FLOYD PATTERSON
His last chance

Al Bolan, running the promotion here for Inter-Continental Promotions, Inc., said Convention Center will have a capacity crowd of 8,200 and gross about $350,000. Clay gets 40 per cent and Patterson 20 per cent of all radio, television and movie rights.

Scoring will be done by the referee, to be announced at fight time, and to judges, the five-point must system will be used. The winner of a round will get five points, the loser four or less. For an even round each will get five points.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mildred (Babe Didrikson) Zaharias won the 1954 U.S. Women's Open golf championship by 12 strokes. This is a USGA record for the largest winning margin in a stroke play tournament.

Terrell Guaranteed Fight With Winner

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Both heavyweight champion Cassius Clay and challenger Floyd Patterson have signed $50,000 bond agreements that the winner of their title fight tonight will meet Ernie Terrell within six months, the president of the World Boxing Assn. said yesterday.

Jim Deskin, president of the WBA and executive secretary of the Nevada Athletic Commission, said, however, that Terrell has not posted such a bond yet, although he had been requested to do so.

Terrell, of Chicago, is the WBA's heavyweight champion, but the Clay-Patterson fight still is billed as for the world title here. Deskin said that both Clay and Patterson have stated there is not a return bout contract or agreement.

The WBA head also said that there is a stipulation in the bond agreement that says that both Patterson and Clay, as well as the WBA must be satisfied that any manager, trainer or any person or firm or corporation having any property interest in Terrell must be free of any underworld contacts.

The California Athletic Commission released a statement the other day urging all boxing organizations to refrain from undesirable influences.

Terrell says he is his own manager.

All Major Bowl Berths Filled; MSU Vs. Bruins

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It isn't often that a winner, a big winner, is in the position of resorting to the old, old lament of the losers, "wait 'til next year."

Michigan State qualifies.

The Spartans, the No. 1 team in the country, winner of 10 straight and secure in a Rose Bowl berth, now have only to wait until next year to find out if they win the national collegiate football championship.

They took a giant step toward that title — to be determined in an Associated Press poll after the Jan. 1 bowl games — with a rousing 12-3 victory over rugged Notre Dame Saturday, completing a perfect season.

Their Rose Bowl opponent — almost certain to be UCLA — was scheduled to be announced today. UCLA, the No. 7 team in the country, upset sixth-ranked Southern Cal 20-16 Saturday for a 7-1-1 mark that may have clinched the spot.

Washington State, another contender, had its hopes dashed 27-9 by Washington. The selection committee was to meet today. If it selects UCLA, that will make the major bowl line-up look like this:

ROSE BOWL — Michigan State, 10-0, vs. UCLA, 7-1-1.

COTTON BOWL — Arkansas, 10-0, vs. Louisiana State, 7-3.

SUGAR BOWL — Missouri, 7-2-1, vs. Florida, 6-3.

ORANGE BOWL — Nebraska, 9-0, vs. Alabama, 7-1-1.

GATOR BOWL — Georgia Tech, 6-2-1, vs. Texas Tech, 8-2.

Arkansas, the second-ranked team in the country, wrapped up its second straight perfect season and Cotton Bowl berth with a 42-14 romp over Texas Tech, ranked No. 9. Jon Brittenum directed Arkansas scoring drives of 68, 72, 53, 73 and 69 yards that knocked Tech out of a possible Cotton Bowl spot. They settled for the Gator Bowl berth opposite Georgia Tech.

The victory was Arkansas' 22nd straight, longest in the nation. The second longest, 17, was halted at Princeton, N.J., when Dartmouth closed out a 9-0 season and won the Ivy League title by beating Princeton 28-24.

Louisiana State accepted a Cotton Bowl bid after a 62-0 rout of Tulane, while Florida backed into the Sugar Bowl, accepting a previously offered invitation after losing to Miami, Fla. 16-13. They will oppose Missouri, No. 8, which closed out with a 44-20 victory over Kansas.

Alabama, the No. 5 team in the nation, had a day off and took the opportunity to accept a bid to the Orange Bowl.

All the other major spots had been filled previously.

IRISH STOPPED

Michigan State's magnificent defense dominated in the clash with Notre Dame, Saturday's top game. Notre Dame's impressive corps of running backs were limited to a minus 12 yards rushing.

It as the third time this season the front line defense of Harold Lucas, Bubba Smith, Don Bierowicz, Buddy Owens and Bob Viney had limited the opposition to negative rushing yards.

In some of the other traditional games, Harvard blanked Yale 13-0, Purdue edged Indians 26-21, Illinois beat Northestern 20-6, Ohio Stated Edged Michigan 9-7, Minnesota crushed Wisconsin 42-7, Duke took North Carolina 34-7, Pittsburgh nipped Penn State 30-27 and South Carolina edged Clemson 17-16.

Bobby Burnett, Arkansas — scored three touchdowns, set up one with 83-yard run and gained 133 yards rushing in 42-24 comeback victory over Texas Tech.

Gary Beban, UCLA — Fired 52-yard touchdown pass with 2:39 remaining to give Bruins 20-16 victory over Southern California.

Clinton Jones, Michigan State — Ran for 117 yards and one touchdown in 12-3 triumph over Notre Dame.

Johnny Rowland, Missouri — Ran for three touchdowns, set up another with 35-yard punt return, came up with interception and fumble recovery in 44-20 victory over Kansas.

Kenny Lucas, Pittsburgh — Completed 18 of 24 passes for 228 yards and one touchdown in 30-27 upset of Penn State.

Bob Davis, Virginia — Passed for four touchdowns and scored a fifth as Cavaliers tripped Maryland 33-27.

Floyd Little, Syracuse — Scored on 62-yard punt runback and 45-yard screen pass, gained 286 yards over-all in 21-13 victory over Boston College.

Kent Nix, TCU — Passed for four first-half touchdowns and ran for another in 42-14 rout of Rice.

Frank Rogers, Colorado — Caught 57-yard scoring pass and kicked two long field goals in 19-6 victory over Air Force.

Bob Hall, Brown — Hit on 10 of 18 passes for 105 yaards, ran for 60 yards and three touchdowns as Bruins whipped Columbia 51-7.

Jim Grabowski, Illinois — Bulled for 187 yards, breaking two more Big Ten rushing records, in 20-6 victory over Northwestern.

Mickey Beard, Dartmouth — Set up the first three touchdowns with his passing and tossed a 79-yarder for the fourth score as Indians snapped Princeton's 17-game winning streak and won Ivy League title with 28-14 victory.

CAL LOSES THE BIG GAME—AGAIN

Stanford Sets Goal: '66 Title

STANFORD (AP) — Football 1965 goes into history for both California and Stanford, the latter the winner of the Big Game for the fifth straight year but both winding up better than in recent seasons.

The Indians defeated the Bears 9-7 on Terry DeSylvia's 23 - yard field goal and Ray Handley's 12 - yard touchdown run to give Stanford a 6-3-1 record, the best since 1955.

Although pleased with the victory, Coach John Ralston said, "We've got a lot of work ahead of us. Our goal is to win the conference championship. When we come to the conference games next year, they're the ones we've got to win."

All three Stanford losses were to Pacific Athletic Conference foes — Southern California, Washington and UCLA.

Returning for Stanford will be such players as quarterback Dave Lewis, fullbacks John Read and Jack Root and end Bob Conrad.

California finished with a 5-5 won-lost record and Coach Ray Willsey commented, "I'm as disappointed to lose to Stanford as any other alumnus, but on the whole season, I feel we're closing the gap."

Next season the Bears have returnees including quarterback Dan Berry, halfbacks Lloyd Reist and Ted Parks and fullback Frank Lynch.

Both clubs lose their top rushers of 1965 — Ray Handley of Stanford and Tom Relles of California.

Handley gained 91 yards net as the Big Game's leading rusher while Relles had 81 on the ground and caught two passes for 32 more. Linebacker Bob Rath, also a Stanford senior, was named the outstanding lineman in the game by newsmen.

Neither team could score in the first half although Stanford reached the California one before Handley fumbled a pitch-out and the Bears took over.

The Indians also reached the one in the third period. On third down, Read lost a yard and then Stanford was penalized five for taking too much time. So Terry DeSylvia came on to boot a 23-yard field goal.

Opening the fourth quarter, the Bears went on the march travelling 62 yards with Relles booming the final four for the touchdown. Dan Sinclair booted the conversion.

Stanford's sputtering offense finally began to purr. Phil Humphreys returned the kickoff from the 10 to the 30 and in 11 plays the Indians had the winning touchdown.

UCLA WRITES COAST CINDERELLA STORY

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Pacific Athletic Conference fathers will have no trouble today selecting the Bruins of UCLA for the Rose Bowl where they'll battle a return engagement against the only club that beat them this year.

UCLA's sophomore quarterback Gary Beban and the Washington Huskies made things easy for the ballot casters.

The Bruin star threw two touchdown passes in the final four minutes to beat Southern California 20-16 while Washington handed WSU its first PAC defeat by a convincing 27-9 count.

So UCLA completes its conference schedule 4-0, USC stands 4-1 and WSU 2-1. PAC rules require the formality of a vote to officially name UCLA to face Michigan State in the bowl at Pasadena on Jan. 1.

Back on Sept. 18 in East Lansing, UCLA and Michigan State inaugurated their 1965 campaigns with the Spartans winning 13-3 to start an undefeated season. And not since then have the Bruins lost although they did battle to a 14-14 tie with Sugar Bowl-bound Missouri.

In Saturday's other two PAC traditionals, Stanford edged California 9-7 and Oregon State beat Oregon 19-14. Independent San Jose State saw its five-game winning string snipped by Fresno State 24-18.

Two games remain on the docket before Rose Bowl time. Wyoming's Cowboys play Southern California on Nov. 27 and UCLA winds up its regular season on Dec. 4 at Tennessee.

The Bruins had been outplayed by the Trojans of USC through most of their traditional clash before Beban struck with scoring passes of 34 and 52 yards to bring off the victory. The first went to Dick Witcher and a two-point conversion cut the USC lead to 16-14.

Then came the obvious — an onside kickoff by UCLA. Dallas Grider fell on it to give the Bruins possession again. Beban was thrown for a loss but then found Kurt Altenberg with the clinching pass.

Washington's Tod Hullin meanwhile was passing for two touchdowns to keep Washington State out of the Cinderella picture. Nobody had figured either UCLA or Washington State in the title picture at the start of the campaign.

Hullin's touchdown throws came on plays covering 27 yards with Omar Parker the receiver and 54 to Dave Williams.

Oregon State's defense set up three touchdowns in the triumph over Oregon. Thurman Bell ran back an intercepted pass to score and also picked off a pass that thwarted the Oregon comeback drive in the final minutes.

Seals Snap Slump, Jolt League Leading Bucks

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Seals are getting ready for more visitors from the Northwest this week to try to match their conquest of the Western Hockey League leaders.

The Seals toppled the league-leading Portland Buckaroos, 7-3 Saturday night. San Francisco had lost three straight games before meeting Portland, scoring only one goal against Seattle, Vancouver and Pittsburgh.

The Seals moved fast against Portland, jumping to a 4-1 lead in the first period. New Seals coach Charley Burns scored one goal and Gerry Brisson scored two.

Wayne Connelly also scored for San Francisco and Cliff Schmautz made the Buckaroos' goal.

Connelly scored again in the third period. Al Nicholson and Tom Thurlby also hit the net for San Francisco.

Bill Saunders hit Portland's two final goals.

A. J. Foyt Wins Thriller In Phoenix

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Veteran A. J. Foyt of Houston, Tex., won a red-hot duel with 1965 United States Auto Club champion Mario Andretti yesterday to capture the 16th annual Bobby Ball Memorial 200 mile auto race.

Andretti led most of the race after winning the pole position with a world record qualifying performance for a one mile closed track. A cracked axle on the 193rd lap forced him to settle for second.

Andretti, of Nazareth, Pa., qualified at 121.41 miles per hour on the Phoenix International Raceway mile oval.

The yellow flag was out several times for spinouts, cutting Foyt's winning speed to 99.998 miles per hour. Foyt collected $6,030 for his fifth championship event victory of 1965 and he clinched second place behind Andretti in 1965 USAC standings.

Foyt, Andretti and fourth place Joe Leonard of San Jose, Calif., drove rear-engine Fords. Bobby Unser of Albuquerque, N.M., finished third in a rear-engine Offenhauser and Don Branson of Champaign, Ill., as fifth in an Offenhauser roadster.

Andretti collected $3,618 for his second place finish. Unser won $1,929.60, Leonard $1,509.50 and Branson $1,206.60.

Foyt stayed on Andretti's heels the first half of the race, grabbed the lead on the 99th lap, and lost it back to Andretti on the 108th.

Roger Ward was running a strong third when a broken fuel line forced him from the race on the 173rd lap.

There were no serious accidents and no injuries in the race, witnessed by 16,248.

Art Ashe Beaten In Aussie Final

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Arthur Ashe of Australia got by Australian Davis Cupper Fred Stolle in his bid to win his second straight tennis singles championship in this country but then there was John Newcombe.

Ashe, who recently became the first American to win the Queensland title, lost to Newcombe, of Australia, 6-8, 7-2, 7-5, 6-1 yesterday in the final of the New South Wales Championship.

Nancy Richey of Dallas, Tex., also failed in her bid to win the women's singles crown, bowing in the final yesterday to Australia's Margaret Smith 6-2, 6-2.

In another final yesterday, Jim McManus of Berkeley, Calif., and Judy Tegart of Australia defeated Tom Okker of the Netherlands and Gail Sherriff of Australia 6-3, 6-2 for the mixed doubles crown.

I've Got A Secret, Says Al Besselink

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Veteran Al Besselink, who won the Caracas Open Golf Tournament, is so impressed with what he calls a putting secret he says he will be the man to beat in 1966.

"The way I played this tournament, I'm not afraid of Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus or any of the others," Besselink said after closing out with a final round 66 yesterday for 275.

Besselink, who declined to say what his secret is, finished just one stroke up on Art Wall, who came from well back with a seven-under-par 63 for 276.

Besselink, 41, from Grossinger, N.Y., had rounds of 73-68-68-66 in scoring his third triumph in as many tries in this tournament. The victory was worth $2,500.

Canada's Wilf Homenuik, who led through the second and third rounds, finished with a 71 for 279 and a share of third with Jack Rule and Spain's Angel Miguel.

Downturning Market Is Led By Coppers

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed sharply lower with coppers leading the downturn. Kennecott was off half a dozen points late in the day and other stocks in the group also were off sharply.

Selling spread to steels, autos, chemicals, color television makers, other electronics, office equipments and other groups.

A published report that orders from the auto industry for steel were lagging was cited as another discouraging factor.

Volume for the day was estimated at 6.4 million shares compared with 6.8 million Friday.

Copper stocks took sharp losses in the wake of the rollback of the price increase for copper. Kennecott, the biggest producer, dropped half a dozen points. Anaconda and Phelps Dodge lost about 2 each and International Nickel 1.

Selling spread to the recently-popular color television issues, other electronics, aerospace stocks and office equipments.

Off a point or so were IBM, Control Data, United Aircraft, Boeing, Montgomery Ward, Chrysler, Du Pont, Union Carbide and Pennsylvania Rail-Road.

Fairchild Hiller, fractionally higher, was pacing the list on volume.

United Gas was up nearly 3 on news of a tender off at $41 a share for its stock by Pennzoil, which dropped about 2.

National Biscuit was unchanged and Coca Cola down a point following news they had dropped their merger talks.

Down about 2 were Diners' Club, Emery Air Freight and Bristol Myers.

Losses of a point or so were shown by Magma Copper, Inspiration Copper and G. D. Searle.

Prices worked generally lower in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate and U.S. Treasury bonds were mostly unchanged in light trading.

To generate steam electricity, the TVA has bought $180-million worth of coal.

Corte Madera Merchants Elect Stucky As President

Howard Stucky, manager of the Montgomery Ward and Co. store in Corte Madera, was elected president of the Corte Madera Center Merchants Council during the annual membership meeting Saturday.

Other officers elected were: Robert Rivers, manager of Toy World, vice president; B. A. Sill, manager of Crocker-Citizens National Bank, treasurer, and Hollie L. Smith, insurance agent, secretary-manager.

Elected to the board of directors were: Anthony Munoz, manager of the J. C. Penney Co. store; Max Daost, co-owner of Harmony Music Center; Caspar Borst, manager of Smith's Men's Store; Louis Malvino, co-owner of Louis George Clothiers, and Lewis Ripperger, manager of F. W. Woolworth Co. store.

The merchants council also agreed to resume regular monthly luncheon meetings on the first Tuesday of each month and to allow the Corte Madera Lions Club to use the shopping center for its Christmas tree sales program.

Lot Demands To Increase

SAN FRANCISCO—The demand for prime marina lots will continue to be strong in California during the next 10 years, says marina authority Frederick J. Pausch of Wilsey, Ham and Blair.

Pausch, speaking to Northern California chapter of the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers Thursday went on to say that by 1975 California will have more than 500,000 registered boat owners, compared to 100,000 in 1955.

The demand for places to keep these boats will encourage more commercial developments. This water oriented population, with more leisure time on their hands, he said, will become residential marina lot buyers.

Prices of marina lots will continue to spiral, he said, and cited instances where 25 foot frontage lots now cost upwards of $3,000 a front foot in established areas and upwards of $30,000 for plain lots in new developments. Buyers, he observed usually are professional and semi-professional men in the 30-50 age bracket.

Contract Awarded For Recorders

REDWOOD CITY—The American Broadcasting Co. has awarded a contract for more than $900,000 to Ampex Corp. for 10 high band color videotape recorders, it was announced today by Arthur H. Hausman, Ampex group vice president.

The VR-2000 videotape recorders will be used for studio work and in mobile vans in New York City and Hollywood. The current order will bring the number of VR-2000s used by ABC to 17, three of which are now in use in New York and four in Hollywood.

Economist Sees No End To Growth

SAN FRANCISCO—The nation's economy is strong and probably will grow even stronger during the coming year, but the threat of inflation is increasingly serious.

That was the comment by Leslie C. Peacock, vice president, and economist of Crocker-Citizens National Bank, who spoke Thursday evening at a meeting of the San Francisco chapter of the Financial Executives Institute.

Dr. Peacock noted that economic activity throughout the country has been expanding for nearly five years and that widespread indications point to a continuation of that expansion.

Consumers, businesses and manufacturers, and governmental units are expected to increase their spending during the coming months and thus intensify the demand for goods and services, he said.

"If there is a basis for concern—or at the very least for questioning—it lies not so much in uncertainty over the direction in which the economy is headed, but rather in uncertainty over the manner in which national economic policy may respond to the shifting nature of our economic problems," Dr. Peacock said.

He was strongly skeptical of the ability of the federal government to deal with rising inflationary pressures by relying on the administration's wage-price guidelines.

Hardware Store Pulls Switch; Starts Competing With Groceries

It's not unusual these days to find food and drug emporiums entering into some phase of the hardware business—but to run across a hardware store veering in the opposite direction is something entirely different.

Paradise Hardware, opened over two years ago by Edward and Irene Henly in the Paradise Shopping Center, Corte Madera, has pulled just such a switch.

Recent expansion of the store into double its former size has caused the Henlys to open what you might call a bath boutique—with linens, rugs, shower curtains and other accessories—along with gold fixtures.

A gourmet section, generally devoted to cookware, doesn't stop there but goes on to stocks of spices, condiments and other such items. And the gift department, with its housewares, candles and copperware, has borrowed a drug store sundry—greeting cards.

The Henlys believe it is the only hardware store in California that's carpeted (part way, that is).

Grand opening next Friday, Saturday and Sunday features gifts and prizes.

NEW ASSIGNMENTS at Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. have transferred Gordon J. Schmidt of Novato from his post of employment manager for the East Bay to employment manager for San Francisco. He succeeds Dan E. McCarthy of Kentfield who has been made a plant staff supervisor.

Schmidt began his telephone career in 1959 as a directory salesman. He has been East Bay employment manager, headquartered in Oakland, about a year. McCarthy joined PT&T in 1936 in the commercial department. Except for one assignment in New York several years ago, he has worked in Bay Area offices and was San Francisco employment manager about a year.

E. S. MERRIMAN AND SONS, Bay Area mortgage banking firm with a branch office in San Rafael, is now mortgage loan correspondent for Connecticut General Life Insurance Co. of Hartford, which ranks eighth among companies in North America with its 16 million dollars of life insurance in force. The company will seek investment opportunities in major commercial properties — office buildings, warehouse and distribution facilities, retail stores and institutional properties. David Grinsfelder is manager for Merriman in San Rafael.

Croke

GEORGE CROKE of Fairfax, representative with the York Securities Corp. office in San Rafael, has been named chairman of the Marin General Hospital Community Council, which he helped organize.

FOUR MARIN MEN attended the recent Point of Purchase Advertising Institute show in Chicago: William Cadell of Belvedere and Richard Kiechle of Mill Valley, representing Thomas A. Schutz Co., and Eugene Chase of Tiburon and Edward C. Roualdes of San Rafael, representing Pacific Lithographic Co.

SPEAKING of advertising, ad agency copywriters in Marin are being urged to enter this year's San Francisco Copywriter's Club annual competition. Work done between Nov. 1, 1964 through Oct. 31, 1965 may be entered in the categories of television, radio, consumer magazines, newspapers, business publications and multi-media complete campaigns. Deadline for entries is Dec. 14. Contact John Mercer of Richard N. Meltzer Advertising, Inc., San Francisco, for more information.

MARVIN C. ENGLISH of Petaluma has been appointed a district agent in the San Rafael district agency of Prudential Insurance Co.

Cranston Is Due Praise For Contribution Stand

State Controller Alan Cranston is to be commended for his public announcement that he will not accept campaign contributions from state inheritance tax appraisers, who are appointed by the controller.

The system of political patronage, whereby the state controller can reward faithful party workers by naming them to the lucrative inheritance tax posts, was in effect long before Cranston ever thought of seeking the office.

This patronage system has always provided the controller in office with a built-in source of campaign support. The 151 inheritance tax appraisers, who owe their lucrative jobs to the controller, would be natural backers of the controller in any election.

Controller Cranston could have sat back and taken full advantage of this as a source of campaign funds.

This self-imposed ban against cash contributions by his inheritance tax appraisers does not stop the appraisers from helping him in other ways during political campaigns. Inheritance tax appraisers, like any other citizens, would have the right to support and work for any candidate running for political office.

This, however, does not detract from the fact that Cranston's ban on cash contributions by his appointees constitutes a potential sacrifice on his part.

Cranston gives this reason for the ban against receiving contributions from his appraisers:

"I am convinced that the present system is essentially the most efficient and economical possible for the state, for the courts and for heirs. I am determined that the system should not be susceptible to unfair attacks because of excessive discussion about campaign contributions."

We have often contended that the system itself is conducive to an abuse of power. Through no fault of Controller Cranston's, the law allows the controller to hand-pick his inheritance tax appraisers. We still believe the system should be replaced by some other system that does not involve political patronage.

On this point, we disagree with the controller. But short of a complete change in the system, we must agree that Controller Cranston is making an effort to eliminate some of the doubts that have been cast about the relationship between the controller and the appraisers.

Last summer Cranston suggested several reforms of his own including: (1) giving local probate courts the final say on inheritance tax appointments, nominated by the controller, and (2) establishing some minimum qualifications for the appraisers.

And now comes his ban on contributions by appraisers.

You've got to hand it to Cranston for trying to clean up a system that can be used and abused to full political advantage.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

LEAD MORE THAN A HALF-LIFE

In his book, "The Decline of Pleasure," Walter Kerr referred to the enervating restlessness and boredom of those who live only for themselves.

Mr. Kerr wrote: "If I were required to put into a single sentence my own explanation of the state of our hearts, heads and nerves, I would do it this way: We are vaguely wretched because we are leading half-lives, half-heartedly and with only one-half of our minds actively engaged in making contact with the universe about us."

God Himself made us to love others. If we fail to do so, we gradually destroy ourselves. Our better nature corrodes through non-use. We stunt our own mental, emotional and spiritual growth. We are the victims of our own selfishness.

Instead of allowing yourself to slip into habits of selfishness, make a special effort, with God's help, to throw yourself into the situation of others.

Then you will give sympathy, not look for it —and your zest for living will grow accordingly.

"I came that they may have life, and have it more abundantly." (John 10:10)

Inspire me, O Holy Spirit, with a wide-ranging interest in others.

Patrick A Touch Of New Blood But Chance Of Election Slim

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The forthcoming political campaigns received a touch of new blood when an unknown candidate, William P. Patrick, head of a cosmetics manufacturing concern in San Rafael, announced he would seek the Republican nomination for the governorship.

The fate of unknown candidates in California for high office always has resulted in somewhat ignominious defeat for the aspirants, and there is no reason to suspect the results will be anything else for the Marin county businessman who has, so he says, a million and a half dollars to pour into his campaign.

RELATIVELY speaking, it is simple for anyone with money, or the prospect of money, to declare himself a candidate for governor.

Practically speaking, however, the odds are a million to one that the unknown and politically untried candidate will get enough votes to make counting worthwhile.

IT IS ALSO relatively easy for a candidate with money to hire a "build-up" organization and through such an organization's ingenuity, get to be better known among the voters of the state, which Patrick apparently has done. But it is far more difficult to convince these voters that they should mark X on the ballot when election time rolls around.

BE THAT as it may, Patrick's declaration may spark some new interest in the elections.

Patrick says it is because he is a concerned citizen who does not feel represented by announced candidates that he decided to run for office. Further, he states:

"I believe that political integrity and a consequent rational approach toward issues is more important than contrived political controversy and name calling directed toward voting blocs and groups.

"I think it is sheer fraud when government executives and legislators spend more time appealing to prejudices and seeking political credits than in seeking a rational solution to pressing problems.

"I DON'T WANT to be, and I don't want any concerned citizen to be, an IBM card in a party file or a faceless member of a label, libel, slogan society only sought and listened to by the politicians when we fit into a voting pigeonhole. It is because I need to be an individual and not a bloc ready for manipulation that I have decided to run."

More Queries Raised About Marincello

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Mr. John Peter Erickson's article on "Who Needs Marincello?" which appeared in the Independent - Journal of Nov. 13, was very interesting. This article also suggests some serious thinking. I also would like to know these things:

1. Who needs Marincello other than the Frouge Corp.?
2. Who's going to pay for:
   a. The new school properties and buildings?
   b. A new dam for additional water supplies?
   c. Miles of water lines and pumps?
   d. Sewage disposal plants and pipe lines?
   e. Fire protection facilities?
   f. A new bridge across the Gate to handle more traffic?

I would like to hear someone explain how the present inhabitants of Marin County are going to escape all these expenses.

Creek's Concrete Fate Not Desired

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In Re. Corte Madera Creek Flood Control:

Your edition of Nov. 10 presented a statement by Mrs. Kaenel which this writer wholeheartedly endorses.

From memory as a student at Marin College, it is pleasant to conjure the vision of a lovely stream coursing the campus in those years B.C.—Before Concrete.

Behind my back was another picture as the same purling brook was constricted to pass ignominiously through a most unimaginative culvert beneath Kentfield Avenue, thence flowing eastward beside the marshlands extending from one-time Ross Landing. For what was it questing? Only a bed it could call its own, and a rendezvous at last with other streams in the Bay.

Is there not indeed a high point of the absurd in this baying for flood control within a county with no stream that even remotely approaches the proportions of a river, a county bidding to soon bury all its pleasant little brooks inside cyclone fences and below several feet of concrete?

Somewhere there must be a vast project that would require all the talents of the U.S. Corps of Engineers, and when I suggest somewhere, I do mean far away from Marin County.

Blackout, Nuclear Issue Anniversary

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Tuesday (Nov. 9) will almanac as the day of the big Back East blackout. This is classic irony; commemorating the first anniversary of PG&E's forced abandonment of the Point Reyes nuclear fission plant, which was to help certify such a farce couldn't happen here.

Particularly with smog also topping recent news. Cheap electrically powered trucks delivered bread in San Francisco during the roaring 20s. Forty thousand electric cars cruise England today. These are smog free.

On second thought, maybe this shouldn't be printed. It might start another politically inspired study, the modern American method of doing nothing. At the taxpayer's expense!

Why Government Secrecy Policy?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It appears that there was, indeed, a peace innuendo by the Viet Cong last year, and this information was not permitted to us.

It may be naive in this day and age to feel that our government's policies and actions are predicated on the will of the people, but this is the conceit that is still taught in our classrooms and voiced in every election campaign, so that it is fair to wonder: If the public is not informed, how can it function politically?

We are now beyond the time of alternatives to the commitment of full military force in Viet Nam, and in this time of crisis, it is all the more important for our government officials to trust us with information if our way of life is to be tried in order to again be proved true; a necessary factor for its existence.

Participant Differs On Kentfield Issue

Editor, Independent-Journal:

To clarify a few points, regarding your article of Nov. 9: "Kentfield Board Hears Secretary; No Action."

You quoted Supt. Harmon's reason for not being invited to the closed session with Mrs. Eleanor Ceglarz as, "the board felt it would be best to talk with her without anybody from the administration present." Supt. Harmon deemed it necessary that he give the reason why he was not invited.

To quote another paragraph from your article "According to Harmon, Hennessy was the only parent interested in the matter in the audience last night." Supt. Harmon qualified his answer for not being invited to the closed session with Mrs. Ceglarz. Why, then did he choose to give the reason for me being the only parent in attendance? The reason being that said session was closed and the many interested parents were not in attendance due to this fact, and for no other reason. Statements of this nature do nothing to foster good relationships between the administration and the parents.

You also reported that Supt. Harmon said that Mrs. Eleanor Ceglarz was asked to resign, refused, and was transferred. The actual order of events were—asked to resign—refused —asked for a transfer—was refused — dismissed—dismissal rescinded with qualifications—two days later was informed that she was being transferred to Kent School.

Mrs. Ceglarz was loved and respected by parents and children alike. She was always generous with her time for others no matter how small or large the problem. Rare is the person who is competent, efficient and understanding enough to handle the public and her secretarial work so satisfactorily.

When the parents and children of Wolfe Grade School lose such a person one wonders, "is the administration at fault?"

Labor Is Scared Of Computers; Execs Can Keep Plants Going

By ROSCOE DRUMMOND and SAM ZAGORIA

(Zagoria is a member of the National Labor Relations Board and former assistant to Sen. Clifford Case of New Jersey.)
(Third of a Series)

WASHINGTON — Labor is scared of computerized automation.

This fear must be dealt with constructively if the vast benefits of automation are not to be lost.

Donald Michael, a leading social psychologist, estimates that workers displaced by computer automation "will probably change their skills no less than three times in the course of their active lives." This is an ominous warning.

Joseph Beirne, president of the Communications Workers of America, puts labor's most extreme anxiety in these words: "Automation is the science of making workers unnecessary."

THIS IS AN exaggeration, but it has elements of truth.

And there's this: Automated plants tend to be strikeproof. Example — union employees struck the automated Shell refinery in Deer Park, Tex., for nearly a year. Production was maintained at 80 per cent of normal, with all the union work done by supervisors. Even higher production was possible.

A handful of executives can frequently keep a plant going and this underscores the union premise that, if an effective strike cannot be mounted, an effective bargain cannot be made at the negotiating table.

FOR THE WORKERS in cybernated industry, working conditions change. The possibility of three-shift operations grows; chances for promotion are less since there are fewer supervisory levels to which to aspire. The work itself tends to be more monotonous and less sociable, and tends also to make management less patient with what it deems bad labor practices.

Union jurisdictional disputes sometimes follow the installation of a computer. In the newspaper industry, for example, computers can perform services for the composing room, mail room, accounting department, and advertising department. So which union is to have jurisdiction over the operation?

Union jurisdiction is only one problem. The labor movement as a whole may have to change its objectives. Automation will spur new interest in signing up white collar workers. In the steel industry, one of every four workers is a white collar worker while 30 years ago it was only one in nine.

Throughout the United States there are now more white collar workers than blue ones.

CONTRACTS emphasizing piece-work payments will decline since neither computers nor computer operators need such speed-up incentives. Similarly, wage payments, which used to recognize the number of workers being supervised, will instead tend now to acknowledge the value of the costly automated equipment being supervised.

From management's view the computer makes round-the-clock operations feasible and opens the way to the fullest use of capital investment.

Computers produce standardization since the cost of computers or their rental vary less than fluctuating labor costs. The computer is more adaptable to ups and downs in market demands; it is easier to unplug the computer a day or two than to lay off workers for a day or two.

One of the most telling factors obviously is that employers expect savings of such magnitude as to pay for the automatic equipment in less than five years. Recent tax changes offer added incentives to industry to move toward automation.

MANAGEMENTS have found computers handy in making their own decisions. The ability to deal simultaneously with many variables and to handle enormous amounts of information, more than man can, makes it possible for a computer to explore various courses of action in fractions of minutes.

Shriver Investigating Turmoil In Job Corps

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Anti-poverty director Sargent Shriver is suspending the opening of additional Job Corps camps in urban areas while he tries to get at the bottom of the turmoil and scandals that have rocked eight now in operation.

Pending the outcome of this unannounced investigation, Shriver has ordered a slow-down in recruiting trainees for the existing camps.

THESE BACKSTAGE decisions will halt the launching of two new Job Corps centers scheduled for the end of this month. Announcement of them was to have been made by Thanksgiving.

Two congressional leaders who voted for the anti-poverty program but now are deeply disturbed by the disorders and misdeeds afflicting it triggered Shriver's probe.

This bipartisan demand was made by Sen. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky, ranking Republican on the Public Works Committee, and Rep. John Fogarty, D-R.I., chairman of the appropriations subcommittee in charge of the anti-poverty budget.

In separate letters they warned Shriver that unless he immediately initiates a thorough inquiry and forceful corrective measures, Congress will do so.

UNTIL IMPELLED to act by this blunt prodding, Shriver had minimized the numerous riots, demonstrations, irregularities and other disruptions that have plagued this phase of President's Johnson's $1.5 billion anti-poverty program. But the stern admonitions from Cooper and Fogarty, and mounting bipartisan criticism from other members of Congress caused Shriver to change his mind.

Not only is he going toinvestigate the job camps, but he will participate in that himself by personally visiting all of them. The eight centers are located at:

Camp Atterbury, Edinburg, Ind.; Camp Breckinridge, Morgansfield, Ky.; Camp Custer, Battle Creek, Mich.; Camp Gary, San Marcos, Tex.; Camp Kilmer, Edison, N. J.; Camp Parks, Pleasanton, Calif.; Camp Rodman, New Bedford, Mass.; Camp Tung Point, Astoria, Oregon.

Cooper particularly called for a prompt report on riot-torn Camp Breckinridge, where some of the worst incidents have occurred. Outside police authorities had to be summoned to quell recent outbreaks.

Other members of Congress aroused by job camp upheavals and scandals and demanding forceful corrective measures include Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., and Rep. Richard Roudebush, R-Ind.

HARTKE CALLED for an immediate sweeping investigation of Camp Atterbury, where a number of sex incidents have been reported. Roudebush urged that the Edinburg, Ind., center be closed down. He charged it is costing taxpayers around $22,000 per trainee.

Voices Again At Civic Center Are Jotted Down For Study

It took a long time for the supervisors' chambers at the Civic Center to clear after the decision on Marincello was made.

Even after all the people had gone, ghosts seemed to haunt the place. So I was not too surprised when this voice, a tenor voice, broke out in song.

I tried in vain to locate the covert Caruso, but the room, after careful search, proved to be empty.

All I can show in proof of this unsettling experience are a few snatches of the strange song which I jotted down on the back of my much worn out paper.

IT WENT SOMETHING like this:

IN THE BELLA, bella town Marinthello
Where the density is three-point-five D. U.,
You are Desdemona, I'm Othello,
And our dreams of love will all come true.
There's no Iago.
Oh, ain't that grand?
There's no Iago
In this plan.

IN THE BELA, bella town of Marinfello
Where the heavy mist is really only dew,
I'm gonna be a very healthy fellow,
And so, my dear, of course, are you.
There's no lumbago.
Oh, ain't that grand?
There's no lumbago
In this plan.

IT'S A BAD thing to admit hearing voices but of course, that was not the first time. No sirree!

When you walk by the row of empty supervisors' offices at the Civic Center, you can hear a low murmur from just about every one of them. The offices, however, are empty. This monotone is sometimes loud and clear, sometimes very faint. The words are always the same.

Who's ambitious?
No, not I.
You're thinking of the other guy.

HE'S EYEING higher office and sees big hope,
But he's looking through a telescope.
I wouldn't go to Washington.
I wouldn't go to Washington.
I wouldn't go to Washington,
Unless you made me.
So, persuade me.

SOMETIMES, when the voices are coming in strong, you can hurry by the offices and the words come together like an old English round.

I only tried this once, trotting by with one hand cupped to an ear. One of the secretaries saw me. Well, it was embarrassing. She knows I always stand still when listening at office doors.

I just shrugged and wandered away.

The San Rafael Post Office announced plans for a branch office in Santa Venetia, to be located at the Santa Venetia supermarket.

An elaborate freeway system connecting the approach roads of the new San Rafael-Richmond Bridge to Highway 101 was announced by state engineers.

Princess Margaret, Lord Snowdon Had At Ball At Katzenbach Party

WASHINGTON — When orders went out that Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon wanted to meet only gay, young and amusing people in Washington, the job was turned over to attorney general Nicholas Katzenbach. The reason for this was that the attorney general is one of the few people who has access to the FBI files, and the FBI is the only government organization that has a complete list of all the young, gay, amusing people in the United States.

The guest list for Mr. and Mrs. Katzenbach's late night party was whittled down to 60 people. Everyone excelled in some specialty and was either known for his sparkle, his gaiety or his wit. The women of course were selected for their beauty, charm and table manners, although only omelettes were served.

Before the dance the guests held rehearsals to simulate every sort of situation that might come up.

"Suppose she says to you 'Where are you from?'" I asked David Brinkley, one of the invited guests.

"I'll tell her I'm from North Carolina," he replied.

Everyone started chuckling.

"DO YOU THINK she'll get it?" I asked.

"Why not? They say she's a swinging princess."

"What will you say to her?" I asked columnist Russ Baker.

"I'll ask her if she's enjoying her trip to the United States."

"You wouldn't have the nerve," I challenged him.

"Katzenbach said we could say anything we wanted to."

"HAVE YOU THOUGHT of any funnies for the princess?" I asked Jack Valenti of the White House staff.

"I'm going to tell her the president was sorry he couldn't be at the party."

I doubled up with laughter, but then we had to leave for the dance.

As each person arrived they said something clever to Lydia Katzenbach, the hostess, or the attorney general. The best remark I heard was "Where can I put my coat?" Another person topped it though with "Where can I put my wife's coat?" It must have gone that way for an hour while we waited for Princess Margaret to arrive. Nobody was really trying hard, but in a group like this nobody had to. The cleverness and amusement came naturally.

Finally the princess arrived with Lord Snowdon and the party really got going. One person said to her royal highness, "How was Hollywood?" and you could instantly see she was amused. Another person said, "You must be so tired of it all," and the princess said, "Oh no, I'm enjoying it," which showed she could give as good as she could take.

AT 12:05 A.M. it was discovered that there were two people at the party that weren't gay and amusing. How they slipped by the FBI nobody will ever know. But the man kept saying "I want to go home," and his wife kept saying, "You can't until the princess leaves."

When Lord Snowdon heard them he roared with laughter, not realizing of course that they were serious. And so the evening went on without any let up in the clever repartee and fast give and take that has become so much part of young, gay Washington.

Even as the princess left, someone, we'll never know who, said to her, "You must come back and visit us again." The princess' eyes crinkled in a smile and you could tell she really had fun. It isn't every day that a royal personage gets to meet so many interesting people at one time.
